Hollis Jackson States Platform For Mayor's Race

The operation of our City has developed into a big business in recent years and as we continue to grow there will be a greater need for City Officials with business experience. The experience I have gained during the past 12 years in the peration of a business with 13 to 17 employees will enable me as Mayor to work with the Council and City employees toward the successful operation of our City.

The development of our present facilities and the continued growth and progress of our City can be maintained through the proper administration of a well-planned program.

A few of the plans I would like to see inacted for the maintenance of our present high standards of City government and for the future progress and growth of our City are listed below:

1. Every person would like to see industry locate in Clanton and Chilton County. I will continue to work hard for our industrial development.

2. Most of our streets are paved and I am in favor of continuing the present paving program to include the remaining unpaved streets and resurfacing of worn streets.

3. Our water supply has been expanded to supply our needs for several years. This system should be kept in good repairs at all times and extended to new users as the demands arise.

Hollis Jackson

4. Clanton owns a good natural gas system which should be extended to our citizens upon request and maintenance should be kept at the highest level.

5. For your safety, our fire department should be kept at its present efficient standards.

6. Our citizens are entitled to adequate police protection and the strict enforcement of our laws.

7. A balanced recreational program for the children and youth of our community is necessary for their physical, mental and social development.

8. Sewage disposal is one of our City's major problems and a sewage disposal plant should be built at the earliest possible date.

9. With proper cooperation with County, State and Federal governing bodies many benefits can be brought into effect for our City.

If elected your Mayor my objective will be government by the People, of the People and for the People with our City Council's approval.

-s- HOLLIS JACKSON

This GMC has "muscles" unsurpassed in its class!

The facts speak for themselves.

This new GMC 250-8 has 180 V8 horsepower standard. No other truck in its class comes even close.

The extra power delivers 276 foot-pounds of truck-propelling torque. Over-the-road truckers call it "guts" — and this GMC's got up to 33% more than the others.

It's at the top of the heap in frame-strength, too. There's as much as 10% more "muscle" in its chassis than in comparable trucks.

And there's more. For this rugged GMC has 3500 lb. front axles and 7200 lb. rear — unsurpassed in its weight-bracket. It has extra-size brakes and springs.

Add it all up and you can see what GMC Blue Chip stamina really means. Especially when you team it with a GMC's dependable performance and Hydra-Matic* savings.

For here's a truck that not only delivers the goods at lowest cost — but keeps delivering long after an ordinary truck would have faded out. Come in and talk it over!

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

There was a rumor going the rounds in Clanton last Tuesday which was absolutely unfounded regarding the enrollment of colored students at Chilton County High School. Some who heard the rumor were getting really excited about it and all for nothing. In the past we have enjoyed a relaxed neighborliness with the colored people here and people should be careful of starting rumors that would destroy this friendship.

The colored people of the County take part in our Annual Drives of the various organizations, they have good schools and churches, they are good citizens and we want to keep it that way. At present a park is being prepared for them southwest of the City. Various local Clubs and organizations along with the colored folk are preparing it. We believe they will enjoy and appreciate it. There is little or no racial unrest in this County. We believe they like segregation of the races as well as we do. Let's not let some excitement seeking, rumor mongor, disrupt our friendly, peaceful way of life. It is good.

Did you hear the story about the two snakes on the Ark. After all the other animals had gone Noah went back into the Ark and found these two snakes in a corner weeping. "Why are you here" asked Noah. "You told us to go fourth into the world and multiply" replied the snakes, "and we are adders."

A group of the neighborhood children were discussing the first day of school in our back yard. Naturally the first subject that came up was getting a whipping at school. Little Lanny Jones said: "Well I sure better not, 'cause if I do, when I get home I'll get another one just like it."

The story is told of a local citizen who the other day was seen driving down the long airstrip at the airport. He stopped and asked a workman: "How do you get to town from here?"

We're sorry to learn that Mayor C. Fenn Jones is in the hospital again and in serious condition. For all of his 85 years, which is far past the allotted "four-score and ten". he wants to stay here with his friends. He told us not too many days past, 'It is not that I am afraid to die. I just hate to leave all of my good friends and my work here on earth." May God spare Mayor Jones for the work he wishes to do that he feels is unfinished.

Billingsley Lad In Training At Parris Island

Birmingham Vernon H. Deavers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie D. Deavers, Rt. 1, Billingsley, enlisted in the Marine Corps here for three years active duty. He will receive his basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

Private Deavers is a graduate of Billingsley High Schol where he participated football and baseball. Prior to entering the Marine Corps he was employed by O. P. Klinner and Sons Furniture Company, Prattville.

All military subjects, including leadership, will be covered in the 12-week course that Deavers receives at this huge South Carolina Marine Base. Great emphasis is placed on leadership training of all new Marines.

Qualification with the .30 caliber M-1 rifle will highlight the Billingsley Marine's tour of duty on the Parris Island rifle range. He will also fire many other automatic weapons.

Upon graduation from basic training, Deavers will be granted a ten day leave. He will then report to one of the many Marine Corps technical schools or to Camp LeJeune, N. C. for advanced infantry training.

Verbena Youth Finishes Basic At Parris Island

The Marine 'Dixie Company," composed of 50 young men from Alabama and Northwest Florida, is returning to the "Heart of Dixie" on Friday [illegible] The group left here on M[illegible] and graduate Thursday from their basic training course at Parris Island, S. C.

Clanton Stars Split Pair Of Well-Played Games

The Clanton Stars were victims of one of those heartbreaking losses at Prattville Saturday afternoon. It was a 7 inning affair and the Stars were coasting into the last of the 6th with a 4 run lead. After pitching good ball for 5 innings L. D. Easterling tired and the Prattville lads got to his offerings for 4 big runs and then scored the winning run off relief pitcher Marion Grant in the 7th Wyatt and Easterling got 2 hits each and Prattville's Durham had 3 safe blows to lead the hitters. Langley was the winning pitcher. The Stars will have a chance to redeem themselfes when the Prattville team comes to City Park Saturday September 8th

CLANTON 13 - STAN. PULL. 9—

Bobby Carl Wyatt ran his victory string to 13 for the year agains. only 1 loss as he defeated the Bessemer Club 13 to 9 at City Park Sunday afternon. His two years total now stands at 27 wins and only 3 losses. The Stars got of to a 2 run first inning lead when Smith and Edwards singled and Ellison doubled. Three more runs tallied in the 3rd on hits by Smith; Edwards and Ellison, a walk to McKee and an error.

The Clanton Stars blew their lead in the 4th when an error on a potential double play ignited a 5-run rally for the visitors. Bobby Carl showed the fans that he has the heart and stamina of a real athelete when he refused to buckle. He came back strong and finished the game by striking out 3 batters in the 9th inning. Wyatt had a total of ten strike outs

The Stars lead by hustling James Paul Easterling rallied for 8 big run in the 7th to salt away the win. Easterling caught the visitors by surprise twice in this inning with his lightning like speed and he beat out 2 infield hits. Wayne Guin stole home for one of the runs. Guin was a Star himself behind the plate.

There were no individual Clanton heroes as all the crew of manager Edwards played together as a unit and all had a big part in the win. For the visitors Morris Bunn, a Stockham ball player, had 2 singles and a home run.

Our opponent for next Sunday's game will be from the Bessemer area. This game will be announced later in the week.

Howard Extension School Opens For Fall Session, 13th

The Howard College Extension Division for Christian Training opens its Fall Session Thursday night, September 13th at the West End Baptist Church, Clanton, at 7:00 o'clock. The regular nights for the school after the first week will be on Tuesday nights. The purpose for the change on the opening nite is by reason of the World Mission Conference in Birmingham on Monday and Tuesday of that week. The instructors of the school and others desire to attend the above mentioned Conference.

The Rev. L. D. Brookshire, pastor of the Liberty Hill Baptist Church, will teach the preview of the Sunday School Lessons, and the Rev. Charles Stringer, pastor of the Maplesville Baptist Church will probably be the instructor for the New Testament Course. This course will embrace the Harmony of the Gospels by Dr. A. T. Robinson.

Only two courses, as mentioned above, will be offered which will last fifty minutes each, which means that the school will close at 8:45 o'clock. There will be a five minute break between classes. A semester embraces 17 weeks

The cost of each course is $4.50 and the registration is $2.00. Therefore, the entire cost per semester is only $11.00 plus books. Consideration is offered Ministers who feel that they might need financial assistance to attend the school We trust that all of our ministers will take a keen interest in the school and urge their people to attend Especially every Sunday School teacher should avail themselves of the opportunity of taking the Sunday Preview. Wouldn't it be fine if the County churches could send teachers to this school if they should need such assistance.

All the preparation needed to attend this school is simply a willingness to learn. You can study for College credit. Certificate credit or credit in mind if you so desire you can attend with no thought of MY greatest need in my church work is consecrated leaders who are trained to do the job assigned to them. This is your opportunity. Why let it slip.

Sure Way To Stop Moisture On Concrete

Concrete floors, which are widely used in farm buildings and are even found in many homes, present a special kind of problem. In contact with the soil, they will transmit moisture to the surface, causing discomfort to people and stock, spoilage of grain, molding of hay, or caking of fertilizer.

However, this dampness can be prevented with a layer of impervious material that's put down before the concrete floor is poured. This moisture barrier may be a heavy-duty grade of roll roofing or a plastic film that is made especially for that purpose. Either adds little to the cost of the concrete floor.

from The Bible

Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.—(St. Mark 9, 23.)

The time of miracles is not past; it is with us this day and every day if we are strong and unshaken in our faith—and faith, ever the answer, means believing with all our heart and soul.

Carters Stocks Chilton's First Color TV Sets

It was early in 1949 when Carter Radio & TV Service first sold a television set in Chilton County. Today, just seven years later, they are offering for sale big-screen color TV sets.

The beautiful new color models on their floor are a far cry from the first models of black and white sets to hit the market. Too, prices on today's color models are in keeping with the prices of early black and white sets and you get so much more for your money in the performance and reception.

RCA Victor, stocked by Carter's, was first in the nation in black and white television and now they make history again as the first in color. The sets all feature the compatible color pioneered and developed by RCA Victor. Carter's, in keeping with the RCA people's record, is also first in black and white in Chilton County and first in Color.

WHITE SUPREMACY
FOR THE RIGHT

The trouble with most minds are that they are unused.

People who are always tired need a vacation.

The best way to get a day's work done is to go to work.

A very small honor can puff up a very small individual.

A reputation is easily obtained—just keep talking.

EDUCATE YOURSELF—

Conscious of a lack of educational training, some people bemoan the lost days and sink into a state of semi-ignorance, without making any effort to become better informed. We would call their attention to the fact that their are only two requisites to a good education—Reading and Thinking.

There is no person in Chilton County, of any age, who cannot become well-informed in a year or two of intelligent reading, supplemented by a little real thinking. Stop the habit of taking opinions from any and everybody, and begin trying to study some subjects for the purpose of being able to make up your own mind.

If you do not know were to start, we would suggest you get some good books on the subjects you are most interested in, if it is a technical subject which entrances your imagination then ask someone for advice who knows something about the subject.

In this modern age, there is little excuse for man or woman going into old age without making an effort to become more intelligent. If you have only half hour a day, take advantage of it and begin to acquire new information. Never mind about the better educated; make it your business to improve your own mental outlook.

FORM YOUR OWN OPINIONS—

The average American, perplexed by the great issues that confront the people of this great Country, finds it difficult to develop sound opinions in the face of the rabid partisanship that is exhibited by the politicians, newspaper writers, radio and television commentators, and other so-called laders of public opinion.

There is quite a tendency on the part of many, to accept, without questions, any statement or assertion that fits in with what the individual wants to believe. Moreover, there is a lamentable determination on the part of nearly everybody to try to persuade everybody else to fall in line with whatever is being peddled by the individual.

It might be a good idea for us, once in a while, to pay tribute to the stubborn independence of the hardy citizen who has the nerve to look the population in the face and say, "I don't agree."

In fact, it might be even better, when you run across somebody who disagrees with you to give your own views a mental check-up intelligently assessing your own opinions on the basis of what you do not know to be the truth. This does not mean accepting the opinions of others as an undeniable fact. It means using your own mind and experience to balance your own thoughs and actions.

Somebody will ask immediately, what happens in the case of the individual who hasn't the facts or the experience on which to base an intelligent decision. The answer is easy, don't rush your determination and don't act on a half-baked idea. Try thinking for a change.

GOOD NEIGHBORS—

Too often the help of your neighbor is taken for granted. He's the guy next door you can depend on and you get used to him, like one of the family.

The same can be said of our good neighbors, The American Legion. Right now they are launching their 1957 membership campaign to enroll eligible veterans of the World Wars and the Korean War to bolster their ranks. A news release announcing this campaign reminded us it was about dues-paying time and gave us an idea for this so-called editorial.

This newspaper hasn't always agreed 100% with The American Legion and on occasions we have lambasted them whenever we thought they were out of line locally, in the state, or on a national level.

Our occasional differences do not blind us to their over-all praise-worthy objectives and accomplishments. For one thing, they have taken a stand against communism since 1919 and never deviated from that stand.

If Krushchev wants more eye-openers on that ex-Russion deity Joseph Stalin he might recall some of the attacks The American Legion made on him when he was alive. They "told him so"—and have consistently blasted the Kremlin gang when it was not too popular to do so.

If we had listened to the Legion's plea for Universal Military Training in the years long before World War II—we might have been able to avoid that calamity

They stand foursquare for Americanism, Rehabilitation, Child Welfare and National Security and have set enviable records in service to the community, state and nation. We take our hat off to this great veteran group, good citizens and good neighbors.

Letters to the Editor

GLETTY WRITES ON RECENT "NEWS" ARTICLE

I would like to make a few comments on the article you published in last week's News, "A Problem For All Americans," (America) by Dr. Alfred P. Haake.

He attacks the Supreme Court for their decision on segregated schools. He writes, and I quote, "The 1955 Supreme Court decision ordering integration in public schools, has raised one of the most vital issues in the history of our nation." Unquote. In the first place the Supreme Court did not order integration of the public schools. Their decision was to the effect that segregated public schools are unconstitutional.

The Fourteenth amendment to the Constitution reads in part: "All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

It seems to me this is very plain. How could anyone honestly expect the Supreme Court to make any other decision? They have no power to change the Constitution, or the amendments thereto.

Mr Haake writes further and I quote, "The fourteenth amendment, invoked to force integration of schools, is itself of somewhat dubious origin and moral validity. It was written in haste, and forced in hatred on "captive" States. It was not approved by free men." Unquote. How absurd can one get? Who approved this amendment if free men did not?

The fourteenth amendment was properly passed by Congress on June 16, 1866, and ratified by a proper majority of the states on July 23, 1868.

Article six of the Constitution, second clause reads, "This Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the Supreme Law of the Land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding."

The third clause reads in part, "The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution."

If we do not like the fourteenth amendment, the only legal thing we can do about it is to have it repealed. But could we then call our Country a Democracy? The Constitution was designed and strives to give all citizens equal rights. No State can constitutionally tax its citizens to build and maintain public institutions, and then bar part of those citizens from those institutions. Some countries with dictators in power can do it. Hitler got by with it for awhile, and even exterminated thousands of Jews. Franko in Spain, and some other Catholic controlled countries still get by with the persecution of all Protestants. But in the U.S.A. we are still supposed to have Constitutional government.

Mr. Haake writes further and I quote, "A Government might force me to live in close proximity to some one with whom I preferred not to live in close proximity." I know of no laws anywhere in the U.S.A. that forces a person to live any certain place, or mix socially with anyone he does not want to mix with, neither does it force him to marry anyone.

Again I quote Mr. Haake, "The Supreme Court is in the unhappy position of disregarding the very Constitution which it was created to protect." Unquote. Again I say, How absurd can one get?

Why should anyone want to misrepresent or camouflage the facts and issues, which only breeds more dissension. White people naturally do not want to mix socially with colored, and I do not believe colored people want to mix socially with whites. Our Constitution makes no attempt to force any such condition on us. Most of us believe in our Constitution, and in Constitutional Government. We cannot expect the Supreme Court to twist its meaning around to satisfy our individual desires.

MRS. RAYBON WRITES FROM BERMUDA

Dear Sirs:

On June 14, Mr. RAYBON and I left home by bus to Birmingham where we had supper with our granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Headley. We left about ten o'clock for the airport, where we boarded an Eastern Airline Constellation for "Bermuda" by way of Washington and New York for an extended visit with our daughter and family, M-Sgt. and Mrs. Robert F. Lambert, Jr. and son Bobby, who are stationed at Kindley AFB, Bermuda.

This was our first ride in an airplane, and it was wonderful. As we left Birmingham and climbed higher and higher on up above the clouds, we felt and knew that God's hands were underneath, we had a thrill long to remember.

We left Birmingham at one o'clock a.m. and with a brief stop-over in Washington, arrived at La Guardia Field, New York at six a.m. on June 15th. We were supposed to lay over in New York until 11 a.m. but were told we could go out on the 9 o'clock plane if we wanted to, so we just had an hour in New York. The time changes there making our arrival time in New York 8 a.m., and of course we got into Bermuda an hour or so before our children were expecting us to, and were enjoying ourselves while waiting, but we didn't have long to wait and they were there looking for us. It was a happy reunion after three years of not seeing our loved ones.

Bermuda was one time a volcano and is of Coral Rock, and Island of many hills and small valleys and inlets of beautiful blue waters completely surrounded by the Atlantic Ocean and is located about 600 miles from New York Everywhere you look you see beautiful trees and flowers of many kinds, the hills are covered wiht them. Many kinds of ferns and hot house plants there in Alabama grow wild here. Oleanders and Hibiscus grow 10 to 12 feet high and make beautiful hedges. There are many trees and flowers that I do not know the names of, especially trees that look somewhat like pine, and I believe we have seen three or four varieties of our pines here.

They have "The Royal Poinciana" tree that grows 40 feet high and I believe about 80 feet across its branches and is covered with large clusters of beautiful red blossoms in the summer. The "night blooming cereus" grows tall and covers the branches of a good sized tree and are very pretty at night when it's big, beautiful, white flowers are open.

Rainwater is the only source of fresh water obtainable here. Fresh water is brought over by boat for the hotels and when there is a draught it is sold by water suppliers.

Ole Paul Connell, our ex-co-worker has up and joined the United States Air Force. Says he's going in as an Admiral. Can't blame him for that; if we had our choice we'd be a big wheel too, we suppose. Hate to lose the old boy, but he assured us he'd get out in four years. Guess he's really got the bull by the tail alright. (Hope they don't reverse the procedure on the pore old thing.)

We wish him lots of luck. Seriously. He's a good friend of ours.

Another former Chilton County News affiliate, John VanDerveer says he got into the printing business purely by mistake. It seems he came to work in the "glamorous" front end of the business and after a few months he was in the "not so glamorous" back end. What happened was, they gave the old boy a choice: "Either get back there and get to work, or be on your way." Unquote. A man with a choice like that seldom makes the wrong one, huh John. It's pretty obvious that the choice isn't really a choice after all, it's an ultimatum. At least we're glad John "got the business" he enjoys. That's better'n just gettin' the business, period.

One of our basic freedoms being that of choice, it has always seemed strange to us that salesmen aren't aware of this fact. Maybe it's just our agreeable nature, but salesmen deal us misery when it comes to selling us something we have no use on earth for, and can't possibly afford

As we said, it's practically impossible for us to say no for fear we might hurt the poor guys feelings, never thinking about the "hurt feelings" of our own through the left hind pocket. We got nothing against salesmen, we just wish that when we started making polite excuses they'd get the polite heck on somewhere where the resident didn't give a care what they thought if he said no. We've paid through the nose so much 'till we're almost to pore to tote it. (And we don't mean our pocketbook either.)

The first step toward correcting your faults is admitting them. No wonder there's so many faults and they're so hard to break.

Speaking of animals: at least a donkey admits he's sometimes a jackass.

It must be gettin' close to winter. Sure are a lot of folks FALLin' around lately.

We want to know what happened to our "way back yonder" suggestion of the "no parking to corner" on these blind streets around Clanton. Our traffic problem being such as it is, this could'nt crowd it much more than two cars per corner and we think it is worth it Now we've had several folks gripe about the parking meters in town and we'd like to say now to gripe, but don't gripe at the City Officials. It is not entirely their fault, you know, that our traffic jams occur. Parking meters are designed to allow everyone an equal share of the parking that IS available. In other words to keep people from parking all day long in a publicly used parking spot. Any constructive ideas you may have, the City Council will be more than happy to hear, but as for "just griping" we don't think that's gonna solve a whole lot of anything. As for the parking to the corner deal; our suggestion was to mark off at least two parking spaces from the corners of hard-to see streets so that parking would be prohibited, thus eliminating 'blind spots". We want to know what happened to the idea. Is it illogical? It could save a life: either pedestrian or motorist.

Our very close friend, Marion Clyde Deaton informs us that he has made it into Cadet Training. That means he's gonna be a fly boy. Always thought we'd like to zoom around in the wild blue yonder, but since we won't be able to, guess the next best thing is having our best friend do it for us Our best wishes go with him, but he knows that without us telling him.

It couldn't have happened to a nicer guy, and it's what he wanted

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

Petty grievances and momentary pleasures are so small in comparison to the eternity that composes life that it doesn't seem possible that folks would often put them ahead of everything else in life.

It is quite feasible that the human mind is incapable of grasping the hugeness of an eternity. Just the thought of such an endless length of time is quite un-nerving and the mind turns from it in an effort to reject it in all its vastness. Our mind will gladly struggle with worries that are small in comparison to this great time element. We are quite prone to worry about small things simply because they cause no mental strain and we are not forced to delve into their complexities.

Our daily pet peeves are often foremost in our mind. We are used to bringing them to the forefront and when one arises it is as simple to take up with them where we left off the last time. The fact that we couldn't solve them before means little to us; we gladly tackle the job again with our hackles up.

Next time a pet peeve confronts you, take at least ten seconds to compare its importance and size to the vastness of the eternity that confronts you and you will be looking at your problem through a reverse telescope. The object of your wrath will become infinitesimal that it couldn't possibly deserve a second thought from you. Even a great problem is mighty small in comparison with this greatest of all time elements.

Drouth Endangers Pastured Cattle

A spell of dry weather that's long enough to interfere with normal growth of plants causes great concern among cattlemen.

At such a time, they know, grazing animals are in danger of being sickened or killed by poisonous plants. The trouble is two-fold. First, when drouth cuts feed crops short, animals will eat more of the less palatable weeds and other plants which they normally would ignore. Second, abnormal growing conditions sometimes cause one group of feed plants—the sorghums—to manufacture prussic acid, which kills stock quickly.

Reminding farmers that the fall season frequently brings dry weather, the weeks ahead may be especially frought with danger of this type. Common plants known to poison stock include bracken fern, scrub oak, wild cherry, buckeye, mountain laurel, wild honeysuckle, black nightshade, privette hedge, yellow jasmine—the list goes on and on.

Of the plants which sometimes change their makeup during periods of drouth, Sudan grass and Johnson grass are the most widely used for feed crops in Alabama. These and other members of the sorghum family are always suspect when normal growth is interrupted for any reason. There is no way to tell when drouth or frost is going to turn a good stand of one of these into a field of death. The only way to test the crop is to actually turn an animal on it to feed for an hour or so.

BUT, owners are warned to pick the least valuable animals in their herds for this risk.

Egg Prices Headed Down

If present indications prove true, a five to seven-percent increase in table egg marketings this fall will hold prices below the 1955 level.

The bigger national supply forecast by the Agricultural Marketing Service is in line with trends seen right here in Alabama.

In some years diversion of hatching eggs to the table egg market throws added strain on the market and lowers prices producers receive in the fall. However, such a situation certainly is not expected in Alabama this year. Chick replacements have been up all year, and hatcherymen report no surpluses in their field.

Program Planned To Control Pest, Cherokee Rose

One of the worst pests known to Alabama farmers, the Cherokee Rose, may be dealt a telling blow in the near future as a result of new methods of eradication and the efforts of Alabama's Sixth District Congressman, Armistead Selden.

The Cherokee Rose is a plant which is especially obnoxious in the Black Belt of Alabama. If left uncontrolled, it can almost destroy good grazing in pastures, and is considered by many farmers to be their chief enemy. While it is largely found in the Black Belt or prairie soil, it is known to some extent on pastures of other types.

Successful methods of eradication have been developed in recent years, but these methods have proved expensive. At the request of Rep. Selden, a special conservation practice involving the control of the Cherokee Rose has been approved for use under Alabama's 1957 Agricultural Conservation Program. It is expected that many farmers now plagued with the Cherokee Rose will take advantage of this cost-sharing conservation practice in an effort to eradicate this agricultural pest. Details of this program will be announced later by the local ASC office.

B'ham.-So. Boasts New Dorms For Fall Students

With its new dormitory quadrangle rapidly nearing completion, Birmingham-Southern College will be ready Sept. 27 to welcome an estimated 1100 students for Fall quarter classes.

A new men's dormitory, housing 134 students, has been erected adjacent to Victor H. Hanson Residence for Women, completed in 1953, and Andrews Hall, modernized this summer for women students.

A few spaces are still available in the three dormitories, which will house around 350 students. Birmingham-Southern, with students from around 35 Alabama Counties, will have almost one-third of its student body in residence on the campus.

The Methodist-supported institution, which celebrated its 100th year last spring, will be headed again by Chancellor Guy E. Snavely, while its newly-elected president, Dr. Henry King Stanford, is in charge of a mission to Turkey for New York University. Dr. Stanford will return to this Country and his new office in the Summer of 1957.

Berries Blue For Tarts!

The old saying goes, "She can make a berry pie, quick as a cat can wink her eye!"—and here are blueberry tarts just like that, only better! And faster! Another nice feature of this excellent recipe is that it calls for only a cup of blueberries (if you don't happen to like to pick 'em!). Served with a fluff of coconut whipped cream mixture and topped with more of the new tender-thin flaked coconut, these tarts are dreamy as a Summer day in the country. Pass tall, tinkling glasses of iced tea for the accompaniment.

Ambassador Blueberry Tarts

1 egg white	1⅓ cups Baker's Angel Flake Coconut
¼ cup sugar	1 cup sweetened blueberries
1 cup cream, whipped	6 baked 3½ inch tart sh
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Fold whipped cream and vanilla into egg-white mixture. Add 1 cup coconut. Place blueberries in tart shells, pile cream mixture on fruit, and sprinkle with remaining coconut. If desired, garnish each tart with additional blueberries and mint before sprinkling with coconut. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

5c Coca-Cola Soon To Be Extinct In Clanton Locale

Residents of Clanton and surrounding territory may find themselves paying slightly more for Coca-Cola," Mr. Charles Brightwell, Manager of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Montgomery, Alabama, announced Tuesday, September 4th.

The price of Coca-Cola thus finally follows the nickel cigar, the hot dog, and many other 5-cent commodities upward along the rising spiral of inflation.

"The Montgomery Coca-Cola Bottling Company announces this increase in its wholesale price only after exhausting every means to absorb increased costs," said Mr Brightwell. "For over fifty years we have been able to maintain the constant price level on Coca-Cola by doing our utmost to improve production and distribution facilities. During these years we have continually employed the most modern and efficient equipment available, and have made a constant study of its operation, with a view toward implementing its efficiency at every possible point. Thus far, we have succeeded, but the increased cost in production and distribution—including the price of bottles, cases, trucks, and labor have made it imperative that we increase slightly the wholesale price of Coca-Cola."

The efficiency of management's method is attested by the fact that the Montgomery Coca-Cola Bottling Company is practically the last soft drink bottler in Alabama to advance price.

"We feel that we may take a justifiable pride in the outstanding value we have offered and still offer our customers," Mr. Brightwell said. "We have fought inflation and rising costs with as much determination and ingenuity as we could, but we feel that a slight increase in price is now necessary to maintain the high quality of a product the public knows and trusts."

Fruits may be canned successfully without sugar if fruit juice or water is used in place of syrup.

Certified Seed Available For Fall Planting

Certified, home-grown seed of seven major crops are available to Alabama farmers this season. A total of 21 varieties of these crops was produced by 165 growers.

Giving the acreage and estimated production of the most important winter crops for which certified seed were harvested in Alabama, Seed Specialists said this week 1,250,000 pounds of reseeding crimson clover seed were produced on nearly 7200 acres. Over 1,640 acres of Kentucky 31 fescue yielded 500,000 pounds of certified seed, and 40,000 bushels of oats and 15,000 bushels of wheat were combined for seed from 869 acres and 480 acres, respectively.

Other certified planting stock produced in the state last spring included abruzzi rye seed, bermuda grass stolons, and zoysia sod.

Certified seed of all these crops should be obtainable through local seed dealers.

However, if the desired seed can't be had from regular sources a farmer can get the names of producers from his County Agent (Red Glasscock) or he can get material from the Alabama Crop Improvement Association catalogue of certified growers, which can be ordered from the ACIA office in Auburn.

In addition to these locally produced seed, certified seed of a number of recommended varieties are available to Alabama farmers

MRS. GEORGE NAISH

After vacation days have passed and evenings grow longer and cooler, all feel more like planning for the pleasures and tasks ahead.

Some refer to this season as fall perhaps because all the plants begin to shed their leaves. But why not think of it as Autumn? Because it is associated with harvest, the ingathering of crops, therefore an increase rather than a decrease.

After the days of the heat through which we have been passing and these are necessary to fill the "horn of plenty" cooler days will be welcomed.

Nature is beautiful with it's golden sunshine, bloom of autumn flowers, colored foliage and trees, fields of corn, brown leaves beneath the feet.

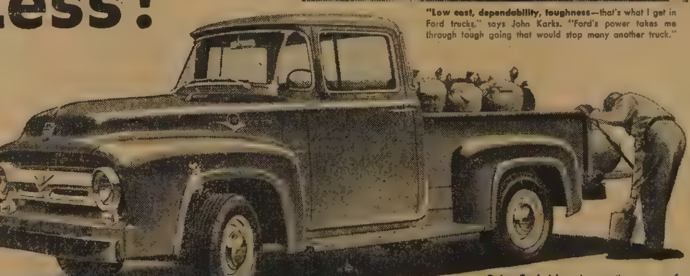
For big jobs, small jobs, all jobs—

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

"I earn as much as $30 a day more because my Ford T-800 tandem job can carry more payload than comparable trucks," says timber-hauler Clarence Landwing.

"Low cost, dependability, toughness—that's what I get in Ford trucks," says John Karks. "Ford's power takes me through tough going that would stop many another truck."



Only a Ford pickup gives you the economy of modern Short Stroke design in both Six and V-8!

Ford's low prices mean real savings. But the on-the-job savings you get in Ford trucks count even more!

Take running costs; they're downright low. Because only Ford gives you the gas and oil economy of Short Stroke power. Only Ford offers Short Stroke engines backed by over 5 billion miles of on-the-job experience.

Upkeep costs are low because Ford trucks are built extra strong. They outlast all other leading makes—proved by insurance experts. That same stand-up ruggedness means greater dependability, too.

And when it comes time to trade—you'll gain from Ford's traditionally high resale value, too. You'll find that, from start to finish, Ford trucks cost less.

THE BIG FLEETS BUY MORE FORD TRUCKS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE

"When you figure low running and upkeep costs, high trade-in and low price, we feel that nothing can beat Ford trucks for value." Charles Sofer, president of I. Hart & Co.

"Ford's Short Stroke engine design and rugged chassis mean low operating and maintenance costs," says John Coleman, whose firm operates 45 Ford C-750's.

Easy-to-Make Zestful Relishes

Spicy relishes that are easy to make and keep on hand to lend zest to your menus at a moment's notice needn't mean a lot of trouble.

Though all relishes are easy enough to make, most of the old stand-bys require a fairly large number of ingredients. Busy people, especially men, keep asking for short and easy recipes. While they lack the subtle blend of flavors found in a well-made Chutney, these quick-and-easy recipes seem to be exactly what busy people order. Use the new tapered Half Pint Jars. They are thrifty because they're just the right size for relishes.

Pepper Relish—Sour

Be sure to use peppers which do not become bitter when cooked.

12 red sweet peppers	1 cup sugar
12 green sweet peppers	1 tablespoon salt
6 medium sized onions	2 cups vinegar

Remove seeds from peppers. Chop vegetables. Mix all ingredients and simmer 15 minutes, then boil 1 minute. Pour, boiling hot, into hot Half Pint Jars; seal at once.

Pepper Relish—Sweet

Follow above recipe except use one or 2 cups sugar.

Ripe Tomato Relish

2 quarts chopped tomatoes	1 cup sugar
1 cup chopped onion	1 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon salt	1 tablespoon mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery seed

Use slightly under-ripe tomatoes. Mix tomatoes, onion and salt. Let stand 1 or 2 hours, then put into jelly bag and gently squeeze out juice. (The vegetables must be dry as possible to get them.) Mix vegetables with other ingredients. (You may add such spices as cloves and cinnamon to suit your taste.) Gently boil 10 minutes, taste, and add more salt or other seasoning if wanted. Pour boiling hot, into hot Half Pint Jars; seal at once.

Junior Joins Cereal Family

Cereals, so easy to prepare for breakfast, please the very smallest member of a family as well as the head of the household. But, the wise homemaker knows that variety adds interest. Newest member of the cereal family is Nabisco's Shredded Wheat Juniors, small but mighty good. This tender, "spoon-size" cereal, toasted to a handsome golden brown, is full of flavor and food value.

Rich in the Vitamin B complex, the new breakfast treat boasts a generous quantity of thiamin, riboflavin and niacin. These vitamins are high in energy value and help to build strong steady nerves. Since cereal is usually eaten with milk, body-building protein and calcium are added.

Serve this crunchy whole wheat cereal with bananas, peaches or berries. Then, again, try brown sugar or honey instead of granulated sugar for a new taste treat. Hot milk instead of cold and a smidgen of spice—cinnamon or nutmeg—is good, too. This tender, whole wheat cereal will always start a good day in a delicious way.

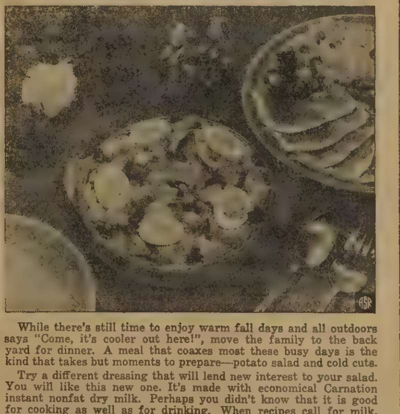
Tangy New Dressing Gives Spark To Potato Salad



While there's still time to enjoy warm fall days and all outdoors says "Come, it's cooler out here!", move the family to the back yard for dinner. A meal that coaxes most these busy days is the kind that takes but moments to prepare—potato salad and cold cuts.

Try a different dressing that will lend new interest to your salad. You will like this new one. It's made with economical Carnation instant nonfat dry milk. Perhaps you didn't know that it is good for cooking as well as for drinking. When recipes call for milk, simply use reliquefied instant. Low-calorie "Magic Crystals" dissolve instantly in cold water. There's no beating, shaking, lumping or foaming. Mix as needed or mix a day's supply for all your cooking, baking and drinking.

Tangy Cooked Salad Dressing

(Makes about 1¾ cups)

⅔ cups "Magic Crystals" Instant
1¼ cups water
1 egg
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon celery seed
cayenne pepper, to taste
2 tablespoons flour
⅓ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt

Mix instant nonfat dry milk with water. Beat egg. Combine with reliquefied instant. Blend well. Mix dry ingredients together in top of double boiler. Slowly add instant milk-egg mixture. Stir until thoroughly blended. Cook over hot water until mixture begins to thicken (about 5-8 minutes). Stir constantly. Add vinegar and butter. Continue cooking until thickened (about 3-4 minutes). Remove from heat and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Chill in covered container in refrigerator. Two hours before serving time, combine salad dressing with salad ingredients. Let stand in refrigerator until ready to use.

Quality Refreshment
Costs So Little

When you raise a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola to your lips, you can be sure it is always delicious—always refreshing. You know you can trust its quality.

You may find you are paying a penny more for each bottle now. Due to rising costs, we have finally been forced to raise our wholesale price for the first time in our history since World War I when shortages caused a temporary increase.

Even so, the cost of quality in Coca-Cola is remarkably low. At work, at play, at home—where else can you get so much refreshment for so little than in ice-cold Coca-Cola?

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Jackson and Sharon visited relatives in Atlanta during the week-end.

We are very sorry to hear that Mr. C. M. Williams, a teacher at Thorsby Institute is very ill and will not be able to begin teaching at present. We trust that he will be well again soon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arden Folk who have adopted a son, Robert Arden, age three months who came to them on September 2nd.

Lutheran Church—

Services next Sunday afternoon at the usual hour, and Rev. Donald Poole of Birmingham will preach the sermon. You are cordially invited to attend.

We, of the Lutheran Church, are indeed saddened over the sudden death of Mr. Sam F. Mims. He was always kind to us and our cause, as of course was his nature, to be kind to everyone with whom he came in contact. He will be greatly missed by us all. May God strengthen and comfort the family in their great loss is our prayer.

Mrs. Anna Thorson, Mrs. Karl Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Foss of Birmingham visited here with relatives this week-end, and the Labor Day holiday.

Thorsby Institute News—

There will be a reception of former students and anyone interested in Thorsby Institute on Friday night, Sept 7th, at 7:30 p.m., Given by Ladies Guild.

This is an annual affair.

Quite a number have registered for the coming year at Thorsby Institute.

It was a great loss to the town and those interested in Thorsby Institute to learn of the passing of Mr. Sam Mims. He took an interest in the school.

There will be one session of School on Saturday, Sept. 8th, beginning at 8:25, and lasting until 1:00 p.m.

Sail To Italy—

W. O. and Mrs. Samuel G. Lewis (Marie Smith) spent several days with Mrs. Lewis' parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of Thorsby.

They left Sunday for New York City. They will sail September 7, on the "Gen. Darby" for Italy, where W .O. Lewis has been assigned to duty for three years.

Lewis is with the guided missile division of the Army.

The Lewises left El aPso, Texas August 18 and spent some time with W. O.'s people in Idaho and Kansas before coming to Thorsby.

Lewis has been stationed at the Guided Missile Center at Fort Bliss Texas. Mrs Lewis was employed by the Government in the finance department of the hospital.

Mrs. Lewis' grandmother, Mrs. Mary Montgomery, her great aunt, Mrs. Amelia McCreary, aunt, Mrs. Amelia Kelso and cousins, Miss Lois Brannan and Mrs. Lois Brockman and son, Robert Brockman of Birmingham and Fairfield spent Saturday with the Clarence Smith's.

Mr. and Mrs Bert Smith (brother of Mrs. Lewis) and daughter, Crista Ann Smith of Center Point, spent Friday night with the Smith family.

Mrs. Lewis has a brother, C. W. Smith (Bill) in the Navy. He arrived in San Francisco, California from Pearl Harbor Friday. He called home Saturday. He was the only one of the family the Lewises did not get to see. Mrs. C. W. Smith (Billie) is staying with the Clarence Smith's at this time.

Wheat consumption has increased in the Far East, due to a post-war shortage of rice.

Lebanon is Paradise To Visitors Seeking Sport, Amusement

Lebanon is a vacationer's paradise. Whether one seeks simple relaxation or organized recreation, he will find them in every variety in this tiny republic on the eastern shores of the Mediterranean.

Whether it is land or sea sports, night-clubbing or touring the ancient historic sites that dot the picturesque mountains and quaint valleys—there is something available to meet everyone's taste in the gayest of all the Bible Lands.

The climate is ideal with bright, warm sunshine throughout the summer days and cool breezes from the Mediterranean at night. One can plan an informal beach picnic or swimming party or attend an open-air concert and know positively that rain will never fall.

If a vacationer comes to Lebanon in the summer—and scores of thousands do come from Egypt, the Near East, Europe and the U. S.—he will find himself enjoying an international tennis tournament, a water-ski meet off the shores of Beirut, swimming in the delightfully warm sea, attending special festivals in the mountain-villages, dancing at formal balls, or hiking over mountains whose terraced landscapes offer thrilling views of villages perched on precipices or etched on slopes that face the the sea.

Lebanon is a veritable playground centered around mountain resorts where one can stay in a first class hotel for around $10.00 a day, full board and room. The hotels are located atop ranges that rise from 2000 to 6000 feet above the nearby sea. They are within a 30-minute drive of the capital. They specialize in Continental menus but they also offer delicious Oriental dishes.

The deluxe hostelries feature name orchestras from Europe and the United States, for dinner dancing and concerts. Some hotels have night clubs with spectacular floor shows from Vienna, Paris, London and New York. All first class hotels have running hot and cold water, bath tubs and showers in their private rooms.

Often attached to the mountain hotels are tennis courts and casinos. The larger deluxe hotels have ballrooms and since most of the important families summer in the mountains, a tourist may find himself participating in a grand ball given by the leading society women for the Red Cross or other worthy charity.

After fence posts are treated, they should be protected from the direct rays of the sun, which will cause some of the preservative to run out.

LETTER FROM BERMUDA

rainwater, with a ridge at the eves which holds the water and directs it into pipes at various places along this ridge which carries it off in pipes to a tank under the house. We call it a cistern at home. Most of the American families living here boil all of their water before using it. And we have seen a half acre or more of the hill sides at various places all over the island, that have been cleared off and the coral cemented over then white-washed, with a wall of coral and cement two to four or more feet high around the outside. The water is run from this cachement into storage tanks for the use of town buildings and business places.

The houses are constructed of this coral rock, and you can see places where almost a whole hill has been used. They clear off and saw out a large slab several feet long and saw this into blocks the size of our cement blocks at home, and build beautiful houses with it. We saw one whole hill that had been used for blocks excepting two tall slabs left standing in the center.

The roads through the island are narrow and winding with a 20 MPH speed limit imposed on all cars and bikes. You see bikes, motor bikes and the little English cars everywhere and the people who are walking seem to have the right-of-way

We visited St. Peters Church, in St. Georges, this church was built in 1620 and is still in use. The beams and all the pews are made of cedar and each family has their own pews with their names on them, and if you ever come to Bermuda be sure to see this church.

The cruise ship "Queen of Bermuda" comes in each week and docks at Hamilton. The "Monarch" and "Silver Star", two other large ocean-going ships come in often. There are lots of pretty beaches to go in swimming, places to go and see and enjoy. The fishing is good and you see many different kinds of fish and all colors. And to be out on the water at night fishing and watch the moon come over the blue water is really something to see

We went out on a boat cruise with Rubye's choir members one P.M., about 30 of us, and after we left the dock, dinner was spread on the table in the dining room and all enjoyed a grand dinner. Along about 3 p.m. the boat pulled into a small beach so all who wanted to, could go in swimming for an hour or so, then we were on our way back home after 5 hours of real pleasure out on the water. This too, was our first boat ride and we really enjoyed every minute of it.

Bob and Rubye live just a few feet from "Crystal Cave", a large cavern of crystal rock that some boys discovered back in 1907. The water down in the cave is a clear blue color and from a few feet to 40 and even 80 feet deep in places. Where it is 80 feet is under a cliff and a part of the cave that has never been explored. All other places you can see the bottom and the reflection from overhead on the water is beautiful. One part is so large that noted swimmers have had moving pictures made while diving and swimming in the cave. When the tide changes in the ocean, the water in the cave rises and falls three to four feet with it, the water is salty and comes from the ocean but no one has been able to discover where it comes in from. There is water dripping from overhead but this is pure fresh water. A pontoon type bridge walkway is used in the lower reaches of the cave for the visitors to walk around in the caverns. This allows the walkway to rise and fall with the changing ocean tide. This cave is one of the main tourist attractions in Bermuda. Thousands of tourists visit here each year, among them are many noted persons. This beautiful cave is the most wonderful piece of God's handiwork we have ever seen.

One would have to see Bermuda to enjoy it trees, flowers, small groves of banana, lime, lemon, grapefruit and orange trees, and a few other tropical fruits that I do not recall.

One thing that we really miss here is a Baptist Church. We go to the Base Chapel for church services and the present Chaplain is a Methodist. The Baptist, Methodist and Lutheran all worship together. There are Baptist Churches for the colored people, but no white Baptist Church. Recently a group of service people from the base have started a Baptist Church and are trying to get a building for meetings.

The people living here are from most everywhere including thousands of service families and all are friendly and soon make one feel at home. We really enjoyed watching the softball games and the little league baseball games. Bobby plays on one of the Little League teams and this year was chosen to play on the Kindley Little League "All Star" team, this is an honor to be proud of.

To all our friends we send greetings from far away beautiful Bermuda

Sincerely,
-s- Mrs. W. H. Raybon

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Sometimes the obvious is easiest overlooked. We were reminded the other day about our "gruff" manner of answering a telephone. Now that is something that we just hadn't noticed in ourself. Nothing would be further from our minds than answering a telephone in a gruff manner, but since it was called to our attention we have listened with extra care to those with whom we talk on a telephone and we find many of us are careless about our "telephone voice." Then we called a place of business in town and the young lady aswered wih a simple "hello". We then asked if this was "such and such" place of business and she said "yeah." We then asked to whom we were speaking and the lady gave us her name, which incidentally, meant nothing to us. So, with a temperature slowly, but surely rising we asked for the man who owned the business and she then informed us that he was not there, we would have to call back later. If the owner knew such a telephone conversation had to take place to get his business identified to a customer, and we were a customer, he would have a running fit and the lady would be just three jumps ahead of him while he was running. Anyway, our point is to try hard to be more pleasant when speaking on the telephone and not let people think that every day is a "blue Monday".

We know some high school kids who had better take a different attitude if they expect to sell enough advertising for their annual. One of a group while in our office the other day told us while he was writing out a receipt for a small ad: "my you people over here are sure cheap." We don't think with an attitude like that that many friends will be made. Granted that our ad was a small one. There are at least 12 or 15 schools that solicit us each year for advertising in the annuals. When you contribute to each of them it reaches a sizeable amount and small contributions should be kindly received.

Congratulations to John D. Avery who has just won a $500.00 Schlumberger Foundation Scholarship for the coming year at A.P.I. John is from Thorsby.

What is so rare as a day in June? That's easy; a September Morn.

All you good local people go to the polls and vote Monday. When we say local people, we mean the municipalities of Jemison, Thorsby, Maplesville and Clanton. Each will hold their municipal election on Monday and each have good men running for the offices of Mayor and Councilmen. It is up to us to pick the best men for the job to be done.

Did you hear about the boy who had to leave college because of bad eyesight. He mistook the Dean of Women for a co-ed.

Friday evening will see the first football squads line up on the gridiron of our County to give their all for their Alma Mater. But, to give their all, the team must be backed by first, the student body; the band; the cheerleaders and last,but in no sense least, the parents and friends of the school. Go out to support your community school and team. They need your support and you need their inspiration and friendship.

Favors Building New Courthouse---

Grand Jury Examines 70 Cases, Returns 46 True Bills

To Honorable Oakley W. Melton, As Judge of Said Court:

We, the Grand Jury, empaneled for the July Term of the Circuit Court, after having been instructed by our Honor entered upon our investigations of all cases and matters brought before us.

During our investigations we have considered 70 cases, and have examined 120 witnesses, and are returning herewith 46 true bills.

Since the State of Alabama, Department of Public Accounts conducts periodic audits of the various public officials of this County, the Grand Jury did not examine the records of the various officials. From information at hand it appears that all of the records are being kept in accordance with the law.

The Grand Jury made a personal inspection of the County Jail and found the inside of the building to be generally clean, neat, orderly and safe for the detention of the prisoners housed therein However, it was noted that a great amount of the State Fire Marshal the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control authorized a firm of Engineers and consultants from Birmingham to inspect the building. A [illegible] from this firm was then given to the Grand Jury, the last two paragraphs which read as follows:

"After much thought as to the feasibility of remodeling the building the conclusion was reached that remodeling is out of the question and that one of rebuilding is the actual case. This means that the walls would have to be replaced from the ground up. The problem then becomes one of new construction."

"In short it is not economically feasible to rebuild this building."

Upon receipt of the report from the Engineers the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control proceeded to authorize the construction of a combination Court House and Jail to be erected on the sight of the present jail. The judge explained that the construction is possible without the addition of any taxes and without using the money set aside for the construction of roads. rubbish has been allowed to accumulate around the jail house yard and it is our recommendation that the yard be given a general cleaning. It was also noted that a great deal of general repair work is needed at this time. However, additional expenditures for the repairs on this building is not considered feasible. It was also noted that the rear of the jailers house presents an unsightly appearance and it is recommended that the area immediately adjacent to the jailers home also be given a thorough cleaning.

The Probate Judge of Chilton County was called before the Grand Jury in connection with the condition of the County Court House building. A recent report from the State Fire Marshal was submitted to the Grand Jury. The report noted many dangerous conditions existing throughout the building. The report, considered in its entirety, amounted to a condemnation of the building. The Probate Judge further advised that upon receipt of the report of

After the Probate Judge's report the Grand Jury proceeded to make a personal inspection of the County Court House building. We find that the conditions referred to in the report do exist. A representative group from the Grand Jury went into the attic of the Court House building. In our opinion from our examination we feel that it is unsafe for any sizable crowd to gather in the courtroom It is our recommendation that the officials charged with the responsibility of providing a place in which to hold court immediately obtain another suitable place in which to hold court. We found the chimney on the East side of the Court House to be in an extremely dangerous condition and we hereby recommend its immediate removal from the building. Until the chimney can be removed, it is our recommendation that the area adjacent on the East side of the Court House be fenced in a sufficient manner to keep any and all persons from the immediate area.

The Grand Jury investigated the general conditions prevailing in our County relative to the prohibition laws. It was ascertained that since the present Sheriff took office in January, 1955, a total of 179 stills ranging in size from one barrel to 4000 gallons have been destroyed. Thirty four stills have been destroyed within the last three months and a great number of persons have been arrested for violating the Prohibition Law. It is the opinion of this Grand Jury that the general conditions relative to prohibition are much improved within the last three months. However, it is also our belief that there is still a great deal of liquor traffic in our County and that in order to cope with the situation the Sheriff of this County needs an additional Deputy Sheriff and a Clerk in his office. It is hereby recommended that the legislative representative of this County proceed to introduce legislation in the next session of the Legislature to provide an additional Deputy and Clerk. It is also our recommendation that two full time ABC Agents

The First Baptist Church, Clanton, Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson, pastor. extends a cordial invitation to all members and friends to attend a noteburning ceremony Sunday 16, during the morning worship service. At this time two members of the church will burn the educational building note, celebrating the last payment on the church debt. The last payment was made on the debt Wednesday, September 5th, thus clearing in three and one-half years, an indebtedness which was expected to cover an eight-years period. Come to Sunday School and remain for the special worship service.

A Tribute To A Great Church, by the pastor. Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson

During the past twenty-six years I have served three churches, prior to my coming to the First Baptist Church, Clanton. As I look back over the past years I feel that I must express my heartfelt appreciation to a great church and wonderful people

The First Baptist Church, Clanton, one of the great churches of Alabama, and to me the greatest of them all. I have never experienced such a remarkable fellowship in the Lord's work as is present in the great First Church. We have had more than seven years of remarkable harmony and great spiritual fellowship.

The church has continued to move forward in all branches of the Lord's work, ever seeking better methods and better ways to reach the lost for Christ.

Year after year complete harmony has prevailed among the leaders of the church. A striking example of this has been our monthly meetings of the deacons. There has been no fussing, but instead, ample fellowship. There has been no wrangling, but plenty of righteousness, faith and courage as our men have

Football Season Opens Friday

UNDERDOG TIGERS SHAPING UP FOR BIG GAME WITH CHILDERSBURG

B. B. Bates

Coach F. H. Spicer has been hard at work grooming his young Tigers for the coming football season. With only three seasoned seniors expected in starting roles the inexperienced Tigers will go into the Friday night opener with Childersburg as a 13 point underdog.

Coach Spicer is not the type of coach to use the crying towel, but two of his backs will be on the sidelines for the opener. Charles Gray starting left halfback has a knee injury and Ralph Davis, a reserve back has an ankle injury. The backfield starts out with two strikes against them.

These young Tigers are going to make mistakes to begin with; but, potentially there is a very fine football team in the making. If you football fans will just participate but be patient and not holler for the axe too soon your patience will be amply rewarded. These lads have everything except experience and reserve strength. They'll start getting the experience when you see them play tomorrow night (Friday) at th C.C.H.S. Ball Park at 7:30 p.m.

JEMISON PANTHERS MEET VERBENA RED DEVILS AT JEMISON

Robert B. Johnson
Jemison High Sports Reporter

Tomorrow night, Friday, September 14th, coach J. R. Porch brings his 1956 edition of the Verbena "Red Devils" to Jemison to tangle with the J.H.S. "Panthers."

This is the opening of the new season. Jemison High presents, perhaps its smallest team and most inexperienced with the exception of its first team in 1946.

Graduation of nine starters and four good reserves plus the ineligibility of three mire from last years squad reduced greatly the size and experience of the Jemison team this season.

In spite of this, Jemison's new head coach, J. Otts, ably supported by first assistant coach, Calvin Wright have encouraged a large number of boys to come out for the team. They have worked hard with the raw material in trying to mold an acceptable team to open the new season.

Losing an entire backfield and five husky linesmen presents quite a problem. but the new and up-coming Panthers are determined to give the "Red Devils" a real tussle.

Coach Porch himself, lost a lot of the strength of his veteran team of last year through graduation, but the cagey coach from Verbena High has a knack for coming up with a team that is tough to rope in.

Trot on out folks, and see these local County teams bang it up. You will see a lot of new talent on each team and though they may lack the finesse of the seasoned players, they will be in there trying.

It should be an exciting scrap Don't forget the date, tomorrow nite at Jemison High School. Kick-off at 7:30.

Raymond Popwell Writes Voters About Pool Hall

On Monday, September 17, you will go to the polls and vote for your choice of Mayor and Councilmen. On the same day, there will be a vote to see whether or not the voters of Clanton want a pool room.

It is a known fact that few of you would vote against anything that was coming to Clanton and also a known fact that some of you would vote against a pool room because the thought of a pool room is connected with the thought of a place to hang out, gamble, drink and curse.

There is another side to the question; It can be a place of clean recreation and amusement just as well as it can be a "hang-out." If I am permitted to operate a pool room I assure you it will be a place of clean recreation and amusement ONLY. The Clanton Police Department will assure you of this also.

Some six months ago I was told that I could open a pool room, however, in the weeks to follow I was told to stop and wait until it could be voted on by the voters. ...Now is the time for the voters to do just that. Regardless of how you vote, go to the polls and exercise your voting privilege.

Respectfully yours,
-s- Raymond Popwell

COSTLY COST OF LIVING—

During the recent Republican Convention while the stalwarts of that party were raving about our present "Peace and Prosperity," they were keeping quiet on the fact that the cost of living has just reached a new all-time high.

A report of our cheaper dollar had been prepared for release to the press during the Convention but final figurs showed that it now takes $1.17 to buy a dollars worth of merchandise. The report was quickly shelved by the Republicans to be released only after the Convention had convened. It would have thrown a bad light on the Eisenhower-Nixon team on which the Republicans are depending.

The truth of the matter is that our present administration did not know of the present rise in living costs. Showing their usual ignorance of economic matters they were taking it for granted that the Country was prospering because the party was prospering. The present high in living costs was reached early in July of this year, yet the chief office holders of our Nation were not even aware of the fact until the middle of August. This is the kind of government you are now receiving in return for your tax money—one so lax that it neither knows nor cares what the taxpayers dollar is worth to them.

Let's get back to a government that can see the handwriting before it's put on the wall instead of one that can't see it before the wall falls down.

THE MAN WHO WONDERED—

Once upon a time there was a businessman who spent all of his money away from home. He was sure that he could take care of himself and that his town didn't need anything from him.

After a few years, his business wasn't as keen as he had hoped it would be, his friends didn't seem to think he was quite as important as he thought he was, and trade seemed to flow by his doors.

The man began to watch his competitor, who was an intelligent advertiser, a consistent contributor to the public purse, a man anxious to give his time and thought to community projects and a believer in the fact that it pays to keep as much money as possible at home.

After noting all these factors, the man continued to wonder why some of his old customers went to the newcomer, and why almost everybody had the idea that he was a tightwad and that his competitor was a public-spirited leader of community life.

things we See and Hear

By "TUCK"

We were informed last week that there are two in the mayor's race over in Maplesville. They are the incumbent, V. B. McCain and his challenger, Henry Clay Nix. According to some folks, there are some real political campaigns going on over there. The mayor's race is certainly not one that could be called passive. Definitely active, say the contenders. In other words, it's a good political campaign, as far as politics are concerned and no doubt, the best man will win. We certainly hope so. And by the way, YOU go and vote.

You know, a crooked politician is like a splinter in your finger; if you don't get it out, it will cause an infection.

An infection involves the entire body; not just the finger. Are we right?

The County Fair was, as we predicted, the biggest success this year, in it's short history. Many people worked long and hard to bring the Fair to the people. They deserve the credit. We think the Fair should be insured existence for some years to come.

The Civitan Club of Clanton had a Banquet last Thursday night with Armistead Selden, Congressman from this district, as guest speaker. About 140 guests and Civitans were served a fine meal. The Southern Belles, a vocal group enlivened the procedure a bit with a song. The program was televised and portions of it were shown on Friday night over Channel 12, Montgomery. L. D. Brookshire was Master of Ceremonies.

One thing about a buffet supper, it's every man for himself. At a banquet you just have to take your chances along with everybody else. You all have an equal start.

Ethics, it seems, in a political scuffle on National Scale are somewhat different from our corn-fed brand here in Dixie. Usually a man running for office tries to find something, no matter how distant, that qualifies him for the job he is seeking. On the contrary, the National scale seems to be who can sling the most mud. Both sides, down to the most insignificant writer say things that are just as obviously untrue as the moon is purple. It seems to us these boys take the cake alright. . . the mud cake, at that.

Ethics? What's that, a disease?

The reason a man is considered undesirable and doesn't know it, is because his friends obviously don't think he is, and those who think he is, don't get a chance to tell him so. Too bad, to. He goes merrily through life, thinking he's a nice Joe.

If you will direct your mail to us, Bob Tucker, concerning football articles to be published in the paper this season, we will appreciate your interest.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

Driving into a strange town while on a trip I automatically compare it to Clanton. The thing I notice most is the entrance into the town which serves as a first impression to the passing throng.

How does Calnton stack up against other towns in its civic pride? I have lived here for so many years I can hardly look at my own home town with an unbiased eye. I wonder how tourists feel when they drive into the outskirts here. I'm afraid that the outskirts are the most vulnerable part of any town's civic pride and they are, at the same time, the most important.

Naturally, the tourists can get a bad impression of a place if they happen to stop right in the middle of town and are treated discourteously, but their first impression was created on the outskirts. It seems unjust that property owners on the edge of town are given this added responsibility but that's the way towns are built. City, County and State governments share in this liability since they are solely responsible for maintaining their respective right-of-ways. In other words, our City's entrances become the responsibility and if we are to create a good impression on tourists we must see to it that they are inviting.

The next time you drive into town try to look at it objectively as a strange town and see what sort of first impression you get from your own home town.

NOTE-BURNING CEREMONY—

sought to lead our church to ever greater and obler service.

Our harmony has not been that which comes because of indolence, but rather the harmony of a united effort to do a great work for the Lord. During this time a new pastorium has been built at the cost of twenty-seven thousand dollars, a new educational building has been built at the cost of over one hundred and twenty thousand dollars, and the auditorium has been air-conditioned at a cost of approximately ten thousand dollars. Added to this advance program on the local church level, two missions have been established and we have increased our Co-operative Program giving each year.

In the same spirit of harmony and unfaltering faith in our wonderful Lord and Saviour, we are launching for the future a greater program of advance than anything we have experienced in the past. In the near future a program will be launched to double the capacity of our auditorium and to provide additional and much needed educational space.

We move forward in faith, trusting the future to the leadership of the Lord.

J. Gilbert Hutchinson, pastor

Mrs. Gay Gives Recipe For Separating Muscadine Scuppernong Pulps

"I have found this recipe an easy and quick way to separate hulls from the pulp of muscadines and scuppernongs," says Mrs. C. C. Gay of Stanton, Alabama:

Gather the fruit early in the morning and can immediately for a good product.

Separate the hulls from the pulp by hand or a potato masher may be used for this purpose. Cover the bottom of a pan with scuppernongs or muscadines, then press down on them with the potato masher until all are crushed, then take both hands and pinch out the hulls.

You may cook the hulls as you would peaches or apples to can. These hulls can also be used to make preserves or run through a food chopper and made into a jam.

Boil the juice and pulp for making jelly as you would any other jelly

Confused "Sit"—uation

Been meaning all week to tell you about Curley Lawson's "baby-sitting" experience.

His Mrs. left him in charge, about seven p.m., with instructions not to let the children come downstairs. So Curley read his paper and whenever he heard footsteps on the staircase he ordered the culprit back to bed. Happened three or four times.

Little while later, Mrs. Miller from next door came over to inquire if Curley had seen her Sonny. "Here I am, Mom," came a voice from upstairs, "But Mr. Lawson won't let me go home."

From where I sit, jumping to conclusions like Curley did, doesn't always make for an amusing story. I'm reminded of the people who—without due consideration—have concluded that I'm wrong to like an occasional glass of beer. Well, to my way of thinking, that's not only intolerant . . . but, what's more, "minding" the other fellow's business is not the American way.

R. L. Duffey Writes Voters Of Clanton

Election time is drawing near and I take this medium of contacting you. I may have missed visiting or seeing you in the City or at your home, and trust that this visit through our County paper will suffice.

I would like to emphasize that I am not in any way obligated to any person or organization. If elected I will not be a "yes" man to anybody. but will honestly, fairly, and impartially, to the best of my knowledge. consider all matters and vote my convictions, but always abiding by a majority rule.

My only interest in asking for this job is to serve the people of Clanton, as I have plenty of time and will give it to this end, that the City may grow and prosper and be a "beaconlight" to guide some industry our way. With the electric and water power from Coosa River near by coming here, this inducement is a big drawing card for some private or corporate concern to locate here, and I thoroughly believe with the co-operation of the City of Clanton's intrested people this can be accomplished. I will give my time in the City, County, State, or outside the State if needs be to obtain this objective.

My life work as a teacher in the rural schools, and a rural mail carrier has been dealing with the public, most of it in Chilton County. I have been living in Clanton since July 1st '49. I own my home and do not owe anything to any person or firm that I could not pay on presentation of the bill. I do owe a good will to every man and by the help of the good Lord I'm trying to pay that day by day, as I come in contact with my fellowman.

I belong to the First Baptist Church. I was an active deacon, S. S. Supt., and clerk of the church for more than 25 years. I am a mason and belong to all the other bodies up through the Shrine and have been for many, many years, also the O.E.S. here in Clanton filled most of the chairs in all the subordinate bodies.

I was state secretary of the rural letter carriers for four years, dealing with about 1000 carriers, secretary of the district five years, and secretary of the County, (Chilton) for 25 years or more. The carriers of the State sent me to several national carriers meetings to represent the State with all expenses paid. Also the Alcazar Shrine Temple, Montgomery, sent me to represent the Temple to the Southeastern Shrine Association with all expenses paid.

If elected mayor I will co-operate with all law enforcement officers, in making Clanton a cleaner, Christian City to visit and a better place to live, and promise if elected, I will not betray the confidence you repose in me.

Respectfully Submitted,
-s- Raymond L. Duffey

(Pd. pol. adv. by Raymond L. Duffey, Clanton, Alabama.)

We, having complied to the best of our ability with your Honor's charge, respectfully ask that we now be dismissed until such time as your Honor may deem it necessary to have us again convene.

Board of Revenue Asks Two Additional River Crossings

At a recent meeting of the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control two resolutions were unanimously adopted which will further facilitate the flow of traffic between Chilton and Coosa Counties. In the first resolution the Board requests that the Alabama Power Company and the State Highway Department work out an agreeable project for extending the Lay Dam Road across the dam into Coosa County. This project being proposed for possible construction when the Power Company makes planned improvements in the near future.

The State Highway Department declared the request being made in the second resolution to be indeed a strange one. unprecedented in recent years. The Board requested of the Highway Department that a ferry be put across the Coosa River. The proposal calls for moving the present ferry from Log Cabin Beach to the site of the old Mims Ferry on Mims Ferry Road.

Below are the two resolutions as they were proposed and adopted at the August 27th meeting of the Board of Revenue and Control:

"Mr. Dunlap offered the following preamble and resolution for adoption; which was duly seconded by Mr. Cost; WHEREAS, the Alabama Power Company is contemplating extensive improvements to their Hydro-Electrical development of the Cosa River in the near future, and WHEREAS, it would be most advantageous to the people of Chilton County and Coosa County and to the general traveling public at large to have provided a practical, safe and suitable crossing of the Cosa River at Lay Dam,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: that the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama does hereby request the Alabama Power Company to consider the feasibility of working out a project with the State Highway Department whereby a suitable bridge may be constructed and maintained across the Coosa River at Lay Dam, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the State Highway Department give this Project it's serious consideration, and BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of this resolution be mailed to Mr. L. M. Smith, President of the Alabama Power Company and to Mr. Herman Nelson, Director of the State Highway Department.

The above stated preamble and resolution were adopted by a unanimous vote of all the members present and the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted.

Mr. Cost offered the following preamble and resolution for adoption; which were duly seconded by Mr. Motley; WHEREAS, the State of Alabama is now maintaining a public Ferry on U. S. Highway 22, Clanton, County seat of Chilton County and Rockford, the County seat of Coosa County, Alabama and WHEREAS, the State of Alabama is in the process of having constructed a suitable bridge on Alabama Highway 22 across the Coosa River between Clanton and Rockford, Alabama, and

WHEREAS, when said Bridge is completed the State will discontinue the operation of said Ferry at said Point, and

WHEREAS, there is no other public Ferry or bridge crossing said Coosa River between the point where said Alabama Highway 22 and U. S. Highway 280 crosses said River, said distance being approximately 30 miles, said and WHEREAS, it would be most advantageous to the people of Chilton and Coosa Counties and the general public at large that a crossing across said Coosa River be provided for the use of the public at large at or near the locatiin of Lay Dam on said river, and

WHEREAS, Coosa County is contemplating construction of a hard surface type of public road from Weogufka in Coosa County running in a westerly direction at a point at or near Lay Dam, and

WHEREAS, There is a hard surface road constructed leading from Clanton Chilton County, Alabama to Lay Dam,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama does hereby request the Director of the State Highway Department of Alabama to place the Ferry now located on said Highway 22, when said bridge is completed, at or near a crossing below Lay Dam, and maintain said free Ferry service across Coosa River at or near Lay Dam, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a certified copy of this resolution be forthwith mailed to Mr. Herman Nelson, Director of the State Highway Department of Alabama.

The above stated preamble and resolution were adopted by a unanimous vote of all the members present and the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted.

Soli Conservation—

Sod-Seeding Demonstration, 25th

B. L. Vance and Grover Vance are clearing a sand bottom of almost worthless hardwood. Coastal Bermuda will be planted in alternate corn rows.

A farm pond was staked out on G. U. Mims' and M. T. Chandlers' farms. These ponds will be used for livestock water and fish production.

There will be a sod-seeding demonstration September 25th on the farms of Hiram Kelley, S. A. Jones, Charlie Patterson, and M. R. Glasscock. Winter grasses and clover will be planted in Coastal Bermuda and Bahia grass sods. For more information listen to spot announcements on your local radio station.

Dr. Joe Earl Gowan has overseeded Rescue grass on a new 6 acre stand of Coastal Bermuda.

Revised Soil and Water Conservation farm plans have been prepared on S. A. Jones, Fonza Green, Thomas Hayes and E. M. Varden's farms.

Growing a perinnial grass or legume for several years and then turning and planting to a row crop is a very good conservation practice. Joe Gibson, of Verbena, turned a six-year old sericea field and planted it to corn this past spring. The corn will average forty bushels or more per acre with practically no rain. L. J. Patterson turned 30 acres of Rescue sod which was four years old, and his corn yield should average forty or more bushels with very little rain. In both cases, the real value of a grass base rotation would have shown more yield had they received a little more rain.

Chilton Breaking All Records In Road Improvement

In the past year Chilton County has broken all previous records with its road-paving program. To date thirty miles of road have been paved within the County and plans for next year's road program are even more extensive.

Roads completed within the year are from Cooper to Enterprise; Verbena to Enterprise; the Adams Road west from highway 82; Sprott to Perry County; Enterprise to the Autauga County Line; Verbena to the Verbena Cemetery. The road from Macedonia to the Bibb County Line will be completed within the month.

The three roads resurfaced during this period are the Higgins Ferry Road; Coopers to Coopers School around the loop; Verbena to Verbena High School.

Five bridges have been completed; three on the Sprott Road and two on the Coopers Road.

Chilton County will save a great deal of maintenance costs since the State Highway Department is planning to make the road from Sprott to Marion a State maintained highway.

On September 7, the State Highway Department received bids on the Collins Chapel Road. Low bids for the roadway and bridges totaled $158,275.40 and contracts were awarded to the low bidders. This cost does not include any allowance for base and paving for which new bids will be asked when the roadway and bridges are complete. Work will begin on this road within the next few days.

Pilots Will Have Rummage Sale

Childersburg Overruns Tigers With Score Of 39 To 6

By BRAX BATES

The Chilton "Tigers" were no match for a larger and more seasoned Childersburg eleven and went down in defeat Friday night 39 to 6.

Out-weighed 15 pounds per man in the line, the Chilton team could muster only one real offensive drive during the 4th quarter.

With Neal Bice and Jimmy Foshee carrying the ball on short gains the Tigers drove from their own 40 down to the 25. From this point Terry Jones hit Neal Bice with a flat pass at the 15. Bice outran two defenders for the T.D.

The scoring actually got under way on the opening kickoff by Foshee. Bobby Weaver took the ball on the 20 and ran to his left. The Tigers then literally gave their visitors a TD on this play. The entire Tiger eleven converged on Weaver and in their eagernss to make the tackle deep in enemy territory the Tigers faild to notice Allen Maulden who ran from near the sideline and take the ball from Weaver in a perfectly timed play. Mauldin did not slow up as he cut upfield and traveled 80 yards for the score. He also added the EP.

Childersburg led 13 to 0 after Hixson scored from the 10 yard line. During the second quarter Johnny Shoemaker connected with a 20 yard pass to Bobby Hightower for a marker and Maulden converted giving Childersburg a 20 to 0 lead. The first half scoring was completed when Weaver ran 50 yds. with a punt return.

Childersburg led 26 to 0 at the half and the Clanton fans knew there would be no comeback for the Tigers as they kicked off to begin the second half against this well-conditioned football team

Even during time-outs the visitors would remain on their feet and did not appear to tire at all.

Childersburg scored only once in the 3rd period that was the result of an 18 yard touchdown jaunt by Weaver. The Tigers then scored their 6 points and the score was 26 to 6.

The Childersburg team added icing to the cake when Weaver broke loose around his own left end for a 25 yard paydirt gallop. Mauldin split the upright bars for the EP and the score soared to 39 to 6. The first downs were 10 to 9 in favor of the visitors.

Coach Spicer was dealt another severe blow in the loss of his number one fullback. It is reported that Jack Deloach will be out 4 weeks with a broken wrist.

The football outlook is not near as dark as some may think. Of the 30 boys who dressed out for the game some 25 of them are due back in '57. This squad will be augmented by a number of Coach Bulger's Jr. team that is working out daily and will play a schedule of their own.

Coach Spicer is working hard and diligently each afternoon and these young boys will improve; and if the injury jinx can be licked, they will not be pushed around by anyone in their remaining games.

Friday night the Tigers cross County rivals of Maplesville will come to battle the Tigers and this should be a very interesting gam

Too often "news" is not what happened, but what some writer thought might happen.

It's only after seeing a class B picture that you realize how good a class A picture is.—Christian Science Monitor.

Over-cautious people are almost as worthless as those who are too careless.

Most of the worries that afflict our minds never exist outside of our heads.

This is the proper season to make a resolution that you will drive carefully on the highways.

Truth may be hard to find, but the search warrants the attention of all individuals.

The modern vacation leaves a man unable to work effectviely for at least another week after he returns.

FORWARD, MARCH—

There has been a change in "the powers that be" at the City and Town Halls throughout Chilton County. Last Monday's elections resulted in quite a few changes in municipal government locally.

To the new mayors and councilmen we offer our heartiest congratulations and best wishes. To the old, we offer our heartfelt thanks for the time and effort they put into guiding our towns.

Times have changed since the day when mayor's were expected to walk to the office, tipping their hats and then rare back in a chair to rest for the day and councilmen held their weekly checker game on Council Night. Today's municipal officials are handed the task of guiding a town to prosperity or watching it be trampled on in its idleness. The new mayors elected within our County have just had a large responsibility added to the many on their shoulders. Their job will not be an easy one and that is why the voters chose men whom they felt could shoulder this new load.

A municipality, like any business, cannot sit still. It must move either forward or backwards. So, we say to the new powers that be, "Forward, march."

IRST IMPRESSIONS—

Clanton was host to quite a few dirty tourists last week-end, and we mean literally, dirty. Let us hasten to state that the condition was involuntary on our visitors' part and they did all they could to alleviate it. Their discomfort was caused solely by the fact that Clanton, for reasons unknown, does not employ a waterline service crew that can or will work at night.

It seems that the main water line feeding South Clanton chose Sunday night to burst about one mile below town. Upon receiving reports of the water leak the City Hall immediately dispatched a man to the spot of the calamity. Direct action was taken when the water supply was cut off completely and everyone went to bed—that is, everyone except those who needed water at this time.

The tourists we mentioned before were staying at the motel on the end of our southern line and were blissfully sleeping after a hard day's travel, fully unaware of what was ahead of them. Upon arising Monday morning they discovered they were in a waterless town. You can imagine their first impression of Clanton as they departed unshaven and with parched throats towards the wet oasis of a more thoughtful municipality.

It is doubtful that we will ever see these folks again. As our luck runs, one was possibly the president of a large industry planning to move here. If so, he might report to the Board that Clanton not only hasn't enough water for industry it seems, it hasn't enough to wash your hands.

BULGER, GOOD EXAMPLE OF FINE PUBLIC SPIRIT

V. L. Bulger, teacher, coach and park supervisor during the season, is in our opinion, a prime example of what can be accomplished by us as individuals, if we put ourselves into the task at hand. He goes out of his way to build our youth. That, in itself, is an outstanding contribution to the community simply because there is not enough of it these days. But, that's not the story. He works and has worked many overtime hours on park projects, kids recreation and numerous other things that help in keeping our young folks busy and healthy. This past summer, under his direction, many new programs were established at the Clanton City Park; educational programs as well as body building programs. Foremost in his mind, it seems, would be the fitness, well-being and over-all progress of our children. He puts all he's got into every task and he expects the same of those who work with him.

We don't know what his extra-curricular activities are outside of his helping the kids, but we can't else. Recently he has been instrumental in forming a Volley Ball League in Clanton. With cooperation he will put it over. It's things like these that make him stand out and it's also folks like him who deserve the gratitude of all of us for taking an interest such as this in our youngsters. We salute him for his good work in building a better citizenship in the ranks of our teenagers and all we ask is that he keep up the excellent work that he has been doing in the past few years. Too, we hope he can recruit others into this realm. Hope they put more of their time, energy and effort into these things. Things which he has brought to the forefront. They are important things, our children, and we should realize this enough to do something constructive about their future welfare.

John Henry swept our walk. It seems that he was so disgusted with the disorderly way in which the trash was arranged in front of ye olde Chilton County News that he took broom in hand and rearranged it for us. We didn't realize that it was such a mess John Henry, but thanks just the same. Wee O Yu one sweeping job. Don' let us forget it. And while we're on it, why can't the City of Clanton afford a sweeping machine. It's too big a job for one man to have to clean up this whole town. By golly, we're growing enough to warrant something to help in keeping our City streets more presentable.

The harvest season is here. And with it comes a fine bumper crop This crop is a bit unusual however for it consists of four fine baby daughters. These little pumkins were born to the Rev. and Mrs Griffin Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Owens (Jearlyne Studdard) Mr. and Mrs. Miles Aldridge (Pat Broadhead), and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Murphree. Now, we wonder if they're going to name them Autumn, or September or anything like that. Probably not, but they are sure an Autumn crop. We know they're all proud, we congratulate them.

A competitors window we saw recently has a sign reading "Eat More Beef" and right near it "Ike and Nixon". We don't know whether that means you'd better stock up on your beef, or whether it describes that particular administration. Either way, we think it has merit.

Each new generation they say,
Is a little harder to teach.
Perhaps it's because the brand new parents,
Can't practice what they preach.

You've heard of "Consecrated Christians"? Well, we were just wondering if some folks aren't getting "consecrated" mixed up with "concentrated".

A Fireman's Day, that's what. We'd like to kick the idea around of having a Fireman's Day in Clanton. Or even make it a County affair. At any rate, these public servants, who protect us night and day seldom get any kind of recognition. The merchants could profit with sales and contests, the people could have a good time with parades, picnics, fireworks displays, and any number of entertaining and crowd-gathering affairs. At the same time, and most important of all, we'd be honoring an organization that is due some consideration from the public. How about it folks, let's do it, huh.

Oh and say, the fire hall could have an open house too. A better informed public on their activities, would be invaluable to their rendering their services.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

Contrary to popular belief, columnists are rarely ever praised by their readers. Often we are teased about corrections or catch the dickens for stating a minority view, but seldom are we told that our column is read and liked. On the rare occasions that we are reaping plaudits they are general in scope with "I read your column." I too read a lot of columns, but I don't necessarily like them. Some folks claim to like our literary efforts and then can't remember the name of the column or the subject on which we wrote.

Some weeks I sit down to the typewriter and wonder if my writings are just for my own pleasure and go unread by the masses which I might consider as my public. It is seldom that a columnist can just sit down and knock out a couple of type-written pages without considerable effort. Any idea you've harbored for weeks can become mighty elusive once you've decided to put it into words. Some of your best material can turn cold when you try to state it verbally. So. you sit and rack your brain trying to get ideas that will appeal to people.

Just about the time that you feel the game is no longer worth the candle, in walks the one person who keeps all columnists writing. When he, or she, states that a certain column met with their approval and gives reasons why, you feel that you again have a public to write to. This one person has inflated the old ego to such a degree that you forget about the hundreds of people who didn't come in and tell you anything.

If we can't get the praise then we'll be content with the gripes, since they at least show that we are being read even if not appreciated. At least this gives us a chance to back up our views with a good argument.

"Fire Prevention Week" Begins October 7th

Gov. James E. Folsom has again deplored the danger to human lives and the great loss of property, caused each year by fires, and has proclaimed the week beginning Oct. 7 as "Fire Prevention Week" in Alabama.

The Governor said, "I call upon our people to join in effective programs to promote safety in the control of fire; and I urge State and local governments, the American Red Cross, the Chambers of Commerce of the cities of Alabama, and business and labor, and farm organizations, as well as schools, to share actively in observing this Fire Prevention Week."

Several crops of winter legumes should be grown on poor land to prepare it for other crops.

South Alabama Fair Opens At Coliseum, 8th

State Comptroller John Graves, immediate past president, is one of the Fair's officers this year. This year's president is George Preiss, Jr., of Montgomery.

Farmers planning to go into the feeder lamb business this fall should now be preparing for the stock by arranging for adequate feed and water supplies and seeing to fences and dog control.

Home-Grown Feeds Reduce Costs Of Raising Poultry

Home-grown feed and a low death rate will sharply reduce the cash cost of replacement layers in a poultry flock.

A saving of 45 cents per bird was realized by the Upper Coastal Plains Substation of the Agriculture Experiment Station this year.

This 45-cent decrease in cost per bird includes the price of day-old chicks and their feed up until laying age.

The experiment showed that feeding factors contributing to the low cost were that 22 percent of the feed for the pullets was home-grown; and chicks were on a good alfalfa range from eight weeks of age to five months.

Range houses are moved each year at the substation so that pullet do not go on the same range more than once every three years. This practice lessens the chance of disease losses.

Hybrid chicks in the experiment were fed and managed according to recommendations and vaccinated against coccidiosis, fowl pox and Newcastle disease.

Their first feed was starting mash, and in the fifth week grain sorghum was added. As the chicks began to graze, the feed was gradually changed to corn-oats-26 per cent mash supplement, fed free choice.

The low cost of $1.32 per bird at the time the pullets went into the laying house at five months of age included original purchase price, feed, and chick losses. This cost was 45 cents under the $1.77 average per-bird cost reported in a survey of 60 caged-layer operators.

Peanut Stack Becoming Rarity

The old peanut stack is gradually fading from the Southeastern Alabama scene.

Approximately 10 percent of Alabama peanut growers are using mechanical driers for curing peanuts. These Alabama growers are harvesting their crops directly from the windrow, eliminating the need for stacking, which requires so much hand labor. These peanut crops may be cured satisfactorily in bins by use of mechanical driers.

Back To School----

So Your Child Has 20-20 Vision!

"Why Johnny's eyes are perfect, he has 20|20 vision," exclaimed his surprised mother when the teacher suggested he have his eyes examined.

Mother was right. Johnny had perfectly sharp vision for seeing at a distance. But teacher, in suspecting that his vision was not normal for scholwork, was right too!

The term "20|20" refers to the size of letters Johnny could read from 20 feet away. These letters are about ⅜ inch high. Most youngsters can read letters of 20|20 size, though for some of them lenses may be needed to do it.

If the letters must be made larger in order to be identified, the denominator of the fraction becomes larger; for example, 20|40, 20|6 20|100, even 20|400 and so on. The bigger the second number the more blurred the vision for seeing at a distance. Some children without glasses have 20|800 vision, or worse If very small letters can be seen, vision is rated as good as 20|15 or 20|10.

A child whose vision is 20|40 would require letters twice the size of those necessary for 20|20 vision, while 20|100 letters would be five times as large. This does not mean that 20|100 is five times worse than 20|20. It is worse of course, but not in direct proportion to the size of the fraction which expresses it.

How much worse 20|100 vision is than 20|20 depends upon other factors. This expression is but one of all the many visual skill's a child's eyes should have—it is a measure of what the optometrist calls "visual acuity."

Visual acuity, as ordinarily measured, indicates only how clearly the child sees at a distance—no more It tells nothing of the indirect fields of vision, the eye-muscle action, speed of seeing, or the ability to see at a close-point—without these clear vision is almost useless. Above all, visual acuity dos not indicate how much "effort," or nervous energy, may be necessary to keep vision clear—to study for example.

There are many, many cases of 20|20 eyesight in which seeing is neither comfortable nor effective. Over half the children who require visual care have 20|20 vision. Headaches, fatigue, eyestrain, poor school work may occur from use of eyes which can see clearly, but inefficiently.

Sharp vision is essential, perhaps the most important single requirement good eyes should have, but it is not the only one they must possess in order to be called "perfect."

Johnny's teacher had found that he could not read without tiring. So in spite of his 20|20 vision, she felt he was not seeing as he should. His poor school record proved it.

School achievement is dependent upon eyes which can see where reading is done—at 12 to 20 inches from the eyes. Your child with 20|20 visual acuity may not have "perfect" vision unless he has the other necessary visual skills to read and study and learn effectively.

(This is one of a series of articles on vision for Back to School, prepared by the Alabama Optometric Association.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

HINT OF THE WEEK—A bit of yolk can be removed from egg whites with a cloth that has been dipped in cold water. The yolk will stick to the cloth.

Don't iron creases into linen napkins and tablecloths; doing so will break the threads along the crease lines.

You can save a lot of wear and tear on your towels, you local housewives, if you keep a box of cleansing tissues in the bathroom when there are women guests in the house. They'll use these instead of your towels for removing make-up.

Wax not only keeps painted furniture looking nice, but also protects it from scratches and from fading.

Paste floor wax can be used as a substitute for leather shoe polish.

To keep the lower ends of floor length drapes clean when the floor is being done, pin them up with spring-type clothespins.

Kerosene will usually cut away the greasy dirt deposits that collect in porcelain sinks and bathtubs.

Shoes last much longer if they are given airings between wearings, especially if feet perspire freely.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

FIGHT THAT FLY

Flies are a public nuisance and a menace to health. They are filth-borne, getting their nourishment from contaminated food and water. Flies multiply rapidly, but they need moisture to breed. Fresh manure is their favorite hatching place another is fresh grass cuttings.

Once born, they fly to all the spots where there is an accumulation of filth. Garbage is their delight, as is any polluted or waste material that is excreted by human beings and animals.

The fly is a hairy little creature. As it feeds, the contaminated matter clings to the hairs. Wherever the fly lights, it leaves bacteria-infected deposits in the form of fly specks.

What can you do about this pesky carrier of disease? Since sanitation is the chief factor in destroying the fly, don't invite the pest into your home by leaving your windows unscreened. If one does enter, don't ignore it. Use action; swat that fly.

Fly control is not just a community problem; it is one for every individual because one unclean person through poor hygiene and sanitation can be a source for a whole new family of flies.

Trash, garbage and other refuse should be wrapped firmly in newspapers and placed in disposal containers. Then the cover should be secured tightly so that flies and other insects can't work themselves inside to feed. And after the garbage is collected, the can should be washed.

Don't leave food uncovered. And don't have unwashed dishes and cooking and eating utensils lying about. This unsanitary practice is natural bait for the pesky carrier of disease.

The use of insecticides has not been completely effective in fly control. DDT, for example, one of the most potent germ killers, is not the answer to the fly problem although it has helped in some instances. And caution should be exercised in the application of insecticides. Many are safe, but some are harmful.

Do your part to prevent the diseases spread by flies. Eliminate the culprit by waging a personal clean-up campaign on all their favorite nesting and resting places. Fight that fly!

Grotto of Jeita is Wonderland of Ice

The vast interior of the little-known Grotto of Jeita, tucked away in the Lebanon mountains about 10 miles North of Beirut, beckons as a challenge to man's courage as he seeks to push back the frontiers of speleology.

The grotto of Jeita is one of the stages on which nature has chosen to enact a wondrous drama composed of stone and water and to stage it against a magnificent backdrop of frozen draperies and curtains that entrance the eye.

Hanging in innumerable shapes and forms, the stalactites and stalagmites have fascinated the speleologists who have ventured into the interior of the vast cave. In sculptured perfection simulated eagles loom over the abysses. Layer cakes, tapering candles and totem poles point at the vaulted top. Fine formations like combed fleece spread out to dry line the slippery walls. Transluscent layers resonate like cymbals when tapped with metal. Other forms hang down like candelabra of the finest crystal, reflecting light with pinpoint brilliance, dazzlingly beautiful.

Last minute plans for completion of the educational exhibit at the County Fair were made and the work completed at the Fairgrounds on Monday.

The Vocational people, as in the past several years, were appointed again this year to represent the County Teachers Association with an exhibit at the Fair and to decide the "what", "how" and the setting up of the exhibit.

It is hoped by the Association that YOU went by and saw the exhibit at the Fair this year. That you compared the things that were there before you: the old books and the new; the old school houses and the new; but,

What did you think of the question "What of the future education for our children?" Did you and do you now feel that we should continue and even expand progress in the field of education, so as to enable our children and theirs to live better lives. See that your child gets the proper schooling he deserves.

The Vocational Meetings are held once a month in rotation schedule at the five County schools. The next one will be at Maplesville.

New vocational teachers this year are: Mrs. Mary L. Wilkens, Isabella, Miss Etta Nette Gore, Jemison, other vocational teachers are Gordon Conway. Isabella, L. C. This article, in part, was submitted by Sarah Cox, Home Ec. teacher at Verbena High School.

ocal Club's Progress ndicates Great Future Service

Locally, Civitan International, uring the past few weeks has sur- assed all the memberships expec- tions, and we think it is due, asically to the cooperation within his organization. It has progressed arkedly since its organization back 1955 and is showing that it does ave the qualities that makes up a ood service club.

For instance, Thursday night, eptember 6, the Civitan Club of lanton, had for its Family Night rogram guest speaker, Congress an Selden of this district. He poke on development, resources nd legislature concerning the Sixth ongressional District, of which hilton County is a part.

Dignitaries from branches of the ivitan Club were present at this ffair. Lieut Gov. Preston Langton of Montgomery; Past Gov. f this district Bill Bailey, Birmingham; Lieut. Gov. in the Birmingham rea Dan Lyemance; and Gov-Elect tumpy Black. Also present were ther Civitans representing differ- nt Clubs over the state of Alabama. ooper Horton, District Secretary nd one who was very instrumental n forming our Clanton Club was lso a guest. About 140 Civitans, guests (including town dignitaries) nd their ladies were present at his event.

Later in the evening the group, n part, went to the Fairgrounds where Congressman Selden was in- roduced as a guest of Civitan.

The Clanton Club has done itself proud this year on the sale of Korn Dawgs. Perhaps the public was just plain Korn Dawg hungry, but we'd rather think that it was the keen cooperation of the Club that put the thing over. It is reported that more than four hundred pounds of weiners were sold at the booth this year. The money we can call profit from this undertaking will go for some worthwhile project here in our City.

The "Korn Dawg Kings" would like to thank each person, who, in any way, helped us with this project. In our own ranks, we'd like to especially thank, in the name of the Club, Noel Robinson, who gave endlessly of his time and energy in putting the Korn Dawg Stand over this year. He was in charge of the entire shebang and the miles he covered and the way he had the men lined up to work was just great. There were others, of course, who helped individually, but we think they'll agree that Noel deserves a pat on the back from the Civitan Club. Next time we'll know who to put in charge of operations.

Meeting time will be at 7:30 tonight gentlemen. No special program has been reported to us.

Wise Hunters Preparing For Season Now

Next month the hunting season opens in Alabama, but smart hunters aren't sitting around waiting for Oct. 1. They are busy at target practicing, checking ammunition, and reviewing safety rules.

Much of the crippled game lost last year, escaped because of poor shooting and use of improper ammunition, according to fish and wildlife specialists.

"A hunter will have a more successful season if he does a little target practice before the season opens," say the specialists.

For shotgun practice, use of a hand trap and clay pigeons in a safe place. Shoot your rifle at bullseye targets against a steel bank; also know your shot pattern and god killing range.

Proper ammunition for game: Quail, No. 6 to 9 shot; squirrel, no. 6; snipe and woodcock; no. 8 or 9; rabbits, no. 5 or 6; deer, rifled slug or buckshot from OO buck to smaller size no. 1 or 3 buck; and ducks, geese, and doves, express loads—doves, no. 7½; ducks, no. 4 to 7½; geese, no. 2. Most popular load for wild turkeys is no. 6 shot in high velocity loads because Alabama hunters kill turkeys by shooting in head.

In stalking deer, the hunter should use either a rifled shotgun slug or a big game rifle packing plenty of punch. Never deer hunt with a .22 caliber rifle because it cripples rather than kills.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Joe Jackson comes up with a good suggestion for an editorial but we are just going to editorialize here for a spell. Joe says that after reading the signs at our city limits, "Clanton—A Good Place To Visit, A Better Place To Live," it strikes him that since this is the change of an administration at City Hall, it would also be a good time for the people of Clanton to pledge themselves to make our little City all that the slogan implies. However, Joe did suggest also, that a big "Welcome", be placed at the top of the signboards, which in our opinion is a good idea. We do hope the citizens give the new City officials every coperation during their term of office and at this time let us congratulate them and offer our full support at all times to making Clanton and Chilton County "A Good Place To Visit, A Better Place To Live."

Judson Easterling laid the darndest egg on our desk the other morning. It measured 4" from tip to tip and was six and three-quarter inches in circumference. The hen what did it was a white leghorn and belonged to the flock of Mrs. Ola Easterling. The Easterling's are getting about eighty percent production from their flock right through the summer.

If you want to do a thing hard enough—though it be good or bad—you'll find a way to do it.

John Avery, who won the scholarship that we told you about the other week, wasn't from Thorsby (our mistake, pardon). He and his family live on Rt. 4, Clanton. Just thought we'd set you straight.

We learn with regret that our State Highway Patrolman Fred Steen is leaving us. He will be transferred to Demopolis, Alabama within the near future. The people of Chilton County have grown to like and respect Fred and his manner of serving and protecting the motoring public and we are sure it will take amighty good man to fill his place. However, we do wish he and his family the best of everything and much happiness in their new assignment. Incidentally, Demopolis is the former home of Mrs. Steen.

Modern business is amazing. Last Friday Judge Murray Battles and Father Bryan Egan, O.S.B. of Cullman called us and made an appointment for later in the day. Murray Battles flew his plane to the Clanton airport and we met he and Father Bryan there. After coming to town and attending to matters of business we took them back to the airport and they were on their way back to Cullman. They had bypassed Clanton on their trip down and gone on to Montgomery for some business there before coming to Clanton. Judge Battles complimented us highly on our growing airport and said he had to land in [illegible] pasture at Cullman. They were anxious about one thing during our conversation and that was getting back before dark. Seems that Judge Battles had reached his home landing field in the past, after dark, and when alighting from the plane had followed in the wake of a cow who had gone. . . . and gon'

County Singing Convention To Meet October 6th, 7th

The Chilton County Singing Convention will meet for its fall session on Saturday night, October 6th, and Sunday, October 7th. The convention will be held at the National Guard Armory on Airport Road in Clanton.

Several visiting singers and different groups are expected from adjoining counties and from all across Chilton County. Plenty of seating room is available for the class and for the public. Bring whatever extra song books you might have.

If you wish, bring your lunch, as there is a distance of about one mile to the nearest cafe. Meal tickets will be distributed to the visitors who want them, that will be good at any cafe in town.

Ed Langston is the chairman of this Convention.

County Farmers Hold Meeting On New Fertilizer Plant

As a farmer in Chilton County are you interested in a more secure economy for Southern agriculture

If so, you will want to attend a meeting of Chilton County farmers to be held at 7:00 p.m. on Mondry, October 1st in the City Hall at Clanton.

At that time complete information will be given on the organization of Coastal Chemical Corporation (sponsored by the Mississippi Chemical Corporation, Yazoo City, Mississippi.) CCC is promoting the construction of a plant at Pascagoula, Mississippi, which will manufacture and/or distribute high analysis mixed fertilizers, potash and phosphates to its stockholder-users. The new organization is patterned after MCC.

This meeting will be attended by a representative of Mississippi Chemical who is authorized to speak in behalf of Coastal Chemical.

Fertilizer from the proposed new plant will be allocated on a stock ownership basis. Stock will be sold only to persons or organizations using or having an outlet for the fertilizer.

The meeting is open to the public and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Homecoming To Be At Jemison Baptist

The Annual Homecoming services of the Jemison Baptist Church will be held Sunday, October 14th

The program will include the regular worship services in the morning, a basket lunch served at the noon hour and singing in the afternoon.

Friends of the church, members and former members are cordially invited to attend.

Make your plans now to attend and make this a day to be remembered.

Correction

Prices at Miller's Self Service Grocery, were quoted wrong in the colored page ad appearing in this issu. Two items were incorrect.

Where the ad quotes "2 cans of Potted Meat for 29c", it should read "3-3¼ oz. cans Potted Meat for 17c."

Where the ad quotes "2 cans of iVenna Sausage for 37c" it should read "2-4 oz. cans Vienna Sausage for 17c."

CCHS Band Parades Friday Afternoon

The Queen will be chosen Thursday afternoon so naturally her name has not yet been determined. Watch the Band Parade and see the new "Band Queen."

Eight floats will be in the long parade. This includes one float from each grade plus the Band float.

Figures And Facts For Farm Folks

FACT OF THE WEEK—In planting your fall crops, use certified seed in all cases where they are available. Crop production is too expensive to justify use of unknown varieties.

A constant supply of good water for the laying flock is just as important as good feed. The water a hen drinks controls her body temperature, softens food eaten, and aids digestion.

"THOU ART THE WAY"—

Stop and think! Can you hold your head up straight and sincerely say "Thou Art The Way" in my life? Take a look at the ideals of Jesus· make them a yardstick to test the worth of your thoughts and deeds. Learn from His words what He stood for in our world and learn from His insight t he infinite value of every human being. Know His principle of service and self sacrifice. Try to catch a glimpse of his dream of the Kingdom of God. Make His devotion increasingly your own.

Bind all these things into your heart with love — now, you will be able to sincerely and humbly lift your heart to God and say, "THOU ART THE WAY."

Taken from "The Advancer"

TWO SIDES TO A QUESTION—

There are always two sides to every question and Mr. Brown, City streetman and trouble-shooter, has his side in regards to the w ater trouble in South Clanton last week end.

Brown says that he was called from his bed at midnight by the night police and he and Res Driver went to the scene of the trouble, which was a bursted main in front of Martin Funeral Home, and worked for two hours to repair same. After they saw that it would take a full crew to do the job they went home and were back at work on the water supply to that section of town at six next morning. Mr. Brown states that within 45 minutes the main was repaired and the water was turned on again.

So there you are. It just shows you that each fellow has his side to a question and when the two are allowed to present their side, nine times out of ten there will be no cause for misund erstanding. You'll find that each was trying to do his own job in his own way, the best that he knew how.

Let it be said here that Mr. Brown is now doing, and has in the past, for many years, done a very good job on our streets, our water system and our maintenance work in general. His first interest is his home town, Clanton, and our welfare.

And while orchids are being thrown, why not one for that Res Driver? He has been a City employee as long as we have been around, and that's quite a few years. He has worked early and late for the City's benefit and always tried to do just a little more than his job required. That is the mark of a good employee.

TOO HUNGRY TO HATE—

The Montgomery Advertiser said in a Sunday editorial. . . . "It would be difficult to say how much hatred has been evoked by the upheaval following the race mixing decision two years ago. You encounter wrath, fear, resentment and—above all—a chilling. But hatred is a strong word and among those of both races with whom we have personal contact, little hatred has been encountered. . . . If, so, the essential reason may be that the trouble comes at a time of prosperity and contentment unmatched in American history. Times are fat, bellies are full. One recoils from the thought of what passions might have been unleashed had the court decision come in a time of economic depression."

Maybe the capable Advertiser editorialist are right in their assumption of the cause of the tranquility of the situation as it stands today, but we're not so sure.

The great mass of the white and colored people of the South are content with the relationship that now exists. We are not ready for integration and we all know it. It is a time for cool heads and clear thinking on both sides and we're not letting a few rabble rousers cause us to do things that would harm instead of help the situation.

As for the "full belli ve're pretty sure that during the depression we l all we could do just staying alive and the pre se difficulties would have brought even less a Having had two children and a wife to provi ng the last depression we know of which we e were much too busy scratching for groceries othing, milk and bread to get mad or hate an

He can be brave, who has never had to be.

Which means in short, that he who has never been in a situation that called for bravery can always talk brave.

A man worked for a newspaper for thirty-five years, and that made him an authority on the subject of keeping your word. Not by a long shot it didn't, but this particular fellow was an authority on practically anything. According to him, anyway.

And the other fellow; well, he was an authority on people who make mistakes. . . he always knew it was going to happen. . . after it happens.

The Sheriff handled himself admirably the other day, according to all reports. We're proud of the fact that our Sheriff has the fortitude to do what he did in a time of crisis.

Why is it that the older a person gets, the more intolerable he gets, in many ways. As a person grows older, he gets wiser. He has more faith, he is more honest, with himself and others. Then why, pray tell, is it that when a person gets to the age where he can be called "elderly" that his tolerance of others diminishes rather than grows. Instead of tolerating little things, it's the little things that bother him most. If we progress in other ways, it would seem that we go backwards when it comes to progressing through tolerance. It would seem that the older a person becomes, the harder it is for him to tolerate the shortcomings or mistakes of others. In short, he finds it harder by the day to practice what he's been preaching all his life.

Let us here and now give credit where credit is due and congratulate the Maplesville football squad for the shiner they gave C.C.H.S. last week. It hurt the home team here but you can't deny them their victory. The plain fact is, they licked them.

Well, we paid two water and gas bills this month, and didn't receive but one dun. We had our usual bill and went to pay it and the clerk said, "you want to get both of these?" We politely said "yes ma'm" but to this moment we don't know who else we're keeping in gas and water. Now we believe in the good neighbor policy, but this is ridiculous. They should know by now that we can't hardly wash our own face without bringing "both of these" (whoever that is) into it.

Well, we got the rain. Now let's see. . . what can we belly ache about now?

What say we all just be thankful that we got the rain. How will that be?

Legion Post 6 To Present "Laff-O-Rama" Next Week

Miss Fran Eastman arrived here Tuesday of last week to direct and co-ordinate the activities of the local citizens who will participate in the various activities in connection with "Laff-O-Rama", an Arena Presentation which will be staged on October 1st and 2nd at the football field for the benefit of Community Service.

From the moment Dr. LaFave acting as Jack Sterling, the Ringmaster, for "Laff-O-Rama" steps into the spotlight and says, Ladeeze and Gentlemen and Children of all ages," to the final shrill whistle which calls the 150 performers together for the finale, the spectators who attend the American Legion Post No. 6 home town circus are in for a laff a minute.

This big spectacular will be staged in the arena of the Hi School Football Field in Clanton on October 1st and 2nd for the benefit of Community Service. The event is being co-ordinated by Miss Fran Eastman, New Orleans, La. She has taken special training in the method of presenting rink or arena type entertainments, and Miss Eastman states she is greatly pleased with the variety of performers and anticipates one of the funniest, finest and fastest moving circuses she has yet managed.

In some sections of the show there is action in three circles simultaneously, thus giving a three-ring circus effect. Specialty acts are centered and pinpointed by spotlight so they give the "close-up" effect.

Stars of any type of circus show are the laugh-provoking clowns whose antics and pranks played on one another keep things moving at a lively pace. Certainly this is true of the clowns who are in the American Legion Post No. 6 home town circus. All of these clown will impersonate famous funny people from Barnum & Bailey and TV Circus Shows.

Although, in and out of the arena throughout the two-hour show, perhaps their funniest antics occur in the "Nightmare in Clown Alley" and "The Clown Alley Hot-Rod Race" acts.

The variety of the 15-act circus is evidenced by the fact that this entertainment not only includes comics, but impersonations of favorite juke-box favorites, including crooners and ballad singers, "Pop" soloists, duos and trios are introduced in the "Bordeaux Ballet" number.

One of the most popular acts of "Laff-O-Rama" is the one in which TV Country music shows are impersonated. This is called "The Merry Madcap Midwestern Ozark Jubilee Hayride."

Another of the highlights of the show includes a scene in which will appear Miss America and her eight prancing, dancing Liberty ponies. Also there will be a scene which includes "Miss Bring 'Em Back Alive Buck" and her terrific Famed and Trained Tigerettes of the big cage. Those to appear in these two scenes are: Ruth Lawrence, Carol Arnold, Shirley Edwards, Myra Robinson, Patricia Melton, Dot Hogue, Linda Bolton, Jo Ann Lockhart and Barbara Bolton.

When the bareback riding beauties, all prominent business and professional men, enter the arena attired in tulle, net, spangles, with long underwear covering their legs, (in lieu of opera length hose) the big laugh of "Laff-O-Rama" begins. They will ride their stick horses around the arena at breakneck speed.

Certainly if you like fun, if you like to laff, see this line-up in the American Legion Post No. 6 big circus, "Laff-O-Rama".

Store Sweet Potatoes Until Prices Go Up

Sweet Potato prices will be lowest during digging time in October. Thus farmers looking for the most profit from their crop will store them until spring.

Sweet potatoes will keep better if they are stored in crates rather than in bins or in bulk.

Successful storage depends on grading potatoes in the field and storing only sound, disease-free potatoes. Potatoes should be plowed deeply to avoid cutting and should be handled carefully to prevent bruising.

As soon as potatoes are placed in storage, heat ranging from 80 to 85 degrees should be maintained 10 to 14 days. After curing the temperature should be lowered to 55 or 60 degrees and held constant.

Fluid milk and cream sales account for about half the average consumption of dairy products by Americans.

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957! Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news . . . a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because . . .

This is Where Tomorrow Starts . . . with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whiplash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road.

To all this we have added true elegance—a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The New Inner Ford

The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The New Ford Body

The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid finality of a bank vault. Even the door-lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach.

All these features were engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Ford Ride

The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low-priced car has ever sat them—six elbows wide in each seat, with deep space around each one of six knees. And above all that space, there's hat room to spare for all six passengers.

The 1957 Ford rides low, solid, with a firm, deep road-holding feel. Yet it's a light-hearted, flight-hearted ride—this car is responsive, nimble, agile, with a proud easy movement.

The New Ford Choice

Ford offers not only one, but two sizes of cars . . . each on its own extended wheelbase . . . each with its own body shell . . . each with its own styling.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 5 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two- and four-door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interiors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!'

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle-span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts

It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom!

The cars will be there on Wednesday, October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives.

They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

Columbus Day October 12

In proclaiming October 12 as Columbus Day throughout the State, Gov. James E. Folsom said we should "pause and observe the qualities" of Christopher Columbus "in this era of the history of mankind when we are again faced with the unknwon horizons of the "Atomic Age."

The Governor said Columbus had undaunted courage — matchless vision—and indomitable spirit...."

Meat-Type Hog In Great Demand Throughout State

Auburn—The Alabama hog is becoming more streamlined in appearance as the meat-type hog shoves his fat brother from favor.

His new look pleases the farmer, who discovers this hog easier to market and easier on the pocketbook to feed.

Alabama growers are definitely changing over to the meat type hog as they wake up to all his advantages.

The meat-type hog will gain more weight on less feed according to reports from numerous experiment stations. One of these reports showed that the leaner hog averaged gaining 1.34 pounds per day whereas the lard type showed an average daily gain of 1.25 pounds. This experiment also found that the lard hog required 20 pounds of feed more per 100 pounds gained than did the meat type.

This experiment showed that a 15-pound ham cut from a meat-type hog contained three pounds less fat than one from the lard type.

The muscular, lean-type hog, so much in demand, is a fast economical producer of good red meat.

This hog was introduced on the state farm scene about two years ago, and has been edging his fat brother out of the picture ever since.

Meanwhile housewives and meat packers cheer the meat type hog on, by demanding more lean, red meat and less fat.

Too Late In Season To Cut Alfalfa; Let It Stand In Field

Auburn—Alfalfa should not be cut for hay any more this fall, but should be left standing in the field.

By letting alfalfa stand in the field, chances for good yields next year are greatly increased experts declare.

Plants must have a chance to store up food to live through the winter and be able to start vigorous growth next spring. But plants cut too late in the season are not given this chance and therefore are either weakened or killed.

Alfalfa may be grazed lightly after a heavy frost has stopped their growth.

The group learned of the customs, living habits and their numerous religions all of which made one feel closer to that part of the world.

Mrs. R. M. Tucker presented in words and pictures, some of the religions of Southeast Asia.

The study was concluded with action taken to send an offering to the Youth Institute in Burma, India to help with the Missionary work there.

A seasonal rise in prices of fed cattle is likely this fall. Farmers will market fewer than last year. But just the opposite trend is noted in reference to grass cattle.

NEWLY-ORGANIZED AERO CLUB ENJOYED BAMA-RICE GAME

This week marks the beginning of dreams come true for pilots of Chilton County.

The Clanton Aero Club has begun work on the new club room at Gragg Field. This club room was made possible through the cooperation of Chilton County merchants and when completed will be the gathering place for all local and out-of-town pilots.

The public is invited to come and join in the fun. We feel certain that they will enjoy the Hangar Flying that takes place at all fields.

Ben and Ellen Brinker have returned from a flying trip to California. They reported a wonderful trip and fine visit with relatives.

Roscoe Williams of the Cloverleaf Motel is the proud owner of a Stenson Station Wagon. Welcome to the crowd Roscoe!

Four planes with 15 people left Clanton Saturday morning for Houston, Texas and the Bama and Rice game. Though we lost everyone reported a fine game. Well fought it was, by our famous Crimson Tide.

Attending the game were C. W. and Minnie Wade in their Cessna 195 with Leland Hudson, H. C. Williams and Minnie Wade. Roscoe Williams in his Stenson with Herb Salter and Shorty Williamson. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wade III in his Cessna 170 with Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Ware. John Herrod (our Flying School Teacher)' with Barney Adams of Maplesville and Allen Kendrick of Plantersville. We feel that Clanton and Chilton County did their share in giving moral support to our boys so far from home.

We of the Aero Club feel that the people of the County are as proud of our new runway as we are and we hope that we can, by hard work make Chilton County and Gragg Field a place where people flying cross-country will take with them a warm feeling and the good word of a wonderful place to land so that other people will come and Gragg Field and Chilton County will be remembered by all.

Let's put Clanton on the map and aviation in the news.

Come on out and join the gang.

Fireman
Save My Child

Biff Miller tells this one about his 8-year-old nephew Skeeter. Seems the boy locked himself in a second-floor bathroom — and couldn't or wouldn't come out.

Finally his mother gave up trying to reason with him and sent for the Fire Department—which arrived complete with hook and ladder. Turned out they didn't need it, though.

One of the firemen was really up on his child psychology. All he did was rap on the bathroom door and say, "All right, come out little girl"—and Skeeter promptly opened up, and stepped out to demand indignantly, "Who's a girl!"

From where I sit, it takes real ingenuity sometimes to handle children. Fortunately most adults will co-operate voluntarily if they know it's to their advantage. Like the way tavern owners co-operate in that Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors—and work to keep their places neat and orderly. They get their reward in increased patronage . . . and public respect.

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

KITCHEN EFFICIENCY can be upped by observing industry's "unit load" principle in clearing the table. Carrying everything at once, on a tray or cart, conserves valuable time.

SAVING FOR RETIREMENT, if it's still quite a way off, may not seem a pressing matter; but note this fact: Of approximately 14 million persons in the U.S.A. over 65, nearly 30% have not been able to stop working. For some it has been impossible to accumulate the cash reserve that they would like to have to supplement income from Social Security . . . from pensions. For a great number of others, however, a big factor is just not having started soon enough to save enough often enough. If you are one of the many people who can look forward to some income, a solid backlog of bank savings can be the "extra" that will make it possible to enjoy real rest and comfort in your later years. Why not begin building it with us next payday?

BROWSING IN THE HARDWARE STORE, we were struck with the large number of special-purpose tools available to the public nowadays—each designed to do one particular job . . . to do it well. We could not help thinking "How like modern banking, with its wide range of special-purpose services—financial tools to meet the many and varied needs of Americans!" It pays to make full, frequent use of your bank.

LI-O-NING IT UP THIS WEEK

(A weekly report on local Lions Club affairs).

"Gassy" Foshee had the program last Friday—however, no "Gassy" . . . no program. Jim Fort made a short talk to the Club. There were no visitors last Friday—it has gotten where it is unusual for us not to have at least one visitor at each meeting.

Ott Miller learned that it is not a good idea to grunt when there is an auction going on. That grunt bought him a $3.00 fruitcake from auctioneer Tom Hayes—you lucky boy!

The joint meeting of the Chilton County Lions Clubs seems to have temporarily fallen thru. The idea was a mighty good one—maybe this can be worked out for some time next summer (if not before).

Charlie Tucker is working out a program for the safety patrol of the Clanton Elementary School. This is one of the very worthwhile projects sponsored by our Club.

Doc Gowan has the program this week. Doc advises that Rev. Otto Kay will be the speaker. Rev. Kay is the Presbyterian Minister here in Clanton.

Ott Miller has started a petition around town asking everyone to close-up this Saturday to go and see the "Auburn-Tennessee football game in Birmingham—War Eagle! That's O.K., Ott, Bama will rise again.

The Date Palm—Tree of Life in the Middle East

Ever stop to wonder where the rich dates which go into your holiday puddings come from? Chances are better than two to one that they come from Iraq, which supplies more than 80 per cent of the world's dates.

For the Iraqi, the sturdy and adaptable date palm tree is a veritable tree of life. It grows abundantly in the rich soil of the Shatt el Arab region, where the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers join, but it can actually grow in any soil—dry, saline, sandy, loamy, or even water-logged. Most important, it thrives on the intensely hot Iraqi summers which are so hard on other forms of green life.

Over thousands of years the natives of Iraq have become masters at the exacting art of growing their national fruit. Early in April the fellahs rapidly climb the lofty date palm trees, which shoot up higher than the average home, and pollinate the male and female blossoms by hand. The dates begin to mature in August, when they are hard and juicy, and later in the month they enter a soft and squashy stage. Most varieties are picked only in their final stage, dry and toffee-like, by teams of three men—one to climb the tree and throw down its fruit to his partner, who loads it in a square basket, and a third man to carry off the basket.

ANNOUNCING

FORD

This is Ford's 1957 Country Sedan, one of five station wagons in the new line of 19 body styles which Ford dealers will unveil. The new station wagons are longer and lower than in 1956. Four engine sizes available range from 245 down to 144 horsepower. This Country Sedan comes in nine- and six-passenger models, and has new self-raising rear liftgate with 20 per cent bigger opening for easier loading.

From the road up, 1957 Fords are a complete departure from previous models. They will be unveiled by Ford dealers in 19 body styles, of which this is the four door Victoria, a member of the new "Fairlane 500" series. Fairlane models are nine inches longer and four inches lower than their 1956 counterparts. Though the new models are lower, interior headroom is as great as last year, since the car's chassis and floor are re-designed for a lower center of gravity.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

About this time of year something happens to us. Funny thing, but the same thing happens in the Spring of the year, too. We get to heavy for light work and too light for heavy work.

We lost a cufflink somewhere downtown Tuesday and wish the finder would return—if found. It was gold and that is the only description we can give. It's either find that cufflink or we go around all winter with one shirtsleeve dangling.

R. C. Williams has bought the Clanton Home & Auto Supply. That is the Firestone Store. He will have a Grand Opening on the 18th, 19th and 20th of October. Watch for a big "to-do" on those days. R. C. Veazey, who was a long-time employee there will be the new manager.

Understand Marshall Williams has resigned from the Clanton Police Force and has taken a position with Alabama Power Company. We wish Marshall good luck in his new endeavor. He has made a good officer and served his community well while on the "Foree".

We can never tire of singing the praise of Mrs. Clara Mullins and her half-century of service to the Clanton Methodist Church youth. She is the most faithful member or official in the church and can still out work the younger ones. If she has a star waiting for all the good she has done, she won't be able to wear them all.

Into the Valley of the Shadows this week, passed one of our most ardent readers and friends. She was Mrs. Ella Gray who died last Sunday in a Birmingham hospital. She was 86 years old, and had lived with her daughter, Jettye there for many years. Funeral was at Billingsley Tuesday. Our sincerest sympathies to her family.

Saw where a salesman for the new model cars was explaining the 1957 models to a group of prospective buyers. "They'll go 120 miles an hour and stop on a dime", he said. "And then what happens". asked one of the group. "Then", he said, "a putty knife comes out and scrapes you off the windshield."

Bailed Out Sunday---

Intensive Search On For Missing Airmen

The woods east of Jemison and about ten miles north of Clanton are being combed by the Sheriff's forces, the National Guard and the Chilton County Rescue Squad today, for two flyers who bailed out of their jet plane at about 35,000 feet when the jet developed engine trouble.

At mid-morning Wednesday no trace of the fliers had been found. Maxwell Air Force base, where the flyers were stationed, reported the pilot radioed last night that both occupants were parachuting from the plane.

The two men who bailed out were identified as Marine Corps Col. Jens C. Aggenbeck, 43, of Los Angeles, Calif. and Air Force Col. Philip R. Hawes, 43, also of Los Angeles. Both were stationed at Maxwell Field.

WHERE COOPERATION NEEDED—

On the 2nd Monday in this month the new Mayor and City Councilmen hold the first meeting of their administration.

It is the wish of the Mayor and Councilmen that all the people of Clanton give their fullest cooperation so that the most good can come from this body. Without cooperation of the people as the new officials stated "not much can be accomplished." So that places the success or failure of the new officials, in part, up to the people.

Clanton is badly in need of a sewer disposal plant. Whether or not this aim can be accomplished under present circumstances is not known, but the Mayor and Council would like to hear your views on the subject. If you can't see them in person at their regular scheduled meeting, then write them a letter or card. And when we mention the specific need of the sewer disposal plant we are only using it as an illustration of many things that will come before you in the next four years. Whatever the need be, write or go to the Council meetings and let your wants be known. They are depending on your cooperation to do big things for Clanton—don't let them down.

AN INDEPENDENT PEOPLE—

In conversation with a local businessman the other day we were discussing the problems of getting new industry here when the subject came up of the independent attitude of the prospective available help to be obtained. Not having had a lot of industry here the list of names submitted for hire does not strike us as being exactly the type which could be classified as dependable help.

Now, before you go off the handle let us explain that the people as a whole must want industry here and our City and County to grow if we are to get industry. For instance, most of the people who are interested in our location have indicated female help. Well, there are plenty available, but are they willing to work for the added benefits their employment would bring to their home and family?

You know, you can't be too independent and work for the other fellow. In any organization there are rules and regulations, quotas to be met, an eternal grind of day in and day out, routine business that grows to monotony unless the worker takes a pride and pleasure in his, or her work—a satisfaction in doing a thing well.

We want new industry, we need new industry, but the people of Chilton County must want it, and need it too. Being independent is good. There is nothing in this world more self-satisfying to a person's ego but let's remember the good we can accomplish for our families, our communities and ourselves when we put our job first.

As Elbert Hubbard said:

> If you work for a man in heaven's name work for him. If he pays wages that supply you your bread and butter, work for him, speak well of him, think well of him and stand by him and the institution he represents.
> So long as you are a part of an institution, do not condemn it, when you disparage the concern which you are a part of, you disparage yourself."

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

DO YOUR FEET HURT?

If your feet ache, you ache all over. Improperly fitting footgear cause corns, calluses, bunions and ingrown toenails; all of which, when neglected, produce pain. When the shoes and hosiery produce a friction on the toes and soles of the feet, callouses and corns result. Overgrowth of bones frequently place in abnormal pressure on the skin with the same result. Other factors are high heels, which throw the body weight out of proportion, pointed toes and narrow lasts in shoes

Very often painful conditions of the feet develop because of faulty bone formation or uneven weight distribution. The use of an arch support sometimes is helpful.

Ingrown toenails create discomfort. They usually come from tight and pointed shoes. They also come from a style-consciousness in foot care. Though women in particular think the cosmetic effect is enhanced by having the nails oval shaped, this forces the nail to become embedded in the fleshy tissue; infection is apt to result. The nails should be cut straight across, even with the tip of the fleshy end of the toe. This will keep the nail from curving downward into the flesh.

Tight, short and ill-fitting shoes push the bony structures of the foot out of place. Over a period of time, the pressure causes bunions which are unsightly as well as painful. Surgery is frequently required to correct these deformities.

The feet should be kept clean. A brush will do much to stimulate the blood circulation and remove the dried particles of skin that are constantly being sluffed off. Immersion of the feet alternately into warm and cold water has a refreshing effect. Massaging the skin with cream or a dusting powder and changing frequently into a different pair of shoes are also comforting.

These are practical hints to good foot care. However, unless some congenital abnormality exists, conditions can be prevented by selecting comfortable and adequate sizes of footgear. You might be in style, but you can't wear a smile if your feet hurt.

CHILDREN IMITATE YOU!

The habit of mimicry is established early in childhood. Movements are noted, particularly those of mother and father or older brother and sister. Early in life the child wants to be doing and to do what others are doing. That is the process of learning.

But you, as a parent, retard this process when you don't reflect the good habits for imitation. For example, how can you expect your child to learn quickly the importance of putting things away when you throw clothes on tables and chairs. It is difficult to teach a youngster good habits of personal cleanliness when you are so careless about your own.

A child will soon absorb the importance of washing the hands before and after using the toilet and before and after eating, when mother sets the example. But let mother forget her part while reminding the youngster and the child will soon ignore this rule of cleanliness.

To admonish a child for swearing ing, or talking about others is right of course, but what example do you set in this direction?

You provide them with the essentials—food, clothing, love and affection. In theory you establish all the "Do's" and "Don'ts" of gracious living. But do you put these in practice? For example, are you careless with your diction? Do you speak lazily so that your enunciation is not clear? Do you keep yourself clean and well-gromed? Is your home equally clean and comfortable and your meals palatable and properly balanced for good health? Are you kind to other persons less fortunate than you? Do you go to the church of your faith regularly, and what about your physician and dentist? Do you see them at regular intervals?

If you answer "yes," you are helping your child to a better way of life. For these are some of the attributes that can be imitated to the great advantage of your child and to your own satisfaction as a parent.

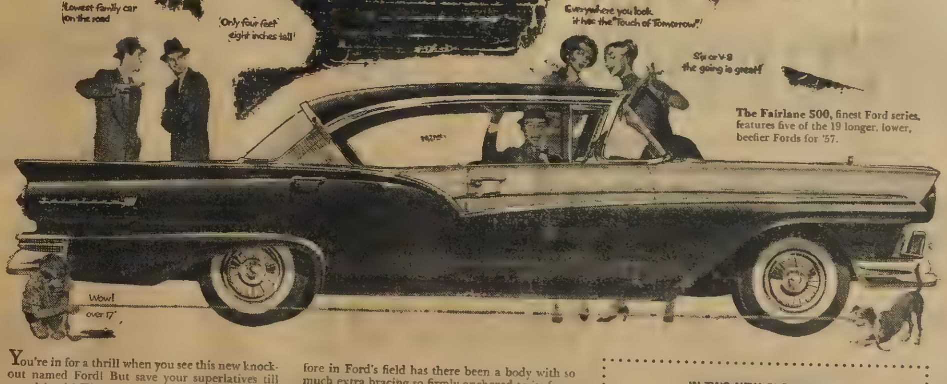
FROM A NEW INNER CAR PROVED IN ACTION

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low . . . that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch . . and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

Here Today!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow



Lowest family car on the road
Only four feet eight inches tall
Everywhere you look it has the "Touch of Tomorrow"!
Six or V-8 the going is great!
Wow! over 17'

The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet . . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Fords library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget...too! Choose from nine Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

HINT OF THE WEEK—A Home freezer should never fit tightly into a niche with walls on three sides, because circulation of air is needed to remove heat from the condenser.

A cotton-tipped swab stick is a handy tool for cleaning dust and dirt from under the number plate on a dial telephone.

White or green grapes have their best flavor when they begin to turn amber in color.

The trend in furniture is toward multiple-use pieces to meet the needs of small houses.

Late cabbage, onions and green peppers may be combined with vinegar and spices to make a delicious winter relish.

Wall lamps are useful in compact rooms as they save space and prevent clutter. They don't get knocked over by children or pets and they provide lighting equivalent to that of floor or table lamps using the same size bulbs.

While your child is learning to use pen and ink effectively, try filling an old fountain pen with bluing. It will wash out of clothing easily.

Plentiful foods during October will be beef, turkeys, cheese, rice, broilers and fryers, pork, eggs, cabbage, milk, and peanut butter.

It's All "Tigers" As Clanton Finds 'Go' In Game With Montevallo

By BRAX BATES

A fighting, hungry, band of Chilton Tigers broke from their cages last Friday night and went on the prowl for Bulldog meat, Montevallo variety.

The Tigers avalanched the Bulldogs under eight Touchdown's and six extra points on Ronald Smitherman's k.R'f LM

The Tigers were scratched once on Ronald Smitherman's brilliant 86 yard return of a kick-off in the first period after the Tigers had rolled to a 14 to 0 lead.

The surging Tigers were led by "War Horse" Terry Jones, who put in his bid for All-State honors. The Chilton War Horse romped, stomped and galloped for an amazing total of 295 yards on 19 carries from scrimmage. Terry furthered his bid for All-State honors in class double A circles by scoring 5 T.D's and ran across 6 E. P's. The War Horse got the slamming under way by passing to Billingsley for the games first score. The play netted 31 yards. Terry scored himself a few moments later.

With the forward line opening up holes through the Bulldog defense. Terry Jones scored a trio of second quarter T. D's on runs of 37. 13 and 6 yards. The War Horse then added a long 59 yard third quarter gallop for another T. D. to his collection

Thomas Minor, a Junior end added his second T. D. of the night on an end around play that was good for 65 yards. Terry Jones passed to Sophomore James Knight for a Fourth Quarter tally that was good for 26 yards.

The Tiger backfield operating from the box instead of the "T" ran off 33 running plays that netted the team a total of 460.

Jimmy Foshee ran 9 times for 19 yards. Neal Bice, another promising Sophomore was hampered with an ankle injury and his one run was good for 48 yards. Billingsley ran twice for 19 and Minor twice for 79.

The Bulldogs here was courageous Ronald Smitherman, who ran 16 times for a net of 41 yards. He also ran 9 kickoffs back for a total of 183 yards.

The Tiger forward wall held the Bulldogs to a net of 88 yards rushing. It is impossible to remember all of the fine tackles made by the Tigers, but some of the standouts were Wilson's knifing through to throw Smitherman for a 4 yard loss in the first period. Jimmy Fulmer broke through to throw Smitherman for a second quarter 7 yard loss. Norton another promising Sophomore crashed through to tag a 20-yard loss on Terrill in the 4th period. Other line heroes for Coach Spicer's young Tigers were Billingsley, Hilyer, Ward, Swanner, Parsons, D. Minor and T. Minor.

Clanton had 11 first downs to Montevallo's 8.

Friday September 28 will certainly go down in the C.C.H.S. Annual as one of the brighter days in the -57 school year. The Band under the direction of Lamar DeLoach staged their annual band Queen Parade during the afternoon thru downtown Clanton.

The football half-time ceremonies was one of the best and most colorful ever presented. The majorettes really did themselves proud. They looked as good as the football team and were stepping and strutting like college majorettes. Someone has done a fine job with these girls. The Cheerleaders are developing into one of the finest cheering squads ever to represent C.C.H.S.

Also at half time Miss Lulu Bell Mims the Band Queen for 1956-57 was presented to the Clanton football fans.

A Special Note of Warning to the Chilton Tigers: Unless each of you play the best game that you have ever played you will come back home Friday night with your scalps left hanging in the tepees on the reservations of the Wetumpka Indians|

My Prediction: That you can rub the war paint off the Indians, but you will have to make that extra effort. They're tough!

There was no write-up of the Maplesville 25 to 0 win over the Clanton Tigers because Yours Truly was unable to attend the game. Maplesville has a fine team and we hope that they can continue on to an undefeated season.

MONEY AND BANKING

In Everyday Living

YOUR HOME FREEZER CAN "BURN" poorly wrapped meats and poultry. The same dry cold that's designed to keep these foods fresh and tender can leave them scorched-looking and dried out. To avoid "freezer-burn," experts advise, wrap carefully—and individually, so that when you take one portion from the freezer you don't uncover others.

IT'S MOTHER WHO PAYS most principal family bills, according to a recent nation-wide survey; and roughly half of these bills are paid with cash—despite the fact that in 80% of families interviewed someone has a checking account. It would appear that, in paying bills, many a Mother also pays a needless price in lost time and extra steps. If you have a checking account and you are not making full use of it, why not do so? It's so much easier to mail out checks than to trudge all over town with cash. If the checking account in the family is Dad's, why not open a second account for your own use? You will be glad that you did.

"HELPFUL," says the dictionary, means "useful; assisting" . . . Helpfulness, says the unwritten code of every member of our bank's staff, means serving as a useful assistant to our neighbors, day in and day out, in connection with their money matters. Waves Important Part Of Modern U. S. Navy

A great deal of first class arguments originate over Navy coffee cups in the mess decks of our fighting ships about the improvements and changes in the post war fleet. Chief Ratchford of the Clanton Navy Recruiting Station, declares however that few of these coffee drinkers (and all true bluejackets are consumers of coffee) will argue the point that the Navy has improved with the permanent addition of the WAVES.

Now over 6,000 strong, in the peacetime Navy, the career women serve in all ranks from Seaman Recruit through Commander; the director of the WAVES holds the rank of Captain, USN. The girls have discovered that Navy life is full of new interests and job opportunities, and while the majority of the WAVES are assigned to duty within the Continental United States, WAVES serve in Hawaii, England, France, Italy, Germany, Japan, Guam, Alaska, French Morocco and Norway. A few of the adventurous ladies even serve at sea in naval transport vessels as hospital corpsmen and in the air as flight orderlies.

Working in 27 of the Navy's 62 ratings, the WAVES are performing the same duties as their male counterparts and draw the same pay and allowances.

Chief Ratchford, something of an "oldtimer" himself in the ways of the Navy, said today that the "experts" who hold forth at the coffee sessions are beginning to agree that the girls-in-blue are not only attractive, but are important members of the team.

"Career, U. S. Navy"; a fully illustrated booklet devoted to the Waves in today's Navy, may be obtained by visiting or calling your local U. S. Navy Recruiter.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Clanton is going to the dogs, or so saith Reese Mims and a committee that appeared before the City Council Monday night. And what's more the Mayor and Councilmen all seemed to agree with Reese. Which action brought a strict enforcement of the Dog Ordinance beginning this week. Hereafter, if your pet isn't in his yard or under fence then said canine will be picked up held for two days, and then done in. Or to put it more specific, shot. To be a good citizen now before you forget it, fix a safe place for your pet. The police do not want to harm it, if they must pick it up, they will only be doing their duty as they have been instructed.

Mr. J. P. Lawrence is back home and if things go well, he will be up and about in no time at all. He has been in Birmingham for the past several weeks and while there bought himself an operation that he didn't really want. We're glad he's O.K. now though, and also to learn that Mrs. Lawrence is doing fine again after a few days at the local hospital. Hope they are done with their troubles for a while.

Jack Bates was employed by the City as a policeman to replace Marshall Williams who resigned last week. Jack is a home-town boy and is well-known about town. We believe, and hope, Jack will make a good police officer.

Miss Lurline Harper received a half-page write-up and displayed with pictures of her school room in the Sunday edition of the Birmingham News. Miss Harper is a former Chilton Countian and has taught in the Birmingham Schools for 28 years. Twenty-five of those years have been spent in the same classroom at the Glen Iris School. What made the article doubly interesting to the writer, is that Miss Harper and an older sister of ours started teaching about the same time in Munford, Ala., we believe. We can't remember the details now but seems most of our life, we have heard of the teaching ability of Miss Harper. Our heartiest congratulations to Miss Harper and may her service to the youth of Alabama go on and on.

Another former Chilton Countian in the news was the former Miss Sadie Mitchell of Verbena. She married Charles H. Oliver in 1906 and today, October 10th, celebrate their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary. We wish for them many more happy years together.

Speaking of birthdays, Marine Sgt. Robert L. Roland who makes Chilton County each week on Thursday and can be found at the Post Office if you care to join the Marines (plug), had a funny experience the other week when he enlisted a recruit. He recruited John E. Stough on his 17th birthday and at the same time another Marine Recruiter enlisted Bobby J. Averitt of Thomasville, Ala. When they found that Averitt's 17th birthday was also the day he enlisted, the officer-in-charge of Marine recruiting in Alabama, Capt. R. R. Van Cleve cut a birthday for the pair of young recruits. The cake was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. F. V. McClain of Woodlawn, who also have a son in the Marines.

Our good friend Dave Wall is with the Mims Realty Company now as manager. If he does the job there that he accomplished with the City while employed there he will do all right. He has made a host of friends here during the short time he has been with us and all of them are wishing him well in his new work. We wish him the best of luck.

New Council Opens Study Of Local Sewerage Disposal

"Clanton ranks at the top of the list of cities in the State most needing a sewage disposal plant and that is no compliment", so said J. L. Crockett, a member of the State Sanitation Department, before the City Council in a regular meeting of that body Monday night.

Crockett went on to tell the Council of funds now available through the Federal Government for such projects and urged the Council to make application for Clanton at the earliest possible moment. This the Council voted to do.

Plans were also made by the Council to secure a reliable engineering company for a preliminary report as to cost, etc. This to be the beginning of what the Council hopes is a Sewage Disposal Plant for Clanton. A rough estimate of the cost of such a plant to serve a city the size of Clanton would be around $250,000 to $300,000 according to a member of the sanitation department.

Local Council Moves To Enforce "Stray Dog" Law

At the first meeting of the newly elected City Council, it was agreed upon, after a committee of citizens had spoken their views, that the City Ordinance passed April 27th, 1954 concerning the contining of dogs in the City of Clanton would be enforced by the City officials.

The Mayor and Council have issued a Notice and a copy of the original Ordinance passed by the City Council of Clanton:

Wetumpa Indians Scalped Tigers In Tough Grid Battle

By BRAX BATES

Coach Jack Rays Wetumpka Indians remain among the State's unbeaten elevens by outscoring, but not outplaying the Tigers of Clanton Friday night.

The close-fitting 14 to 7 game got underway with the seasoned Wetumpka team taking advantage of a good break that came their way on the first play of the game. Jimmy Foshees kickoff slid off the side of his foot and was downed on the Indians 44 yard line. The Indians went to work and their sustained drive of 56 yards was climaxed by their fullback Truman Jones plunging over from the 4. The extra point was added on a pass from Stanley Huff to Charles Welden.

The determined Tigers showed the fans they intended to make a game of the affair on the ensuing kickoff. Thomas Minor returned the kick from his 11 to the 36. A key block could have sent him all the way. Terry Jones and Foshee took over and drove to the Wetumpka 4. The Indians were playing all the football they knew and at this point they were able to hold the Tigers and take over.

The first half continued with fierce line play and very hard tackling by both teams. The Indians led at the half 7 to 0 but the Tigers were leading in net yards rushing 92 to 35.

Terry Jones returned the second half kickoff 12 yards to his own 34. The Tigers picked up 5 yards and kicked. The poor punt went to the Indians 49.

The Wetumpka team, knowing that an upset could be in the making doubled their effort and drove the 51 yards to paydirt. Truman Jones plunged over from the 3 and Pete Fuller converted the extra point.

The Clanton score came in the 4th period after a Clanton drive seemed to have been stopped at the eleven. Terry Jones then passed to the fast-moving (improving) right end Thomas Minor, who gathered in the ball with 2 Indians hanging on and carried over for the score. Terry Jones ran across the E.P.

The 99 yards that Jones picked up on 23 running plays came mostly on sheer running power. The Wetumpka team was defensing each Tiger play almost perfectly. Jones and Foshee, who picked up 66 yards on 15 carries, never could get the key block needed to send them all the way. Terry Jones who has developed into one of the better backs in Class double A football passed to Minor three times for 42 yards: He now has 4 T.D. passes for the year. All of the Tiger linemen played good ball and the two ends, Minor and Billingsley were making the Indians run inside where they were racked up, mostly by Jimmy Foshee, who has turned out to be a demon on defense. Knight, Jones and Deloach also came thru with key tackles. In the 4th quarter Billingsley broke up a Wetumpka drive by throwing Matthews for a 12 yard loss.

The final statistics showed the first downs in Clanton favor 11 to 10. Net yards gained also in Clanton's favor 165 to 136. Wetumpka completed 6 of 11 passes for 79 yards. Clanton 3 of 8 passes for 42 yards.

The Tigers will travel over to Columbiana for a battle with the Wildcats Friday night. This game is definitely "Must Win" game for the Tigers. This is the game in which ours Truly has predicted from the beginning of the season would be the 'spring board' for a string of Tiger victories.

You Tigers should win this game for all your loyal fans who stick by you regardless of whether you play at home or in someone else's backyard. You boys know now that you can play this game of ball . . . and that you can win.

Three Whiskey Stills Feel Sheriff's Axe

R. O'Dell Payton, Chilton County Sheriff relentlessly continues the destruction of moonshine whiskey stills in the County.

Monday, the Sheriff and his deputies destroyed three stills about 21 miles northeast of Clanton, at a place known to Chilton Countians as Sawyer's Cove.

This was a 2000 gallon capacity operation. 60 gallons of moonshine was captured and 1200 gallons of mash was destroyed. A Plymouth pickup truck was captured along with a large quantity of fuel oil.

A white man who gave his name as Albert M. Walters was arrested as he walked up to the still.

He was charged with the operation and possession of an illegal whiskey still and VPL.

Two other white men, Richard Porter and Pete Jones fled from the still, and both were arrested later. Walters resides in Chilton County and Porter and Jones reside in Shelby County.

Assisting in the raid were Mrs. Odell Payton and Mrs. Doris Cook. This is the first time the women of the Sheriff's force have participated in these raids.

To date, this brings to a total, 175 stills destroyed by Sheriff Payton and his staff during the past 18 months; almost three per week. This record is worthy of commendation by the Citizens of Chilton County.

Also participating in the raid were James Payton, Albert Porter Carlos Bice and Earl Thompson, all regular or special deputies

Notice To Rural Patrons Of P. O.

Rural carriers who drive on the left side of the road to serve boxes violate the traffic laws of Alabama (Title 36, Sec. 9, Code of Alabama).

our rural carrier has no privileges not granted other individuals on public roads, therefore, anytime a rural carrier drives on the wrong side of the road in violation of State traffic laws he not only endangers his own safety and the safety of others, but he also places himself, the postmaster, the Government and possibly the patron, in a [illegible] liability in the case of accident.

For these reasons, all rural mail boxes now on the left-hand side of the road in the direction of travel of the rural carrier should be relocated on the right-hand side of the road in the direction of travel. Any patron living on a retrace will not be expected to relocate their box, a the carrier can serve boxes on retraces on either trip which will not require crossing over to the left-hand side.

Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Jones Names State Banks As Farmers' Chief Loan Source

Alabama farmers met their credit needs during 1955 chiefly through loans from their local banks, according to C. O. Jones, president of The First National Bank of Clanton who represents the Alabama Bankers Association as Chilton County Key Banker. During the year, the state's banks provided far more financial aid to farmers than any other lending agency, he pointed out.

The total of farm credit outstanding in banks was made up of $29,754,000 in production loans and $18,569,000 in farm mortgages. In addition, banks in Alabama held $35,104,000 in C.C.C. paper not included in the above total.

"The efforts of the state's banks to meet the increased needs for intermediate-term (one to five or more years) loans are reflected in the figures for both real estate and production loans outstanding," Mr. Jones said. "It is estimated that about three-fourths of the farm real estate loans are for purposes normally associated with intermediate length loans. This would include such projects as the purchase of new machinery, improvement of livestock herds, etc. Beyond that, a substantial portion of the production loans in banks at the beginning of 1956 carried a repayment period of longer than one year."

Mr. Jones gave several reasons for the increasing importance of intermediate-term credit in financing Alabama farmers. "First," he said, "farmers haven't had as much income to repay their obligations during recent years as they had during the war and early postwar years. Second, the capital requirements have increased to a very high level. Finally, changing habits of farmers' customers have caused a notable shift to different cropping programs. Each farmer who has made such adjustments employed new capital to do it.

"These investments made through the use of intermediate-term credit have greatly contributed to more efficient farm businesses in Alabama and to a higher standard of living for all Americans," Mr. Jones concluded.

Mr. Jones reported that all but 5 of the 237 insured commercial banks in Alabama served agriculture by making farm loans during 1955.

WHITE SUPREMACY
FOR THE RIGHT

Advertising is the way to stimulate the public, and if the stimulus is sufficient, the result will be good business.

Selfishness is at the bottom of most human conflict; you cannot reform your neighbor, but you can work on yourself.

Trading in Clanton is a good policy; every dollar spent here has a chance to help business here and, indirectly, helps you.

Inflation seems reasonably certain, so don't overlook the inevitable consequences which are also certain even if the timing is uncertain.

We bet some of our June brides and grooms are wondering now if that big expensive wedding, with its attendant costs, was such a wonderful idea.

BUSINESS SHOULD SERVE HUMANITY—

There are some businessmen in the United States, and some in Chilton County, who have the idea that the chief end of the human race is the promotion of business. Of course every intelligent person understands that business is justified only when it serves humanity.

Our philosophers have become somewhat confused because, generally speaking, whatever promotes the economic well-being of individuals usually assists the race, as a whole. Realization of this truth does not require a blind idolatry to business, and the exoneration of any tactics that return profits to individuals.

We have, we are glad to say, many public-spirited, generous businessmen in this country. This is not to say no businessman in our community is selfish that none is unfair in methods and that none would stoop to illegal methods to gain private profit.

The time is at hand when businessmen, intent upon the honor and reputation of business, should give some attention to the comparatively few sharks who prey upon unfortunate human beings. The pride that a competent businessman takes in the service he renders, at a fair profit, is in jeopardy every time a slicker pulls a fast deal, regardless of the amount of money involved.

DO PEOPLE READ THE BIBLE?—

An interested man, in another state, recently wondered how many "ordinary people" read the Bible nowadays. He made something of an investigation among a variety of types.

While he found some exceptions, he discovered that many people he interviewed had "not seen a Bible for fifteen years.' '

This is an astonishing report, concerning the wonderful compilation of books which we call the Bible and which, it is generally believed has affected the destiny of mankind more than any other literature ever produced.

Whether the above observation applies to many people in Chilton County or not, we do not know, but we sincerely hope that the people of this County are not overlooking the great spiritual truths that he Bible presents to men.

Too many persons, we presume, approach the Bible as a solution of their material troubles and the remedy for their physical ills. They seek to discover the answer to mundane issues and overlook the values that abound in the development of individual personality.

Certainly, we would not attempt to interpret the Bible for other people, but we make no apology for suggesing that it presents mankind with a philosophy that will endure through the ages. Its lessons, even when only partially understood, are immortal, and the man or woman who imbibes the great teachings will serve the present world and, as we conclude, develop a spiritual force that will not die.

THE CASE OF THE HITCH-HIKING CHICKEN

It would seem that chickens are not as ".owl" as they seem.

We will let you be the judge of that. According to our report, a broiler was found perched on the axle of a big semi truck when it stopped at the Truck Stop owned and operated by Lester Connell of Clanton. It seems that Lester's small son found the chicken roosting atop the axle of the big truck. The driver claimed he didn't know where the critter could have come from, and Lester, not having any chickens, was also flabbergasted. By the way, the truck was from Florida. You can check with Lester when your curiosity gets the most of you, and he'll tell you that the chicken doesn't have a tan, so he doesn't think he came all the way from the "Sunshin State." What we want to know is who taught that over-grown canary to thumb a ride.

One thing's sure; if that chicken came very far on the axle of that truck, we'll bet he was a 'dirty bird.'

Seems to us, that those who argue so strongly back and forth about the highway by-pass around Clanton, are the very same folks who would argue about a road through the center of town, if we'd never had one. People are a raid of changes, but so many times, changes mean progress. Who are we to stand in the way of progress?

Marshall Williams, who has recently taken a position with the Alabama Power Company at Lay Dam, has requested of us that we publicly express his appreciation of the way he was accepted while on the Clanton Police Force. By and large, he says, the cooperation of the people was one hundred percent. He wishes to take this opportunity to thank everyone, who in any way aided him to better do his job while he was an officer. He says that he likes his new job very much. Good luck to him.

Folks tell us we can't imagine what the depression was like. We can get a pretty good idea just from looking at our own financial status. (Wow, what a mess.)

See where a cousin of yours truly is getting married in Birmingham in January. We haven't met the feller yet, but it says here he's a Pi Kappa Alpha man and that's reason enough to marry him. Due to the fact that he's a Pi K A, we feel we know him already. That's a good man.

You'll never see a rich man who's a generous man. . . at least not until he's rich and can afford to be generous.

You know, it seems that thanks, in itself, is not tangible enough evidence for a receiver of a gift to feel that he has shown his true appreciation; whereas the giver has given tangible and positive proof of his feeling through the gift. It would seem then that it is not only Better to give than to receive. . . it's also Easier.

A happy home is proof enough of one person's feeling for another.

It seems to us that there has been only one philosophical saying and that is "judge not the man until you have walked in his moccasins five moons." In other words, for every deed there's a purpose. No matter how bad, or how guilty a person looks to you, were you in his shoes, there would be a different view. We have heard sickening rumors that were entirely unfounded and served only to feed the malicious appetite of the gossip. When the Bible says "Judge not that ye be not judged, it means that you, as a human being are not capable of passing judgement. Therefore, it would seem to us, that gossip (especially detrimental gossip) is only a waste of time, since you are not even worthy of judging the other fellow. Gossip is like a bad seed, and once planted, grows like a vine that cannot be stunted. It is evil to say about a person, things that you wouldn't want him to say about you.

Words are not so impressive, but impressive are the works.

Benji said a little prayer for little Mona Buckner the other day. She has been in a Birmingham hospital with a rare disease of some kind. Mona was born just a few hours before Ben was. He hopes she'll get well soon, and we do to.

With New Facilities Training School Now Has Football Squad

By Training School Reporter

The dreams of many people will e exacted in the raw Saturday, October 13, when the Lions of the Training School take to the gridiron or their first home game of the eason. This event stands for much nore, however, because of its historical nature. Nowhere in its thirty year history has this school put on a display of football talent.

This year, the Training School, in close cooperation with the Clanton Colored School will use the local City Park for Colored which has been improvised to stage daylight games on Saturdays at 1:00 p.m.

Calhoun of Lowndes County will come Saturday, October 13, with a well-seasoned team having won two games thus far this season. The Lions have been preparing for this encounter during their spare time and hope to be in top condition for the tilt.

Twelve boys in their second year with the Lions make up the nucleus of the squad.

All of the players are from Chilton County and located in all four corners. Three come from Verbena, three Maplesville, one from Jemison, two from Lomax, and thirteen from the Clanton area.

With limited time, Coach Bell has attempted to install basic split T formations with diversions to single wing power plays. These formations are being selected to give the fans something to yell about on each snapback.

Solomon Wilson, a junior in his second year is being readied to call the plays for the still green but shot gun backfield with Zimmerman at LH expected to do the blasting with help from fullback Rupert. Milton Bryant, a second year man carries the punting responsibilitie and thus far has been able to get off kicks up to forty yards. Wesley Pasley has been switched to end to strengthen the defense as well as to be on the receiving end of Wilson's passs.

Prof. E. D. Sledge, the principal, has developed an optimistic outlook for the season and has high hopes for a victory Saturday.

The band and cheerleaders will be ready and willing for the victory. Every loyal citizen is expected to come out to the game and cheer the Lions on. Remember, may the best team win.

Manpower: Navy's First Line Of Defense

Frequently heard where old salts gather is the remark that the Navy just isn't what it used to be; our nautical representatives at the Navy Recruiting Station are the first to concede the point. Chief Ratchford declares that the tatooed sailorman who placed his "X" on the caskhead is as outmoded as the vintage ships-of-the-line that serve as monuments in many of our coastal cities. The Chief points out that the modern man-o-wars-man uses his head a great deal more than his brawn, and while the Navy strives to maintain over 1,000 of the most up-to-date ships in the world, it is recognized that the most important weapons in the Navy's arsenal are its 600,000 plus highly trained young men and women. These people, say the recruiters, actually make the wheels turn.

Career minded young people who want to gain a foothold on the future will benefit by examining the nuclear-age training program now being carried out in hundreds of Navy schools. The hundreds of technical trades being taught are designed to put the "career Navy man" on the road to promotion, greater responsibility and increased pay and benefits-for the man or woman who wants to go back to civilian life after one enlistment, a ready market for Navy training is assured.

In short, in Chief Ratchford's words and opinion. . . to get ahead, go Navy!

$50 Million Provided For Loans On Farm Housing And Repair

Eligible farm owners in Chilton County may borrow from the Farmers Home Administration to build or repair farm houses and other essential farm buildings, Isaac C. Byrd, the agency's County supervisor serving local farm families said today.

He said the farm housing loans were made available under recent legislation. A total of $50,000,000 has been provided for these loans.

Interest on the loans will be 4 percent per year on the unpaid principal.

Repayments will be scheduled over periods up to 33 years.

A housing loan will be secured by a mortgage on the borrower's farm.

The agency expects applicants to obtain the building plans and specifications from the improvements to be financed with the loans. To help the borrower obtain construction that meets generally accepted standards of soundness, the Farmers Home Administration will review the plans and inspect the construction as it progresses.

The local Farmers Home Administration County committee will determine whether or not an applicant is egilible for a housing loan. To be eligible, an applicant must be the owner of a farm, be unable to obtain suitable credit for dwellings and other buildings from other lenders, and have enough income from the farm or from the farm and other sources to meet family living and farm operating expenses and repay his debts.

Farm housing loans are made under the authority of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended.

Further information on the loans office of the Farmers Home Ad- may be obtained at the County ministration located at Clanton.

Everyone was so nice and understanding. It is friends like you that enable us to stand up during our trying hours.

We would like to thank each one personally, but space will not permit. We would like to especially thank everyone for their visits to the home and the hospital; all the ministers who made visits and their consoling words; the wonderful nurses at the Chilton County Hospital; Drs. Joe and Charles Moore for being so faithful until the end; Spigener Funeral Home Rev. Marvin Morris and Rev. James Jones for the splendid way they officiated and their comforting words.

Then we want to especially thank the ladies from the communities of Union Springs, Mars Hill, Pleasant Grov, Macedonia Randolph and Shady Grove for all the delicious food they sent and the wonderful way they took charge of our home.

We certainly appreciate the many beautiful floral arrangements and we can never forget the many that contributed money to help with expenses.

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 10th day of September 1956.

Proclamation No. 1

Basil Rathbone At Ala. College, 22nd

Montevallo—One of the theatre's most distinguished actors, Basil Rathbone, will open Alabama College's Concert and Lecture Series on Monday, October 22 at 8:15 p.m.

A change in the schedule of attractions at the Montevallo School was made necessary when Claude Rains cancelled his series of fall and winter appearances because of a cardiac condition.

The revised series of concerts for the 1956-57 school year was announced today by Ralph Sears, chairman of the College's Concert and Lecture Committee.

Second event of the Alabama College Concert and Lecture series will be the appearance of Lycette Darsonval, Premiere Lanseuse of the Paris Opera and her Ballet Company of Paris. This ballet concert is scheduled for October 30

On January 18, Players Incorporated of Washington, D. C. will present William Shakespeare's colorful adventure, Henry IV, part one.

The Birmingham Symphony Orchestra with Arthur Bennett Lipkin conducting will be featured on March 15.

The College's concert season will close on April 12 with the presentation of David Bar-illan, brilliant young pianist.

All attractions will be presented in Palmer Hall on the Alabama College campus at 8:15 p.m.

Turned Out To Be a Good Break

We had a water main break last Thursday. Happened early in the morning—about two a.m.—and the first thing most of us knew about it was when we tried to turn on the faucets and nothing came out but a hissing noise.

Nobody was inconvenienced much though. Repair crew went right to work—and things were fixed up in jig time.

Incidentally, the water company got a flood of payments on overdue bills that day. Lots of "forgetful" folks must have figured they were being warned!

From where I sit, sometimes our obligations slip our minds. Like the responsibility we all have to our communities . . . to see that our neighbors enjoy the right to decide for themselves how to work, how to vote, whether or not to enjoy a bottle of beer. Any time we "forget" we owe this right to others, we take a chance on stopping the flow of tolerance that makes this country such a grand place for us to live in.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

A very close friend of the Chilton County News visited us this week which made us very happy. It was Mrs. L. L. Parnell of Birmingham. Mrs. Parnell discussed many things and brought a few "brickbats" and also a few "bouquets." At any rate we enjoyed her visit and interest in her home County paper very much and are looking forward to having her again.

Whattayaknow? Glen Bashore has gone Spanish on us. We received a letter from him the first of the week while he was visiting in Mexico and it was dated "12 de octubre de 1956". Now how's that for "while in Rome do as the Romans do?" But as always practically happens, when one of our friends make a trip and write us a line, they get back home just about the time the letter does. Glen is back at his desk again with his nose to the grindstone. He reports a wonderful time and declares, even though we know better, he lost nothing but a fountain pen on the trip.

For you people who are eligible to register to vote you have one more chance before the Nov. 6th election. The Board of Registrars will be in session at the Courthouse here all day Friday, October 26th. If you are interested, and you should be, go and register.

Watch for the opening of Bob's new drive-in next week. Bob Sewell has built a beautiful new place just outside the city limits in North Clanton. Watch this paper for opening date and full details.

In her new evening gown which was extremely daring the wife paced up and down in front of her husband for his inspection and aproval. "Well, how do you like it?" she said finally. "I hate to say it dear," replied her husband, "but you're getting fat." "In the best places" she reminded him, "they say plump." "Well then" he retorted, "you're getting plump in the best places."

Glad to report that our good friend Mrs. J. J. Pickens has returned home after a lengthy stay in the hospital. According to her husband she is much improved. We wish for her a speedy recovery and will be glad to see her up and about again doing her church work.

Is Chilton County taggin' behind on our cotton crop this year? The Bureau of the Census sends us a report that prior to Oct. 1, 1956 5536 bales have been ginned in this Co. as compared with 7076 bales ginned for the crop of 1955.

The Board of Revenue & Control met Tuesday night at the Courthouse, and opened bids for the construction of the new building. Bear Bros. at Montgomery were the low bidders but the contracts were not let at this meeting. Further plans with the Architect must be worked out according to a spokesman for the group.

During a seance, a medium was bringing people back from the other world. A 9-year-old boy was among those present.

"I want to talk to Grandpa," he kept saying.

"Very well, son," soothed the medium, making a few hocus-pocus gestures. "Here he is."

"Grandpa," said the child, "what are you doing there? You ain't dead yet"

Volley Ball League Gaining Interest; New Teams Join In

The Park Volley Ball League had a good turnout Tuesday night. The B.T.U. from the First Baptist Church entered a team and won over the Jaycees.

West End Baptist Church defeated the National Guard.

Civitans lost their first game to Alabama Furniture Mfg. Co.

Next week will be some fast games and other teams are expected to enter by next Tuesday.

Come on out next Tuesday and root for your favorite team.

COMPLETE HOSPITAL designed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration to supplement existing hospitals in case of attack is shown in the display above, minus only its generators and most of its 200 cots. The hospital would occupy about 15,000 square feet for ideal operation, but in the more crowded display above, the following major segments may be seen: (1) Admitting center, where patients are assigned to various parts of the hospital for treatment. (2) Portable X-ray, with its own generator and special process for 60-second development of photographic plates. (3) Simulated ward, which would be much larger and accommodate 200 patients at a time in actual practice. (4) Operating room, complete with lights powered by a generator. (5) Laboratory for blood typing and other elementary medical tasks. (6) Pharmacy and supply section. (7) Sterilizing room, including autoclaves operating on liquid fuel. (FCDA Photo)

VFW Membership Drive Starts With Goal Set At 85

Last year the [illegible] Post was cited for its outstanding achievement in re-gaining its inactive members. At the end of the [illegible] department year the Post boasted 75 members. Interest is already being shown in this year's drive as additional membership applications are being received each day

Projects for the coming year are already being formulated as the local Post continues its policy of Community Service. Joining with the other Veterans organizations VFW members are planning to participate in the Veterans Day Program to be held here next month

A portion of the annual dues of each member go for the support of the National VFW Home in Grand Rapids, Mich. This home cares for the many widows and children who are in need of its facilities.

The Home is run on a family-style basis and each child is given a formal education as well as training in a trade. Many of the children from this VFW supported Home continue their schooling in college on scholarships. Some have given their lives for their country as did their fathers, in past wars.

A membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars is insurance for the needy veterans, widows, and orphans who have to depend on the able-bodied veteran for security

If you are a veteran who served during war-time then you are eligible and needed for membership in the VFW. Contact any VFW member for application. Commander Fulmer can be reached by phone at 256-J, Clanton

FOR THE RIGHT

I Am The Bible.

I am God's wonderful library.
I make known to all, Him who is the Truth.
To the weary pilgrim, I am a good, strong staff.
To the one who sits in black gloom, I am glorious light.
To those who stoop beneath heavy burdens I am sweet rest.
To him who lost his way, I am a safe guide.
To those who have been hurt by sin, I am a healing balm.
To the discouraged, I whisper a glad message of hope
To those who are distressed by the storms of life, I am an anchor, sure and steadfast.
To those who suffer in lonely solitude, I am a cool, soft hand, resting on a fevered brow.
Oh, child of man, to best defend me. . Just use me.

The fellow who is at the end of his row these days, is in a large neighborhood.

The old saying that "A new broom sweeps clean" is about to be displayed by the Mayor and Councilmen.

We have already noticed the absence of several of our canine friends to greet us when we arrive home in the evening. That dog ordinance must have done the trick.

If the ordinance had been printed in "dog latin" they probably would have all left town.

THY WILL BE DONE—

The Rev. R. W. Stuckey and his faithful members at Samaria Baptist Church are a wonderful example of what a few people can do working together towards the same goal.

The membership at Samaria, headed by Mr. O. N. Glenn as Finance Chairman, has constructed one of the most beautiful, modern, little churches it could be possible to imagine. And, mind you, this with no mortgage and no debts and very little outside help.

Modern church school rooms which according to Rev. Stuckey has fast been recognized in recent years as so necessary to a well-balanced spiritual program, a kitchennette, fellowship room, modern heating and a Babstry and choir loft of California Redwood that sets like a gem in the auditorium.

Completed the building and equipment will cost $16,000. More than $12,000 has already been paid into the building fund treasury. And all of this accomplished in little more than 12 months. The active membership is 65 faithful workers and it can easily be seen that all 65 are faithful workers. Our heartiest congratulations go to Rev. Stuckey and his "flock".

It is living proof of the goodness in people and that our friends and neighbors are not all going to the dogs as some of the scandle mongers would have us believe.

QUESTIONS FOR GOP SMEAR EXPERTS—

In the arsenal of dirty politics used by many Republican campaigners, the war smear has replaced the Communist smear as the No. 1 weapon.

The war smear is the charge that, since America's three 20th Century wars were fought under Democratic Presidents, the Democratic Party is the "party of war."

The implication is that if Adlai Stevenson is elected President, war will come again.

President Eisenhower, in his press conference of September 26, repudiated this smear. Nevertheless, it continues to be published in millions of pieces of Republican literature, and repeated by lower-level GOP campaigners every day.

No Republican can market this smear in good conscience unless he can first answer NO to these questions:

- Would a Republican Administration have stood by in 1917 while the Kaiser's submarines were destroying American ships and American lives?
- Would a Republican Administration have allowed Japan to sink our battleships at Pearl Harbor and get away with it?
- Would the Republicans have allowed the Communists to conquer South Korea, thus exposing the Phillipines, Japan and the whole of the Pacific, to Red attack?

History records the answers to these questions. Let no Republican make this charge without being told that:

An overwhelming majority of Republicans in Congress voted to declare war on Germany in 1917.

When informed of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Wendell Willkie who would have been President had the Repubicans won the election of 1940, said: "I have not the slightest doubt what a united America should and will do."

And Vice President Nixon said on Sept. 1, 1953, "Let's recognize right now that the decision to go into Korea was right because the Communists had to be stopped."

That's what Republicans said then. For them to speak differently now is dirty politics, bad history, and an insult to the millions who fought and sacrificed for the cause of freedom in those wars, not as Republicans or Democrats, but as Americans.

CO-OPERATION THE KEY

Proper heeding of the law depends on proper enforcing of it. To get the cooperation from the people that will be needed to enforce the new dog law in Clanton, proper enforcement will be pertinent to the effectiveness of this move. It is intended for the well-being of the public citizen, but it must be remembered that a majority of the public likely owns a dog. This is not to imply that the law should cower from the majority simply because it is the majority, but it is meant to say that cooperation is the thing looked for, then cooperation must be dealt by both sides. Many times a person who believes in the law 100 percent will balk if the law is enforced in a way that tends to make him look foolish. The law can be enforced with a mighty arm and still be gentle to the touch. To get the cooperation of the people, who are the law, there must be respect on both sides. We can enforce our laws by respecting the other fellows rights.

The man who mentioned "October's bright blue weather" knew of what he spoke. However, he must have had a lot of time to notice the weather changes.

And we noticed a headline in a newspaper the other day that said something about this "good-to-be-alive" weather. That's very true, but any weather is good-to-be-alive weather if you make it so. The weather has an influence, but our minds have much greater influence on our feelings.

A politician's paradise. That's what Isenhower seems to be living in these days. What politician would not give a great deal to be in a position where his main thought was simply to ask people to get out and vote. No political ambition, yet in a position to hold the highest office in the land. Just think of the serenity of it, in the midst of thousands of people campaigning on both sides and him not having to carry the worries of one who was ambitious for a position. Not many politicians have ever been in a position where, win or lose, their blood pressure remained constant. This is not attack or praise we just admire the position he seems to be in, especially would we, were we a fellow politician, or reasonable facsimile.

The politician went to the cupboard
To get the poor voter a bone;
But, when he got there the cup board was bare,
So he just made up one of his own.

The 20th Century—
It's a sad thing said he
As he fell on his knee,
That we were not married in June.
Oh no! She replied,
And with stars in her eyes, said:
Now we can fly to the moon.

Looks like the Aero Club is drawing more and more attention from the Sunday crowds. We think it's high time something started "going up" out at the Clanton airport. We hope the popularity continues. It could prove profitable for Clanton's future.

We hear that Little Mona Buckner has improved and is home now. Mighty, mighty glad to hear that. She gave us quite a start. Hope she continues on right back to good health.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, representing light-, medium- and heavy-duty models and heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B. C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. The fleet made normal stops along the way, and maintained safe and legal speeds. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

It's all down in the AAA record book. And more besides! Never before has a new truck been so thoroughly proved. Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES!

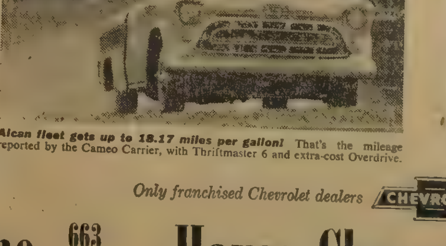
New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 delivers 160 high-torque horsepower. Standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission — exclusive with Chevrolet trucks! This six-speed automatic, designed specifically for heavy-duty hauling, is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydra-Matic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.

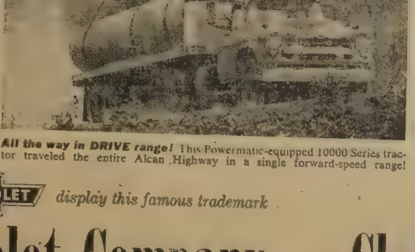
New 1957 work-styling gives Chevrolet trucks an even fresher, fleeter appearance. There are three different and distinctive styling treatments.

L.C.F. models outdate the C.O.E. because they're lower, handsomer, easier to get into and out of, and save time in routine engine maintenance. Yet they offer all the traditional C.O.E. advantages.

Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 50,000 lbs. GCW. And Chevrolet's advanced tandem axle unit offers a built-in three-speed power divider—plus a unique "self-steering" action that reduces tire wear and increases handling ease.



Alcan fleet gets up to 18.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and extra-cost Overdrive.



All the way in DRIVE range! This Powermatic-equipped 10000 Series tractor traveled the entire Alcan Highway in a single forward-speed range!

ACROSS the DESK

ideas from other editors

From the Cedar Rapids Tribune, Cedar Rapids, Iowa: The villain or hero, according to the preconceived ideas of the audience was Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin At intervals, when he was not interjecting a "point of order," which usually amounted to a statement, or sweet-talking Secretary of the Army as "Now, Bob," the cameras swung on McCarthy anyway, usually as Cohn was whispering in the Senator's ear.

On one occasion, to vary the plot McCarthy left the room, followed by the cameras, and returned to announce that he had a mystery witness This came near the end of one day's show

It reminded soap opera addicts of other program closing announcements: "Who is this mystery witness? What will McCarthy do next? Will the big bad wolf corner the lamb? Be sure to be with us again tomorrow for the latest chapter in this most thrilling of suspense dramas featuring Sen. Joseph McCarthy and the United States Army."

From the Chickasha Star, Chickasha, Oklahoma: From this corner it appears that Private Schine knew all the right people to get his commission, until they started biting at each other—and this is indeed a pity, because it would have cost we taxpayers only about $4,000 a year to put Schine in brass, while the big conflab in Washington is costing about that much an hour.

The pressure extended to get Pvt. Schine a fast commission is typical of thousands of such cases during the past decade It may be fortunate that the deal backfired Maybe something will be done about the whole stinking mess.

It is bad, however, that the money being spent for this stupid investigation is not being used to further soil conservation programs, farm youth organizations, polio and cancer funds and any of the hundreds of worth-while moves so badly needed in this country of ours.

From the South Pasadena Review, South Pasadena, Calif.: The sessions have . . . shown how much time can be absorbed in the bickering over the minutest points of substance and procedure.

From a political standpoint, these hearings [illegible] harm the Republican Party. It's a Republican senator and a Republican Secretary of Defense standing toe to toe and shouting "liar" at each other. The bitterness which this investigation is engendering will not be easily dispelled. Division in the party could not come at a more unfortunate time—for the Republicans. November is but six months away.

Clanton Takes Wildcats 27-0; May Be Tigers' Turning Point

By BRAX BATES

The Clanton Tigers were very impressive in their 27 to 0 win over the Columbiana Wildcats last Friday night. The "Cats" took the field determined to win the game for the Homecoming Alumni; but the Tigers from Chilton County proved to be reading the script another way and it was their determination that brought them home victorious.

The Tigers tallied [illegible] Jimmy Foshee [illegible] and then [illegible] 7 to 0 [illegible]

[illegible] eleven scored again in the second [illegible] on a Terry Jones pass to Billingsley. The E.P. was [illegible] the score at the half-time [illegible] at 13 to 0 in Clanton's favor.

Jimmy Foshee scored his second [illegible] of the game in the 3rd quarter on a 25-yard sprint and he also added the E.P. The Tigers' 4th T.D. came in the 4th quarter on a 15-yard pass play from James Knight to Billingsley and Knight ran for the E.P.

The Columbiana team was hitting the Tigers harder than they have been hit this year. The Tiger backfield men can attest to that. The bruised and battered Tigers have only a short time to get themselves back into physical shape to meet the Green Waves of Holtville Friday night. This game may prove to be a real toughie. If the Tiger linemen play the game that they played against Columbiana, they will come home the victors by at least two touchdowns.

With the season at the halfway mark the Tigers now have [illegible] t three. They have out-[illegible] eir opponents 94 to 84. [illegible] Jones has 5 [illegible] 7 poin[illegible] [illegible] s out Clanton's scoring with [illegible] T. D.

By now you know it's new in style. You can see that Chevy's longer, lower—and every inch a beauty.

But Chevrolet's new in lots of ways that don't show up in our picture. It's new in V8 power options that range up to 245 h.p.* Then, you've a choice of two automatic drives as extra-cost options. There's an even finer Powerglide—and new, nothing-like-it Turboglide that brings you Triple-Turbine take-off and a new flowing kind of going. It's the only one of its kind—the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic of them all!

Come see the new car that goes 'em all one better—the new 1957 Chevrolet!

270-h.p. engine also available at extra cost. Also Ramjet fuel injection engines with up to 283 h.p. in Corvette and passenger car models.*

Newly - Developed Picture - Phone Will Enable You To SEE Your Party As Well As Hear Him

MR. W. E. KOCK OF Bell Telephone Laboraories shows how one experimental model of a Picture-phone would be used. The picture is 2 x 3 inches. Protruding above it is the camera lens. Knobs are for turning on the set and defining the picture.

The Southern Bell Telephone Company today released operational details of the highly - publicized "Picture-phone" recently developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Mr. O. W. Norton, Manager of the Telephone Company, said that additional information on this significant development has been provided by the laboratories.

Commercial Feasibility—

The telephone that transmits pictures along with sound has taken a big step towards commercial feasibility.

Scientists and engineers at the Bell Systems research and development organization have used an experimental "Picture [illegible] system to transmit recognizable pictures over short and long distances, even as far as from New York to Los Angeles.

Experimental pictures vary in size to two by three inches, and are from one by one and a half inches viewed from one to two feet away. Unlike television, a new picture is displayed every two seconds. It has good black and white contrast and the person at the other end of the line is recognizable. Head and shoulders can be seen and facial expressions are readily apparent.

The picture-phone is the first system of its kind to use a pair of ordinary telephone wires. This is what gives it promise of being commercially feasible. Only one other line, consisting of a pair of wires like the regular telephone line, would be installed on the customer's premises to carry the picture.

It will be possible for a caller's picture to be "dialed" like an ordinary telephone call, provided the switch on the picture equipment is turned on at both ends of the line. phone call will be completed with- If the switches are off, the tele- out pictures. The picture can also be turned on after a conversation is underway. It would be impossible for a customer to be seen by the caller unless he flipped on the switch.

The picture-phone system differs from television in this way: TV sends 30 pictures a second and uses high frequencies which require relatively expensive coaxial cable and microwaves radio relay systems, and provide an extremely detailed picture every two seconds. The fact that the image can be transmitted over standard low-frequency telephone channels makes it possible to use ordinary telephone wires, like those running to the homes o telephone customers.

Bell Laboratories engineers believe that a system on these principles can eventually overcome the cost barrier.

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

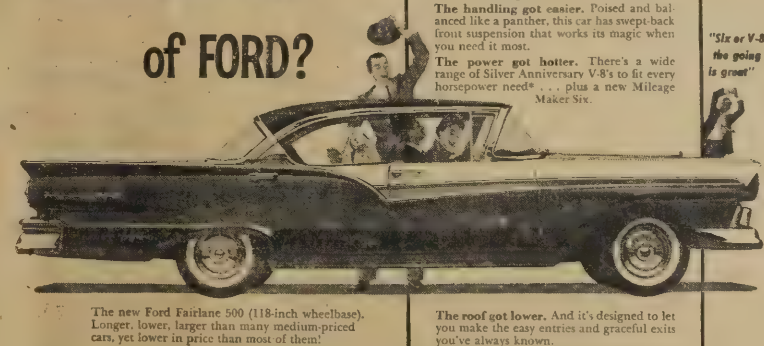
The wheelbase got longer . . . now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need* . . . plus a new Mileage Maker Six.



"Six or V-8 the going is great"

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater . . . the price is still Ford-low.

A Special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.*

SEE IT FOR YOURSELF!

So now you know the magic of the '57 FORD!

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

TWO years ago, doctors told David Herndon, 708 North St. Clair Street, Pittsburgh 6, Pa., that his two-year-old son had suffered a brain injury at birth and should be committed to an institution. He simply couldn't believe them and yet the boy obviously wasn't normal and showed no indication of improvement. "Put him away now," the doctors advised "and save yourself a great deal of anxiety and grief."

CARNEGIE

Life had hit him a terrific wallop and he began to think that the best way to absorb the punishment was to go on a 20 year drunk. But there were other things to consider. His wife wasn't bearing up too well under the strain and if he added to her burden she might crack up.

At this point when he felt that he was at the lowest ebb of his resources, he turned to prayer. After repeated prayers for guidance, these comforting thoughts came to him: If God is infinite and all-intelligent there is no place in the universe where intelligence is lacking. God is spirit and my little boy is a manifestation of the creator and consequently must be flawless. The absence of God would be a contradiction in terms.

It also occurred to him that showing his wife more tenderness and consideration might help her over her melancholy. He began taking her out more often, planning their evenings together as though they were dates.

Now, two years later, he and his wife have passed through this ordeal without either losing their sense of balance. In fact, they feel closer to each other than ever before. Best of all, his little boy has confounded the medical fraternity by displaying a remarkable degree of alertness. He is making progress.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God that giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not, and it shall be given to him.—(James 1,5.)

What is the right thing to do? What shall I do or say about this? Even the wisest man will sometimes have his doubts. But Almighty God always will hear a devout, unselfish prayer for His guidance, and answer it.

Won Second Place For Exhibit At South Ala. Fair

The Maplesville Future Homemakers of America won second place for their exhibit at the South Alabama Fair in Montgomery recently

Only three FHA Chapters in the State were asked to have an exhibit at the Montgomery affair

The exhibit was on "Home Care of the Sick". It showed some of the things a homemaker can do to make those who are sick more comfortable

The valuable lessons learned and experience gained together with the cash premium made the efforts for the exhibit worthwhile.

The FHA plans to buy an electric sewing machine for the Home-Ec Dept. with their prize money.

Many others helped make the exhibit a success and the Chapter wishes to thank all of these people.

Graham Lumber Co., Mae's Beauty Shop, Mrs. Leroy Atchinson, Mr and Mrs. Douglas Giles and Mr Carlos Owen were some of those who helped.

Others were: Chilton Home Furnishing's and Mullins & Scott in Clanton; Mangel's in Selma and Mr. James Kincaid at Thorsby: Mrs. Martha Alice Cowan is the Homemaking teacher at Maplesville High School She also helped a lot

FOR THE RIGHT

A person who never loses his temper it is said, is either highly talented or lacking in drive. It could be high blood pressure.

Anybody can write a book. The trouble is finding someone who will read it and buy it.

It is a question whether large amounts of money left to children do them good or harm. Now thats something mine will never worry about.

Laymen should remember that it is always helpful for them to tell newspapermen things they are not familiar with. The best way to get a good hometown newspaper is to take a personal interest in it.

DRIVE TIME—

The season for the various drives for funds by public institutions is here and just as the drives by our local high schools for annual advertising is finished. To the average business man it seems, we know, that it is one drive after another and at times a little more than we can take.

But, let's consider the end results of the money we give and not the inconvenience it brings to the individual. All are worthwhile charities or institutions and all deserve our help. None could function without our aid and the value received is far greater than the small amount we are able to give, even though at times we all get a little tired of "digging down" when the solicitor comes around.

And too, remember when you are called on next time, to thank the solicitor of the donation. He is not only making a donation himself, but is giving of his time and talent to get the job done. He is due more credit for his contributions of time and money than he usually gets. At times his is a thankless duty it seems, but when thought out, we all know that he is due a vote of thanks from all of us for doing a job we wouldn't want to do ourselves.

ABOUT POLITICS—

How the common man can go along with the Republican Party for another four years is not understandable when some light on the subject of our government's condition is known.

President Eisenhower appointed all of his Cabinet members and is directly responsible for their actions. Yet the former head of General Motors was appointed as a member of the cabinet and General Motors received a refund of income tax reportedly of $206,000,000.

It is reported that the American Distilling Company was due a tax of about $18,000,000 but the government settled for $1,249,060.

Under the Republican Administration the average loan to the cotton grower was $268 for the year. The big farmers got many thousands of dollars and one is reported to have received more than a million dollar loan. The average wheat farmer got $1,810 but one is said to have received $430,691.

The little farmer is paying under the Republican Administration about 30% more for what he buys and is getting about 25% less for what he grows and sells. Look around you and see for yourself if this is not so.

Our prosperity today is based on borrowed money and under this administration the interest rate is greater than it ever was. Installment buying has reached an all-time high, as has just about everything else. It is truly a rich man's party and administration. Everything that is done is done by or for the big money interests.

Our only hope is going back to the Party of the common man—the Democratic Party. The Democratic Party has been in the past and will always be the party who thinks first of the small farmer, the small grocer, and the small business in general. Study the issues and weigh well the records; then go to the polls on Nov. 6, and vote for the Party that is a friend of the people and not the big corporations.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

IN COMMON with most worriers, Henry Heyl, 750 Olympia Street, S. W., Grand Rapids, Michigan, thought he had a priority on worrying. He worried about anything and everything and when he received his "Greetings" from Uncle Sam he really got under way. By the time he had reached the receiving center and had passed his physical examination he was almost a total wreck.

After being assigned to his barracks, he started talking with the fellow who had the bunk next to his, just to get his mind off himself. Among all the fellows in the barracks, whose average age was twenty years, imagine his pleasant surprise to find that his bunkmate was even older than he was—over 38. Right away they had something in common. This chap was the most cheerful fellow he had ever met. He said they called him "Kaintuck" because he hailed from Kentucky. He told Henry that he had seven children who had gotten about every disease to which a child could be exposed. And he was very poor; just barely making ends meet. On top of all that, he and his family were illiterate—they could neither read nor write.

CARNEGIE

Well maybe Henry Heyl didn't feel ashamed of himself and his imaginary troubles. He asked Kaintuck how he could be so cheerful with all his troubles, and Kaintuck handed him a philosophy of life that he declares he will never forget. Here it is:

"I ain't had much book learnin', but I've found out when I got troubles I couldn't lick, I can take them to the Lord in prayer. Then I get up off my knees, forget all about it, and go on doin' the best I know how."

CHILTON EXCEEDS CANCER QUOTA WITH $2,459.64

Chilton County exceeded its quota in the 1956 crusade of the American Cancer Society, which was the most successful in the society's history both on a state-wide and nation-wide basis.

Dr. John Day Peake of Mobile president of the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, Inc., praised the leadership of Mr. E. R. Yeargan of Thorsby, Chilton County chairman, and expressed appreciation to all the citizens of this County for a successful campaign.

"The American Cancer Society and the people of Alabama and the nation are indebted to the citizens of Chilton County for their wholehearted support of this humanitarian work," Dr. Peake decalred.

He also paid tribute to the late Dr. Festus M. Cook of Montgomery for his leadership as campaign chairman of the 1956 Alabama crusade. Dr. Cook died of cancer near the close of the campaign.

Alabama raised a total of $264,327.46 during the 1956 crusade, the largest amount ever raised in this state in one campaign by the Cancer Society. Chilton County raised $2, 459.64.

The American Cancer Society raised $27,000,000 nationally during the 1956 crusade.

Mr. Yeargan, who also served as Chilton County Chairman in 1955 has been one of the most successful leaders in the Alabama Division.

FARM OWNERSHIP LOAN SERVICE EXPANDED

The farm ownership loan service vhich has enabled many Chilton 'ounty farmers to buy, enlarge, or nprove their farms with 40-year oans has recently been expanded o enable the Farmers Home Administration to serve the credit eeds of a larger number of farm amilies, Isaac C. Byrd, the agency's ounty supervisor, explained today.

Under recent legislation loans may ow be made primarily to refinance xisting debts of owner-operators farms no larger than family-type. the past the agency only refinanced loans when the refinancing as incidental to the making of al estate loans for the purchase improvement of family-type rms.

Mr. Byrd said the loans for refinancing will help farmers who ve adequate real estate security d who are otherwise in a sound sition but who are unable to meet eir present credit obligations and ed credit on more favorable terms d conditions than are currently ailable from other lenders.

When debts are refinanced by the rmers Home Administration under s program, the repayments wil' scheduled over periods up to 40 ars according to the borrowers' ability to repay. Interest, or interest plus insurance charges, will be 4½%

The regular credit services of the agency including loans for the purchase and improvement of family-type farms are continued.

Private lenders supply most of the funds for the agency's farm real estate loans under the insured loan program. The lender receives 3½% interest and the Government charges an additional 1 per cent for insurance. The Farmers Home Administration makes, services, and collects the loans.

The new law also provides loans for developing and improving farms that are smaller than family-type. To be eligible an applicant must be an established farm owner, carrying on substantial farm operations and spending a major part of his time farming. He must also have a dependable source of outside income.

These loans will assist farmers who own small farms and rent additional land and small farm owners depend on off-farm employment for part of their income. The credit can be used to improve land and buildings.

The interest rates and terms are the same as those for loans made for refinancing debts. Interest, or interest plus insurance charges will be 4½ percent. The loans will be repayable over periods up to 40 years.

Like the loans that were already available, loans under the new authorities will be made only to applicants whose credit needs cannot be adequately handled by banks or other lenders.

Trying to decide what kind of Hospitalization Protection to get?

Some questions that may be on your mind . . .

Q. Does it give the protection I need?

A. Dependable, realistic, geared to your actual needs—that sums up Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection. Sponsored by your own hospitals and doctors (M.D.), this Plan has only one aim: to help you get the hospital and doctor care you actually need.

Q. Is my family protected, too?

A. Wife, husband, and unmarried children between 90 days and 19 years, are all entitled to the same full range of contract benefits.

Q. Are needed benefits easy to get?

A. Nothing is simpler! Just show your identification card to the Blue Cross Member Hospital or your doctor of medicine. No claims to file, no waiting for reimbursement. The Plan pays hospital and doctor direct for the contract benefits you receive.

Q. What about cost?

A. The Plan is non-profit, which keeps the cost as low as possible. Every cent received—outside of low operating expense—is set aside to help pay for subscribers' care.

Q. HOW DO I ENROLL?

A. Group. Ask your employer to start a group if you (or your wife or husband) work where there are 5 or more people, including the boss.

NON-GROUP: If not yet 65, in good health, and you (and your wife or husband) work where there are less than 5 people, send coupon for a NON-GROUP application.

Telephone Service Coming To Pletcher, Adams Communities

Massive machinery began plowing telephone cables underground the first part of this month to bring service to the communities of Pletcher, and Adams through one of the most modern ways of establishing communications.

Cable plowing is the latest method of constructing telephone lines. It does away with the need for placing telephone poles, and will permit Southern Bell to finish the job in 4 days where the older method would have taken several months.

The cable plow is towed by a huge tractor. It can bury approximately 10 miles of cable daily.

Mr. O. W. Norton, local manager for Southern Bell say 110 families will get telephone service over the plowed-in cable. The job will cost more than $53,000.

The project is part of Southern Bell's 1956 program for expansion and improvement in Alabama. The total state-wide program will cost $4,1000,00, Mr. Norton said.

Rusty Stays "Two Feet" Ahead

My candidate for the most enterprising businessman of the month is Rusty Miller, age 14 — owner and operator of the busiest shoeshine box in town.

Rusty's chock full of ideas for improving business. Friday, for instance, he declared a "dividend." Had a sign saying that every tenth passerby would get his shoes shined free.

Naturally, most of the people Rusty designated as "Number Ten" took advantage of the offer. And, naturally too, most of them tipped him generously. At the end of the day he figured he was $1.50 above his daily average.

From where I sit, personal incentive is at the heart of all successful business. Take your local tavern owner, for instance. He's always striving to improve his place of business — keep it neat and attractive—in accord with the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. He has the incentive to keep his place clean, neat, orderly . . . to make it "shine" in the community.

Local Witnesses To Attend Seminar At Sylacauga, Oct. 26-28

The Clanton Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are making arrangements to attend a three-day training program in Sylacauga, October 26, 27 and 28 at the National Guard Armory. Nearly 30 delegates from the local congregation plan to join with over 700 other Witnesses for the seminar. Representatives will come from 17 congregations of east central Alabama and Columbus Georgia.

Mr. William E. Robinson, presiding minister of the group here, in discussing this anouncement said yesterday, "The purpose of the program is to equip everyone of the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's Witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a help in fortifying the spiritual morale of people in our community. For that reason the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, sponsors of the three-day assembly, feature a refresher program of Bible instruction and have set the theme of the assembly as "A Happy People serving a Happy God."

The main feature of the assembly will be the public address on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., entitled "What Will Armageddon Mean For You?"

Mr. Robinson added, "We sincerely hope that the advanced training program planned for us in Sylacauga will enable us to live close to the Bible and its teachings."

In Homecoming Tilt---

Holtville Bulldogs Overcome Stubborn Tigers 14 To 7

By BRAX BATES

The Holtville Bulldogs, clad in green, and keyed higher than a kite struck as a tidal wave over a confused and bewildered Clanton team to fashion a 14 to 7 victory to the enjoyment of their large Homecoming alumni.

The Tigers took the field without their warhorse Terry Jones, and the Clanton fans knew the Tigers were in for a rough time moments after the opening kick-off.

The Bulldogs' aGston Farmer returned the kick from his 15 to the 43. Buddy Walker then led the charge down to Clanton's 8 where Ken Austin went over for the score.

Throughout the first half the Tigers fought tenaciously, but they were having trouble with the spread formation the Bulldogs were using The Tiger backs could not get started and the lone touchdown came as a result of a gamble that they were willing to take.

With four minutes remaining in the first half and a 4th down on their own 12 yard line Jimmy Fulmer left guard went back into punt formation. Jimmy, cool and collected, faked the kick and then hit Herschel Billingsley with a pass good for 28 yards and a first down.

With his job completed Fulmer went back to his guard position and James Knight took over. Knight was trying to fill the shoes of Jones and in the early moments of the game he was a confused young man. But as the game progressed, he progressed. After the Fulmer pass play, Knight hit Minor with a 44 yard pass. That was a honey of a catch. A 5 yard penalty put the ball back on the 23 and from that point Knight winged a pass to Billingsley for the TD. Knight added the EP The teams left the field tied at 7 all and then the Clanton and Holtville bands took over and their performance was a real crowd pleaser.

The second half was all Holtville. The Bulldogs ran up 8 first downs, 173 yards rushing and 16 yards passing. Their big ground gainers were Austin, Farmer, Beasley, Henderson and Walker. Farmer scored the second half TD on a 25 yard sprint and Walker added the EP.

The Clanton team only had 4 first downs for the entire game The Tigers picked up 63 yards rushing and 101 yards on pass plays. The Dogs total yardage was 288 rushing and 44 passing and 14 first downs. Jimmy Fulmer really played himself a ball game. When he was not at left guard he was passing, running or punting. His 3 carries were good for 15 yards and one of his kicks was good for 47 yards. He should have been twins James Knight played a fine defensive game. He intercepted one pass and knocked down another pass that could have gone for a Holtville TD DeLoach and Swanner came thru with some fine defensive work. In all fairness to Coach Spicer and his boys we have this to say,

The tigers were not loafing, they were just not clicking, and if the Tigers will keep on, keeping on, their day will come.

Leading the Tigers in scoring this year is Terry Jones with 37 points followed by Billingsley with 24, Foshee with 14, Minor with 12, Knight with 8 and Bice with 6.

TIGER CUBS BITE 'DOG' PUPS 26-O

By BRAX BATES

Coach V. L. Bulger's Tiger Cubs romped all over the Montevallo Bull Pups last Thursday afternoon 26 to 0. The triumph was keyed by the clever ball handling of T. Quarterback Buddy Vines.

In the first quarter Vines took the ball from center and faked to 2 backfield men before he handed off to Buddy Baker. The entire Montevallo team went to Clanton's right side and tackled everyone except Baker, who went merrily on his way for 85 yards and the TD. Vines scored 2 TD's and Ralph Wesson scored one.

All of these scores came on short thrusts through the line. Jimmy Dennis and Toby Mayfield also did a lot of fine running and these two big boys along with Vines and Baker will certainly make Clanton a fine backfield combination in a couple of years. Other boys who played a good game were Puckett Cobb, Hays, Giles, Argo, Mims, Tiffin and Donald Jones.

The Cubs have won 2 and lost one. Scored 66 points to their opponents 20. Their next game will be Thursday at Chilton County High School with Marbury. Game time 3:00 o'clock.

Store Your Farm Implements

All farm implements should be brought in, cleaned, repaired, and painted before being stored away for the winter. If implements are not painted, they should be cleaned thoroughly and moving parts greased.

Women of the Korean island of Cheju for centuries have proved themselves better divers than the men, who in some instances take over domestic tasks. Cheju women make shallow sea dives for pearls shellfish, edible seaweed and other ocean products.

There are some 44 names for the large-mouth black bass, ranging from "green trout" to "bride perch," "growler" and "Speckled hen." The small-mouth black bass has some 36 names, depending upon locality

Civil Defense Advances

SURGERY can be carried on in comparatively primitive surroundings by using the facilities of the Federal Civil Defense Administration's emergency hospital during attacks. The operating lights would be powered by the hospital's own 15-kilowatt generator, while the instruments would be sterilized in bottle-gas-heated autoclaves, or pressure cookers. (FCDA Photo)

Spring Hog Profits Can Be Decided Now

Auburn—The size of next spring's profit on market hogs may be determined this fall——and by the grower, too.

More profit is made from dollars spent for creep-feeding than any other feed dollar spent during the life of the pig. In other words, a pound of creep-feeding will make more gain on the pig than any feed will do later.

Thousands of suckling pig litters in Alabama are now old enough for creep-feeding. And hog growers interested in making highest profit possible will begin the solid feed immediately.

Creep-feed pigs to make them weigh 40 pounds or more at weaning time, instead of 23 to 27 pounds Since litle pigs won't eat much, the per pig cost will be low and the profits big.

It is recommended to use a good commercial starter feed or a good home-mixed one, fortified with antibiotics.

Alabama hog growers with suckling litters of pigs on their farms now should remember that the brood sow passes her milk production peak as her litter ends its third week of life. But, growing pigs have growing appetites. Thus, the mother's milk begins to decrease just when the pig needs more to eat.

This is the time for hog growers to satisfy the young pigs' appetites and help them grow faster by giving them solid feed, commonly known as creep-feeding.

Deadline For Joining '56 Soil Bank Set Up To November 30th

Auburn—Alabama farmers gained another chance to join the popular forestry phase of the Conservation Reserve Soil Bank program for 1956 despite a growing shortage of pine seedlings in the state.

Deadline to sign up for this program was extended to Nov. 30, allowing even more farmers to receive rent payments for 1956. This extension came after county A.S.C committees became swamped with Soil Bank activities and were unable to properly process all applications

Probably half of the farmers singing these contracts will be unable to buy their seedlings this year. An estimated 90 million seedlings will be needed in the state for the 1956 program, while only around 50 million are available.

An additional 55 million trees will be grown for Soil Bank plantings by December 1957. Any increase in price of seedlings, due to shortage, would be absorbed by the government.

When seedlings are not available the 10-year contract, which begins in 1957, may be extended at the desire of the participating farmer for the same number of years that it takes to get seedlings. But no contract will run beyond 1974.

However, all farmers signing contracts must plant seedlings as soon as possible or refund all government payments. An average yearly rental fee of eight dollars per acre exists for Alabama. In addition, the government will pay 80 percent of the total cost of planting.

Soil Bank regulations vary from county to county, thus farmers need to consult their County ASC administrative officers before taking any action.

CENTRAL ALA. CO-OP. APPROVES LOWERING RESIDENTIAL RATES

Cheaper electricity is now being considered for members of the Central Alabama Electric Cooperative

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

N. T. PAYNE, Darlington, Alabama, for the past three years has had a bad heart condition. Last fall his wife was operated on for the removal of a lung cancer; this was her second operation for cancer in two and one-half years.

He was so worried that he became extremely nervous and lost weight. He couldn't sleep; he could not concentrate on his work. Toward the first of December he read a book on Worry, and in this book he found what he so badly needed. He began living in a day-tight compartment; began counting his blessings.

Each morning as soon as he wakened he thanked God for giving him and his wife another day. Among his blessings were his home, his family and his friends. He thought of each of his friends and of the many fine qualities that each possessed. Soon he found that whereas once he was in the habit of finding fault with them, he now found only fine qualities.

CARNEGIE

Soon he experienced a glow of happiness that stayed with him all day long. His wife soon joined in this program and has been uplifted by it. Recently she was examined by her doctor who was amazed at the fine condition she was in, and Mr. Payne believes that she has a splendid chance for a complete recovery. His own physical condition has also greatly improved, and their home is now a happy place.

All due to one simple discovery.

Conservation Department Announces New Regulations On Dove Hunting In State

Montgomery—W. H. Drinkard, Director of Alabama's Department of Conservation, today urged that hunters throughout the state note an important change in federal dove and waterfowl hunting regulations

Conservation officers and federal game protection agents report that some hunters apparently have misunderstood conditions under which doves and waterfowl can be shot over grain fields.

Drinkard said that 1956 regulations allow shooting of doves and waterfowl over grains found scattered solely as a result of normal agricultural harvesting. Hunters should especially note that this is a change from last year's regulations which allowed shooting over grains scattered as a result of normal planting or harvesting.

"This means that newly planted fields which have some grain on the surface of the ground are illegally baited fields according to the new regulations," Drinkard said "while fields where grains have been scattered during harvesting are legal."

Drinkard also said there have been some questions about shooting over areas where hogs and cattle are fed. This is illegal, but should not be confused with hogging down or turning cattle into grain fields. Areas where livestock animals are used to harvest a crop are legal for shooting. Feeding areas where grain is placed for feed are illegal for shooting.

Federal expenditures during the year ending last June were 74.6 billion, or more than four times the amount spent in the entire nineteenth century.

CERTIFICATE OF PERFORMANCE

The Undersigned ... in the name of the United States Auto Club Sports Commission that

1957 FORD
Fairlane Club Victoria

50000 Miles at 108.16 M.P.H.

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah . . . it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before — in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Roscoe Williams has started a Charter Plane Service here. He has a four-passenger Stinson and will go anywhere you want to go. The same insurance protection as the large air lines provide is also provided by Roscoe when you ride his plane. Roscoe has had 8 years experience flying the big air liners and knows his business, so the next time you want to take off—take off with the new local charter service. 'Course being up in the air most of the time they haven't got their feet on the ground yet, but any further details can be obtained by calling brother Williams.

Congratulations to Peggy Carroll and Mary Kate Tucker on being chosen "Miss Chit Chat" and "Junior High Maid", respectively at CCHS. The occasion was the Chit Chat contest held by the local organ of the Chilton County High School this week. We're glad for the vivacious Peggy and "Ole Snuffy" too.

Noticing a broed young fellow walking around the halls of the art musemu, the helpful young hostess went up to him and said kindly:

"Perhaps you'd like to see the 40-ft. mural on the second floor It's very interesting."

With an expression of awe, the youngster turned away and dashed up the stairs. A few minutes later a call came for the hostess from upstairs.

"Who in the world," said a harassed voice, "sent a kid up here looking for a 40-ft. mule?"

Just like your customers most of our customers want what they need today, yesterday. A friend was telling us today that he was asked if a business acquaintance had asked him to do something for him today. "No," he answered "but he asked me today if I would do it for him yesterday". So that's the way it goes.

We're just about the poorest publicity chairman you could think of, having never written anything for a newspaper, but (alright you wiseacres shut-up) anyway, it is our duty to tell you about the Fun Fair on next Tuesday evening at the Chilton County High School They are planning big things down there. Candy store, sandwich booth floor show, white elephant booth pretty girls and ugly boys. Just about anything worth seeing or doing will be going on. To tell you the truth, if we'uns were you'uns we'd be saving our loose change for a big time on that evening Confidentially, we're going to shoot-the-works if we have to stay up 'til 10 o'clock to do it.

"Well, Your Honor," said the defendant, "It was like this, I was in a phone booth talking to my girl when this guy comes up and wants to use the phone. He opens the door, grabs me by the neck and tosses me out on my ear."

"Then you got angry?" asked the judge.

"es, a little," answered the man "But, I didn't get real mad until he grabbed my girl and threw her out, too."

Halloween Fun Nite At Verbena High

Instead of "trick-n-treating", why not plan to join in a whole evening of food, fun and frolic at Verbena High School, October 31st. Beginning at 5:30 p.m. and lasting.

All ages will enjoy the program. Everyone is invited.

Volley Ball League Now Has Six Teams

The Park Volley Ball League had some good games Tuesday nite with six teams in action. The first game First Baptist Church took two out of three games from the National Guardsmen in a close match. In the second set West End Baptist Church won over the Civitans. This game showed some fast action with John Will Jones paving the way for the winners. The third set was a very evenly matched game with Ala. Furn. Mfg. Co. taking the nod over the Jaycees and moving up to third place.

Next week will see: Civitans vs First Baptist; Ala. Furn. Mfg. Co. vs. West End Baptist and Jaycees vs. National Guard.

Farm Supply Store To Move Nov. 1st

The Farmer's Marketing and Exchange Ass'n. is moving the downtown store from its present location on Second Avenue by the railroad to the new warehouse at the fertilizer plant in North Clanton on November 1st. This is in keeping with a long range expansion program the organization plans for this area according to Dick Bowden, Assistant General Manager of the State organization. He further stated it is felt the organization can better serve all the needs of Chilton County farmers from one central point.

The Farmers Marketing and Exchange Association has served Chilton County farmers for the past 12 years. Recently the organization purchased Ballard Bros. Fertilizer Works along with some additional property and has made Clanton the Central distribution point for serving farmers throughout the State of Alabama.

They are now serving 78 retail Farm Supply Stores and over 75,000 Alabama farmers from their Chilton County operations.

County School Funds Take Sharp Cut

School money coming to Chilton County from state funds will take a sharp cut this year, according to information received from Howard Boockholdt, County Superintendent for Chilton County. According to estimates made by the State Department of Revenue and distributed to the local superintendents by the State Department of Education, Chilton's portion of the reduction will be approximately $60,000.

To offset this reduction in revenues, it became necessary for the Chilton County Board of Education to cut out capital outlay expenditures for new equipment, buildings and buses, reduce sharply the allotment for maintenance of buildings and to give Board employees including teachers, a conditional cut in salary.

Horses Make Civil Defense Headlines

POSSE ON THE PROWL for the two-gun scourge of the badlands? Not at all. They are members of Plaistow, New Hampshire's unusual mounted civil defense auxiliary police. The "mounties" may never be called on to "get their man," but they could be useful in moving through New Hampshire's woods or rough country in search of a lost person, or to reach a remote settlement threatened by forest fire or other natural disaster.

BOY SCOUTS at La Grange, Ill., got more than they bargained for when they staged a civil defense mass feeding demonstration in connection with a pet parade to show how the homeless could be fed in the event of an enemy attack. With limited equipment, they served 5,000 meals at a cost of only 21 cents each. The horse got a handout, but fortunately for the Scouts, 4,990 of the meals were for humans, who got along on hot dogs, beans, rolls, doughnuts and coffee.

Prayer Service, Wednesday at 7

Our attendance was off quite a bit Sunday, but those who came received a blessing from the Sunday School lesson. We hope that more people will come from now on even if the roads are bad. We should be thankful enough for the rains to come to God's house and show Him our appreciation.

We were glad to have our visitors Sunday and welcome them and all visitors at any time.

Everyone remember the preaching date, Sunday and Sunday night when Rev. Hornsby will be back with us. We invite everyone that can to come and hear him because we believe that you will enjoy the messages that he brings from God's word.

We had a good prayer service last Wednesday night and we invite everyone to come and be with us. We are not trying to get anything except larger crowds at our church services. Please note that the time for the Prayer Service has been changed to 7 p.m. instead of 7:30

Our Family Night program was last Wednesday night. Remember that our next Family Night program will be the Fourth Sunday.

There are still some of our community on the sick list for whom we should pray. Let's remember these people in our prayers.

Come to Training Union, Sunday School and Preaching Services this Sunday.

"Party" Food for Election Night

Regardless of your political party, election night is a wonderful time to give a party. And while you and your guests are waiting for the returns, be ready with a substantial late-night supper. When excitement is high, appetites will be stimulated, too.

Your guests will vote alike for Election Night Casserole, a hearty and satisfying affair, combining boned turkey with spaghetti in tomato sauce, generously topped with grated sharp cheese. It's a dish so good everyone will think you spent hours preparing it, yet most of the ingredients are ready and waiting on your cupboard shelf. If you wish, you can combine the ingredients of the casserole early in the day, then refrigerate it until time to bake.

Election Night Casserole

2 cans (5-ounce size) boned turkey, cut up
2 cans (15½-ounce size spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese)
2 tablespoons finely chopped pimiento
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon g[illegible]lic salt
Dash of caye[illegible] pepper
½ cup grated [illegible]rp cheese

Lightly c[illegible] turkey with al[illegible] other ingredients except cheese. Spoon mixture into a 1½-quart casserole; bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 20 minutes; then sprinkle with cheese and bake 10 minutes longer. (If refrigerated before baking, increase cooking time to 45 minutes.) Makes 6 servings.

Other likely candidates might be oven-cooked asparagus with lemon slices, a crispy tossed salad, piping hot fan-tan rolls, and "Choose-Your-Party" Election Pies.

To make the pies, just heat your favorite frozen fruit pies (apple, blueberry, cherry, or peach) as directed on the package. While warm, top with scoops of ice cream, and stand an animal cooky (elephant or donkey) on top

CHEESE POLKA DOTS ON MEAT PIES

"MOTHER WANTS TO KNOW"

Doctor, I just dread my baby's examinations—He cries and frets so! What can I do?

Many anxious mothers wonder why "other children" seem to take life easier—especially during their regular visits to baby's pediatrician. They notice these other babies in the waiting room, sitting quietly, easily amused, while their child may scream and struggle. And with a sigh, they usually conclude that it's because "babies are born different."

Of course, babies do differ constitutionally from birth. But the way they react to stressful or new situations depends for the most part on how their mothers meet them, says Dr. Otto A. Faust, pediatrician and consultant to Beech-Nut Baby Foods. No matter what his age, baby's visit to the doctor can be frightening or friendly — depending to a great degree on how his mother as well as his doctor handles it.

Here are some helpful tips on how you can make your baby's trip to the doctor easy on everybody—including baby!

1. Save your laundry or cake-baking for another day. Remember this is visit day—plan around that.
2. Set your appointment for baby's convenience—a nap and timely feeding can mean the difference between a wailing, squirming armful and a happy, cooperative one. Take a bottle along and a few biscuits.
3. Prepare early — get yourself ready first so that baby doesn't have to wait.
4. Dress him comfortably in clothing that can be whipped on and off in seconds. Both the doctor and baby will appreciate it.
5. Bring along a new toy to keep him interested.
6. Try to arrange your visit to prevent excessive waiting around. A tour of the office might interest him.
7. Once inside the doctor's office, don't let it bother you if your baby cries. Babies stop crying as easily as they start and it's only natural after five months or so for him to resent strangers. Your doctor's used to it, but he may need your co-operation. Try to soothe the baby, stay close at hand unless requested otherwise, and don't let him see you're upset.
8. If you've any questions, make a list before hand. Be sure you understand everything you want to know — don't hesitate to ask again if you don't.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

The acoustics are so bad at the Chilton County High School Gym that speakers can't even be heard with the PA system in use. Now that is bad acoustics 'cause those public address systems really turn up the sound. The other night at the Fun Fair that was sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association there were half a dozen trying to get the attention of the crowd, but to no avail. We believe something can be done to remedy this and cannot understand why the school authorities continue to ignore this important improvement in the gymnasium which is used for so many public functions besides the routine school activities.

Cecil Powell received a letter last week at the post office that had been mailed at Montgomery, Alabama on March 25, 1954. We don't know whether they gave the letter to a duck and he walked up here with it or it got sent somewhere else and was held over for a year or two. At any rate we think we get bad mail service sometimes, but it ain't that bad. That letter just got lost or else the duck did.

Did you hear about the man who called the operator and asked if he might speak to the Rev. Smith in New York? He told the operator this was the Rev. Turner calling "Is this a station-to-station call?" asked the operator. "Don't be silly" said the Rev. Turner, "this is a parson to parson call".

We do not think there was any call for some loyal Democrats getting all up in the air about the way the election officials for next Tuesday was handled. The officials for next week's election were named according to law by the Probate Judge, The Sheriff and the Circuit Court Clerk. It is a general election and the Republicans were entitled to two places on each box and this the acting officials tried to do. The appointments were made according to law and we see no cause to censure anyone for abiding by the law

Speaking of the public address system at the high school and the acoustics Tuesday night, they were so bad that the prizes for the best Halloween costumes could not be announced. The first prize went to Ronnie Rogers; the second prize to Cecil Wade and the third prize went to Martha Palmer. The prizes were awarded alright, but no one but those receiving them were able to hear about it.

One of our businessmen has a gripe that we think is justifiable He says that someone comes by early every morning and opens his newspaper and reads it and then throws it on the sidewalk in front of his door for the wind to scatter up or down the street. Now, we are sure no one begrudges another reading his newspaper, but to leave it where it can be scattered by the wind is another thing. Then there is another point: the newsboy who is working long before you get out of bed has to make that paper good. He either loses the sale or has to get another newspaper for the customer. This is not just one businessman talking either. Several around town have mentioned the same thing. So, if you are an early riser, and like to read the morning paper from another's doorstep, be sure to put the paper back where the subscriber can find it in good condition when he reaches work. If he wasn't interested in looking at it, he wouldn't be subscribing to it in the first place.

Mrs. Alma Huddleston has gone with daughter Pat (Miss Alabama) to New York for a stay while Pat continues her music studies. We hope it is not for too long. Their friends here will miss them.

Verbena FHA Met Thursday

The Verbena chapter of FHA met in the school auditorium Thursday October 25, 1956.

Clubs Present Plan For Civic Center Here

The civic clubs of Clanton have started a drive to build a new Community House.

A call went out this week for a Committee from each Club and Veterans organization to meet to devise some workable plan for the project. The Parent-Teachers Associations from both the Chilton County High School and the Clanton Elementary School will also be invited to attend the gathering.

Reports are, if possible, to construct the Center on City property This matter will be presented before the meeting to be held later this month.

It has been stated that no particular Club or organization wishes to sponsor the drive for the new structure, but that all of the various groups combine to work together to the end that Clanton have a Community Center in which to present their plays, singings, and other entertainments.

Mt. Creek Church Attendance Good

Last Sunday we had a nice attendance in Sunday School. If anyone lives in the Mt. Creek vicinity who doesn't attend church, please come. You don't know what a blessing you are missing. We surely thank the Lord for those who come and the wonderful spirit that is being manifested in our church. The sermon was based on the theme. "Lord What Would Thou Have Me To Do?" We hope that in a short period of time, to begin working on the new Sunday School additions.

Rev. Charles McGalliard, Supt. of Sunday School, presented a sermon at the Pilgrim Rest Baptist Church last Sunday night.

Last Sunday afternoon 20 young people attended the 9th District Youth Rally at the First Baptist Church in Clanton. Mrs. W. Rev. Hornsby Preaches At Poplar Springs

Rev. Roy Hornsby of Birmingham brought two wonderful messages to us from God's word Sunday and Sunday night. We certainly enjoyed having him and his family with us We are looking forward to having them back with us next preaching day.

We were happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lilly and daughter of Birmingham with us. Also others that visited us. We welcome anyone at anytime to worship with us and be a part of the services of our church.

Although we had better attendance in Sunday School, we still should make it even better. The same goes for the Training Union. Therefore let's everyone try to work harder and get more people to come to church.

Next Wednesday night, we will have the prayer service as usual and we hope all of you who possibly can will come.

GOP Campaign Slogan Explodes As War Threat Looms, Costs Rise

By Vernon P. Payne, Pub. Chairman, Chilton Democratic Campaign Committee

Today less than one week before election, another of the Republican myths of continued peace and prosperity has been shattered. As Israel digs deeper into Egyptian territory the long stifled truth comes out that America is in a tighter spot than the present administration would have us believe. Our un-diplomatic foreign policy has been greatly instrumental in getting us and our protege-nation Israel into a situation which could easily flare into World War III.

As Adlai Stevenson is presenting a sound program to ban testing of H-Bombs, his opponents and their large daily-newspaper backing is silencing the fact that America may be forced to take part in the Israel-Egypt conflict on short notice. The fact of the matter is that we are a protectorate nation to Israel, and as such, we may be called on to step in as we did in Korea.

Theprosperitythemewhichthe Re-

The prosperity theme which the Republicans are pushing as their bandwagon has exploded by itself as businessmen throughout the nation are feeling the tightening of money and as profits drop and costs rise.

During the past four years one of Chilton's leading industries has cut its per week production time to two-thirds what it was prior to 1952. Also in the same plant thirty-five percent of the workers have been laid-off due to the decreased business.

Farmers throughout Chilton are feeling the economic squeeze brought on in the past four years. Markets are getting scarcer as a lax federal farm policy seeks to help large corporation farmers at the expense of small farmers and the taxpayers

Next on the list is Ike's health Nothing could be more foolish than to think for a minute that Ike's doctors will give him anything, but a clean bill of health at his political medical examination on the day prior to election. Since he has become the crutch of an unstable Republican party they cannot afford to face the voters without him whether he is healthy or not. The timing of this mock health-check is aimed so that you, the voters, cannot learn the truth of the matter before voting.

Fighting Myth With Fact—

Stevenson's proposal to ban H-Bomb testing is sound and secure and a genuine step towards better international relations. We are virtually paced with possible annihalation if the trend towards larger and more powerful bombs is continued

The sound reasoning behind Stevenson's proposal to end mass drafting of America's manpower is readily seen. The largest problem facing America's military forces today is not getting men, it's keeping men after they enlist. After they are trained at your expense by the Armed Services industries and corporations entice them to return to civilian life with higher wages and more benefits. Schools in the service are fast becoming a free training institution for industrialists.

Too, any man who is drafted for eighteen months could not defend his country, if the time comes, without further and renewed training Weapons and tactics are constantly changing just as everything does.

Undeniable Record—

Twenty years of Democratic administrations brought prosperity to this Country which has never been equaled in history. The average man was given a chance to dig out of the poverty that depression had pushed him into. A sound economy was set up with policies so vital that even the Republicans have hesitated to repudiate them during their tenure of office.

Many of you today benefit from the Social Security Act which was enacted by the Democrats. This Act was fought by Republicans in Congress who voted almost unanimously against its passage. Later when the Democrats proposed to lower the minimum age-limit of recipients they were again met with a large negative Republican vote. Old-age pensions were instituted by a Democratic Administration and many of you still benefit from them.

The Democrats gave to American labor wage and hour laws which are still in effect to protect the workers of our nation.

When our veterans returned after WW II they were met with liberal benefits which they had earned protecting our Country. It is easily remembered by many of you that World War I veterans were met in Washington by fixed bayonets when they massed there to ask for needed care. A task force led by Gen Douglas MacArthur killed one veteran as a Republican Administration bodily drove the veterans from the City.

Don't be mis-led by a slogan of "Peace and Prosperity" while you are wondering which day war will be declared and where you are going to get another loan to keep you going. Mark four "X" under the rooster next Tuesday—he's for you.

THE EIGHT AMENDMENTS—

There will be eight amendments to vote on next Tuesday when you go to the polls to vote and for the benefit of those who have not had the time to study each of them, we will try to give you a condensed version of each amendment.

Amendment No. 1 is a reapportionment amendment which would give to each of the 67 counties a senator and also would increase membership in the House. Each county would have a representative in the House also.

Amendment No. 2 would authorize the state to issue up to $4 million in bonds for the purpose of improving building faciliies at the State Hospital for the Insane at Tuscaloosa. Better housing and facilities are badly needed at this institution which is overcrowded d inadequate for present needs.

Amendment No. 3 provides that bonds be issued to $2 million for hospitals, health centers and Tuber'osis hospitals.

Amendment No. 4 would empower the Legislature to regulate costs and charges imposed by courts in Walker County.

Amendment No. 5 is the same as Amendment No. 4, except that it pertains to Pike County. The Amendmens provide that the Legislature also provide for the disbursements of monies collected by the courts.

Amendment No. 6 again is much like 4 and 5. This amendment would apply to Colbert and can also change fees plus abolish the fee system and place the elected officials on salary. This would place the authority in the hands of the Legislature and could become effective while present officials are in office.

Amendment No. 7 will, if passed, allow Tuscaloosa County to issue bonds for the purpose of building a new courthouse. The people of the county would have to approve such a bond issue, however.

Amendment No. 8 gives the City of Gadsden the authority to impose an additional 1 percent tax on property to pay off the City's indebtedness.

STEVENSON AND THE H-BOMB—

In his television broadcast to the nation on the H-Bomb, Adlai Stevenson made sharp the distinction between his approach to an enduring, safe peace, and of the Eisenhower Administration.

The distinction is between Stevenson's unwillingness to accept defeat in the search for a way to tame H-Bomb, and the Administration's unwillingness [illegible]sider or discuss new ideas in this all-important field.

The key to Mr. Stevenson's attitude is contained in this paragraph:

"This is one matter on which the defeatist view that nothing can be done, must be rejected. I say that something can be done, that the deadlock can be broken, that the world can make a new beginning toward peace."

Toward this end, Mr. Stevenson proposes to make it "the first order of business," if elected President, to seek an agreement with the other atomic powers on banning large H-Bomb tests, "by conference or by consultation-at whatever level in whatever place-the circumstances might suggest would be most fruitful."

Clearly, Mr. Stevenson intends not only to make this "the first order of business," but he also intends to give it his personal attention as Chief Executive. Clearly, too, he did not rule out the possibility of a conference at the highest level—a summit conference of the heads of the three atomic powers, the United States, Great Britain and Russia—in an effort to reach an agreement on the banning of future hydrogen-bomb tests.

The heightened possibility of such an agreement is emphasized by the fact that since Mr. Stevenson made his first test-ban proposal last April, both Russia and Great Britain "have declared their willingness to join us" in halting future tests as Mr. Stevenson pointed out in his broadcast.

In contrast to Mr. Stevenson's willingness to confer "at whatever level, at whatever place" necessary, is [illegible]sident Eisenhower's flat assertion that he has said "last word" on this subject which affects the fu[illegible] of mankind. As Mr. Stevenson said, "This is one subject on which there cannot be, there must not be, any last word."

Mr. Stevenson's views were given authoritative reinforcement by two Senators who hold key positions in the U. S. atomic and military security fields, and who participated in the broadcast with Stevenson. Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico is the Chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, which by law is entitled to all of the information on atomic energy that is available to the Presiden himself. Senator Anderson gave eloquent testimony both as to the necessity of halting H- Bomb tests as soon as agreement can be reached to do so, and as to the safety of such an agreement from the point of view of U. S. security.

Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri, former Air Force Secretary and more recently chairman of a special Senate Subcommittee that held extensive hearings on U. S. airpower, is well-qualified to point out that it has been the Eisenhower Administration that has endangered U. S. security with its deep cuts in the Air Force and Army budgets, despite the persistent efforts of Democrats in Congress to maintain proper defense forces.

As Adlai Sevenson said, " We cannot brush the hydrogen bomb under the rug."

By his proposal to make a fresh assault on the barriers to world disarmament and world peace, he has given America the opportunity to "put the world on a new path to peace."

Support Amendment 2—

State's Mentally Ill Need Help; It's Up To You, Voter

The big job of giving Alabama better facilities for treating its mentally sick is strictly up to the voters. But somebody has to tell them about it.

That's the way State Representative Karl Harrison of Columbiana sees the task he has taken on in heading a state volunteer committee backing passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 2.

Harrison is one of the authors of the amendment, to be submitted to the voters on November 6th, that would provide a $4,000.000 bond issue for improvements in the state's mental institutions.

The Columbiana representative was named chairman of the volunteer committee working for passage of the amendment at its organizational meeting held recently in Birmingham.

"Soon after I was elected to the Legislature," he said, "I became aware of the tremendous needs for improvements in buildings and equipment and in increased current operating expenses for the mental institutions."

"Being unable to meet all these problems at once, the legislature felt that increased operating funds was the first item, and we have made some progress on that," he added.

The next most important thing Harrison said, was giving these institutions much needed buildings to reduce the tragic overcrowding that hampers treatment of the mentally ill.

The measure devised by the legislature is a bond issue, to be paid off from existing state revenue over a 20-year period with no new taxes.

With the money provided, new ward space will be added at Bryce Hospital and Partlow State School for the mentally retarded at Tuscaloosa and at Searcy Hospital for the Negro mentally ill at Mt. Vernon

In addition, long overdue repairs in existing buildings will be made and outmoded facilities that are serving double the intended capacity will be modernized.

"At Bryce Hospital, for example a bathroom with one tub and two lavatories must serve 32 patients," Harrison said. "In many wardrooms beds are lined three rows deep so that attendants can hardly get to the beds to attend the patients when they are sick or to change bed linens."

Harrison said that almost all of the members of the state legislature already are supporting the amendment. But he has appealed to all of them to help explain its provisions to the people in their home towns.

"This program can only be successful if we have the active and enthusiastic support of the people of the state. And someone must spread the word, tell the voters what the amendment is and get out the vote."

igers Trample Jemison n Homecoming Game

By BRAX BATES

triple trigger Tiger backfield ped a homecoming football game a trackmeet and rambled over apless Jemison eleven 62-6 las day night. Terry Jones, the Chil- warhorse was up to his old s again as he ran up a total of ards rushing in 11 carries while ing only half the game. James t. the flaming sophomore wing more poise each time, out- 7 times picking up 82 yards. One his long gainers was nullified a Clanton penalty. Jimmy, the son, Foshee carried 9 times for yards. This spirited fullback is ays on the alert and is at his t when the going is the roughest t to be overlooked in the Tiger backfield were a trio of trailblazers namely: Neal Bice, Jack Deloach and Ken Wray. Their effective blocking is getting more potent each time out.

The Tigers first sustained drive of the game was climaxed by Foshee's one yard plunge for the TD Jones ran over the EP. Foshee scored again on a 10-yard gallop and again Jones made the EP.

The Tigers added a trio of TD's in the second quarter, Jones scoring from the 4, Minor rambled 46 yards on an end around and the War horse sprinted 29 yards for the 3rd TD. Jones ran across one EP and passed to Minor for another.

The Jemison team came to life briefly, once during this quarter and drove 58 yards recovering a Tiger fumble. Gunn dove over from the one for the TD. The Tigers were leading 34 to 6 at the half.

The half-time ceremonies were highlighted by the presentation of Homecoming Queen Martha Tracy and her two maids of honor, Miss Dorothy Comer and Miss Ann Boozer.

The fine Clanton band under the direction of Lamar Deloach put on a performance that delighted the Clanton fans.

The second half of the game was similar to the first half. James Knight, in the drivers seat, kept the Tigers rolling. Knight got off on one 45 yard gallop and another long gainer was called back. Knight eventually scored his TD from the 12 yard line. The lad really had to turn on the steam to complete this right end sweep. Foshee added the EP. Jimmy Foshee added another TD in this same quarter and a Knight to Billingsley pass was good for the EP.

The 4th quarter began with Coach Spicer clearing the bench to let everyone play. The second team was stymied and the first team came back and on the first play Jones swept his left end for 79 yards only to lose his footing and fall on the Jemison 3 yard line. Jones then passed to Billingsley for the score. Coach Spicer again sent his second team in and this time they did themselves proud. Their TD was set up by a 29 yard pass play from Knight to Ralph Davis. After the ball was worked to the one stripe, Larry Culpepper found a hole between his right guard and tackle and the kid darted through for the score. Knight added the EP. Final score: Clanton 62, Jemison 6.

William Hilyer, Clanton's left tackle really played himself a fine game. The 210 pound Jr. got his share of the tackles. Hilyer along with Earl Parsons and Billy Ward will certainly deal their opponents a lot of misery next season. All three should be great.

For the Jemison team it was Bu Webb and Billy Ray who did the best playing. These two boys can play on almost any football team

Terry Jones leads the Tigers in scoring with 52 points followed by Foshee with 34, Billingsley 31, Minor 19, Knight 15 and Bice and Culpepper 6 each.

The Tigers will be meeting a formidable foe in the Prattville eleven Friday night. This game could go either way.

Tiger Cubs Defeat Marbury Squad 27 to 6—

NEW HOME convenience
in your OLD HOME
with modern Electrical Appliances
Today many old homes are being converted into modern new homes simply by renewing the wiring, installing the new electric kitchen and laundry appliances, such as dishwasher, electric water heater, range and clothes dryer in renovated kitchens or waste space converted into laundry room.
Thus the convenience and efficiency of a new home and the comfort of the roominess of the older home can be enjoyed for modest monthly payments. The important thing in an old home or a new one is enough housepower—that is, wires of the right size to make it possible for you to operate present or future appliances economically and efficiently.
Contractors will gladly tell you how much it will cost to bring the wiring in your home up-to-date. You can either install the appliances you need at one time, or buy them one-by-one. You can pay for the wiring (if needed) and the appliances monthly as you pay your electric service bill.

If You "Will" Your Pension Check, See That It's Done Right

County pensions and security directors must endorse checks paid after death to the person previously designated before such checks can be cashed legally, Commissioner J. S. Snoddy said today in citing errors made under the relatively new law governing payments after death.

"The law provides that every recipient of a pension or assistance payment may designate a relative or other person to receive his check for the month in which he dies This makes it possible to cover current bills," he explained, "as checks are not issued until late in the month."

For such checks to be valid, however, they must first be endorsed by the County director, Snoddy added. This endorsement shows the designated person to receive such check and authorizes payment to this person.

"Difficulties arise when the designated person, for example the widow, cashes the check without this authorization. Such checks have to be refunded and reissued."

Commissioner Snoddy is asking that anyone cashing a Department of Pensions and Security ch make certain it is properly endo This means endorsement by the ing payee or his legal guardian in the case of payments, after de by the county director and then the designated person. The county director's signature denotes that the person was properly designated before death occured.

Proclamation No. 5

ALERT TODAY ALIVE TOMORROW

"WHAT CAN I DO?" the little boy seems to be asking Mr. Civil Defense, the new symbol of modern civil defense. Of course, this young chap is a bit shy on years, but if the same spirit moved his elders, they would find that they were needed in local civil defense in any part of the nation. (FCDA Photo)

Military warrants, horses, cows, oxen, cowbells, acres of land and even whiskey were used as mediums of exchange in the United States before the general use of currency and bank notes.

4 H'ers On The Move---

Maplesville Members In News; New Officers In Five Clubs

Frank and Nancy Daniels of Maplesville have two Herefords and one Angus beef calf on feed for the 4-H Fat Stock Show next spring. They are doing an outstanding job A visit to their home would be well worthwhile if you would like to see three fine beef animals, as well as a cooperative family unit

Bobby O'Neal, 4-H member of Maplesville Club, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Neal, is also feeding two purebred Hereford steers for the Fat Stock Show next spring Mr. O'Neal now has a beautiful stand of oats, which was recently seeded in a Bermuda and Sericea sod. He is very pleased with his new bush-hog seeder.

Now is the time to get your strawberry plants in the ground for best results. Plants may be secured from your neighbors in many instances Four-H members desiring palnts may contact Assistant County Agent John Sellers, for locations where plants may be obtained.

The Boys 4-H demonstration for October was "Care of the Brood Sow". Major emphasis was placed on balancing the brood sows diet and feeding the baby pigs. Four-H'ers learned that green grazing feeding of protein supplement, clear water, etc. are essential in a successful hog program.

Remember the old pig management formula—B-2-4-6-8-10-24? It means:

B—Be there when the pigs arrive
2—Creep feed at 2 weeks.
4—Castrate boar pigs at 4 weeks
6—Vaccinate all pigs at 6 weeks
8—Wean at 8 weeks.
10—Worm and spray at 10 weeks
24—Finish for market at 24 weeks

New Policy Set In Navy Re-enlistment

A new policy set by the Bureau of Naval Personnel permits any man that has taken and passed the examination for advancement in rating to be reenlisted at the higher rate if he was discharged before the higher rate went into effect. This was anounced by LCDR. M. E Thompson, Officer in charge of the Alabama Navy Recruiting District

LCDR. Thompson in making this announcement urged any person that might come under this program to contact the nearest Navy Recruiting Station for information.

In Clanton the recruiting station is located in the Post Office Bldg The recruiters are there from 9 o'clock a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each Monday.

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS

...less to own...less to run...last longer, too!

● Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value. You'll like what you see.

Look at costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Modern Short Stroke engines—V-8 or Six—are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more for your money in a Ford. For example, only Ford gives you modern, gas-saving Short Stroke power in every truck, V-8 or Six. More comfort with a Driverized Cab. More safety with Ford's exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully . . . consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money —see your Ford Dealer.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

William Garner who wed Mary Texas Hurt, Alabama's attractive Secretary of State, last week is a grandson of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Matthews who were residents of our county for many years.

Whatta ya think of Mrs. Gladys DeRamus quitting as postmaster at Verbena after all these years? Gladys is going to join Col. DeRamus on Formosa. We'll say this after 20 years it's about time she took herself a vacation and we wish for her all the happiness she deserves. Understand that Judson Messer has taken over as postmaster succeeding Mrs. DeRamus.

Then there was the man who always called a spade a spade—until he stumbled over one in the dark.

In case you have any idea we're off our rocker, you're right. We have been telling around that Thanksgiving is the last Thursday in this month, but 'taint so. It's the 22nd. That makes it just about time to start making with the pumpkin pies and cranberry sauce and stuff.

During World War II, a buck private and a sergeant were court-martialed for striking a colonel.

Asked why he had done it, the sergeant explained that the colonel, while passing down the line of review had stepped on his sore foot.

Instinctively," said the sergeant, "I threw up my guard, like anyone would do, and let him have it before I realized what had actually happened. It was an accident, I can assure you."

Then the buck private was asked for his explanation. "Well, you see, sir," he replied, "when I saw the sergeant strike the colonel, I thought the war was over."

Looks like us loyal Democrats took a good licking at the polls Tuesday but this is another day and all are working for a better America regardless of what political party you belong to. Our greatest concern now is world peace and to that end we should all lend our efforts.

Speaking of taking a licking though, we think that Mr. and Mrs. Russell Williams took more than their share. They drove all the way over here from Alexander City to vote and got here 15 minutes after the polls were closed. Seems they had trouble at the ferry on State 22, and had to go around through Wetumpka. Now that's just two more reasons we want that new bridge finished down there.

Burke Allison sends us an interesting sheet from the National Rural Letter Carrier about rural delivery service. Experimental rural delivery service started Oct. 1, 1896 with 3 routes at Charles Town, West. Va., and two other small routes near Charles Town. The old records show that the three routes delivered the first week 214 letters, 290 newspapers and 33 postal cards and two packages. Before that time the route patrons would not have received the mail until they went to town which would ordinarily have been weeks or even months. Today, in a twelve months period more than eight billion pieces of mail are handled by 31,888 carriers. Now that bit of information may, or may not, have been interesting to you but at least you can see why some of your mail could get lost, missent, or delayed when more than eight billion pieces are handled annually.

Tuesday's Games Change Volleyball League Standings

The League standing had a few changes after several good games Tuesday night. In the first set Ala. Furniture Mfg. Co. won over the National Guard in two out of three games. In the second set West End Baptist Church defeated the First Baptist Church in two out of three games. In the third the Civitans won over the Jaycees. Next Tuesday night will be some good games with teams at the top of the League paired against each other. Saturday night of this week at the City Park two teams from McDonald Chapel, Birmingham, will play a team made up of local players in the League. Game time is 6:30 o'clock.

League Standing—

	won	lost	%
Ala. Furn. Mfg. Co.	5	2	667
Civitans	4	2	667
West End Baptist	4	2	667
First Baptist	2	2	500
Jaycees	2	5	286

Clanton To Have A City Directory

The pre-preparing of a City Directory is now in progress here and promises to fulfill a dire need for our little city among the business-men, new comers, canvassers, salesmen, and just about any trade or profession you could mention. This announcement was made today by C. L. Blazer, who has been here for two weeks doing research and laying the groundwork for the new directory.

The new directory is being compiled by Mullin-Kille Company in association with the Chilton County News. Mr. Blazer is division manager for the directory firm.

Mullin-Kille Co., publishes directories in more than 200 cities throughout the country, including Decatur, Huntsville, Athens, and many other Alabama communities.

The directory will contain a vast amount of information. All of the materials will be assembled through a house-to-house canvass of the entire area and will be double-checked for accuracy.

Some of the special features will be:

1. Designation of home ownership.
2. Telephone numbers arranged by streets.
3. Telephone numbers arranged alphabetically for all persons having access to a telephone.
4. Telephone numbers arranged numerically.
5. A complete rural route directory.
6. Designation of the number of children under 18 in each family.
7. A classified business directory, with nationally known trade-names shown with the name of the local representative.
8. A preface containing the pictures of local business and civic buildings and of leading business-men and women.

In addition to the master directory which will go to business firms, a special householders supplement will be presented to selected homes with the compliments of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce and the Chilton County News. The supplement will contain the classified directory and the telephone numbers arranged numerically.

The Chilton County News has no financial interest in the directory, but is co-operating in its publication in order to bring to Clanton an excellent directory service.

The directory will be reissued regularly at 3-year intervals.

Eisenhower Sweeps Nation In Another Great Victory

Even though a tremendous vote was piled up for Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson in Tuesday's election, the Democrats went down in defeat before the popularity of Dwight D. Eisenhower, and with incomplete returns in, the outcome looks like a sure landslide for President Eisenhower. Early Wednesday morning returns showed that the President was leading by a popular vote of 29,503,903 to 21,376,316 for Stevenson.

Stevenson sent a telegram conceeding the election to President Eisenhower at about midnight Tuesday night.

In the amen[illegible] elections No. 1 was defeated [illegible] te of about two to one according [illegible] early returns.

Amendme[illegible] passed by an overwhelming [illegible] Amendment N[illegible] by the people though by not such a large majority as was Amendment No. 2

Letter to the Editor---

Mr. Boockholdt Has A Point

Editor, Chilton County News
Clanton, Alabama

Dear Ben:

Who knows better than the school authorities the situation regarding the acoustics in the High School Gymnasium? Whom do you suppose would like to do something about it more than the school authorities county or state? What do you suggest that school authorities do about the situation? School authorities will do well to keep school operating in the building for nine months and keep it heated.

Recently we have had two elections, giving the people a chance to help remedy situations that exist all over the county and state. Before the bond election in December, I published a statement in your good paper to the effect that larger schools needing an auditorium would be able to have one should the bond issue pass. The people of Clanton, Chilton County and the State of Alabama voted overwhelmingly not to have these improvements. During the campaign before the bond election school authorities worked night and day trying to get the people to understand the needs in the Clanton gymnasium and elsewhere. Now we resent the insinuation that we aren't concerned.

We live in a democracy. Our people voiced satisfaction with what they have. Anything we have these days is going to cost money and cost plenty. Education is no exception. The acoustics at the High School gymnasium is a minor problem. There are many in Chilton County of more importance than that. Until our people are ready to pay for improvements, they won't come. This information comes from school authorities who are in no way responsible for the lack of funds on which to operate. After all, we don't print money at the Education Office.

Yours truly,

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

It is practically impossible to solve the problems of people living in foreign lands but it looks like we continue to try.

The reason parents dodge the questions of children is that they have never thought their own questions thru to a conclusion.

We have always had individuals able to answer all the questions involving mankind, but fortunately the people have been too smart to listen to them.

As far as we are concerned, the nation can't be too good to veterans suffering from war-service dissabilities. On the other hand, non-service connected disability graft is reaching preposterous proportions among veterans.

A NEW CITY DIRECTORY

Good news comes to us regarding a new City Directory to be published within the next six or eight months full of valuable information about our city and her people.

The new directory will be published by a reliable publisher and compiled by the Mullin-Kille Company.

Work has already started on the new directory and a complete canvass will be made of the city within the next few months.

If you will give your every assistance to the man who interviews you it will save much time and help greatly in the accuracy and completion of the work.

We're sure you can be counted upon to cooperate.

"GOOD NEIGHBORS"

Too often the help of your neighbor is taken for granted. He's the guy next door you can depend on and get used to him, like one of the family.

The same can be said of our good neighbor, The American Legion. Recently they launched their 1957 membership drive campaign to enroll eligible veterans of the World Wars and the Korean War to bolster their ranks.

Although we have not always seen eye to eye with the American Legion, our occasional differences do not blind us to their over-all praise worthy objectives and accomplishments. For one thing they have taken a stand against Communism since 1919 and never deviated from that stand.

If Krushchev wants more eye openers on that ex-Russian diety, Joseph Stalin, he might recall some of the attacks The American Legion made on him when he was alive. They "told him so"—and have consistently blasted the Kremlin gang when it was not too popular to do so.

If we had listened to the Legion's plea for Universal Military Training in the years long before World War II—we might have been able to avoid that calamity.

The American Legion stands foursquare for Americanism, Rehabilitation, Child Welfare and National Security and have set enviable records in service to the community, state and nation. We take our hat off to this great veteran group, good ciizens and good neighbors.

As a fellow remarked he other day after reading an attack in th papers on a friend, "Well, they never throw rocks at dead dogs."

What is a Teacher?

A teacher is a sculptor who molds your child's mind. A teacher is an architect who blueprints your child's career. A teacher is a pioneer who explores your child's character. A teacher is a diplomat who negotiates with the future.

A teacher is a specialist in Education, yet is a social worker, a statesman, an interpreter, a prophet, a builder, a leader. Today, we are proud to say "thank you" to those who are proud to teach.

For a man to admit he's wrong does him good inside; but for a man to be proven wrong...well, that's another pill to swallow. It can choke him.

Wanting something and not being able to have it is much better than having something you don't want.

We heard someone say that today is only the tomorrow you worried about yesterday. We'd much prefer to say it like this: Today is the tomorrow you looked forward to yesterday.

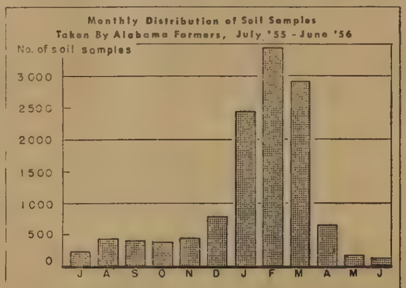
We don't know much about politics, but from the looks of the daily newspapers lately, we think they're gaining fast on the 'female of the specie' as the most fickle of things. They don't know who they are for or against. You know, right or wrong, people like consistency, right or wrong.

Never try to make the truth fit your purpose; rather make truth your purpose.

We do not think it is necessarily conservatism to feel that 'old-timers' know what they're talking about. Well, in that light, ask any old-timer about economy, religion or life itself in general, and he'll tell you that we are rapidly rotating towards a world of quantity rather than quality. In practically any line of thought these days the main objective is "quantity" and it is rather disquieting to say the least, that little mention of "quality" is made. Any person, place or thing that has kept up with the times and still kept up the "quality" of things associated with them is a rare specimen indeed.

It is our opinion that in world problems, in politics, religion, even down to buying the family groceries, more emphasis should be put on the "quality" of things these days and let the "quantity" of things come in second. Certainly "quality" in the broadest sense, comes before quantity, and if not before it, it should at the very least come parallel with it. We should never let the "quality" of the American people come below the "quantity" of everyday living as we know it today. The way we're travelling it would be a very easy replacement, and without our knowledge of it's change until it was too late. Let's wake up to the fact that our country, our rights and freedoms, our family binds, everything that we love and cherish came about because "quality" was foremost in the minds of the people before us. Let it not be said that ours was the generation, or our children's, that started us in the downward direction toward "quantity" without "quality."

Test Soil Samples Now For Spring Planting



Samples sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory at API in Auburn will receive prompt service at this time of year.

During the first three months of the year—January, February, and March—more soil samples arrive at the laboratory than any other time of the year. For this reason, service is much slower during these months than at other seasons.

County Agent M. R. Glasscock, advised that soil sampling of fields planned for spring crops should begin as early as October and soil sampling of ground for fall crops as early as June.

When sampling is done early, enough time is allowed before planting season to apply lime, if necessary. He pointed out that limestone is slowly soluble and it should be applied to the field several months before planting.

We are thankful for wonderful services over the week end. The attendance Sunday was good and Bro. Lowery's messages stirred the hearts of everyone present. Our training Union is growing in attendance for which we thank the Lord.

We pray that our church will continue to grow for the glory of Christ.

The attendance for the mid-week prayer service is increasing and our prayer service last Wednesday nite was especially good. Everyone who came brought a Bible and quoted their favorite verse of scripture. The most used verse was Psalm 23:1-4.

Our attendace has grown so rapidly in the last two months, that our Educational Building has become over-crowded. We voted to build additional Sunday School rooms by construction underneath the present building. This would give us a complete basement. Additional rooms have been provided temporarily, until we can get our basement completed. Work on this project is scheduled to begin soon. A special building fund has been set up for this work and any contributions should be addressed to Rev. Herman Lowery, Rt. 3, Clanton, Ala., or you can phone 781.

We have missed Mrs. Hudson, our pianist, who has been unable to attend the services lately. We trust that she will be with us again soon.

We want to extend to anyone who may not have a church of his own to attend, to come and join us in our services. You will feel a welcome here.

MT. PISGAH NEWS

Our Sunday School was well attended this past week. On Sunday Mr. Dave Tingle spoke to us on, "Abundant Life."

For MYF next Sunday night Jeanette Tucker will be in charge of the program on, "Peace is Possible."

Mrs. Nancy Friday visited Mr. and Mrs. R. A. DeVaughn this past week.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Clyde DeBardelaben was ill and could not attend the services Sunday. We hope that he will be well again soon.

We were glad to have Jim Kerr with us in our services Sunday.

Mr. R. A. DeVaughn, Carolyn and Elnora, attended the all-night singing in Montgomery Saturday night.

Our prayer meeting will be held tonight with a discussion on a chapter of the book of Matthew by Mrs. Odell Jones.

Training School's 4th Annual Harvest Celebration A Sucess

MORE THAN 500 ATTEND BANQUET AT SCHOOL

The PTA for the Chilton County Training School sponsored its fourth annual Harvest Dinner Thursday evening, November 1, with the same vigor as shown in many of the previous festivals of this kind.

Activities for this gala occasion began with a downtown parade Wednesday morning preceeding the Homecoming Football game. Marching units, uniformed in blue and white followed the band elegantly in the parade as many cars, decorated in streaming festooning displayed queens of various locations in the community. This parade, the second for harvest-time celebrations in the school's history, was acclaimed by many as the best of the year.

Thursday night brought about the wonderful climax of events as Mrs. Isabella Barbour was crowned as Queen of the Harvest Festival. The contestants in the running for queen were: Mrs. Edith Samuel, Jemison who reported $10.55; Mrs. Ona Bell Motley, Verbena, $2.00; Mrs. Sarah B. Hall, Verbena, $11.00; Mrs. Mildred Wright, Billingsley, $20.50; and Mrs. Isabella Barbour, Training School Community, $83.00.

Attendance at the Harvest Dinner was estimated at well over 500. Each guest was served a delicious dinner plate. The gaily decorated stage exhibited produce and fruits of all kinds and the entire occasion was rated by many as the most successful of the year.

The next occasion calls for patron visitation on the campus during the next week, November 11-17, which is American Education Week. All parents, friends, and patrons are invited to take part in the five week day celebration programs to be presented by home-rooms of the high school department.

Many parents and friends will also be looking to the regular meetin in December. Plans are being de vised to sponsor Family Fun Nigh again this year. Circles have it go ing that this fun night will be grea ter than ever before.

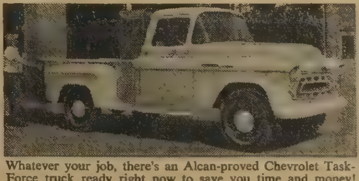
New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds!

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska—in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!



Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money!

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultra-modern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's—including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster—turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon!

Alcan run supervised, certified by the AAA.

Medical Milestones

The Four "B's" Of Old Age

In the United States today, there are some fifteen million people 65 years of age or older.

In 1900, there were only three million.

Every day, seven days a week, 1,000 men and women reach this age. And when they do attain the so-called "golden years," the chances of their living a good many more are great.

Unfortunately, these later years may not be as golden as they should.

A Canadian physician, Dr. R. Ian MacDonald, recently suggested that special attention be paid to the four B's—back, bladder, bowel and brain.

When grandpa or grandma is bedridden, bedsores are a frequent complaint. They can be avoided by keeping the bed linen clean, smooth and dry, and by giving alcohol rubs and powdering the patient's back night and morning.

Sometimes it is difficult for an elderly person to control his bladder. And damp sheets and night clothing can lead to bedsores. Hence, in addition to the above measures, some physicians suggest applying one of the ointments or solutions used to relieve diaper rash in babies.

Constipation is a common problem of old people. Dr Edward J Stieglitz, one of the outstanding authorities on care of the aged, has said: "The senile bowel is tender, thinned and does not tolerate abuse with cathartics or roughage." To avoid this irritation, many doctors suggest an enema, now amazingly easy to give, thanks to a new unit called the Fleet Enema Disposable Unit. Nothing more than a plastic bottle containing a few ounces of fluid and a tube, the Fleet enema is so covenient that many patients can use it by themselves.

As for care of the fourth B, the brain, there is no substitute for making the patient feel wanted and loved. Moving his bed or shifting his pillow so that grandpa no longer stares at a blank wall can improve his whole outlook. Encouraging him to participate in family life, for example, by reading stories to the children, will make him feel useful.

Attention to these four B's may soon have the elderly patient leading a happy and useful existence instead of a crotchety, complaining one.

Friendship Quilt—

The naming of quilts is about as old as anyone remembers, but the name of this one is a bit different for it has a special meaning.

I visited a good friend and neighbor, Mrs. Tom Cost and she told me the story of her Friendship Quilt. Mrs. Cost has always been very active as a housewife, helping in the garden and did both plain and fancy sewing. But a year ago, she became ill and was not able to do any of the things mentioned for some time.

As she improved, she thought of a way, not only to keep busy, but to contribute to her church building fund—she decided to piece a friendship quilt.

Each person gave 25c to have his or her name embroidered on the squares. Some donations were more than the required amount. How fast the sum mounted—for on a special day set aside as "Get-Out-Of-Debt" day, Mrs. Cost placed $20.00 on the plate.

Mrs. Milton Crowson is in the West End Hospital for surgery. At this time she is doing nicely.

Walter Johnson is in the University Hospital for eye surgery. We are sure your cards will be appreciated by these people who are hospitalized.

Mrs. Mattie Howard and her granddaughter, Charlotte Howard were week-end guests of Miss Ola Rogers.

Mr. Warren Langston of Birmingham was down for the week end, aiding his mother, Mrs. Asa Langston in packing and preparing to move to Birmingham.

Saddened Homecoming--

Tigers Make Best Showing Of Year By Upsetting Prattville 13-6

by Braxton Bates

The young Tigers of coach F. H. Spicer are growing up. The first two games of the season found the Tigers playing like helpless cubs and what some people were saying about the eleven can't be printed but to those who had the patience and waited for the Tigers to become of age are now being amply rewarded.

It takes a good football team to invade the den of the Prattville Lions and defeat them in their homecoming game. The Lions were inspired and keyed to trounce the visiting Tiger team of Clanton in a game that was advertised as the game of the week by a large daily newspaper. The Tigers rode into Prattville on the Tiger-bus as a 1 point underdog but the same Tiger-bus returned the boys to Clanton late Friday night as a 7 point winner.

For the first half the Tigers and Lions fought desperately with neither team willing to give ground. The Tigers with their All-State candidate Terry Jones and Jimmy Foshee carrying the ball did drive on down to Prattville's ten yard line just before the half ended but the Lions held them for downs and the half ended in scoreless deadlock.

The Lions started a second half drive that wilted at the 31 as the Tiger forewall refused to budge further. Terry Jones, the Tiger Warhorse, dented the Lion defense for 12 yards. From the 43 Jones took to the airlanes and connected to Thomas Minor for a 57 yard touchdown pass. Jones ran across the EP. and the Tigers led 7 to 0.

The Prattville Lions refused to be counted out and retaliated with a 4 yard march culminated when Mac Golson threw a 37 yard aerial to his end Bobby Glass for a TD. The EP. was not good and the Tigers led 7 to 6.

The Tigers added the clincher during the 4th period when Jones hit Thomas Minor again for a touchdown pass. This aerial was good for 52 yards. The EP., was missed but it made no difference. The final score stood at Clanton 13 and Prattville 6.

For the Prattville Lions Marion Boggs was their leading ground gainer with 62 yards on 13 tries. Bobby Glass, Prattville's candidate for All-State honors, played a fine game.

The entire forward wall played magnificently for the Tigers. Only Lavoy Wilson and Don Minor will be mising from this line come next fall. The Tiger' leading gainers were Terry Jones who picked up 116 yards on 23 carries and Jimmy Foshee 31 yards on 9 carries. Don Norton a Soph. played a whale of a defensive game and Neal Bice stopped one Prattville drive with a 3rd quarter pass interception. The Tigers topped the Lions in first downs 16 to 10.

Tiger Record: 4 Won 4 Lost—

The Tigers record to date stands at 4 wins and 4 losses. They have scored 176 points to their opponents 110.

The Tigers 26 TDs are divided thusly: Jones 7, Billingsley, Minor, and Foshee 5 each, Knight 2, Bice and Culpeper one each. The 20 EPs were made by Jones 11, Foshee 4, Knight 3, Billingsley and Minor one each.

Formidable Foe For Friday—

Friday night the Tigers will be visiting their neighbors, the Isabella Mustangs, who have lost only to Maplesville. The Maplesville eleven is still undefeated and it is the well wishes of yours truly that they remain so. Coach Kelly, who is a very good friend of yours truly is doing a wonderful job with his team this year and we are pulling like all get out for the Red Devils to keep their unblemished record the same. "Go, Red Devils! Go."

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

A FEW years ago Mrs. Alfhild M. Michal, 1 Langdon Street, Madison, Wisconsin, was forced to revise her way of life with a new job, new environment, new friends and, most important of all, a new and more constructive attitude. She accepted most of these things and did them because she must, all except the last. In her confused state of mind she could find nothing to be "constructive" about and, furthermore, she seemed determined not to like anything about her conditions, completely overlooking the fact that the fault was her own.

CARNEGIE

It wasn't very long before that acute dislike of everything and anything built up into a state of worry and indecision, and life became a nightmare.

Finally, she talked with a friend of hers, a minister, who told her that she had built up a pattern or foundation of "don't likes" which had to be broken down. This friend suggested that she get a large notebook and begin listing her "satisfactions." She was to write down every little thing she could think of that gave her even a momentary feeling of pleasure: the smell of coffee in the morning, the sizzling of bacon, a baby's smile, anything at all that came to mind. It seemed childish but it was no more childish than her own way of doing things. So, she tried it. In less than two months she was amazed and startled to find that her notebook contained more than 600 "satisfactions"—quite a lot for a person with a case of "don't likes." When she weighed the tremendous number of little pleasurable things against her few so-called "major" problems, she felt a bit foolish. They were certainly outnumbered. She then admitted that her fears were mostly of her own making and could only assume the importance she gave them in her own mind. She says she was not cured overnight but gradually she realized that her life could be guided by the pattern of her thinking.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

Jesus said unto him, if thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. —(St. Mark 9, 23.)

Those who are steadfast and firm in their faith—who constantly renew and re-assert their faith in the moments of weakness we all have—go through life strong, happy, useful, self-respectful; confident in the truth of Jesus' words.

Standing Room Only a hit in the theater

a FAILURE in the classroom

In the theater, Standing Room Only is the sign of a hit. But in the classroom it means failure . . . failure to provide the essentials necessary for your child's education.

During the depression and then during the war years, we did not replace obsolete, unsafe school buildings. Then came the increased birthrate and skyrocketing school enrollments. SRO became more common in the school than in the theater.

Many communities are building new classrooms . . . attractive, well-equipped classrooms that are necessary not only for good health but for proper learning. Is your community one of them? Why not visit your school and find out for yourself? The teachers are anxious for you to see their problems as well as their achievements.

A GOOD CLASSROOM FOR EVERY CHILD

Sponsored in the Public Interest by

Chilton County News

"EASY DOES IT"

BY..... HELEN HALE

ENCOURAGE your younger children in good eating habits and avoid having a problem "eater" by these simple methods:

Let a rest period precede meal time if possible. Rest periods are necessary to promote appetite, and emotional upsets, excitement, fear or anger can be allayed by this since they take away appetite

Serve meals as simply as possible as little children tire quickly when eating. Having all foods except dessert at the child's place makes this possible

Keep a regular schedule for meals. Children lose appetite and initial interest if meals are late

Have the table interesting and attractive. Use a simple oilcloth or plastic cover with potted or fresh plants for interest.

Dramatize foods to keep children interested. Cut sandwiches in fancy shapes, hide fruit at the bottom of custard and cereal dishes and cut vegetable garnishes in shapes of flowers.

Use gay china or plastic dishes which are suitable to the child's size and interests.

Introduce new foods one at a time, and with some of the child's favorites. Assume that he will eat the new food without any discussion.

DALE CARNEGIE

THIRTY-FIVE years ago R. H. Stevens, 6655 Sunset Drive, Jacksonville, Florida, was transferred from a job of responsibility that he ppreciated to one where he wrote sales and collection letters and repared advertising. And how he hated it! He felt demoted and a ailure. One year previously he had returned from South America after our years with an enterprise which had failed. He was utterly disouraged and doubted his ability ever to succeed t anything.

CARNEGIE

His discouragement and fear of failure showed n his letters to an older brother, a successful salesnan and fine business man, who had helped him get he job he had liked. His brother provided a jolt vhen he wrote: "You need someone to take you y the neck and shake you out of your smug comlacency at having scored another failure! Get wise o yourself! You have more to start with than I ad."

It was true. He had robust physique, his brother ad been delicate, dyspeptic. He had a University education; his brother had not finished high school. Now he saw as his trouble that he vas just a square peg in a round hole.

So he set out to find a place where he could use his scientific trainng. Within three months he was offered an assistant professorship at Georgia Tech. Then a better offer from a pulp and paper mill in North Carolina. He went into the paper industry and has been happy and successful ever since.

He says the turning point came when he took stock and planned rationally.

FHA Loan Service Expanded To Include Part-Time Farmers

New legislation has increased the number of farm families who are eligible to obtain loans from the Farmers Home Administration, Mr Isaac C. Byrd, the agency's county supervisor said today.

The new law increases the maximum amount that can be advanced, and as part of the Rural Development Program makes loans available when the farmer has part-time employment off the farm.

Operating loans are made for the purchase of machinery, livestock equipment, fertilizer, seed, tractor fuel and other farm and home operating expenses needed to carry out efficient farming operations on family-type farms. In some instances, a loan may be made for the refinancing of existing debts.

Under this new law loans will also be available to applicants who have part-time employment off the farm provided they are established farmers conducting substantial farming operations and spending the major portion of their time farming. Such operators must have dependable sources of outside income. The main purpose of these loans will be to help farmers who live in areas designated for the Rural Development Program.

Operating loans are repayable over periods of 1 to 7 years with the interest rate of 5 percent.

The amount that can be loaned is based on the needs and the ability of the borower to repay. The loan must be sound.

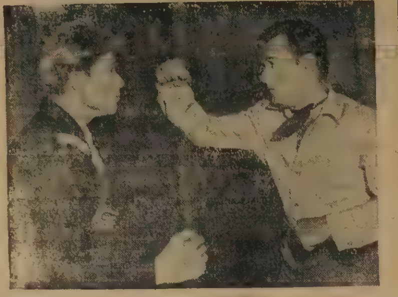
To be eligile an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, have had satisfactory farm experience or training, and be unable to obtain credit from other sources at a reasonable rate. He must also have, or be able to rent, a suitable family-type farm.

All of the present loan services of the Farmers Home Administration which include loans for development and purchasing of family-type farms farm housing and soil and water conservation continue to be available.

The Farmers Home Administration county committee is composed of three men, two of whom must be farmers. In Chilton County the committeemen are Mr. E. E. Edwards Route 3, Clanton, Ala.; Mr. R. M Foshee, Route 4, Clanton, Ala.; and Mr. T. A. Davis, Route 2, Jemison Ala.

Additional information regarding these loans may be obtained at the Farmers Home Administration Office in the Higgins Building in Clanton. The office hours are from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 Monday through Friday.

Coming To Drive-In Theatre



Coming to the Clanton Drive-In Theatre on Thursday and Friday, November 22nd and 23rd, will be the exciting and thrilling movie, "Quincannon—Frontier Scout."

Deadline Date For NROTC Qualifying Examination Nears

High school seniors and graduates have only until November 17 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, VAdm. James A. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel, said today. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on December 8 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises to many ports of the world. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty in the Navy's far-flung fleets.

High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1957. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Seperate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

Use Night Lights For Higher Egg Output

Days are becoming shorter. Layers need plenty of light for best production. Use either morning or all-night lights. Morning lights are more desirable on pullets. If morning lights are used, provide a 140-watt bulb for each 50 hens. Space lights 10 feet apart and 6 feet from floor. Use reflectors on all lights. To get uniform light from day to day, it's a good plan to use automatic switches to turn lights on in the morning and give 14 full hours of light per day, including daylight.

Alabama's part of the National System of Interstate Highways should be paved with concrete

You haye a personal stake in the sections of the National System of Interstate Highways in this state (small map above). Everything you eat, wear or use comes wholly or in part over these key roads. They are essential to the smooth, economical flow of commerce; the swift movement of men and material to stricken areas in time of disaster and the safe, comfortable travel of motorists to and from the rest of the nation.

Roads that will carry heavy and increasing traffic should be paved with the most durable and most economical pavement—concrete. Concrete is moderate in first cost, has low maintenance cost and extra long life. That means low annual cost.

Concrete is safer too. Its gritty, skid-resistant texture permits quicker stops, wet or dry. Its light-colored surface reflects more light than other pavements, providing better nighttime visibility.

Mr. Motorist, your license fees, gas and other taxes will pay for building and maintaining the sections of the Interstate System in this state. These roads will be a vital link in a 41,000 mile network (see large map) reaching every state, 42 state capitals, and connecting 182 of the 199 cities with more than 50,000 population. Although comprising only 1% of the nation's total road mileage, these roads carry over 20% of the rural traffic. Only the best is good enough for these important roads. They should be paved with durable, safe, low-annual-cost concrete.

Party Honors Virginia Brown On 15th Birthday

On November 1st Virginia Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brown, was honored with a gay birthday party.

As the guests arrived they were seated in the living room where they played many thrilling and funny games. Prizes went to Hilda Cox, Lynn Lineberry, Sherry Lynn Taylor and Claire Reese Mullins.

After the games Virginia was surprised as she opened each of her lovely gifts.

Then they all went to the kitchen for goodies to eat. The table was covered with a beautiful white plastic laced design table cloth. In the center was a lovely green iced cake with pink flowers and lifesavers. Near the cake was a beautiful punch bowl with green fruit punch, with Virginia's sister, Linda, serving it. As Virginia lighted the fifteen different colored candles on the cake they all sang "Happy Birthday." They were each served delicious sandwiches, green iced cup cakes with pink flowers, pretty fruit punch and candy.

Enjoying and helping Virginia celebrate were Lynn Lineberry, Paula Campbell, Sherry Lynn Taylor, Hilda Cox, Claire Reese Mullins, Emily Kinner, Virginia Cobern, Robbie Hagin, Linda Brown, Edwin Glenn, and Mr. Brown. Assisting Mrs. Brown was Mrs. Tommy White.

Carolyn Cox Honored On 16th Birthday

One of the most festive parties of the fall season was on Thursday night, Oct. 25th, when Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cox honored their daughter, Carolyn, on her sixteenth birthday. The guests were met at the door by the Witch and rode on in their broom sticks to have their fortunes told by the very colorful Madam X.

The theme of Hallowe'en was carried out throughout the house and yard with witches, pumpkins, skeletons, corn shucks and bon fires. After a few well-chosen games the gang divided into two groups and went for a hay ride on tractors and trailers. The hot dogs were waiting to be roasted and were enjoyed with cups of hot cocoa. The candles were then lighted on the beautiful three tier birthday cake and blown out by Carolyn as the boys and girls sang "Happy Birthday" after which they were served cake and party ice cream.

Central Ala. Electric Co-op. To Cut Rates January 1st

"Effective December 18th your electric rates will be lower," members and consumers attending the annual meeting of the Central Alabama Electric Cooperative were told Saturday in Prattville.

Speaking before an audience made up of members from Autauga, Coosa, Chilton, Elmore and six neighboring counties, manager Chester Wingard reported that after carefully studying every phase of the organization the trustees had decided that residential rates could be lowered and that the new schedule would go into efect the first of the year.

This will mean a savings of around ten per cent to consumers. In addition the co-op is serving 215 small churches and schools without charge. Larger institutions automatically receive a $1.00 credit on their bills.

The business session was preceded with a parade and concert by the Autauga County High School band under the direction of Fred Mann Cartoons and a movie telling the REA story were shown while members registered.

President Maury McWilliams presided. In giving his annual report he stated that the organization now has 8938 connected members with 2198 miles energized.

Following a financial statement by secretary-treasurer Clarence C. Hall John Ford, executive manager of the [illegible] Rural Electric Cooperative spoke to the group.

Citing the record of the legislative representatives in the area Ford commended them for the favorable votes they had cast for the organization. He urged members to encourage them to seek federal aproval for the Jones Bluff project to be located in the area on the Alabama River.

Proposed amendments to the by laws were not voted on due to a lack of a quorum. Up for consideration had been scheduled the elimination of proxies, approval of three year staggered terms for the trustees and a change in the handling of capital credits.

The following will continue serving another year as trustees: Willard B. Hicks, Maplesville; S. D DeLoach, Verbena; J. W. Thomas Jones; Seth Johnson, Jr., Wetumpka; Mrs. Gordon DeRamus, Booth Maury McWilliams, Prattville; W E. Ward, Rockford; J. Mar Rogers Equality and Clarence C. Hall, Titus

The meeting closed with the drawing for thirty electrical attendance prizes. In addition each registering member was presented with a large light bulb.

Store Sweetpotatoes Until Market Prices Are At Higher Level

This year's crop of sweetpotatoes is estimated at 25 percent below last year. Prices for the early dug crop have been considerably higher than last year, and this situation should continue throughout the storage season. Prices usually reach their low point during October, when harvesting is heavy. Farmers should realize more from their crops by storing all of the marketable potatoes they can avoid selling when the market is at its lowest.

Following are a few simple rules that will help insure successful keeping of sweetpotatoes:

1. Dig when ground is dry and the weather still fairly warm
2. Handle potatoes carefully to avoid cuts and bruises.
3. Store only sound potatoes that are free from disease, cuts, and other serious blemishes.
4. Cure for 10 to 14 days at 80 to 85 degrees F. Goldrush may require a little longer curing period than Porto Ricans.
5. Maintain temperature at 55 to 60 degrees throughout the rest of the storage period.
6. Provide ventilation if moisture begins to collect on walls or ceilings.
7. Store culls and strings seperately from marketable potatoes. Use these for stock feed.

The Difference Is 100 Years

The accidental discovery a century ago which gave birth to the chemical dye industry also liberated women from one of the toughest of home chores. Today's easy, quick and effective home-dyeing wouldn't have been possible hadn't sharp-eyed William Henry Perkin noticed something while trying to synthesize quinine back in 1856. He discovered that coal tar dissolved in alcohol would dye cloth.

This momentous finding—whose centennial is being celebrated by a grateful world—sparked research that led ultimately to scenes like that in photo at right. Today's homemaker merely buys some all-fabric dye and lets the automatic washer do the work for her on bulky articles. But for yesteryear's women, according to Tintex Home Economics Bureau, dyeing meant long hours of back-breaking toil over messy tubs and steaming kettles, as in left photo. On top of it, she had to know a lot about cloth textures, mordants and even dye-making. Colors were confined to blues, reds and yellows, and results were uncertain even for experts.

Today, you need know little about textiles. The same all-fabric dye works on all of them, man-made and natural fibers alike. The cost is trifling. You can even dye plastic furnishings or stain unpainted furniture with the all-fabric type. And you can choose from 50 true-hue colors.

Tintexing bulky fabrics in the washer is simplicity itself. Here, you just pour in the dye, dissolved in hot water, and the machine does the rest. The washer is cleaned later by running water and soap through on the last rinse.

River Development Authority Speaks To Local Civitans

On Thursday night, Nov. 8th, the Civitan Club of Clanton had as its guest speaker, Mr. George L. Cleere, Executive Vice-President of the Coosa-River Improvement Association, Inc. Other guests were the Mayor of Clanton, Mr. Hollis Jackson, and members of the City Council, the President of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Lewis "Pig" Headley, and C. B. Weldon of Clanton.

Mr. Cleere made a very informative talk on the development of the Alabama-Coosa River and showed what a great undeveloped asset Chilton County has along with the rest of the counties from Rome, Ga., to the Gulf of Mexico. Mr. Cleere stated that the Coosa-Alabama River is designated by the Federal Government as one of the ten most important undeveloped rivers in the United States and when fully developed for navigation, it will be one of the principal river highways of the nation. Mr. Cleere also stated that basic industry of the basin, namely agriculture, is changing rapidly and in order to stop the migration of the people from the basin, it is necessary that the development of the rivers be accomplished immediately, thereby allowing heavy industry to locate within the area and furnish employment to many of our citizens who are seeking livlihoods outside of the area.

And now for the people of this area as well as the people in the river basin to secure the benefits that can be derived from the development of the potentials that are apparent, business interests, public officials, civic organizations and individual citizens must unite in their efforts to convince Congress of the necessity of improving the rivers. He urges that all of these organizations in the basin support the Coosa-Alabama River Improvement Association.

Chilton's Future Teachers Honored

Last Thursday afternoon, Delta Kappa Gamma Society honored Chilton County's future teachers. Twenty-five young people from four senior high schools met at the Chilton County High School to hear an inspiring and thoughtful mesage on, "The Challenge of Education."

Because of the illness of Dr. Delos Culp, scheduled to address the group, Mrs. Culp read his speech.

In it, Dr. Culp cited reasons why America needs teachers who are dedicated to a cause—teachers who are enthusiastic, cultured and responsible. He pointed out that what becomes of men depends on the values he creates and not on the machines he builds nor upon the kind of government placed upon him. The school must take its share of the responsibility for the kind of people we have, and therein teachers of our youth become highly important.

Dr. Culp urged future teachers to answer three challenges:

1. The challenge of hard, useful work against the tendency to do things the quick, easy way.

2. The challenge to give sound training in the basic studies—language, reading, arithmetic and history which preserves our culture. He stated that our present day calls for better training in those subjects than schools are now giving, despite the fact that studies show they are being better taught now than ever before.

3. The challenge, "not to put the emphasis on material things but to put first things first.

Society members served refreshments to Mrs. Culp and the following future teachers: from Verbena: Arlene Brown, Ellen Daniel, Frances Fort, Geraldine Kelly, Adeline Litaker, Ola Faye Pierce, Portia Robinson and Barbara Silas; from Jemison: David Beaman, Patricia Champion, Donna Gentry, Ann Guy, Betty Harper, Billy Ruth Hilyer, Sandra Peterson, Jane Plier, Mary Ann Scott, Carole Thrash and Richard Stephens; from Chilton County High: Brenda Branch, Caroline Dichinson, Priscilla Hubert, Judy Miller and Carol Scott.

Oasis in the Wilderness

ANCIENT JERICHO: The Town of Jericho is one of the oldest settlements in the world, if not the oldest, and is among the memorable sights of the Kingdom of Jordan, one of the Bible Lands. Jericho was a flourishing town 6,000 year B.C. when other communities were small villages. The ruins of the Walled Town made famous by Joshua and his trumpets are still visible (Josh 6.4). Here is shown a verdant orange grove, guarded by waving palm trees and set in an oasis watered by a gurgling stream. In the background is the Mount of Temptation where Jesus spent 40 days and nights resisting the wiles of Satan. Barely visible between the palms is a small Greek-Orthodox monastery built into the cliffs. Not far away is the Dead Sea and the River Jordan where the Savior was baptized. This oasis is now blanketed with the flowers and blooms of springtime.

Bloodmobile Visits Clanton, Nov. 30th: Donors Needed

Clanton will be visited by the Bloodmobile Unit from Birmingham on November 30th, and the local blood center will be open from 12 until 6 p. m. at the First Baptist Church

The need for blood continues around the clock, seven days a week, 365 days a year. To meet these needs every adult should be given the opportunity and privilege to donate a pint of blood if physically able. The donor today may be the recipient tomorrow. If you keep a valid blood donor card, which means donating a pint every eight months, you and your immediate family will be eligible to receive any amount needed without replacement. Of course, there is never a charge for Red Cross blood.

Our Red Cross [illegible] lenge now as the Regional Centers have received a request [illegible] blood for Federal D[illegible] stration and this [illegible] accepted. This blood must be collected through the various Red Cross chapters. This means each chapter must raise their quotas by a minimum of at least 15 percent. It is true we are not in a war and there is not a national emergency facing us. It is equally [illegible] we should find ourselves [illegible] Defense emergency without [illegible] quate stores of serum albumin many of our citizens would die

The people of our county might be interested to know that derivatives of blood are needed to do the jobs that whole blood alone cannot accomplish such as Gamma Globulin to prevent measles, serum albumin to combat shock, fibrinogen to stop hemorrhage; [illegible] to treat anemia and Plasma to treat hemophiliacs. Some of the blood collected in our own county is used for such derivatives. Materials not now clinically useful are available to scientific groups and individuals because there is a Red Cross Blood Program. People do not give blood to the Red Cross but actually to the sick and injured thru the Red Cross.

We know now that the blood program means a great deal to our county and to our hospital as this has been proven by the wonderful response from the civic clubs, business concerns and individuals who gave so generously when a special appeal went out in the past few months for extra funds to assist us in retaining the blood program. We wish to thank these people again at this time. We will remain in the blood program at least for the entire fiscal year, which ends June 30th, 1957.

Now it is also up to you to assist in keeping the blood program by [illegible] blood on November 30th. Whether or not our chapter remains in the blood program also depends on our blood quota each time the Bloodmobile visits here. 46-2t

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

Rumors are flying thick and fast about Chilton County these days.

* * * *

"What Is So Rare As A Day In June?" That's easy to answer these cool, brisk days, isn't it?

* * * *

Now that the Republicans have the Executive branch and the Democrats have the Legislative branch of the government for the next four years, we'll just sit back and watch the fur fly.

* * * *

One thing's for sure. The Democrats backing the president the past four years in the Congress was what gave him the authority to accomplish the things he did.

THE TIME IS NOW

Mayor J. Hollis Jackson called on he Veterans of Chilton County to help us make it "A Good Place To Visit, A Better Pace To Live" in a speech at the Veterans Day festivities at the City Park on Veterans Day.

We are calling on the Veterans too, to aid in bringing things again to normal as regards the bad publicity we are receiving through illicit whisky making and bootlegging.

It is the courts place to decide the innocent or the guilty but regardless of who is involved the trouble here should be brought out in the open so that the good people of Chilton County could know what is going on.

All manner of wild rumors are flying in the daily press about the iniquities of Chilton County some even going so far as to liken it unto Phenix City when it was at its worst. Of course this is not so. No vice, no open gambling halls, no saloons, no call girls, none of the evil ness that made Phenix City notorious exist here.

What crime, bootlegging, whisky making, or other activities outside the law that do exist should be fought with all the fierceness that we can muster. What better group to call on to lead in a clean Chilton County than our Veterans?

THIS IS AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

In November each year, during the week which includes Armistice Day, American Education Week is observed. In special ways the attention of the whole nation is directed toward the schools. Their purposes, methods, achievements, needs and problems pass in review. People are urged to see their schools in action and to decide whether or not their schools are adequate.

American Education Week is officially sponsored by the National Education Association, American Legion, U. S. Office of Education and National Congress of Parents and Teachers. In addition, many other national organizations and agencies wholeheartedly cooperate in each annual observance.

The basic purpose of American Education Week is to create awareness, on the part of every person, of the important role of education in our democracy and of his personal responsibility for maintaining good schools. The goal of a good teacher in a good school for every child has not yet been achieved. The Community which has a good school can keep it so only by continuous, intelligent concern. Specific purposes of American Education Week are: to increase public understanding and appreciation of education; to explain the modern school—the present day curriculum, current teaching materials, the newer teaching methods; to increase public appreciation of their schools; to reveal school needs and problems; to strengthen the bonds of cooperation in the all-year program of school community relationships.

The parents and friends of the schools of Chilton County are invited and urged to visit the schools during the week of November 11-16. See what the schools are doing and let the teachers and pupils know that you are interested in good schools in Chilton County and that you believe that good schools make a strong nation.

River Jordan Rolls From Mt. Hermon to Dead Sea

The sacred River Jordan rises in the sweet snows of Mount Hermon in Southern Syria, plunges downward for 32 miles in a series of corkscrew turns and comes to its fate in the bitter waters of the Dead Sea, lowest spot on earth, in southern Jordan, one of the Bible Lands.

Formed by the union of four small streams, the Jordan proper finds its source in Lake Huleh, broadens out into the Sea of Galilee and twists and turns like a great muddy serpent on a total course of 200 miles as it falls 2,300 feet to its mouth through the Jordan Rift, the world's greatest natural depression.

Known to the ancient Hebrews as the "River that goes down" and to the Arabs as "The Drinking Place," the Jordan is perhaps the most celebrated river in history due to its association with the Bible. The Greeks and Romans built their empires and the Crusaders and Moslems fought many a fierce battle on or near its banks.

From high on Mt. Nebo Moses looked down upon the Jordan as he peered into Canaan. Joshua led the children of Israel across it after the fall of Jericho. Gideon achieved victory over the Midianites within its folds. David fled over it to escape the wrath of his enemies. Christ was baptized in its waters as the "Beloved Son" by John the Baptist. His disciples fished in it and Mary Magdalena lived alongside its banks.

"Thank God For America—Our New Home!"

This thankful Hungarian family of fourteen offered a prayer of thanksgiving as they sat down together recently for their first dinner in their new home in Chicago. One of the largest family groups to immigrate to the United States under provisions of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, the father's visa represented the 30,000th person to come to this country under auspices of Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference. It brought the overall total of homeless refugees resettled by the agency in free countries throughout the world since 1943 to 200,000, marking the greatest effort of any voluntary agency.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Bela Roman with twelve of their fifteen children ranging in age from 3 years to 26. Three daughters remained in France—two of them nuns and one married. With the assistance of the Hungarian Catholic League a home and job assurance have been provided for the family

Roman, who is 58, and his 48-year-old wife, Elisabeth, fled with their eleven children to Germany from their native Hungary in 1944, when Russian troops entered the country. Their flight was prompted by the father's fear of communist reprisals. As a young man, in the Hungarian Royal Army in which he served 28 years, he had taken an active part in the 1919 uprising against the communist regime of Bela Kun. Their nomadic existence finally took them to Vosges, France, from which place they immigrated.

Here they will begin a new life eagerly awaiting the day they can become American citizens. Mrs. Roman stated, "It was only the grace of God that let us rear our family through these years."

4-H'ers Aim for 1956 National Club Congress

FOR the 35th consecutive year the nation's top 4-H youth are setting their sights high to reach their goal and the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29, where they will be honored and rewarded for outstanding accomplishment.

More than 1300 boys and girls representing over two million 4-H Club members from 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico will attend the Congress. In addition to an all-expense trip, these state, sectional and national winners will receive other rewards climaxing several years of diligent 4-H project work.

"While the annual value of products resulting from 4-H members' projects amounts to an estimated $115,000,000, this gain is probably the least of the benefits arising from 4-H Club experience," said Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

"The greater and more lasting benefits are the personal satisfactions derived from real achievement such as making friends, practicing democratic procedures through organized 4-H Club work, and developing spiritual values from day-to-day living with 4-H ideals," he stated.

Immediate awards for the Congress-bound 4-H'ers will be 212 college scholarships worth $67,000; U. S. savings bonds valued at $11,250; special cash awards totaling $15,700. Many will be presented with engraved watches and other handsome gifts. All will be entertained at gala breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners.

In the overall National 4-H Award Programs a total of nearly $360,000 is expended annually to recognize boys and girls who have excelled in "improving family and community living."

These award programs are made possible through the combined efforts of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, the Cooperative Extension Service, civic spirited individuals, business firms and foundations.

Those providing 4-H awards and support this year are: the President of the United States, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Thos. E. Wilson, Edward Foss Wilson.

FCDA Trains Rescue Corps

Twenty miles from downtown Washington is the world's greatest "theater" — a gigantic stage setting without a stage, professional actors or scenario.

Amidst a backdrop of "bombed-out" building ruins, volunteer "actors" and "actresses" periodically put behind the day's workaday world to become "victims" at the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Olney, Md., Rescue School.

WHILE BURNING OIL is played on stairways and other key spots in the ruins by a remote control panel, students at the national rescue school enter the flaming structures and actually rescue the volunteer "victims."

Some "victims" pretend unconsciousness. Others simulate situations the rescue workers would meet in an actual civil defense disaster by becoming "hysterical," and even by kicking and fighting their would-be "rescuers."

Seldom, however, do professional rescue instructors standing by actually have to enter the ruins to help out their students during the "final exam" of the two-week course. And never are the volunteer victims actually in danger, for they have been placed in areas known to be safe from the hidden flaming oil jets.

About 3 tons of bituminous coal per capita are consumed annually in the United States.

The town of Keene, N. H., claims that its main street—175 feet from curb to curb—is the widest main stem in the world.

Arabian Costumes

Unlike the man in the gray flannel suit, the typical Saudi Arabian male still wears a picturesque and eminently practical wardrobe which seems as timeless as the ancient sands in this desert peninsula.

Since most of Saudi Arabia's 3,500,000 people are nomadic bedouins, roaming the desert in a continual search for water and forage for their animals, their way of life demands a type of apparel suitable for hot days, cool nights and the sudden sand storms which strike without warning.

The basic article of clothing is a loose-fitting, neck-to-ankle robe known as the thobe, which looks like an old-fashioned night shirt. During cool weather and the months of the sand storms, the bedouins add a camel's hair cloak called an abas. This bright-colored garment is sleeveless with slits on each side for the arms.

On their heads the Saudi Arabians wear four-foot square cotton cloths called ghutras held in place by a black rope-like hoop known as the agal. The ghutra is often made of brightly-colored cotton and is worn in a triangle with two points falling over the shoulders and the third down the back. When a sand storm strikes, it is easy to wrap the ends around the nose and mouth for protection.

The style of the camel leather sandals has been borrowed by the fashion leaders in the Western world for "casual" shoes.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

And though I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge; and though I have all faith so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing. —(I. Corinthians 13, 2.)

Any one of us, through a life of righteousness, devotion and prayer, can win to the whole faith that rewards us with inner peace and strength. But we will not be wholly acceptable in the sight of God until we unfailingly extend a loving heart and helping hand to all our less fortunate brethren

He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.—(II Corinthians 9, 6.)

There is no one so poor that he cannot give of brotherly love—of kindness, tolerance, consideration, and a helping hand to someone less fortunate. The more we give, the more gladly we give in His name, the more we shall receive.

I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.—(Philippians 4, 13.)

"All things are possible — only believe." Too often too many of us give up in despair, turning away from the hand that always is extended to help us — the hand which holds all the power of the Almighty: the hand of Jesus Saviour, through which we reach God.

But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.—(St. Luke 23, 32.)

Upon each one of us who, through Jesus the Redeemer, has been blessed by God, there rests the great responsibility of extending a helping hand to those who falter in darkness and in weakness in their quest for His grace, His love.

Iraq Builds for the Millions

During the next five years, Iraq will spend more than one billion dollars on a bold and imaginative development program embracing every facet of the nation's economy—irrigation and agriculture, industry, communications, housing, health, education and training, culture, recreation and holiday resorts.

Various projects in all these fields have already achieved notable progress over the past few years, but the new five-year plan emphasizes an integrated approach to the problems of the nation. The plan is financed by 70 per cent of the total oil revenues (estimated at 200 million dollars a year) and the development budget will increase to well beyond the billion-dollar mark as oil revenues grow.

The lion's share of the funds will go towards expanding the vast irrigation program which will take fifty years to complete in its entirety. But even if all construction work stopped at the end of the current period, authorities estimate that Iraq would receive a ten-fold return on its investment through the increased productivity of the land and the control of floods.

In the field of industrialization, the five-year plan calls for nation-wide electrification to provide adequate power for industrial, domestic and municipal uses. Other projects—some completed, some now under construction—include textiles, a bitumen refinery, cement plants and a sugar refinery.

To raise the nation's health standards, the Development Board has set aside large sums for medical instruction, expansion of the existing facilities, construction of a new medical college and several large hospitals. The Board is also planning the construction of low-cost housing in all parts of the country.

In education and recreation, the five-year plan provides for considerable expansion in primary and secondary school buildings, with emphasis on industrial schools and workshops. Throughout the country, recreation grounds and swimming pools will be built and Northern Iraq will be developed to encourage tourism.

An outstanding feature of the five-year plan is the balance struck between long-range projects, such as irrigation, whose benefits will not be felt immediately; and short-term projects such as housing which will quickly contribute to the welfare of the people. And when all these projects are carried to completion, Iraq will not only enjoy an unprecedented standard of living but will be able to support in comfort two or three times her present population of five million persons.

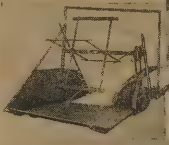
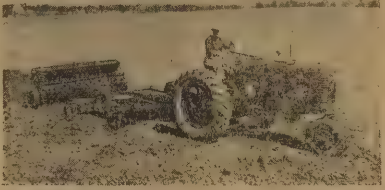
The Old Gray Mare Just Ain't

SIGHTS LIKE THIS may be vanishing from our American scene, but Marion Embry, Fort Scott, Kan., prefers his four-horse hitch to his modern tractor for seeding oats. Horses and mules on U.S. Farms are dwindling fast. The number was 27 million in 1918; by 1940 there were but 14 million; and today there's less than 5 million draft animals in use, or one-fifth the number 30 years ago.

ALSO COME AND GONE have been Cyrus McCormick's first reaper and the binders that followed. This reaper did the work of five men.



TODAY NEARLY A MILLION COMBINES, large and small, have replaced reapers and binders in America's March of Farm Progress



TRACTORS HAVE MOVED IN to increase productive work a farmer can do in a day, the number skyrocketing from only 246,139 in 1920 to 4,377,700 now on farms. Today's farm wages are three times as high as they were in 1940, and the number of people to do the work on farms has dropped one-fourth in 15 years.

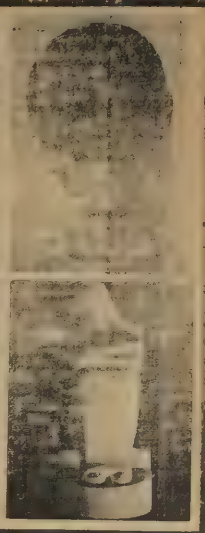
Egyptian Art Reborn



The glorious days of ancient Egyptian sculpture have been revived for modern Egypt by a talented artist, Mahmoud Mukhtar, who was born at the turn of the century in a village on the Nile. Before his untimely death in 1934, he created a wealth of statues which rival the splendid art of the Pharaohs' time.

As a boy, Mukhtar absorbed the native tales of his country and spent his days fashioning horses, knights and camels from the clay of the Nile. When the Cairo Academy of Fine Arts opened in 1910, he began a period of formal training. He won a scholarship to Paris with his entries to the first exhibition of the Academy.

His life in Paris proved to be an exciting as well as productive experience. He met many new people and saw many new aspects of life but he never forgot his early background and his sculpture continued to follow the traditions of his native Egypt. He was rewarded by the acclaim of the French critics.

Before he left Paris to join his colleagues who were contributing to the intellectual life of Egypt, he completed work on an impressive statue which symbolized Egypt's awakening from long centuries of domination and its intellectual and political liberation. His own government commissioned him to make two statues of the Egyptian national hero, Saad Zaghlul. Instead of creating an exact replica of Zaghlul, Mukhtar sculptured two symbolic representations of Egypt's struggle to achieve complete freedom and independence.

During his short lifetime, Mukhtar created 85 statues, some of which were erected in Egypt; others housed in his museum in Paris, and still others kept in a museum named in his honor in Cairo. These statues reveal his amazing combination of depth and simplicity, his ability to depict an idea in its totality and conclusivity without emphasizing details.

All of these statues demonstrate how well the master has assimilated modern Egypt's spirit, through an appreciation of its ancient past. Mahmoud Mukhtar is an eloquent spokesman for the modern Arab World, whose art is a continuing synthesis of the major human civilizations. And with the chisel of his ancestors, the young sculptor has fathered a modern Egyptian art which proudly bears comparison with the country's five thousand-year-old masterpieces.

What puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of FORD?

Here's what puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of Ford!

It's the sculptured look. You'll see it the moment you let your eyes wander over this fine car. In a '57 Ford you belong . . . anywhere.

It's the long, lean lines. There's a greyhound grace to the new Ford. No useless "fat," no showy "padding." Ford is as trim as a jet fighter.

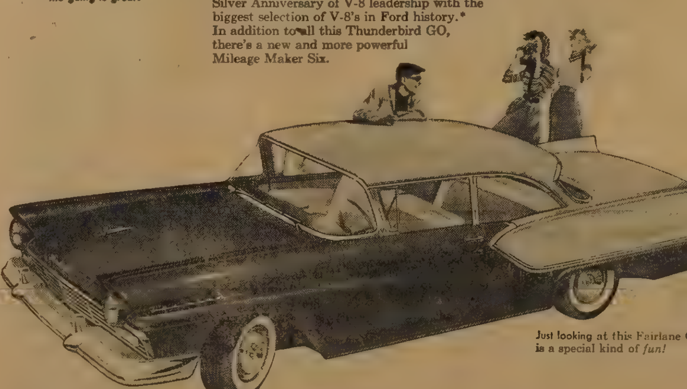
It's the hardtop styling. Fairlane sedans have the hardtop look of Victorias! Superthin center pillars are smartly concealed to give hardtop beauty when doors are closed.

It's the freedom of choice. Colors? Fabrics? Accessories? Far more! Ford gives you a choice of two new, bigger sizes . . . longer, lower, roomier!

It's the ride that stays gentle. With a new frame that rides sweeter and lower, new springs, new suspension all around, even the rudest roads can't ruffle the poise of the new Ford.

It's the Thunderbird power. Ford celebrates its Silver Anniversary of V-8 leadership with the biggest selection of V-8's in Ford history.* In addition to all this Thunderbird GO, there's a new and more powerful Mileage Maker Six.

"Six or V-8, the going is great!"



Just looking at this Fairlane Club Sedan is a special kind of fun!

It's the record-breaking performance. On the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, a '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days . . . an average speed of 108.16 mph, including all pit stops! Another Ford averaged over 107 mph. Altogether, 458 national and international performance records were smashed as Ford rewrote the record book.

It's the big dollar value that lasts and lasts. Styled for tomorrow, a new Ford keeps its value longer. And wonder of wonders, all this extra strength, extra beauty, extra length is yours at low Ford prices!

*Included is a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 delivering up to 285 hp.

Wise man say: "Don't wait for TOMORROW when you can get it today!"

Chilton's Future Teachers Honored By Local Society

Last Thursday afternoon, Delta Kappa Gamma Society honored Chilton County's future teachers. Twenty-five young people from four senior high schools met at the Chilton County High School to hear an inspiring and thoughtful mesage on, "The Challenge of Education."

Because of the illness of Dr. Delos Culp, scheduled to address the group, Mrs. Culp read his speech.

In it, Dr. Culp cited reasons why America needs teachers who are dedicated to a cause—teachers who are enthusiastic, cultured and responsible. He pointed out that what becomes of men depends on the values he creates and not on the machines he builds nor upon the kind of government placed upon him. The school must take its share of the responsibility for the kind of people we have, and therein teachers of our youth become highly important.

Dr. Culp urged future teachers to answer three challenges:

1. The challenge of hard, useful work against the tendency to do things the quick, easy way.

2. The challenge to give sound training in the basic studies—language, reading, arithmetic and history which preserves our culture. He stated that our present day calls for better training in those subjects than schools are now giving, despite the fact that studies show they are being better taught now than ever before.

3. The challenge, "not to put the emphasis on material things but to put first things first.

Society members served refreshments to Mrs. Culp and the following future teachers: from Verbena: Arlene Brown, Ellen Daniel, Frances Fort, Geraldine Kelly, Adeline Litaker, Ola Faye Pierce, Portia Robinson and Barbara Silas; from Jemison: David Beaman, Patricia Champion, Donna Gentry, Ann Guy, Betty Harper, Billy Ruth Hilyer, Sandra Peterson, Jane Plier, Mary Ann Scott, Carole Thrash and Richard Stephens; from Chilton County High: Brenda Branch, Caroline Dichinson, Priscilla Hubert, Judy Miller and Carol Scott.

CCHS Home-Ec. Dept. Held Open House

The Home Economics Department of Chilton County High School held Open House for mothers on Nov. 6

In planning this project, it was hoped that it would also help in encouraging those who came to "go out and vote." This event was a forerunner of the National Election Week.

Several mothers came by and enjoyed a coffee break with hot coffee and cookies. The officials of the nearby polls were also recipients. Mothers and visitors who came by were: Mesdames Oscar Williamson, Paul Johnson, J. L. Teel, Hugh Branch, Richard Scott, J. A. Penton, Clara M. Smitherman, Evelyn DeVaughn, Kathleen Cox, Dewey Crew, E. C. Cox, Clifford Traywick, R. B. Cole, W. A. Willis, Miss Elizabeth Barton and Mrs. Louise Willis of Montgomery.

We welcome visitors to our school at any time.

One of the most colorful, as well as the most courageous and well disciplined small armies of the world, is the Arab Legion which began its career in Amman, Jordan, in 1920, one of the Bible Lands, at the end of the first World War.

The Arab Legion wears khaki uniforms, with headdress to distinguish the various corps. The regular army wears red and white checked kaffiah held with a black agal and the silver insignia of the Legion. The cavalry wears lemon yellow kaffiah, and the camel corps the red and white checked kaffiah, and scarlet belts, scarlet ornamental cords and sometimes crimson capes. "Arbor Day" in Syria

One national holiday every schoolchild in Syria enjoys is "Arbor Day," a December day when schools are closed and the youngsters travel out into the countryside to plant new trees on barren or eroded soil. For Syrian adults, as well as children, this day is a dramatic reminder of the need to conserve and rebuild the country's forest reserves which have been depleted by the military requirements of two world wars and haphazard cutting of trees.

In past centuries, Syria's mountains were covered with the rich forests. But this precious source of natural wealth dwindled during critical periods of the country's history. During the First World War no charcoal was available to fuel the trains carrying Turkish troops who occupied the country, so large quantities of timber were used as substitute fuel.

The rich forest lands were also diminished by the standard practice of cutting down trees to create pasture land or to turn the cleared areas into agricultural fields. Eventually much of this land became barren and valuable topsoil was swept away.

Since achieving independence, the Syrian Government has attempted to compensate for the losses of past years. Authorities are enforcing a strict policy of guarding the country's one million acres of forest reserves. In Western Syria, the forests are still threatened by tobacco planters who cut the green tree branches for their own use. The Government is withholding licenses for excessive wood-cutting and increasing the number of forest guards and guard-posts. And in the mid-eastern section, the Government is limiting forest clearings and trying to find other pasture lands for the cattle and goats of the bedouins who inhabit the region.

All these measures are accompanied by a nation-wide educational campaign which encourages individual citizens to plant trees in all sections of the country. This campaign, culminating in Arbor Day, is designed to insure a great forest legacy of beauty and wealth for the future generations of Syria.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

THURSDAY, NOV. 15, 1956 NUMBER 46

MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE AND CONTROL OF CHILTON COUNTY, ALABAMA OF OCTOBER 29, 1956

Board Meeting
October 29, 1956

The Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama, met in adjourned regular session at the county courthouse in Clanton, Alabama, on October 29, 1956, at 9:00 a.m., pursuant to adjournment of the regular session held on October 22, 1956. The following were present: Judge M. D. Tingle, Judge of Probate and ex-officio Chairman of the Board, and the following ing Associate Members of the Board: Messers. Lonnie L. Cost, District No. 1, Harold Smith, District No. 2, Sherman Motley, District No. 3, and J. M. Dunlap, District No. 4. Judge Tingle presided as Chairman of the meeting and, a quorum being present, declared the meeting open for the transaction of business.

After a discussion concerning the proposed financing and construction of a new courthouse, the Judge of Probate reported that he had caused to be distributed to all security dealers who customarily bid for securities issued by counties in Alabama the Invitation for Bids for the purchase from the county of $550,000 principal amount of Courthouse Warrants of the county to be dated November 1, 1956. He pointed out that, the hour of 10:00 o'clock having arrived, this was the time and place which was fixed in said Invitation for Bids for the opening of bids for said warrants. Thereupon it was moved, seconded and unanimously carried that all bids which had been filed be now publicly opened, and the follwing bids, constituting all of the bids which had been filed with the Board, were publicly opened and all were found to be accompanied by a certified check or a cashier's check in the amount of $11,000 for the purpose of qualifying the bidders as required in the Invitation for Bids:

Names of Bidders	[illegible]	Amount Of Bid	Net Annual Interest Cost To County
Berney Perry & Co. Hugo Marx & Co. Watkins, Morrow & Co.	%-1958-1972 1973-1987	$550,055.00	4.4527%
Sterne, Agee & Leach Hendrix & Mayes Stubbs, Smith & Lombardo Thornton, Mohr & Farish The First National Bank of Birmingham	58-1966 7-1987	$550,391.60	4.05765%

As a result of the tabulation of the aid bids, it was ascertained that the id filed by Sterne Ages & Leach, Iendrix & Mayes, Stubbs, Smith Lombardo, Thornton, Mohr & arris and The First National Bank f Birmingham for the purchase of aid warrants was the bid representng the lowest net interest cost to e county for the said warrants.

Mr. Dunlap then introduced the llowing resolution and order which s read to the meeting:

The Board of Revenue and Conol (herein called "the board") of hilton County (herein called "the ounty") in the State of Alabama s ascertained and does hereby find d declare as follows:

(a.) The building owned by the ounty and occupied as a courthouse Clanton in the county is a brick ilding that was initially constructmore than sixty years ago. The ide of said building was almost mpletely destroyed by fire over rty-five years ago and shortly reafter was reconstructed. The ard has employed competent ineers to ascertain the structural undness of the said building and said engineers have advised the rd that the ceiling in the courtm on the second floor may fail any time; that the east wall of building has several large cracks ve the second floor; that a wall ure in a building of the type of courthouse will result in collapse he roof; that a wall failure might caused by high winds as in a tor- or by blasting in the near ity; and that in view of the going it is not economically ible to remodel or rebuild the building. (c.) The assessed valuation of all taxable property in the county (other than motor vehicles) as the same was assessed for state taxation for the tax year ending September 30, 1956, is $14,426,967. While the assessment of motor vehicles for the tax year ending September 30, 1956, has not yet been completed, it is anticipated that the assessed value of such motor vehicles for such tax year will exceed $1,407,340, in which event the assessed value of all taxable property in the county for such tax year will exceed $15,834,307. Based on the said assessed valuation, it is reasonable to anticipate that the special tax will yield in excess of $38,000 for the county's current tax year. In the opinion of the Board, the aggregate proceeds which will be received by the county from the special tax for each of the tax years of the county until and including the tax year ending September 30, 1987, should not be less than $38,000.

(d.) At the present time there are no obligations of the county outstanding which are payable out of or constitute a charge on the proceeds of the special tax. The county has no funded debt chargeable against its constitutional debt limit.

NOW, THEREFORE, it is hereby RESOLVED, ASCERTAINED, ORDERED AND DECREED by the board as follows:

The warrants shall bear interest from their date until their respective maturities at the following per annum rates: 5% on those having specified maturities in 1958 to 1966, inclusive; and 4% on those having specified maturities in 1967 to 1987, inclusive.

Such interest [illegible] to maturity shall be payable on February 1, 1957, and semiannually thereafter on August 1 and February 1 of each year and shall be evidenced by seperate interest coupons (herein called "the coupons") attached to the warrants. The warrants and the coupons shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum after their respective maturities and shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the principal office of The First National Bank of Birmingham, in the City of Birmingham, Alabama.

Section 3. Redemption Provisions. Those of the warrants maturing in 1967 and thereafter (herein called "the callable warrants") shall be subject to redemption at the option of the county, as a whole or in part (but if in part in the inverse order of their numbers), on August 1, 1966, and on any interest payment date thereafter, after not less than thirty days' prior published notice, at a price (herein called "the redemption price") equal to the face value thereof plus accrued interest thereon to the date fixed for redemption (herein called "the redemption date") and, with respect to each callable warrant redeemed, a premium equal to twelve months' interest thereon computed at the coupon rate thereof. Each such redemption shall be effective in the following manner:

(a) The board, by resolution, shall call for redemption on a stated date, when they are by their terms subject to redemption, callable warrants bearing stated numbers.

(b) The board shall cause to be published one time in a daily newspaper printed in the English language and published in the City of Birmingham, Alabama, a notice stating the number of the callable warrants which have been so called for redemption, stating that they will become due and payable on the date specified in the said resolution at the redemption price, and stating that all interest thereon will cease after said date. In the event there is no daily newspaper published in said City of Birmingham at the time the board directs such publication to be made, then such publication may be made one time in either a daily newspaper or a financial journal printed in the English language and published in the City of New York, New York. Any such notice shall be published not less than thirty (30) days prior to the redemption date. A newspaper published six days during each calendar week shall be constructed to be a daily newspaper within the meaning of this paragraph.

(c) Not later than the redemption date the board shall deposit with the bank at which the warrants are payable the total redemption price of the callable warrants so called and shall further furnish to said bank a certified copy of the resolution required in paragraph (a) of this Section, and an apropriate affidavit showing compliance with the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section.

All callable warrants so called for redemption shall become due and payable at the place at which the same shall be payable, at the redemption price and on the redemption date specified in such notice, anything herein or in the callable warrants to the contrary notwithstanding. After each such redempion date all future interest on the callable warrants so called for redemption on such date shall cease to accrue or be payable. Neither the said bank nor the county shall be required to pay any coupons maturing on the redemption date which is applicable to any callable warrants so called for redemption unless the callable warrants to which such coupon is applicable is also presented for payment; provided, that in the event any such coupon should be paid without payment of the applicable callable warrant no one shall be liable to the holder of such applicable callable warrants, or to the county, or to anyone whomsoever; and provided further, that the said bank shall pay such coupons if the holder thereof shall present to it evidence satisfactory to it that such holder is the owner of the coupons so presented and is not the owner ofthe callable warrant to which such coupon is applicable.

Section 4. Execution and Registration of Warrants. The warrants shall be signed in the name of the County by the Judge of Probate and ex officio chairman of the board, and the official seal of the county shall be affixed thereto, for which purpose the official seal of the board is hereby adopted as the official seal of the county. The coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of the Judge of Probate and ex officio chairman of the board, whose facsimile signature shall be valid in all respects as if his signature had been signed to the coupons by him in person. The Judge of Probate and the County Treasurer of the county are hereby authorized and directed to register the warrants and the coupons as claims against the special tax and also against the special fund hereinafter created, which registration shall be made simultaneously with respect to all of the warrants and the coupons.

Section 5. Creation of Special Fund. There is hereby created a special fund to be known as the "Courthouse Warrant Fund" (herein called "the special fund") for the purpose of providing for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants and the coupons. The special fund shall be maintained until both the principal of and the interest on the warrants shall be paid in full. During each successive fiscal year of the county, commencing with the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1956, the county will pay into the special fund the entire proceeds of the special tax, as such proceeds are received, until the moneys of [illegible] shall eq[illegible] amount [illegible] which w[illegible] mature on the February [illegible] falling in the same [illegible] the proceeds from [illegible] tax received by the county [illegible] any fiscal year of the coun[illegible] transferred into the special [illegible] shall be less than the amount herein required to be paid into the special fund during such fiscal year, or if any portion of the special tax which may have been paid into the special fund shall have been lost or shall not for any reason be immediately available for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants, then there shall be paid into the special fund, in addition to the aforesaid amounts required during each such fiscal year, such additional portion of the special tax, out of the first moneys thereafter derived therefrom, as shall equal (1) the amount by which all payments made into the special fund during any preceding fiscal year of the county shall be less than the amount herein required to be paid into the special fund out of the proceeds of the special tax during such preceeding fiscal year, and (2) the amount of all sums theretofore paid into the special fund which may have been lost or which may for any reason not be immediately available for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants. The County Treasurer of the county is hereby authorized and directed to take all actions and do all things that may be necessary to make the transfers and payments into the special fund as provided in this section and to utilize the moneys therein for payment of the warrants and the coupons at their respective maturities.

Section 6. Pledge of Special Tax and of Special Fund. The Special fund and all moneys at any time therein and the proceeds of the special tax, to the extent to which such proceeds are herein ordered paid into the special fund, are hereby pledged solely for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants and the coupons, and are hereby declared to be trust funds solely for the benefit of the warrants and the coupons. None of the said proceeds herein ordered paid into the special fund, and no part of the special fund or of the moneys at any time forming a part thereof or pertaining thereto, shall be used for any purpose whatsoever other than for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants and the coupons. Failure to pay into the special fund the proceeds from the special tax, to the extent provided herein, shall constitute diversion thereof. Said pledge is made for the pro rata benefit of the warrants without preference or priority of one warrant over another by reason of prior issuance or registration or otherwise. Said pledge shall be prior to any pledge of the special tax which may hereafter be made for the benefit of any other warrants of the county hereafter issued or any contract of the county hereafter made. The proceeds of the special tax collected each fiscal year in excess of the amount required in the preceding section to be paid into the special fund during such fiscal year are not pledged hereunder.

Section 7. Agreement to Maintain and Use Special Tax. The county agrees that so long as any of the warrants or any of the coupons remain unpaid it will continue to levy and collect each year the special tax at the times and in the manner provided by law for the levy and collection of taxes by the county, and it will apply the proceeds received herefrom to the extent necessary for such purpose for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants as said principal and interest respectively mature.

Section 8. General Credit of County Not Pledged. The general faith and credit of the county are not pledged for payment of the warrants and the coupons. The warrants and the coupons shall not be general obligations of the county but shall be payable solely out of the moneys herein required to be paid into the special fund. Neither this resolution nor any of the warrants or the coupons issued hereunder shall be deemed to impose upon the county any obligation to pay the principal of or the interest on the warrants, or any other sum, except with the moneys herein directed to be paid into the special fund. None of the agreements, representations and warrants made or implied in this resolution and order, or in the issuance of the warrants and the coupons, shall ever impose any pecuniary liability upon the county, except with respect to the levy of the [illegible] tax and the payment therefrom into the special fund as provided in Section 5 hereof.

Section 9. Form of Warrants. The warrants and the coupons and the provisions for registration and assignment thereof shall be substantially the following forms, respectively, with appropriate changes therein to accord with the provisions hereof:

The board has employed competent engineers to ascertain the structural soundness of the said building and the said engineers have advised the board that the ceiling in the courtroom on the second floor may fail at any time, that the east wall of the building has several large cracks above the second floor; that a wall failure in a building of the type of the courthouse will result in collapse of the roof; that a wall failure might be caused by high winds as in a tornado or by blasting in the near vicinity; and that in view of the foregoing it is not economically feasible to remodel or rebuild the said building. The board is charged by law with the duty of furnishing adequate and commodious facilities sufficient for the various co[illegible] fices, courts, de[illegible] agencies, and unl[illegible] facilities are [illegible] ty for the cond[illegible] business, the o[illegible] partments and age[illegible] ty will not be abl[illegible] a proper and [illegible] governmental [illegible] ty. WHEREAS, The Board of Revenue and Control feels that said bid is too high, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Revenue and Control does now find and determine that the public interest will be best served by awarding said contract for the construction of said courthouse to Bear Brothers, Inc., for $542,859.70, and

WHEREAS, said Bear Brothers, Inc., has submitted to the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County a contract for the construction of a new courthouse in Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama.

Serve Your Country----

America And GOC Needs Observers In Clanton Area

The United States Air Force needs civilian volunteers to operate observation posts in Clanton.

The Ground Observer Corps is made up of civilian volunteers who man observation posts where persons skan the skies and report flights of aircraft to an air defense filter center. These reports are received by other volunteers who analyze these reports and forward them by long distance telephone to a radar site for positive identification. If the aircraft cannot be positively identified, armed jet fighter interceptors are sent aloft to intercept, identify and, if necessary, destroy the aircraft before it reaches its target, should it be an intruder of our great country.

The Air Force does have radar sites which are constantly in operation to detect all aircraft movements. Since radar is a mechanical device, it is subject to breakdown and requires a certain amount of maintenance, these factors plus the curvature of the earth, certain terrain features and bad weather hamper the effectiveness of our radar. Take all of these factors, put them together, and we have some gaps in our radar network. Only the eyes and ears of the Ground Observer Corps plane spotters can effectively fill these gaps.

There is an Air Defense Filter Center in Montgomery which the reports from an observation post in this area would report to.

You can earn your silver wings of the Ground Observer Corps by volunteering to serve your country for two hours each week to protect your country against possible sneak air attack by an aggressor.

Anyone interested in helping in this vital part of our nations Air Defense please write to Ground Observer Corps, 3830 South Court St., Montgomery, Alabama.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.—(St. Matthew 7, 12.)

That is the Golden Rule—and who is there among us who would not subscribe to it? But in the daily rush and hurry of our lives these days, so many of us forget to apply it—and to live it. Thus do we hurt ourselves, as we hurt others.

Andy's Musical "Arrangement"

Did you know that in our town there are 23 shut-ins—ailing folks who can't leave their homes? Most of them will live normal lives again someday, but right now they have it pretty lonely.

Also in our town there are six singing societies — a barbershop quartet, high school glee club, some gospel singers and several church choirs. They're generally lonely, too . . . for an audience.

Funny that no one thought of getting the two groups together before Andy — popular owner of the Garden Tavern — began arranging things last summer. From now on the shut-ins will get entertained regularly and the singers will be booked for a long time to come.

From where I sit, Andy deserves a lot of credit for this contribution to the community. But then he's had a lot of experience in co-operating for the public good. Like that Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors—whereby tavern owners like Andy volunteer to keep their places neat, orderly . . . and in harmony with the community's best interests.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

THE first business venture of W. A. Adams, 2101 Lily Court, Sanford, Florida, was a contract for loading cars for a Growers Organization. They loaded at twenty different stations over the County and he furnished the labor. Sometimes they ordered cars late and Mr. Adams, not knowing about the order would not have enough men to take care of the loads. Then he would get calls from all over the County. The Growers would be furious, not being able to unload. Then Mr. Adams would pick up the men needed and begin worrying and dreading the time to arrive at the station and the trouble. After a month of this, he realized that he would have to do something about it. Soon he learned that the Growers were not as angry as they acted and he stopped worrying.

CARNEGIE

That lesson in not worrying came in handy two years later. He had married and was living in a house with a flat roof. One rainy night about twelve o'clock he and his wife were awakened by a terrific noise in the kitchen. It sounded as though someone had dropped the electric stove while trying to get it through the door. His wife almost choked as she whispered, "Do something." Not having a gun for protection nor even a flashlight, he finally managed to ease out of bed and lock the bedroom door. He had just about quieted his wife when there was another terrible noise and he could even hear the kettle roll across the floor. Naturally he had another hard time quieting his wife and they spent the rest of the time until daylight waiting for someone to try to get into the bedroom. About dawn he unlocked the door and found a leaky roof had made all the plaster fall—most of it on the stove.

Concrete should be used for Alabama's part of the National System of Interstate Highways

This state's part of the National System of Interstate Highways is a vital link in a road system that reaches every state in the Union, 42 state capitals and 182 of the 199 cities with a population of over 50,000. The map above shows this 40,000-mile network. These are the interstate routes authorized by Congress and selected by the Bureau of Public Roads and the various state highway departments. Although comprising only 1% of the total road mileage in the country, these key routes carry over 20% of the rural traffic.

These roads are essential to the smooth and economical flow of commerce; the swift movement of men and material in defense; the quick and efficient evacuation of cities in emergencies and the safe, comfortable and enjoyable travel of motorists.

The sections of the heavily-traveled Interstate System in this state should be paved with the longest-lasting, most economical pavement—Concrete. Concrete is moderate in first cost, requires little maintenance and lasts a lifetime. Result: low-annual-cost service.

And concrete is the safe pavement. Its gritty texture permits quicker, safer stops, wet or dry. And its light-colored surface reflects more light at night, providing better nighttime visibility.

Ninety per cent of the cost of these highways will be borne by the Federal Government, but the state must maintain them. The logical choice under these conditions is durable, low-maintenance-cost concrete.

Tacky Party—

Thursday night at 7 p. m. members of the Adult Training Union met in the church dining room for a Tacky Party. Some seventy members were present, all tacky. There was a lady in a mink coat; a woman in an evening dress, wearing a man's hat and a corsage of autumn leaves; a sailor boy; a lady in purple with a much beflowered hat, and streamers reaching to the floor; a young boy in a baseball suit; a boy with britches patched all over; a young lady dressed as an Indian; a lady in the 1913 style, a short dress; a young lady in a long dress wearing a beach-hat trimmed in velvet; a lady with a head-dress of peacock feathers; a lady who kept pulling her lower skirt lower.

Highlight of the evening was the arrival of Sal and Liz of "Nowhere" twins, red headed, wearing luminous dresses of brocade with navy ruffles. "Elvis" had promised to meet them at the party! And every man entering was surely Elvis! The twins tried to "cut the pigeon wing" to the tune of "Chopsticks." After much merriment, all enjoyed a pot luck supper. Sal and Liz won the prize, but since everyone wanted it, there was nothing left of it after the struggle The sailor was the winner in the men's group.

Clanton Swamps Isabella In Tough, But Smashing Victory

Braxton Bates

A well-coached Isabella Mustang football eleven came onto the gridiron last Friday night with hopes of winning their seventh victory of the year and for the first few moments [illegible] r hopes were justi-[illegible] Coach Wilkens [illegible] shots fast and [illegible]

The Mustangs first round of firing was very good but they made the mistake of not bringing out enough ammunition and after they had expended their first round they were through for the night.

The Tigers received the kickoff and returned to the 29. The Tigers field general Terry Jones picked up 7 yards. The Tiger Warhorse added 1 and then 5. Jimmy Foshee who turned out to be the Tigers' offensive running star of the game was then given running room by his linemen and he bursted up the middle for 55 yards and was finally hit from behind on the Mustang 3. Jones went over from that point and also added the EP. The Tigers were ahead for good.

The Tigers added 6 more points on a 20 yard pass from Jones to Minor. Later before the half ended Foshee scored from the 6 yard line and Jones aded the EP to give the Tigers a 20 to 6 half time lead.

The Tigers scored twice in the last half; once on a 30 yard aerial from Jones to Billingsley and a 6 yard sprint by Foshee. Jones ran over for his third EP of the day and the final score stood at 33 to 6 in Clanton's favor.

[illegible] Foshee who [illegible] played [illegible] ing harder than [illegible] 16 to 11.

[illegible] guard played an outstanding game especially in the last half. This alternate captain, along with Jones, has been an inspiration to his teammates all year and will certainly be missed next fall. Carl Baker used mostly on kickoff defensive plays, was a thorn in the side of the Mustangs as he allowed them very little return yardage.

Statistically Speaking—

Terry Jones has now scored 8 TD's and 13 EP's. Foshee has 7 TD's and 5 EP's. Minor and Billingsley have 6 TD's and 1 EP. Knight, 2 TD's and 3 EP's. Bice and Culpepper have 1 TD each.

Terry Jones has thrown 10 TD passes and Knight 2.

The Tigers in winning 5 and losing 4 have scored 209 points while giving up 116.

Arch-Rivals To Meet—

Friday night Coach J. R. Porch will bring his once-beaten Verbena football eleven to do battle with the Tigers. It has been several years since a Tiger team has been able to hang a defeat onto Verbena. Last year's battle ended in a 7 to 6 victory for the Red Devils and their suporters are very enthused over their chances again this year. Coach Porch is a wizard at getting his team keyed up for any given game and this year will be no exception. The Red Devils will be here to win and will accept nothing less than a victory and with a little cooperation from the weather man this game could break all existing attendnace records for a football game in Clanton.

Over The County—

One note of interest at this time is the fact that there are three Chilton County teams that have not lost a game to a team outside the county this year. These teams are Maplesville, Isabella and Verbena. The calibre of football as played in the county must be very high indeed To keep this record intact, Maplesville must win out over Columbiana and Isabella must out-score Plantersville in their games this week end.

We are all pulling for you coaches Wilkens and Kelly.

MRS. JOSEPHINE COLE COX DIED AT HER HOME

by Ruth Hicks

Mrs. Mary Josephine Cole Cox, born October 23, 1868, in Chilton County died at her home in Stanton Saturday, Nov. 10th, at 9 a. m. Mrs. Cox was the daughter of the late Henry Jackson Cole who was born in Autauga County, and her mother was the late Mary Parker Cox who was born in Chilton County.

At the age of 16 "Cousin Joe" as she was affectionately known by her many, many friends, married Emmett Cox. Mr. Cox died when "Cousin Joe" was 32 years of age, leaving her with five children to rear and educate. She was the mother of six children, four sons and two daughters. One son passed to the great beyond at the age of 12. "Cousin Joe" came to Stanton as a bride and lived here two months. This couple moved to different places in Dallas and Chilton Counties, however, returned to Stanton in 1901 and bought a home. She has lived in this same house ever since; her oldest son being 15 years old when she moved back to this permanent home. She has lived here and shared her home with her son, Ira, who has never married. Ira is now 61 years of age.

"Cousin Joe" was a member of the Plantersville Methodist Church in Plantersville and has been a member of this church since about the age of 18. Her brothers were Will Cole, Tom Cole, Wimp Cole, and D. T. (Bud) Cole. Sisters: Mertie Cox and Mattie Cole Barnes.

"Cousin Joe" was for years a very active member of the Plantersville Eastern Star Chapter, and a very faithful member of her church. In fact, it has been said of her that many ministers who served the different churches in the communities where she lived considered her a member of their churches since she was always present at the church services and worked in every way possible with all denominations. She administered to the sick folks and was never too tired or busy to help in any way that she could. She has endeared herself to folks in all walks of life and has maintained a home where folks loved to go and where you always received a very warm welcome. Her friendship was warm and shared by all alike. She liked people and certainly has gained the love of all who have had the joy of knowing her. Her father's home was the same kind of home. All the neighbors from far and near liked to go to his house. You always felt at home and enjoyed the time spent with this family. "Cousin Joe lived a wonderful life—a life that any of us would and could be justly proud of—no fault-finding, no gossip, just the nicest person in every way.

"Cousin Joe" was laid to rest in the Methodist Cemetery in Plantersville Sunday, November 11, at 11 a. m. by the side of her husband. Her passing brought deep grief to this community. She will be greatly missed

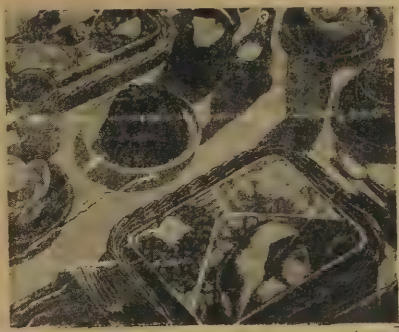
Easy Turkey Dinner for Live-Alones



If you live alone and like it . . . every day of the year except family holidays . . . don't feel too sorry for yourself! You may be spending Thanksgiving Day quietly by yourself, or with just a few guests, but you can most certainly feast on the traditional Thanksgiving bird.

Come Thanksgiving Day, you'll be giving thanks for those wonderfully good, frozen turkey dinners. Each includes generous slices of delicious roast turkey with home-style dressing, rich turkey gravy, whipped sweet potatoes, and buttered green peas. Imagine after just 25 minutes in a (450° F.) oven the entire main course of your Thanksgiving dinner is ready to be enjoyed!

While the frozen dinners heat, sip this Ginger-Grape Cocktail. It's chilled ginger ale poured over seedless grapes; provide toothpicks to spear the fruit. With the dinners, serve Molded Cranberry Salads. (Your grocery has them packaged in small plastic containers, ready to serve. You add salad greens.)

Dessert is pumpkin pie, of course! But see how festive it becomes when made as individual Pumpkin Petal Tarts. We've made our tart shells in petal shapes using enough pastry dough for a 2-crust pie.

For Pumpkin Filling, measure ⅓ cup brown sugar; combine half the sugar with one envelope unflavored gelatine; add ¼ teaspoon salt, dash each of nutmeg, cinnamon, ginger and ground cloves. Beat 1 egg yolk; stir in ⅓ cup evaporated milk (undiluted), ¼ cup cold water, ⅔ cup canned pumpkin and gelatine mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, for 10 minutes. Refrigerate mixture, stirring occasionally until thick and syrupy. Beat 1 egg white until almost stiff; slowly add remaining brown sugar, beating until very stiff; fold into pumpkin mixture. Spoon into tart shells and refrigerate until set. Serve with whipped cream topping. Makes about 6 tarts.

MAKE CHAFING DISH SPECIAL

Hope you're having company when you make this delectable turkey-pineapple dish. You can cook and serve it in a chafing dish or electric table skillet. This is the way: Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; add ¼ cup chopped green pepper and sauté for a few minutes. Stir in 2 cans (5-ounce size) boned turkey, 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup, and 1 small can (about 9-ounce size) crushed pineapple, drained. Cook over low heat for 10 minutes. Serve over hot, fluffy rice to 4 or 5 hungry people. FNS

Charles Patterson Will Head 1957 Dimes Drive

Charles L. Patterson, Chilton County Tax Assessor, Clanton, Ala., has been appointed 1957 March of Dimes Campaign Director. Announcement of the appointment was made today in Mobile, Ala., by Mr. Ralph Kennemer, State chairman of the 1957 for polio-fighting funds.

"The Salk vaccine has dramatically cut the incidence of polio during the past year," Mr. Kennamer said, "but there are today about 80,000 children and adults who urgently need a helping hand in their long, difficult struggle.

"Doing all we can do to give them the care they need," he added, is just as important a part of the March of Dimes victory over polio as the Salk vaccine. That is why we have chosen as our 1957 March of Dimes slogan, "Let's Finish the Job!"

"We need volunteers for the campaign," he said, "all the volunteers we can get. Those who would like to help us win over polio should contact Mr. Patterson. There's plenty of interesting work and everyone is needed."

Mr. C. C. Gay led the Chilton County drive for the March of Dimes in 1956 and the drive was exceedingly successful.

There has been 65 cases of polio reported at this present date in the state of Alabama, for the year of 1956.

Mrs. Hugh Jones Again Heads ACS Program In Chilton

Mrs. Hugh Jones of Clanton has been reappointed Chilton County educational chairman for the American Cancer Society for the year 1956-57.

Announcement of this appointment was received from Mrs. Lillian G. Meade of Birmingham, executive director of the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, Inc.

As county educational chairman Mrs. Jones will be responsible for carrying on the year round program of ACS in this county to alert its citizens to cancer's seven danger signals and to carry on the society's general public information program to help save lives through early diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

The seven danger signels of cancer are: any sore that does not heal, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, unusual bleeding or discharge, any change in a wart or mole, persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, persistent hoarseness or cough, and any change in normal bowel habits.

The Cancer Society carries on its public information program through newspaper, radio and TV publicity, posters, films, talks and leaflets. Through these media, adults are encouraged to see their physicians regularly for a checkup and to go immediately for a physical examination when one of the cancer danger signals is detected.

While the educational program is concentrated during April, which is "Cancer Control Month," the society carries on the program throughout the year, making films, posters, leaflets and other materials available to civic clubs, employee groups and others.

In addition to its public information program, the ACS carries on a continuous program of cancer research and service to medically indigent cancer patients. Since 1945, the American Cancer Society has spent more than $1,000,000 on cancer research projects in Alabama, including studies at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn; Medical College of Alabama, Birmingham Southern Research Institute, Birmingham; Tumor Registry, Birmingham; and Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee.

THANKSGIVING

What have we in Chilton County to be thankful for this Thanksgiving 1956?

The answer is many, many things. Regardless of our petty gripes and complaints.

We live among the finest people on earth and the past fall has brought to us two months of glorious weather—sunshine, rain, moderate temperatures, and a golden harvest..

Business is good and life and health is enjoyed to its fullest. The opportunity to serve is given each and every one of us and, after all, happiness comes from the giving of ourself to others.

Enjoy this Thanksgiving Day. Thank your God that you can be, and are, a part of this great land of ours.

And be sure to give thanks to the One who made it possible.

A NEW SORT OF ISOLATIONISM

Out of the present Middle East conflict may come a new sort of isolationism for the United States—and it may all be for the good.

This is not discounting the value of the United Nations in certain of its aspects, or the value of extending economic aid to other countries in particular cases, or the value of furnishing military equipment and making military alliances with other nations under certain circumstances. But it is discounting very emphatically the belief that too many people in this country have held since the end of the Second World War that any one of these things or any combination of them would assure peace in the world.

It has been apparent to a good many people all along that a strong United States of America, both economically and militarily, is the best assurance of peace in the world—and the Middle East conflict bids fair to prove that point. The only force in the world that will hold the Soviet Union out of this war is not the United Nations, is not the nations engaged in the war, is not anything except the United States of America. If the Russians do enter the war and it develops into a Third World War, then the only force in the world that can enter into this war for the cause of freedom is the United States of America.

This fact should be pretty clear to most everybody by now, and of course it is rather disillusioning to those who placed their reliance for world peace upon the United Nations or upon the foreign aid we have been pouring out since World War II or upon the so-called Western Alliance or anything else.

The United Nations has certainly not prevented wars. It is a good forum for world debate, but it has been foolish to depend upon it to preserve peace. Members of the United Nations were on opposite sides in the actual conflict of the Korean War; other members are on opposite sides in the present Middle East War. An organization able to preserve peace would not have its members at war with each other.

As to our foreign aid, of which we have poured out $55 billion since the endof the Second World War, that has all been wasted so far as preserving peace is concerned.

Take the four nations presently engaged in the Middle East conflict, for instance. We have given Great Britain $6.9 billion in one form or another since the end of the war; we have given France $5.5 billion; we have given Israel $400 million since that nation was founded eight years ago; and we have given Egypt $116 million since it went on the free load list four years ago.

We undoubtedly strengthened these nations considerably by all these grants—but for what? So that they could go to war with each other?

It was our material equipment that enabled the Russians to survive the onslaught of the Germans during the Second World War—and now the Russians are the greatest enemy we have ever had. We defeated Japan and Germany during that war, and since then have rebuilt both these nations with American dollars and consider them our allies in the present ideological conflict—but can we depend upon them any more than upon other nations that we have aided and later turned against us?

We went to war in 1917 to save the world for democracy. The results were indeed dubious. As is now well known, we brought our involvement in World War II on ourselves. But we again took part—in order to save the world—and the results are now even more dubious.

If all this means that the United States may decide that the best service we can render the world is to remain strong ourselves, and go our way then we can well hope that we have once more returned to the principles of our forefathers who came to this country in the first place to get away from the old world order—where they could serve the cause of freedom, not the cause of war and intrigue which always breeds despotism and servitude.—From Southern States Industrial Council.

County Savings Bond Chairman Receives Service Award

J. Archie Ogburn, vice-president of the Bank of Thorsby, and Chilton County Chairman for the U. S. Savings Bonds Program, has received a Treasury award for outstanding patriotic serivce to the Bond Program.

The "100% Club" Medallion is in recognition of this county's having achieved its 1955 sales goal of $260,000.00. County sales for the year totalled $311,950.75 in series E and H Savings Bonds.

The award was presented by W C. Russell, area manager for the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division. He praised the efforts of Mr. Ogburn and other volunteer workers who made the achievement possible.

"The people of this county are to be congratulated," Mr. Russell said "for their joint contribution to personal thrift and to a sound national economy. Show me an area where the people have good thrift habits, and I will show you a progressive community with a sound economy. I have seen this proven many times in my travels over the state."

The silver medal, slightly smaller than a silver dollar, was designed by a master engraver and struck at the Government's Philadelphia mint. The front bears the figure of the Minute Man, the Treasury Seal, and the wording: "U. S. Treasury Award." The reverse side caries the inscription: "For Patriotic Service—U. S. Savings Bonds Program." Also engraved on it are Mr. Ogburn's name and the year.

The medallion is mounted on a small transparent stand for resting on a desk.

Many State Children Die In Avoidable Home Accidents

Montgomery — Ninety-five Alabama children died as a result of accidents during the first six months of this year, according to a statement made today by Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer. He named fires and explosions, suffocation, piosoning, firearms and falls as the types of accidents occurring most often in the home.

Dr Gill urged that all parents increase their efforts to prevent home accidents, and suggested that homes be "accident proofed" by systematic elimination of hazards." He suggested also that parents undertake to make children "accident proof" through safety education.

THE COMMON COLD

If the virus believed to cause the common cold could be trapped, millions of hours a year in absenteeism would be saved, as well as millions of hours of suffering. But until the research laboratory yields the answer, the comon cold is still with us and apparently becoming more common than ever.

The common cold is as baffling as the virus believed responsible for it. While the symptoms in the young, middle-aged, and old are alike—sore throat, fever, dripping nose and inflamed eyes—the source of the infection seems to vary. Chilling, exposure to sudden weather changes, lack of sleep, fatigue, drafts, irritating dusts and gases, worry and anxiety are all factors linked with the common cold.

Causes of disease and answers for their prevention and cure are emerging from the research laboratory constantly. But the shifty virus causing the cold eludes the scientific sleuths pursuing it. The antibiotic drugs, such as penicillin and aureomycin, have been tried with little success in the mannagement of the cold. And they can be dangerous too, since they do not seem to affect the virus causing the cold but do tend to interfere with the body's natural defenses. And, should secondary infection set in, their effectiveness is lessened.

How common are colds? A recent study showed that if you're average you can expect one cold a year; some of you will have three or four colds, while those of you forming the most susceptible group will have six. And the elusive virus doesn't stop with the common approach. Not only does he leave you with the old but he sets you up as tender prey for the army of bacteria that cause pneumonia, meningitis, bronchitis and sinus infections

That is why you can't ignore the common cold. Bed rest is still the best care for this affliction. Your diet should be light and include plenty of water or fruit juice. And it is better not to smoke.

Watch the humidity in your home and office. Your mucous membranes tend to dry in excessively heated rooms.

And stay away from others. Keep the cold from being common by keeping it to yourself!

To Study Geology--

School Class Tours Turnaround And Write On Discoveries

OUR TRIP—by Bobby Miller

In science the class has been studying about rocks. We learned that minerals make a rock's color.

The class left the room at eight-thirty. We came to a house that was owned by Mr. Guinn. Around the house they had about all kinds of rocks which we had studied.

After we had ridden a little further and parked the cars, we walked till we came to Picture Frame Rock. The rock had a hole in it that was made by water. We walked a little more and came to Alum Rock. Some of the boys tasted this rock and yelled, "Cool Ade!" It didn't taste like Cool-Aade to me.

We then walked through the woods and listened to Chestnut Creek talk to us. As we walked some of the children gathered interesting rocks.

Soon we came back to our parked cars and ate our lunch.

After lunch the children played games until time for us to return to school. I enjoyed the trip very much.

OUR TRIP—by Guy Ray

We took our trip for rock study. We have been studying rock for three weeks. We have learned much about rocks. Books we have got from the educational office and the state helped very much.

We left Thursday morning at eight-thirty. It was a foggy morning. We went in seven cars about an average of seven to each car. Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Christiansen, Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Burdette, Mrs. Glasscock, and our teacher, Mrs. Thomas, were the mothers who carried us.

When we arrived, we each registered and examined the rocks around the house. We saw many kinds of rock, such as rose quartz, mica, malachite, and azurite.

While inside the Turnaround we saw many rock formations such as Lookout Rock, Alum Rock, and Picture Frame Rock. We also saw many flowers, trees, shrubs, and leaves. While on top of a mountain we saw Chestnut Creek which flowed around a mountain.

After seeing inside we ate lunch. We had drinks and sandwiches. We all enjoyed our lunches.

After eating we packed our things and headed for home. In all, it was a very nice trip which we all enjoyed.

OUR TRIP—by Tommy Miller

On Thursday last, 'twas dull and gray
But the Better Speech Club was gone all day!

For Turnaround we were so busy
That some of us were really dizzy.

When we arrived, we passed through the gate
And saw that the walk was bordered with slate
We had to register in a book.
Then steped from the cars to take a look.

At Lookout Rock we saw all over
It made us feel like we weren't sober

At Picture Frame Rock we saw the huge hole,
But none walked through it, not a soul

At Alum Rock we had lots of fun.
That's a little cave where the creek used to run.
Then we talked and chattered by Chestnut's bank
And were thirsty enough to drain a tank.

Of course to return we had to ride.
We're glad to have seen what could be Chilton's pride

THE TURNAROUND—
by Linda Burdette

On Thursday morning, dull and gray
The Better Speech Club were on their way.

To the Turnaround with all its wonder,
Of nature's work upon which to ponder.

The beautiful creek made a rippling sound,
And the colorful rocks were the prettiest we'd found.

As far away as we could see
Scarlet and gold covered every tree.
The turnaround is a beautiful place
Filled with God's glory and His grace.

OUR VISIT TO THE TURNAROUND—Susan Elsevеer

On November first after a rain,
Better Speech Club members were happy again

Bright and early, off we went
To the Turnaround, where a school day was spent.

We registered there in a large guest book,
And with our squad we went to look.

We stopped to study and to browse
About the rock 'round the caretaker's house.

We drove on down to the picnic ground
Where large rock formations are to be found.

Up to Lookout Rock we climbed.
"Oh, how pretty!" all voices chimed.

Then we went to a rock that was painted with moss,
Which looked like ice cream covered with sauce.

Next to Picture Frame's hole like a feather
The rock was formed by rough stormy weather.

On to Alum Rock—some took a taste,
But on we hurried—no time to waste.

We climbed many steps 'till we reached the top.
Then down the valley—no time to stop.

Down a wandering path to the creek below,
We reached the end of the trail—so.
Another trail led up the hill
To a resting place where all was still.

Ah, the colorful leaves and babbling stream!
The view from there was a fairy dream.

From there we walked to the picnic grounds
In fun and laughter and joyful sounds

We ate our lunch and, as was the rule,
We returned to our cars and traveled to school.
What fun we had! What joy we found!
In the beauty of nature at the Turnaround.

A TRIP TO TURNAROUND
by Jerry Skelton

One morning when our class had quieted down,
We took a trip to Turnaround.

We left at close to eight-fifteen,
The happiest group you've ever seen.

'Twas lots of fun at the Tu[illegible]
Because 'twas a long way to the ground.
Then we made a trip to Lookout Rock.
It would surely be [illegible] if [illegible] should drop.

The flowering creek was [illegible],
But it didn't make any [illegible] sad

The trees and plants make a beautiful view
And there's Alum Cave that we went into.

We went upstairs and down again,
Passed Picture Frame Rock partly made by wind.

Then up some stairs we went to eat
Where each of us could have a seat

We waved good-bye then to the trees.
Next time we go, we'll be at ease.

TURNAROUND—by Bill Thrash

We are going to the Turnaround;
That is where we all are bound.

We shall do our very best
And put our conduct to the test

We are ready now to go
So please, gray clouds, do not say no.

There we'll see the many rocks
And gaze on views that'll give us shocks

The water now is to us talking.
And here we come gaily walking.

If this trip's to [illegible]
We shall know it by tomorrow.

We gaze a while from steep Lookout
The view is great without a doubt.

'Twas there I saw tall towering trees
And felt the cool refreshing breeze.

The stream was trickling slowly flowing,
The leaves with autumn colors glowing.

Now we're scrambling up a hill
Which gives each boy and girl a thrill.

Snails and lizards, likens, moss
Our pathways often cross.

After several [illegible]
I'm ready [illegible]

Clanton Postmaster Urges Early Christmas Mailing

Postmaster L. P. Bean today urged the citizens of Clanton and Chilton County to sho[illegible] early [illegible] Christmas mailing in the history of the Clanton post office.

To put off mailing Christmas cards and p[illegible] ment resu[illegible] ing placed o[illegible] and on the postal facilities of the Clanton post office, Mr. Bean pointed out.

Every facility of the Clanton post office will be pressed into maximum service so that again this year, as in the past, the Clanton post office will be cleared, if possible, of all Christmas mail by Christmas.

"There are [illegible] that a gift [illegible] arrival [illegible] a special significance," Postmaster Bean said. "It is the thought behind the gift or card, not the time of arrival which is the important consideration."

In an appeal to all the citizens of Clanton and Chilton County, Postmaster Bean praised the fine cooperation of past years when rec[illegible] mail loads were processed and delivered and asked that this same cooperation be again in evidence this year.

"By following the simple suggestions of mailing early, wrapping carefully and addressing plainly [illegible] citizens of Clanton will be assured of the safe and timely arrival of their Christmas mail," Postmaster Bean added.

More Farm Owners Get Social Security

An estimated 400,000 farm owners will come under Social Security [illegible] in 1957. A new amendment [illegible] that any landlord materially participating in farming on his [illegible] land comes under the law. [illegible] cludes those who take an active part in growing or managing crops, furnish or finance equipment; or give advice and inspect operations.

Egg prices may be somewhat [illegible] the rest of this year and in early 1957 than they were in comparable periods last year.

Alabama's part of the National System of Interstate Highways should be paved with concrete

You have a personal stake in the sections of the National System of Interstate Highways in this state (small map above). Everything you eat, wear or use comes wholly or in part over these key roads. They are essential to the smooth, economical flow of commerce; the swift movement of men and material to stricken areas in time of disaster and the safe, comfortable travel of motorists to and from the rest of the nation.

Roads that will carry heavy and increasing traffic should be paved with the most durable and most economical pavement—concrete. Concrete is moderate in first cost, has low maintenance cost and extra long life. That means low annual cost.

Concrete is safer too. Its gritty, skid-resistant texture permits quicker stops, wet or dry. Its light-colored surface reflects more light than other pavements, providing better nighttime visibility.

Mr. Motorist, your license fees, gas and other taxes will pay for building and maintaining the sections of the Interstate System in this state. These roads will be a vital link in a 41,000 mile network (see large map) reaching every state, 42 state capitals, and connecting 182 of the 199 cities with more than 50,000 population. Although comprising only 1% of the nation's total road mileage, these roads carry over 20% of the rural traffic. Only the best is good enough for these important roads. They should be paved with durable, safe, low-annual-cost concrete.

Blood Donors Needed; Unit Coming Nov. 30th

Clanton will be visited by the Bloodmobile Unit from Birmingham on November 30th, and the local blood center will be open from 12 until 6 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

The need for blood continues around the clock, seven days a week, 365 days a year. To meet these needs every adult should be given the opportunity and privilege to donate a pint of blood if physically able. The donor today may be the recipient tomorrow. If you keep a valid blood donor card, which means donating a pint every eight months, you and your immediate family will be eligible to receive any amount needed without replacement. Of course, there is never a charge for Red Cross blood.

Our Red Cross has a real challenge now as the Regional Blood Centers have received a request for blood for Federal Defense Administration and this request has been accepted. This blood must be collected through the various Red Cross chapters. This means each chapter must raise their quotas by a minimum of at least 15 percent. It is true we are not in a war and there is not a national emergency facing us. It is equally true that if we should find ourselves in a Civil Defense emergency without adequate stores of serum albumin many of our citizens would die.

The people of our county might be interested to know that derivatives of blood are needed to do the jobs that whole blood alone cannot accomplish, such as: Gamma Globulin to [illegible] measles; serium albumin [illegible] shock; Fibrinogen to [illegible] ge; Red cells to [illegible] and Plasma to treat [illegible]. Some of the blood collected in our own county is used for such derivatives. Materials not now [illegible] are available to [illegible] individuals be[illegible]. Red Cross Blood [illegible] not give blood [illegible] but actually to [illegible] injured thru the Red Cross.

We [illegible] now that the blood program [illegible] great deal to our [illegible] to our hospital as this has been proven by the wonderful response [illegible] the civic clubs, business concerns and individuals who gave generously when a special appeal went out in the past few months for extra funds to assist us in [illegible] the blood program. We wish to thank these people again at this time. We will remain in the blood program at least for the entire fiscal year, which ends June 30th, 1957.

Now it is also up to you to assist [illegible] the blood program by [illegible] of blood on November 30th. Whether or not our chapter [illegible] the blood program also depends on our blood quota each time the Bloodmobile visits here. 46-2t

No Income Limit On Veterans Schooling On Korean GI Bill

Veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill may earn any amount of money outside of class without jeopardizing their monthly GI allowances, Harley A. Smith, Manager of the Alabama Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

These outside earnings need not even be reported to the VA, he added.

He explained that some veterans still confuse the Korean GI Bill with the [illegible] World War II GI Bill which [illegible] "ceiling" [illegible] all types [illegible] the-job [illegible].

Mr. Smith [illegible] "ceiling" [illegible] veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill. However, he added [illegible] is one for [illegible] veterans taking on-the-job training. Under this ceiling when a veteran's on-the-job training wages, plus his GI allowance exceed $310 a month, the VA will scale down the allowance accordingly, to bring the total within the $310 limit.

Rates for veterans in school full-time under the Korean GI Bill are $110 a month with no dependents, $135 with one dependent, and $160 with more than one. These are the rates that are not affected by outside earnings.

Job training allowances begin at [illegible] with no dependents, $85 with one and $105 with more than one dependent. The law requires these to be reduced at four-month intervals, as training progresses and veterans' earning abilities increase. These rates are subject to the $310 "ceiling," Mr Smith [illegible].

BEYOND THE FOG— SUNSHINE

"Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief." Mark 9:24.

An epileptic boy was in the throes of a convulsion in the narrow street of a Galilean Village. Of course a swarm of the morbidly curious were soon on the spot. The frantic father, hearing that Jesus was approaching, pushed his way through the crowd, fell down before the Nazarene and impleaded his merciful concern. Jesus' first reply was toward helping the distresed father to discover for himself just how much confidence he had in the ability and willingness of the Great Physician to heal the afflicted child. Therefore, "If thou canst believe. all things are possible to him that believeth," said the Master. Whereupon the suppliant said, "Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief." He meant of course, that he had some faith, but that he earnestly desired more.

Real distress puts one's religion to an acid test. If his mind is in a fog about what his relationship to God is, and to the essential things that pertain to that relationship, he discovers that he must discard his heretofore misty notions and surrender his mind and heart to an unquestioning compliance with the divine will. Then, and only then, will he confess his lack of sufficient faith and exclaim as did that anxious father, "Lord, I believe, help thou mine unbelief." The afflicted leper of whom we read in Matthew's Gospel had attained that needful degree of confidence that prompted the cry, "Lord, if thou wilst, thou canst make me clean." It is no wonder therefore that we hear the gracious reply, "I will; be thou clean." And, so says the record, immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

We need not think however, that the Gospel is a patent medicine - simply a handy manual for our use in case of pressing distress. No miracle of which we read in the Bible was an end in itself. The purpose of every gracious act of God in the relief of human need was, and is, to confirm human faith in Him, who is described as, "Infinite, eternal, and unchangeable in His wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness and truth." Only those who have advanced beyond the fog of no faith, or partial faith, will be found among the seekers who voice the effective petition, "Lord, I believe help thou mine unbelief."

Freezer Will Change Family Food Budget

A home freezer will change the family's food budget—and this change may be up or down.

API Extension Food Preservation Specialist Lavada Curtis pointed out this week, that regardless of cost a freezer will enable many families to eat better and more varied meals throughout the year.

The change in the food budget will depend on whether the food is home-grown or bought, kinds and quantities frozen, and how the freezer is used. She said it would not pay to freeze inexpensive, common, year-round foods.

A well-filled freezer cuts operation costs. And Miss Curtis advised homemakers to get the most out of their freezers by filling them three times a year. Storage cost per pound capacity freezer and in turnpounds go up.

She explained that with a 360-pound capacity freezer and ni turnover, the cost of freezing one pound would be 25 cents; a 50 percent turnover would drop it to 17 cents, and a 150 percent turnover down to 11 cents This cost is based on a general average of certain fixed expenses.

Miss Curtis said now is a good time to re-organize and check freezers. Last summer's food supply should be used before a new crop is ready for storage.

Cottonseed, kept for planting, should be put in good bags and stored in dry place.

STATE FARMERS TO GET SMALLER COTTON ACREAGE

Despite a slightly larger state allotment for next year, many Alabama farmers will get smaller acreage allotments than they had in 1956.

Explaining this statement here yesterday, James H. Jones, chairman of the State ASC committee said that the acreage cut for some farmers stems from recent amendments to the cotton law.

He said that the minimum allotment provision recently enacted by Congress provides that any farmer who has planted more than four acres of cotton during any one of the past three years cannot be allotted less than four acres in 1957. Furthermore, the allotment for any farmer who planted less than four acres during each of the past three years cannot be reduced below the highest acreage planted during any one out of the past three years.

For example, suppose a farmer planted five acres in 1954, four acres in 1955, and 2.8 acres in 1956 Then he must be allotted four acres in 1957. However, if his highest planted acreage in any one of the past three years was under four acres—say 3.2 acres—he will get 3.2 acre allotment.

Quoting from a recent survey by the State ASC Committee, Jones said that it would take more than 35,000 acres to insure that these small farmers in Alabama are not reduced below the minimum set by Congress. And even though a National Reserve set aside by Congress to supply acres to small farmers will furnish 13,727 of these acres, another 21,399 must come from the allotments of larger farmers—those with more than four acres.

In addition, stated Jones, a cut in the basic state allotment of one percent in 1957 below that for 1956 means that another 10,251 acre reduction must be absorbed by the larger farmer. (The basic state allotment for 1956 was 1,025,141 acres, whereas for 1957 it is 1,014 890 acres --this does not include 13,727 acres from the special National Acreage Reserve which puts the total acreage allotment for 1957 at 1,028,617;) about 3,000 acres more than in 1956)

In other words, concluded Jones, the farms with allotments of four acres or more will have to furnish the 21,000 acres needed to provide minimum allotments for the small farms, as well as absorb the basic acreage reduction of 10,251 in the state allotment.

Jones said estimates by the State ASC Committee reveal that the reduction on farms with allotments of more than four acres will probably avereage from two to four percent. However, the percentage figure will vary from county to county.

The exact allotments for farmers of each county, said Jones, will be mailed from the County ASC office around the first of Decbemer.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

What? Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?—(I Corinthians 6, 19.)

St. Paul reminds us that the Heavenly Father created us in His image, that He dwells within us as our souls. Our sins and transgressions, therefore, are against Him; in love and humility we must seek His forgiveness, pray for His guidance and help.

DO THE TURKEY TWIST

These perky yeast-raised turkeys are in the bright spirit of Thanksgiving. Plan to fill your bread basket with them often during this season.

TURKEY TWISTS

- ⅔ cup milk
- ½ cup sugar
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- 6 tablespoons shortening
- ⅔ cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 6 cups sifted enriched flour

Scald milk and stir in ½ cup sugar, salt and shortening. Set aside to cool to lukewarm. Measure water and 3 tbs. sugar into large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm water for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture and eggs. Add and stir in half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour, or enough to make a dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes, or until surface is smooth and satiny. Put dough into greased bowl and brush top with melted shortening. Cover with cloth; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes. Punch down dough, pull sides into center, turn out on board. The turkey twist is a reverse S-Shaped roll with curly ends. Start with a rope 14" long and ½" thick made by rolling a piece of dough with palms on board. To shape make a clockwise circle, letting pointed end of dough stick out at the top to form beak. Curve dough up then down to shape neck and continue down to begin body. Now make counter clockwise circle 4 times as big as first, winding dough in spiral toward center. Add a small wedge-shaped piece of dough along upper right of circle to form tail feathers. Brush tops with melted fat. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 425°F. (hot oven) 12 to 15 minutes or until brown.

Heflin Speaks On Local School System

Mrs. T. C. Davis was hostess to The Woman's Club on November 16th at 3:00 p.m

Two new members [illegible]ed into the club. They were Mrs. Herman Lecroy and Mrs. Ralph Morrison.

Mrs. Clair Norris introduced the guest speaker, Mr. James Duke Heflin. Mr. Heflin. who is a member of the Chilton County Board of Education, gave a most interesting and informative talk on the local school situation. He explained that the school system is the biggest industry in Chilton County and one by which every citizen is benefitted financially, economically, and scholastically.

Mr. Heflin also pointed out ways in which individuals could help the school program: (1) by informing others about the current school crisis—not enough funds to build additional rooms, to buy equipment and materials for classrooms, to do repairs, or to pay the teachers a full salary, (2) by personally campaigning for the renewal of the special school tax which will expire in 1958.

Refreshments were served by the hostess during which time members discussed with Mr. Heflin some of the facts which he brought out in his talk.

Local Biology Classes Study Conservation

As a part of a biology unit entitled "Conservation of Our Biological Resources of Soil, Forest, and Wild Life," the biology classes of the Chilton County High School were privileged to hear a most informative talk on soil conservation in Chilton County by Mr. Olin Fields on Friday, Nov. 7th.

On Thursday, Nov. 15th, Mr. Knox Davis of the State Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry, spoke to the group on Forest Conservation in the county. He stressed the part our youth has played and is playing in this vital work.

The biology classes are looking forward to a field trip with Mr. Fields to see a farm where good soil conservation methods are being used and also one with Mr. Davis to see some forest where good conservation measures are being practiced.

The farm population of the United States has been decreasing about 600 thousand a year since 1949. Farmers who remained on the land have achieved record breaking harvests on or about the same acreage and with [illegible] less labor.

Clanton Takes Verbena In Smashing Finale

by Braxton Bates

A happy, jubilant and victorius Clanton Tiger football team lifted coach onto their shoulders and carried him from the field to the dressing room after the Tigers had smashed the Verbena Red Devils in a great second half finish 19 to [illegible] For [illegible] was probably the most pleasant time and sweetest victory in his long football career. Hundreds of happy, delirious Clanton football fans went wild with joy when Terry Jones clinched the win with his thrilling and sensational 36 yard touchdown gallop around his own right end late in the fourth period. The Tiger warhorse is no longer a candidate for All-State honors—he IS All-State.

This rip-roaring football game got under way with Jones returning Mims' kickoff from his 10 to his 36. The Tigers were not able to get a first quarter offensive under way due to four consecutive penalties which nullified a long gainer by Neal Bice and [illegible] gainers by Jones and Foshee. Three offside penalties and one personal foul for a total of thirty yards were a little too much and the Tigers had to kick. The Verbena eleven failed on their first efforts and had to punt. The Tigers with Jones and Foshee carrying the ball drove to the Verbena 23 but the Red Devils stopped the drive at this point and went on the offensive themselves. Mims, Burdette and Smith teamed together to take the ball to the Tiger four yard line. Smith then faked the ball to Burdette and handed off to Mims who scored over his own right guard. Burdette then made a leaping catch of a pass from Smith for the EP. The Red Devils lead 7 to 0. This TD was made shortly after the second quarter had begun and for the remainder of this half the Verbena team were kept on the defensive. The Tigers narrowly missed a TD when Knight failed to hang onto a pass from Jones over the goal. The Tigers still had a chance to score but the hard rushing Verbena line came in fast to throw Bice for a thirteen yard loss as the first half came to a close with the score 7 to 0.

This ding-dong battle continued on into the second half as Smith returned Foshee's kickoff from his 16 to the 31. The Red Devils aided by Burdette's 26 yard run and a Smith to Burdette pass play that netted 18 yards carried the ball to the Clanton 17 and the clouds were getting darker all the time for the Tigers. At this point Lavoy Wilson and his buddies rose as a unit and refused to budge any further and held the Devils for downs.

The Tiger trailblazers then took charge and cleared the way for Jones and Foshee. Neal Bice, a blazer himself, ran once for two yards, Jones ran four times for 23. A Jones to Foshee pass play picked up 26 yards. Foshee ran 6 times for 24. The effective blocking of Deloach and Bice was paying off. This devastating drive was climaxed by Foshee scoring from the 3. The Verbena team halted the EP effort and still lead 7 to 6.

During the fourth period Deloach, Bice, Wilson and Donald Minor made the key tackles that kept the Verbena backfield honest. Bice saved at least two Devil TD's. He caught Burdette after the big 6 foot 3" back had broke into the clear on two occasions.

The Tigers second TD was a ten yard jaunt turned in by Jones. They were penalized five yards on the EP for excessive time out and Jones then ran seven yards for the EP.

The Tigers were leading 13 to 7 when Wayne Smith fumbled on an attempted handoff to Burdette and Lavoy Wilson crashed through to take possession. Moments later Terry Jones was off on his history making run of 36 yards that put an end to the football dominance that Verbena has held over the Tigers for the last few years.

The Verbena team was just as good a team as they were supposed to be and have nothing to be ashamed of in losing to this up and coming Tiger football machine. The Red Devils displayed very fine sportsmanship all the way and were very quick to congratulate the Tigers following the game.

Prospects For Next Year—

Enough cannot be said about the fine playing of boys like Billingsley and Minor, the Tiger ends who will return again next year. Both of these boys are sure-fire college prospects and they could be the best pair of ends in central Alabama next season. Hilyer, Ward and Parsons return at the tackle posts but it is my guess that Billy Ward will shift over to right guard that will be vacated by Senior Wilson. This Ward should be great. He has all [illegible] ary equipment. Fulmer [illegible] k for his third year at [illegible] rd and Swanner and [illegible] will again take care of the center position.

Terry Jones and G. C. Robinson are the only backs who will be missing next roll call. Coming up from the junior team are Buddy Vines, the best passing back prospect that is, that Yours Truly has seen since the days of George McCain. He may not be quite ready next fall but watch him go his junior year. Toby Mayfield and Jimmy Dennis are 2 hard-running backs who should play a lot of ball and Jackie Hayes is a great prospect for a tackle position.

Statistically Speaking—

Getting down to the statistics of the game we find that Clanton led in first downs 14 to 10. Clanton led in net yards gaining 272 to 180. Clanton tried 6 passes, Verbena 7, with each team completing 2. Verbena's passing netted 41 yards and the Tigers tossed for a total of 33 yards.

Terry Jones ran 24 times for 160 yards. This in spite of losing a long gainer because of a penalty and he also had to take credit for a ten yard loss that was caused by a mix-up in signals. He also lost five yards when he slipped on the wet turf. He well earned his 160 yards. Foshee carried nineteen times for 114 yards and Bice lost two on four running plays; a penalty nullified his long gainer.

For Verbena, Burdette carried 14 times and netted 96 yards. Mims on 18 carries gained 63 and Smith netted 21 on nine tries.

For the entire year Jones scored ten TD's, Foshee 8, Billingsley and Minor six each, Knight 2, Bice and Culpepper one each.

Extra points were made by Jones 14, Foshee 5, Billingsley and Minor 1. Knight 3.

The Tigers won 6 and lost 4. They scored 228 points and gave up only 123.

In Sunday School Sunday the attendance was 115, for which we are very thankful. We are happy for each one that comes to help make our attendance higher each time. All visitors are invited to come again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Driver from Chestnut Creek came into our membership. To them we extend our most cordial welcome.

The Training Union attendance was remarkable last week. Approximately 95 attended. The weather was favorable for everyone to come out for worship services. The sermon was delivered by Bro. Charles McGalliard, using as his theme, The Lord Looked on the Earth.

The watchword and pledge of allegiance was given in unison. A special prayer was given for missionaries who were having birthdays on that date. For the scripture reading period, a table was set as for a feast. Instead of serving real food, pictures of food were cut from magazines and mounted on cardboard. The Bible verses, taken from Psalms and all having something to say about giving thanks, were on the back of the food pictures. Before the girls read the verses, the counselor led in a prayer of thanksgiving for the Bible.

"Thanksgiving Time is Here," was the title of the program. For spelling out the word, "Thanksgiving," the girls stood in a semi-circle in front of the room. There were more letters than girls, so some held two letters. Each told of something that her letter stood for, for which she was thankful. Sandra Lee Rogers led he closing prayer. Patsy's mother, Mrs. Leo Shaw, served delicious home-baked cake, ice cream and punch to the following: Rena Mae Blackmon, Lynda Seal Clements, Sandra Lee Rogers, Peggy Reynolds Patsy Shaw, Jayne Porter, Margie and Martha Moore and Mrs. Lonnie Cobb, counselor.

Turn Under Legumes In Fruit Orchard For Increased Production

Auburn—Winter legumes turned under as green manure in orchards can greatly increase production of high quality fruit, writes Dr. T. B. Hagler, associate horticulturist, and C. C. Carlton, superintendent of the Chilton Area Horticulture Substation, in highlights of Agricultural Research, publication of the API Agricultural Experiment Station.

This method of fertilization has been successful in many years of study by the Experiment Station, the authors report. For instance, best fruit yields at the Chilton Area Horticulture Substation near Clanton resulted from turning under a winter legume with no commercial nitrogen added.

"At the end of seven years during which a winter legume was turned under, weight per tree was 223 pounds and fruit yield per tree was 268 pounds," Hagler and Carlton write. "This compared to an average tree weight of 97 pounds and 77 pounds of fruit per tree in the seventh year when clean culture was used. Best results were obtained when vetch was turned under as green manure. After seven years, the average tree weight was 272 pounds, and fruit yield was 363 lbs. per tree."

When rye was disked into the soil of the Chilton peach orchards, one-fourth pound of nitrate of soda was applied per tree annually per year of the tree's age. "The average tree weight was 185 pounds and fruit yield was 259 pounds per tree as compared with 87 and 147 pounds, respectively, for clean culture," the authors write. "Four hundred pounds of 0-14-14 were applied per acre in fall and spring to supply needed phosphorus and potassium."

Hagler and Carlton report that results of a survey in 20 Alabama counties show that a winter legume was used effectively as a pecan cover crop. Best results were obtained by turning under crimson clover or vetch and applying 500 to 700 pounds of 8-8-8 per acre in the spring. The cover crop was fertilized with 500 to 600 pounds of 0-14-14 or 0-16-8 per acre in the fall. When Bermuda grass or small grain was grazed, an additional 50 pounds of nitrogen was applied per acre not later than June 1.

The authors explain that three factors govern the degrees and kind of fertilization for fruit orchards: (1) type of soil, (2) cultural practices, and (3) degree of pruning.

"Peach trees must make 12 to 20 inches of annual twig growth for good fruit yields, according to research results," Hagler and Carlton write. "This is necessary to supply one-year-old wood needed for heavy fruit bud set."

STATE BROILER PRODUCTION TO TOP 78 MILLION

Alabama broiler production rolls along at a record-breaking clip—chalking up a total of an estimated 78 million birds by the year

And API Extension Poultryman Levi Warren predicted this week that new record highs will continue to be set. Although broiler prices dropped, the grower discovered how to cut expenses—larger flocks, more efficient production, better feeds, better breeding, better housing, and more contract feeding.

Now, broiler meat cost about 17 cents a pound to produce, but three years ago it was 21 to 22 cents a pound. Warren pointed out [illegible] present low market price, d[illegible] mean cal[illegible] for the in[illegible]

Broiler businesses have sprung up in all sections of the state. But the Sand Mountain area of North Alabama is the leading center with Cullman and Marshall counties forming the nucleus. The other top 10 broiler counties are Cleburne, Morgan, Hale, Clay, Walker, DeKalb, Winston, and Jefferson

In the past 10 years, the average broiler flock size grew over seven times—from 152 birds per flock to 1109.

GRUB AND LICE EXACT A HEAVY FINANCIAL LOSS

Cattle grub and lice steal more than 10 million dollars each year out of the pockets of Alabama cattlemen.

These common pests are found in practically every herd in the state, taking their cut of the profits. API Extension Assistant Livestockman Robert Farquhar said this week that farmers can lower the take of these insects by using proper control methods beginning now.

Instead of killing two birds with one stone, the farmer can kill two pests with one spray—rotenone. The grub can be controlled by using a power spray or dusting and rubbing the insecticide dust into holes made by the grub. Farquhar said treatment should begin about 30 days after the first grub bump apears on the cattle's back and be repeated every 30 days until the grubs disappear

Lice can be controlled by other insecticides, but only [illegible] effective for both lice and grubs. Farquhar said that since lice are found more frequently in areas around the face, on the [illegible] and underlines of the cattle, these places should be well sprayed

The grub, the larva of the heel fly, costs the nation $100,000,000 in damaged beef and hides. Lice will also damage the hide and may cause severe anemia, as well as transmit cattle diseases

The heel fly is large, resembling the horsefly. She deposits her eggs on cattle. These eggs [illegible] into grubs, which bore their way through the animal's [illegible] or thru the body emerging on the back. They cut holes here and fatten up on beef, then fall to the ground, later turning into flies

Cattle are terrified by the whining of these flies. Grubs sap energy from these animals, and leave a trail of spoiled beef

Prayer service 7 p. m Wednesday

Last Wednesday night seventy-one people came out for the mid week prayer service. The pound. given by Bro. Lowery was a great success. All of the gifts were given to a friend in Christ by Bro. Lowery. We were all blessed by his concern for others.

In Sunday School Sunday the attendance was 115, for which we are very thankful. We are happy for each one that comes to help make our attendance higher each time. All visitors are invited to come again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Driver from Chestnut Creek came into our membership. To them we extend our most cordial welcome.

The Training Union attendance was remarkable last week. Approximately 95 attended. The weather was favorable for everyone to come out for worship services. The sermon was delivered by Bro. Charles McGalliard, using as his theme, The Lord Looked on the Earth.

Remember the Youth Rally at Providence Church December 3rd. Please plan to represent your church at this rally.

"TURKEY TIME" Dessert!

WITH A WONDERFUL THANKSGIVING DINNER cleared away—there's still dessert to consider! Pumpkin Chiffon Pie—light, fluffy, elegant! And for a special touch, fold a half cup of tender, flaked coconut into the mixture before chilling, then glamorize the top with a drift of white flakes.

COCONUT PUMPKIN CHIFFON PIE

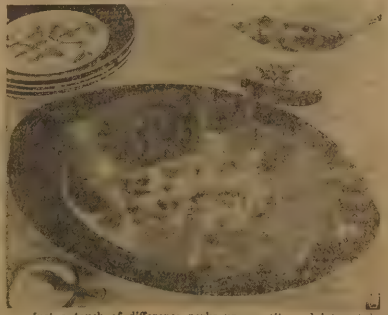
- 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1¼ cups mashed cooked pumpkin
- ¾ cup evaporated milk
- ½ cup water
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- ¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 egg whites
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup Baker's Angel Flake coconut (toasted if desired)
- 1 baked nine-inch pie shell
- ⅓ cup cream, whipped and sweetened

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine pumpkin, evaporated milk, water, egg yolks, ½ cup of the sugar, salt, and spices in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add remaining sugar gradually and continue beating until stiff. Fold in pumpkin mixture, vanilla, and ¾ cup of the coconut. Spoon into cold pie shell. Chill until firm. Before serving, top with whipped cream and remaining coconut.

Note: 1¼ cups whole milk may be substituted for the ¾ cup evaporated milk and ½ cup water in the above recipe. (ANS)

Mincemeat Sauce Makes The Difference



Just a touch of difference perks up appetite and interest in family meals.

Mincemeat sauce, for instance, on sliced tongue gives the home folk a real chef's treat. Add little new potatoes dotted with parsley, asparagus or fresh spinach, a bowl of tomato salad, and, even without a possible dessert of strawberries and cream, you'll have a menu everybody will vote a winner.

The mincemeat sauce is an easy touch of triumph for the tongue. It can be made with either the 9-ounce condensed package mincemeat or with the ready-to-use mincemeat from the big 28-ounce jar, both so convenient to keep on hand for pies, cakes, cookies and other desserts.

Mincemeat Sauce for Tongue

- ¼ cup sugar
- 1½ tablespoons cornstarch
- ¾ cup boiling water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup prepared mincemeat

Blend sugar and cornstarch. Stir in boiling water. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Remove from heat. Add lemon juice, salt and mincemeat. Serve hot. To prepare packaged condensed mincemeat, break into pieces in a saucepan. Add ¾ cup water. Stir over heat until lumps are thoroughly broken. Boil briskly for one minute. Yield: 1⅓ cups.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Glad to know that Howard Boockholdt is back home and doing better after an operation at a Birmingham hospital. His many friends are rooting for him to get back in condition in a hurry.

Congratulations to our old friend (and we do mean old) Ben Studdard on his appointment to the Chilton County Hospital Board. They could not have named a more sincere, civic-minded man for the post than is Mr. Studdard. We wish him not too many headaches in his new assignment.

On Veterans Day the Department of Veteran Affairs presented us with a pretty gold certificate of Merit for the work Chilton County News had done in their behalf. It was deeply appreciated and hangs on our wall with pride. Thanks to the fellows who made it possible.

Claudie Wyatt is able to be out and around a bit after his accident a few weeks ago. His tractor bucked and fell on top of him damaging his arm considerably. We will be glad to see him at his chair in the Barber Shop before too long.

Emmett Blankenship who has been at Hayes Chevrolet Co. for the past several months is now at Clanton Motors, Inc. He invites his friends to visit him there.

The Alabama Trucker says in Chicago a doctor posts this sign in his waiting room: "Ladies in the waiting room are asked not to exchange symptoms. It gets the doctor hopelessly mixed up."

We received a letter today from a lady at Stanton complaining of people cutting her Christmas trees. This is against the law and we cannot understand the thoughtlessness of anyone doing such a thing even if they were not breaking the law. To go on another's property and take anything off of it that does not belong to you is stealing, and certainly beyond understanding when it is a Christmas tree. The ones who are thoughtless enough to commit such a crime when the tree is one of our symbols of our symbols o' Chr's m's and all that the word [illegible] i' [illegible] mixed up in his way of thinking. This year get permission of the property owner before y ou go Christmas tree hunting.

Lewis Hamilton, of Thorsby, was hurt Saturday morning in an auto accident at Thorsby. He received numerous cuts and bruises but we understand he is recuperating nicely.

Anybody got a nice warm doghouse they're not in at the moment? It must be steam heated because it looks like the occupant is in for a long stay. Don't get us wrong. We're not in the dog house it's Vernon Payne. His wife's birthday was Tuesday and he thought of it Wednesday. So if you ain't using yours at present and don't see me, see Vernon—that guy's in trouble.

We hear quite a bit of talk going the rounds about who should be, and who should not be appointed to the Hospital Board vacancies that will be open the first of the year. Most of the talk seems to be as to whether our medical doctors should be members of that Board and it seems that the sides are forming so far as public opinion goes. The members are appointed by the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County and it is their decision to make of course. But, we'll bet a plugged nickel that they get plenty of free advice as to who, and who not to appoin .t

Miss Charlotte Povia Wins Clanton Audience

Clanton music lovers were completely captivated by the songs of Charlotte Povia, young contralto of Miami, Fla., who was presented by the Music Appreciation Club on Saturday evening, Nov. 17, in the Methodist Church. A varied program offered selections to every taste.

Especially pleasing were the compositions by Margaret Stern, Miss Povia's teacher. The religious number by Miss Stern, "The Burial and Resurrection of Jesus," as sung by Charlotte Povia creates an intensely sombre miod which transcends to a glorious exultation.

A reverent hush enthralled the listeners during the number and was maintained during the selection from Handel's "Messiah" and reached a high spiritual moment in the "Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

As Miss Povia continues her concert career she has the sincere best wishes of her Clanton audience.

The accompaniment given by Miss Carlton was very fine. Mac Dowell's, "To a Wild Rose" was played with unaffected sincereity.

The entire evening of music was an unforgetable experience in beauty and grandeur.

In Colonial days, hardwood trees with a twist to the left were favored for plough handles.

Clanton Council Hears Health Talk By Dr. G. M. Taylor

On Monday night of this week, the writer of this article met with the City Council of Clanton, Ala., and in a few words told them some of the things your Health Department was trying to do for the benefit of the citizens of Clanton and Chilton County. For lack of time only a few of the services offered by the Health Department were mentioned.

The real thrill of the meeting was the enthusiastic manner in which these solid, level headed business men received these facts. By their every manner they gave evidence of being both interested and anxious to do right toward their fellow citizens. Yes, they appropriated a sum to my department, which I sincerely appreciate.

WORRY CHASES SLEEP for many folks, we know; so we were quite impressed by an elderly gentleman's claim that he hadn't lost a wink because of worry in nearly fifty years. "I've always lived," he explained, "by a simple rule: What should be changed and cannot be, accept; what should be changed and can be, act to alter!" . . . One thing that you needn't accept, if it has been a source of worry, is the constant danger of loss from theft or fire that goes with keeping vital family documents and other valuables at home. Act to alter the situation! Transfer those papers and articles to a low-rental Safe Deposit Box in our time-locked, fire-resistant vault. You'll sleep the better for it.

When in all love and true humility and conscious of our human frailty, we devoutly and sincerely ask God the Father for guidance and help to do the good, the right and the wise. He will heed our prayer — if our hearts are clean and our motives unselfish.

Travel Shifts Into High Gear

HERE COMES TOMORROW—Italian designers have come up with this sleek plastic bus creation which they claim will cruise over the roads at 125 mph. To be powered with a gas turbine engine, one of the planned models will carry up to 32 passengers.

LONGEST ROAD IN THE WORLD—The Kansas Turnpike, terminating in this wheatfield on the Oklahoma-Kansas border is, at present, a road with no end. but not for long. Just as soon as Oklahoma allocates the necessary funds, the new four-lane superhighway will knife its way through the farmer's field and he'll have a new, faster road to get his grain to market.

MAN BEFORE THE HORSE?—Transportation shades of the past are recorded here, but in reverse, as a London dock worker acts as the beast of burden to a valuable polo pony. The animal appears to be enjoying the novelty of watching the man do the work. (United Press Photos)

ROADS FOR TRANSPORTATION—Earthmoving equipment such as these International Harvester giants are very necessary to most forms of transportation. Before sleek automobiles and streamlined busses can skim over the ribbons of concrete and asphalt, high-speed earthmovers and crawler-type tractors, must first make the roadbeds. Fleets of equipment similar to these units, move millions of yards of rock and dirt in incredibly short spans of time and at surprisingly low costs

An old familiar song: "Just 3 weeks and 4 days 'til Christmas."

* * * *

According to all reports this will be the most prosperous Christmas ever. We know the day after Thanksgiving shoppers started on their yearly march to the trading centers. Ninty percent went to he stores that advertise. It just sands o reason, if you don't tell them you have it—they can't possibly know where to come and get it

Anyone knows it's a good idea to read a book, but with some of the material now being fostered on the American public, it is a good idea to be careful of the book you read.

Tolerance is what you are asked to have when you let others encroach upon your rights as a free man.

Advertising stimulates the public, and if you stimulate enough the result is good business

Trading at home is a good policy. Every dollar you pend here has a chance to help business here, and indirectly, help you.

C. FENN JONES

One of Clanton's and Chilton County's most prominent citizens of the "old school," C. Fenn Jones is dead. In his 85th year we suppose Mr. Jones was also one of the county's oldest citizens.

His was a long and useful life in business as in public life, having served many years as Mayor of Clanton.

As to his private life Mr. Jones loved people. Even though most all of the old friends were long dead he leaves scores of the younger and middle-age to mourn his passing. He loved life more than anyone we have ever known and for the past several years of his life he was in poor health but refused to give up to his age or infirmities.

We had a deep respect for C. Fenn Jones, even though we were often opposed to his dicisions, but he did the thing that was right to his way of thinking and would fight for his convictions. His cherished memories were the things he had brought to, and accomplished for his home town.

The people will miss him and we pray a new star shines tonight in the heavens for Mr. Jones for the thousands he helped and comforted of which the world will never know. You see, Mr. Jones was not one to talk of the aid he gave to others.

A GOOD MAN RESIGNS

The Chilton County Hospital Board lost a good man when F. Leo Thompson resigned recently. He gave his whole self to any undertaking and the chairmanship of the Hospital Board was no exception.

The county is deeply indebted to Mr. Thompson for his untiring work in behalf of the hospital and his labors on the Board will be long remembered.

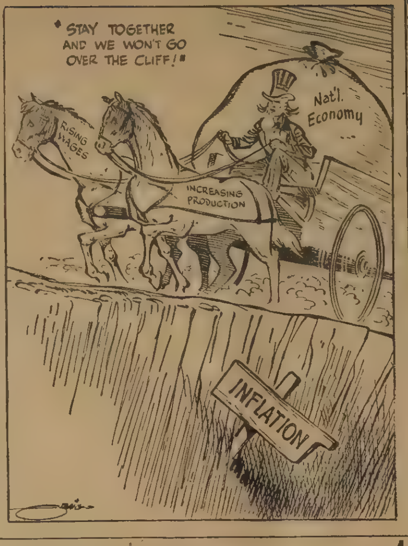
"STEADY NOW!"



Make Good Use Of Credit, But Keep A Sound Family Budget

By Lonnie Gentry,
State Supt. of Banks

More Alabamians are owing more money today than ever before. The same is true throughout the rest of the nation. This fact is causing concern to many economists, and an increasing number of statements voicing this concern are appearing in the country's newspapers.

Most of this money owed by the great majority of citizens is for home mortgages and instalment buying on home appliances, furnishings, the family cars, and so on

It could be, however, that some of this "concern" being voiced against consumer indebtedness is being slightly over-emphasized, hough undoubtedly a certain amount of rash buying by some people has occurred. This would indicate a need for a renewed spirit of thrift and family saving against the hazards of a "rainy day".

However, whenever discussions arise about the present indebtedness of citizens of our State and nation, such discussions should be weighed against certain facts in order to arrive at a more true picture of the present financial state of the nation's citizenry.

It is true that in 1933, the total consumer credit in this nation was only $3.5 billion, but in those days America's total disposable income, after taxes was estimated at only $45.7 billion.

In contrast to this, it is true, Americans consumer credit today is estimated to have risen to about $30 billion, but our disposable income, after taxes, has also leaped to approximately $280 billion.

Some of those expressing "concern" over our current indebtedness do not always relate their present-day figures to these compensating factors.

In an article recently published in the Industrial Banker magazine, Myron R. Bone, a vice-president of the American Industrial Bankers' Association, pointed out:

"Credit for the masses is the key to mass production, mass consumption and the fulfillment of the desires of the masses in our country to use and enjoy today the marvelous products of our own efficiency."

Whenever a family's credit is properly used, it can therefore be argued, a higher standard of living is possible. It means that families invest their earnings in goods they can use and enjoy while they are paying for them.

As a banker, however, I would say this: it might be a good idea if the family breadwinner sat down in his home after supper on pay night, and worked out a simple, realistic family budget each week. In this way, the danger of over-extending a family's credit and endangering its security, can be avoided to a large extent.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Asthma is a broad term meaning any condition in which wheezing occurs, but bronchial asthma is almost certainly an allergic condition. In bronchial asthma the symptoms are wheezing, shortness of breath and cough. As in any form of allergy, the sufferer has usually inhaled or eaten certain substances which are harmless to the majority of persons but which produce great distress in those individuals sensitive or allergic to them.

In many persons, it is difficult to lie down during an attack; they resort to all procedures, such as sitting up all night long in a chair or leaning forward on a table to help them breathe more easily.

The wheezing associated with bronchial asthma varies with different patients. Sometimes the wheeze is very quiet and can be heard only with a stethoscope. Sometimes it is so loud that the sound can be heard clear across the room and even in the next room.

The wheezing occurs when the victim attempts to get the air out of the lungs. In a person with a chronic bronchial asthma, an x-ray film of the chest will show that the diaphragm is pushed down from its normal position and the ribs will have a straight character instead of the normal curved formation. This change develops because the sufferer is using all the muscles he has to push out the air which has become trapped in the breathing apparatus of the chest. Very often this action produces another condition which is called emphysema.

Bronchial asthma is also characterized by the history of other allergic conditions, either in the patient or the patient's family, indicating heredity to be a factor in at least sixty percent of the cases. That is why children of allergic parents should be watched very carefully from the day of birth. Each new food should be given one at a time to learn whether the baby tolerates it.

Best results in asthma occur when the cause is found and then avoided. If the cause cannot be entirely avoided, the patient can be given injections of an extract of the offending substance to help him build up a resistance to it.

Star-Lites

By INEZ GERHARD—ANS

GRACIE FIELDS, beloved British singer, actress and comedienne, will re-create her highly-praised performance in "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," when the United States Steel Hour repeats "live" Robert Anderson's adaptation of the James M. Barrie classic Wednesday, December 19, at 10 p.m., EST.

A whimsical comedy concerns an elderly spinster charwoman in London, who feels excluded from the war effort during World War I because she has no son fighting in it. She befriends a group of mothers with sons at the front by pretending she is the widowed mother of a soldier whose picture she has seen in a newspaper and whose last name is the same as hers.

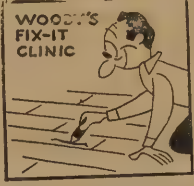
WITH NBC-TV's "Loretta Young Show" now in its fourth year and recently rated among the Top Ten network shows, there's no doubt of the success of the lovely star's premise: "Each Sunday stanza must have meaning—whether humorous or serious — it must say something." Loretta not only does a superb job of acting but she doubly endears herself to the audience after the play is over. She then appears to make a brief statement of the play's message. She receives hundreds of letters each week from people who want to thank her for that final moment and the way in which it gives a richer meaning to their lives.



Scratches in hardwood floors that don't penetrate the finish can often be taken care of by rubbing, first with fine steel wool covered with a heavy paste wax, then with a dry, soft cloth. Deeper scratches can be filled with Plastic Wood, a little more than full. Sandpaper flush and smooth after the Plastic Wood has hardened. Touch up with shellac.

You can do a good temporary repair job on a leaking water pipe by covering the leak with a split piece of garden hose, held in place with a couple of ordinary hose clamps. (ANS)

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

For Thou art my hope, O Lord God; Thou art my trust from my youth.—(Psalm 71, 5)

In the vigor of youth, one inclines to assume that his strength will overcome all obstacles and insure success, without any other help But how joyous and useful life will become when youth realizes the need of the love of God, and His guidance and His help, which are so freely given.

FFA AND FHA GROUPS HONOR PARENTS—

Tuesday night, November 20th, members of the FHA and FFA honored their parents at a banquet.

The auditorium was festive with decorations of colored autumn trees and motifs of the first Thanksgiving in America.

In the center of the stage was a log cabin. At one side there was a log fence around a tiny field of corn shocks. Near a small wooded area was a wash pot and wood. A wagon wheel leaned on the cabin. Small sweet gum trees formed a wooded area in the front corners of the auditorium and wagon wheels were there. On the walls were Pilgrim hats, with silver buckles, the hats bearing the names of members of the two organizations.

Colored leaves, ivy entwined about pine burr turkeys decorated the tables. A tiny log cabin, a rail fence around it, centered the speakers table. At either end were candelabras, enriched with yellow mums, holding illuminated candles.

The guest tables were centered with like candelabras. At either end were gold cornucopias holding fruit and vegetables. The program folders further carried the autumn motifs.

Miss Judy Reeves, president of the FHA presided during the program. Mr. Lamar Shields was emcee for the general program. Rev. Louis Brasher gave the invocation.

RELEASED FUNDS BY GOV. TO AID NEEDY CHILDREN

Alabama's needy dependent children, blind, and permanently and totally disabled who receive pensions and security payments will benefit in December from Governor Folsom's release of $50,000 monthly from a $3 million conditional appropriation to the Department of Pensions and Security, according to an announcement last week by Commissioner J. S. Snoddy. "It is too early to predict the effect on individual checks," Snoddy added, "but the percent of need met will be increased in December for al three of these groups." He pointed out that this will bring payments to these categories more in line with old age pensions.

Snoddy expressed real pleasure at being able to make the announcement, saying: "We are indebted to Governor Folsom for release of the money, for we know how badly it is needed." The Commissioner estimated that this $50,000 in State funds will bring in approximately [illegible] monthly in Federal funds, thus increasing by about $250,000 the amount available for the blind, the disabled, and the children.

[illegible] to these people were reduced in October only because of the 1955 reduction in the absolute general fund appropriation to the Department of Pensions and Security," Snoddy stated. He added that it is gratifying that there is now money in the general fund to make [illegible] month

"We hope at a later date the condition of this fund will warrant release of more of this conditional appropriation so we can take fuller advantage of Federal matching for all needy groups," Snoddy declared.

The processing of fall seed crops such as cotton, corn, and sericea should be completed before spring. Many farmers have lost attractive offers for their seed because they were not in a "salable" condition. Price Increases Show Farm Land Is Good Investment

Auburn—The price of Alabama farm lands climbed eight percent last year.

This rise was chalked up from July '55 to July '56. And API Extension Economist Foy Helms predicted this week that the cost of land will continue to rise.

Since farm income is down, land becomes the farmer's best investment. However, he is not the only one who believes it is a good investment. Thirty-five percent of the people who bought rural land last year were not farmers. Many were merely seeking a safe long-term investment for their money, others belonged to the growing class of suburban dwellers, and then some land was sold for industrial sites.

Many farmers, receiving lower prices for their products, bought land to enlarge their farms and gain a more economical operation possible in a larger scale enterprise. Others now find they face a decision—whether to buy more land or to invest in equipment, buildings, and the like. Farmers are advised, in the light of this article, to hold onto their land, if at all practical, and to seriously consider the potential income of any land they are interested in buying.

The trend of rising land values in Alabama is reflected in land prices throughout the nation. This trend, shows the change found in people's attitude toward land.

Civil Air Patrol Week Proclaimed By Gov.

The Governor of the State of Alabama has proclaimed this week of November 25th through December 1 as Civil Air Patrol Week.

On this matter, the Chief Executive commented that the C.A.P. has been, and continues to be, an asset of high value to this nation—having served well in the dark days of war by vigilantly patrolling our coasts.

Governor Folsom said also that the C.A.P.'s "highly patriotic members. . . have maintained in the State of Alabama an efficient rescue organization of skilled fliers and technicians. . . and has flown flights of mercy, rushing the ill to medical aid, rushing essential serums, blood equipment and supplies to those who needed them in times of stress and disaster."

December 1 will be the 15th anniversary of the founding of the Civil Air Patrol.

Azalea Trail, Mobile Being Organized For February Opening

Down in Mobile, arrangements are already being made for this year's Azalea Trail, it is announced by Lewis L. Wilder, President of the Azalea Trail Festival. The annual Trail has long been established as one of the major festivals of the nation. As usual, it will open during the first week of February and continue through March 31.

Azaleas have been famous in the Mobile area since the French occupation days, and have, of course, long since become [illegible] one of the main flowering shrubs which lend color to all Alabama.

The Azalea Trail is some 35 miles long, winding through streets and picturesque squares, through the gardens of famous mansions, Bellingrath Gardens and the campus of Spring Hill College, and elsewhere.

Mardi Gras occurs during the Trail season and is always one of the many outstanding events which are associated with the great floral extravaganza.

Last year, an estimated 600,000 visitors rode along the Trail—an approximate increase of 100,000 over 1955.

A report from Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that dairy cows ate more silage and produced more milk when the silage was fed to them in a bunker than when they were allowed to eat it [illegible] silo.

Concrete should be used for Alabama's part of the National System of Interstate Highways

This state's part of the National System of Interstate Highways is a vital link in a road system that reaches every state in the Union, 42 state capitals and 182 of the 199 cities with a population of over 50,000. The map above shows this 40,000-mile network. These are the interstate routes authorized by Congress and selected by the Bureau of Public Roads and the various state highway departments. Although comprising only 1% of the total road mileage in the country, these key routes carry over 20% of the rural traffic.

These roads are essential to the smooth and economical flow of commerce; the swift movement of men and material in defense; the quick and efficient evacuation of cities in emergencies and the safe, comfortable and enjoyable travel of motorists.

The sections of the heavily-traveled Interstate System in this state should be paved with the longest-lasting, most economical pavement—Concrete. Concrete is moderate in first cost, requires little maintenance and lasts a lifetime. Result: low-annual-cost service.

And concrete is the safe pavement. Its gritty texture permits quicker, safer stops, wet or dry. And its light-colored surface reflects more light at night, providing better nighttime visibility.

Ninety per cent of the cost of these highways will be borne by the Federal Government, but the state must maintain them. The logical choice under these conditions is durable, low-maintenance-cost concrete.

600,000 4-H'ers Hunt Hazards

"THIS PLACE SURE NEEDS OUR 4-H SAFETY PROGRAM."

SAFETY is an important crop that's being harvested on the farms and in the homes of 600,000 4-H Club members taking part in the 1956 National 4-H Safety Program.

Through 4-H projects and activities, club members in all 48 states are correcting hazards which are responsible for an annual toll of 14,000 lives and 1,200,000 serious injuries among farm residents, and an economic loss estimated to be a billion-and-a-half dollars.

4-H'ers conduct surveys to locate hazards, and then correct unsafe conditions. They present demonstrations on a wide variety of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety, and members give talks over radio and television and before group meetings. In addition, club members build booths and displays for exhibiting at fairs and in store windows.

Realizing that motor vehicle accidents are responsible for over 40 percent of all accidental deaths among farm people, 4-H'ers are increasing their participation in motor vehicle safety.

In recognition of the outstanding safety work done by 4-H members, General Motors is again providing incentives in the 1956 National 4-H Safety Award Program. Included in the awards offered are four gold-filled medals for winners in each county; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for the state winner; and $300 college scholarship for the eight national winners. Certificates and plaques are also provided for clubs reporting outstanding safety programs on county and state levels.

The 4-H Safety Program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and the awards arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Complete information on the program is available from county Extension offices.

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records are pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up an important new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel. It set a new record of less than 57 hours for the run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

When you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ, the true significance of this record run becomes apparent. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. And when a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. Come try a Chevy.

Marbury FFA Boys Begin A Mailbox Improvement Drive

Members of the Marbury FFA chapter and Postmasters Bobby Fike, Marbury, G. C. Kicker, Mt. Creek, and L. C. Taylor, Deatsville, and the rural mail carriers, Clifton Stephens, Mt. Creek; Mr. Venzane, Deatsville; are all set to promote a mailbox improvement program according tto Clifford Manning, Vocational Agriculture Teacher and FFA advisor.

FFA chapters in Autauga County and over the state are constructing these stands for all rural families in their area that desire one. They are planning on constructing 45,000 mailbox stands immediately, at a very small cost per stand.

The stands will have a concrete post and concrete base. They are reinforced with steel rods. Wooden crossarms are bolted to the top to hold the mailbox. Inscribed on the side of the post are the letters FFA painted in gold, with glass beads to reflect light at night.

Mr. Manning states that these stands are attractive as well as convenient. He said that they could be moved from place to place without too much trouble.

"The local FFA boys will be glad to construct a mailbox stand for any family in this area that desires one," Mr. Manning said. Any family that wants one of these stands should get in touch with him at the Vocational Agriculture Building or see any local FFA member, or just tell the mail carrier about it.

CorsageCarrier Or Wallflower?

By Toni Woodward—ANS WITH THE GAY holiday season just around the corner it's none too soon to check your hair, your skin, your nails and your clothes to make sure they are appealing and invite invitations and romance. As for your teeth, they should be given year-around care. Experts advise that you clean your teeth after every single meal to keep them in the best possible condition. After using your tooth brush, gently draw a 12 to 14 inch length of dental floss between your teeth to dislodge particles of food that can cause decay and mar a sweet breath . . . then see your dentist at least twice a year.

A pretty smile is the most helpful way to keep you out of the sidelines and put you in the limelight, the year-around, with a corsage on your shoulder and a song in your heart.

Use Pigs Natural Sense To Save On Feed Bills

uburn—Pigs have sense — and s, as a matter of fact, can save dollars for you, the grower.

Every pig has a sixth sense about what to eat. And, if given [illegible] he will help his owner [illegible] feed bill.

The pig knows what he needs to eat and what proportions will give him fastest gains. Owners, recognizing this, cut feed bills by giving the pig free choice rations, thereby saving oil waste and grinding costs.

Research has shown fattening hogs by ground mixed rations or giving them free choice rations makes little difference in gain rate after the first 75 pounds. However, one experiment showed that gain costs were cut 11 percent by free choice rations.

Good feeding is essential in producing the lean meat-type hog—the one bringing the biggest market price. Full feed balanced rations from weaning to market are recommended, making full use of good green grazing, plus either corn and supplement free choice or a complete ration containing 16 percent protein.

Feeding too much corn with too little protein results in slower and more costly gains with thicker back fat and more lard.

But, the hog grower has come a long way in learning how to best feed his animals at lowest cost. The 1920 grower used 5.1 pounds of feed per pound of gain. Today, it takes 4.5 pounds of feed for each gained pound—a feed cut of 12 percent. We are reaching the time when the grower will put only 3.2 pounds of feed for each gained pound—a cut of 37 percent from the 1920 rate.

Are You Using Right Fertilizer For Land?

Many Alabama farmers cut possible crop yields by using the wrong fertilizer for their land.

Research revealed that eight percent of soils tested in the state needed a high phosphate and low potash ratio fertilizer. Yet, 69 per cent fertilizer sold have this ratio while 75 percent of soil needs an equal ratio.

Some pigs have 15 or 16 pairs of ribs instead of the usual 14.

Just Call Me Cupid

The counter down at Pete's was full yesterday, except for three seats near the end, so I plunked myself down on the middle one.

As I took my first sip of coffee a cute young couple came in—a girl in her early twenties followed by a fellow perhaps a year or two older. Without saying a word, they took the only two seats left—on either side of me.

Remembering my younger days, I insisted the young man take my seat so's they could be together. He hesitated at first, then finally he shrugged, grinned and said to the girl, "Wel.. le[illegible] make [illegible] happy. My name's 'Ri[illegible]' What's yours?"

From where I sit, there was no harm done that time, but jumping to conclusions can be embarrassing. In fact, it's sometimes mean and intolerant—like the way some folks jump to the conclusion a man's "wrong" to prefer a glass of beer over another beverage. Lack of facts coupled with lack of judgment introduces trouble.

When I broke the news to Bill that he had been drafted to make some household repairs . . . he took it like a husband. He pleaded aches and pains, and tried to put it off.

"Not today you don't m'lord," I intoned. "And for a change you're going to finish something you start. Yes, today you'll be a finisher."

And he was.

After trying in vain for months to get our wood floors to the same glossy brightness the ads always show I finally gave up and went to a lumber dealer for some tips. He told me the floors probably needed refinishing and gave me a pamphlet on the methods involved.

"This will help you plan the job more completely, Mrs. Riley" he smiled. "If there's anything else I can do, please let me know."

Nice fella.

According to this brochure it was wise to tackle our particular floor as a do-it-yourself project. The booklet and I, not Bill, decided that.

I had also learned from the dealer that the chemical corporation Pierce and Stevens, who publish the pamphlet, also produce several products for wood floor maintenance. What sold me on them was the fact they didn't push their products in the manual at all . . . but gave objective and detailed advice about floor finishing, period.

"Any company that can afford to do that must have confidence in its merchandise" I told myself. So, I got some Fabulon (the finish) and the job was one-tenth over. The other nine-tenths was getting Bill to work!

The job itself, as it turned out, wasn't tough at all; and the floors look wonderful. I suspect Bill sort of got a kick out of doing it, but of course he'd never tell me that! I guess a man is just a man!

I'm sure glad we had that manual, though. Anyone planning to do over floors should get a copy. It says inside you can send a dime to the company (they're in Buffalo, N. Y.) and get a copy, if your paint, hardware or lumber dealer doesn't have any.

MT. CREEK NEWS

Rev. Herman Lowery, pastor

We were blessed Sunday with two wonderful services.

We are happy to report that we had an attendance of ninety at the morning service and we had an attendance Sunday night of one hundred. We are grateful to the Lord for the progress of our church. There are no bounds to the advance of a church that has a pastor that is a God-called preacher and one that is willing to give the Lord the time that is needed on a church field in visiting the sick and winning the lost to Christ. We are proud to have a pastor that does all he can in that respect. Our attendance has almost doubled since the Lord sent Bro. Lowery to our church.

Won't you breathe a word of prayer for him and our church that we will continue to stay humble? Whereby we can continue to win the lost and the ones who have drifted away from the church. We still have many on our church field that never go to church.

Remember our church calendar:

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

If "Observin' Ervin" will make himself known and come to see us we will be glad to use his material. It is our policy to use no material unsigned by the author.

Braxton Bates, who was our sports editor throughout football season, says he will be back another year. Brax did a mighty good job of covering the football games and his work is very much appreciated by us. We've got to get to Santa's ear and tell him to be extra nice to Braxton for his service to us and the many sports fans that follow the Chilton County High School Tigers.

Amon Jones is really a off again, on again, gone again businessman. He sold his Jones Furn. Co., recently and then bought the Chilton Home Furnishing. Before you could say, "Send me a chest of drawers," Amon had sold that too. He's just moseying around now we supose looking for something to buy. You can't tell where he will land next.

Seeing a car rolling down the street without a driver, a man dashed from the sidewalk, clambered into the car, and slammed on the brakes. A second man appeared from the back of the the car, puffing and complaining, "Wha's the big idea? I'm outa gas, I'm pushing my car to a gas station, and you're the third quick thinker I've met in the last two blocks."

Miss Ruth Hicks informs us that she will return as our Stanton correspondent. This is news that will be welcomed by hundreds of her readers. Miss Hicks has been with the Chilton County News as Stanton correspondent for more than 15 years and she was widely read. We're looking for her first column within a week or so.

Red Glasscock informs that Chilton County has been chosen as one of two pilot counties in Alabama on Rural Development. Red says for this program to mean the most to Chilton County's rural families it is felt that a survey should be made so as to find out what we now have and in what farmers are interested. Questionaires have been sent out to all farmers in the county to accomplish this and it is the wish of those conducting the survey that all questionaires be filled out and returned at the earliest possible moment. Let's get on the ball now and help our Farm Agent to help us by doing all we can to make Chilton County a model for other counties of the state.

The little young lady of the house, by way of punishment for some minor misdemeanor, was compelled to eat her dinner alone at a little table in a corner of the dining room.

The rest of the family paid no attention to her presence until they heard her audibly delivering grace over her own repast, with the words, "I thank Thee Lord for preparing a table before me in the presence of mine enemies."

County Receives Large Tax Check

One of the largest tax-payment checks received by Chilton County in payment of 1956 ad valorem taxes was delivered to Mr. George D. Smith, tax collector, from Mr. O. W. Norton local Southern Bell Telephone manager. The amount of this check was $7,212.15.

Southern Bell is one of Chilton County's largest taxpayers. This check is part of an estimated $3,500,000 tax bill to be paid by Southern Bell to the State of Alabama and to the counties and municipalities therein for the year of 1956, exclusive of income, social security, and excise payments to the Federal Government.

In Rural Program--

Chilton One Of Two Counties In State Chosen For Development

"Rural Development," a special program designed to further assist farm people to equitably share in the high standard of income now being enjoyed by the great bulk of American people, has been launched in Chilton County.

The "Rural Development" program is a cooperative effort on the part of various agencies and all interested groups of Chilton County to bring about additional farm production and produce market outlets, and/or to develop industrial employment to give Chilton County citizens full employment.

Since the announcement of the fact that Chilton County has been elected as one of the two counties in Alabama to receive this special emphasis program, a number of Committee meetings have been held. Final announcement of program approach will follow a complete county wide farm survey.

Agricultural groups have determined that it is highly important that the wishes of our farm people be accurately recorded before program efforts are definitely launched. A questionairre has been prepared and is being forwarded to all farmers. Farmers are being requested to complete this questionairre and return to the County Agent's office at an early date. Agricultural leaders are proceeding on the assumption that farm program efforts cannot succeed without the sincere interest of farm product producers. The questionairre is designed to determine: County-wide interest in poultry or livestock commodity production, or desire for off-the-farm employment.

To be in line with our farmers' ideas of a better income-earning program, do we need more markets for farm commodities? If so, what commodities? Do we need more processing of the commodities we are now growing? If so, which commodities are farm people interested in producing in large volume to support a processing indusry? Are our farm people interested in off-the-farm jobs? If so, how many of our people want jobs off the farm? What age people and of what sex are the people that might be interested in off-the-farm jobs?

The above questions and many others are among those to be answered by the questionairre. Securing your answer is important to the future development of the county.

If you don't receive your copy this week, feel free to call or write the County Agent's office for a copy The wishes of all our people are needed. Complete a questionairre and return it as soon as possible.

Eminent Judge, Walter B. Jones Rules That It Is Boards Duty To Construct Adequate Housing For County Offices

Judge Walter B. Jones ruled in favor of Chilton County last Friday in the dispute over the validation of bonds. The validation of bonds had been opposed by a group of Chilton County taxpayers.

In the conclusion handed down by Judge Jones he stated that it was the duty of the Board of Revenue as the governing body of this county to construct adequate building for housing the offices and records of the county.

Herewith is Judge Jones' conclusion:

(1) "All actions and things required under Sections 169 to 176, inclusive, of Title 7 of the Code of Alabama of 1940 to be had and done in this proceeding preliminary to the making of the findings of fact, conclusions of law and decree of this court herein contained have been had and done in the manner provided by said title and sections of said code. Chilton March Of Dimes Workers Met Monday

Mr. Paul Waggoner of Birmingham, State Worker for National Polio Foundation and Dr. Ira Myers of the State Department of Public Health, Montgomery, spoke to Chilton County March of Dimes workers at the Chilton County High School lunch room monday night of this week.

Some very interesting information relative to the great work being done through this program was brought out. Dr. Myers stated that even though Chilton County's participation in the use of Dr. Salk's vaccine was a little higher than the average county in Alabama yet only a small percent of our children availed themselves of this protection. He further stated that this vaccine is now available for any and everyone regardless of age through commercial channels and to those between the ages of 6 months through nineteen years free by your local Health Department.

A very touching twelve minute film depicting the life and treatment of polio patients was shown.

Mr. Oliver Glenn of the Maple Springs Community expressed his most sincere thanks to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for the efficient services rendered when his little three and one half year old son, Bruce, was stricken with this dreadful disease two years ago.

'BIG VOICE' test in Gary, Ind., conducted by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, used banks of loudspeakers atop buildings and mobile units to reroute motorists and give "take cover" and "evacuation" instructions. Big Voice would supplement sirens in heavily populated areas to issue specialized civil defense instructions. The first such test in the nation took place on the opening day of Operation Alert 1956 with 32 loudspeakers in action. (Lewis & Martin Photos)

DATA-COLLECTING instrument canisters are checked by a technician before they are dropped by parachute from a B-36 seconds prior to the actual H-bomb drop during Operation Redwing. H-bomb Tests Vital to CD

The sky momentarily lights with the brilliance of a hundred suns, and then, within seconds, returns to the more subdued hues of a tropical dawn.

Another Hydrogen bomb test. More specifically, Operation Redwing, Cherokee shot.

AS THE PYROTECHNICS die away, there begins the real work of checking instruments, analyzing data, comparing Cherokee with former tests. Scientists in concrete bunkers only 20 miles from Ground Zero quickly begin to read their instruments. Planes, ships and rockets check the intensity of radioactive fallout and other effects of the blast.

Aboard a ship, the USS Mt. McKinley, about 37 miles from the blast, a party of Federal Civil Defense Administration observers remove their dark goggles. They, and others like them, must patiently wait for the scientists.

But they know that when the scientists have toted up the score, it will fall to them to refine existing techniques of population evacuation and shelter—perhaps devise new ones — to assure survival of the greatest number of persons if some day an American sky lights up like a hundred suns.

FARM BUREAU SPEAKS FOR FARMERS!!

IT'S GOOD TO BELONG

Three out of four organized farm families in America belong to Farm Bureau, and Alabama is one of the leading Farm Bureau states.

These families belong and pay their dues voluntarily without a check-off system.

They belong because they want to join hands with other farmers to help themselves.

They belong, too, because they have a voice in building their program of action. They know that, however well-intentioned, no other individual or group can truly represent them.

Thus, because its program is built and its policies dictated by the farm families themselves, your Farm Bureau is truly—

Make Christmas Sweets Early

Be smart and make your Christmas sweets before the last-minute rush gets under way. Orange Marmalade, made now and put into glasses, small jars or crocks, will be all ready for a bit of fancy packaging, or for tucking "as is" into family boxes or stockings.

Of course you will want to use liquid fruit pectin to make delicious marmalade the quickest and easiest way.

Orange Marmalade

Yield: about 7 medium glasses (3½ lbs. marmalade)

3 cups prepared fruit (2 oranges, 2 lemons)
5 cups (2¼ lbs.) sugar
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Remove skins in quarters from 2 medium-sized oranges and 2 medium-sized lemons. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With a sharp knife or scissors slice remaining rind very fine, or chop or grind. Add 1½ cups water and ⅛ teaspoon soda; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Section or chop peeled fruit; discard seeds. Add pulp and juice to undrained cooked rind. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes longer. Measure 3 cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the marmalade. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 7 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover marmalade at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

God Works Through Billy Graham

Billy Graham the dynamic evangelist whose amazing international ministry has been called "the phenomenon of the mid-twentieth century" has once again become the subject of a new and inspiring book.

Titled "Billy Graham," this latest literary account deals with the personal history of this amazing man, his message and his mission. It is an authentic, stirring account of the youthful preacher of the gospel, who at the age of 38 has probably preached face to face with more spiritually hungry millions than any spokesman for Christianity in all history.

Told dramatically and at first hand by Stanley High, senior editor of Reader's Digest, the story traces Billy Graham's Crusades from their inception when Billy as a teen age preacher barnstormed the South gathering in converts to Christ wherever he went. In his frank and objective biography explaining how the Crusades grew and grew first in scores of cities across the United States and Canada and later in Great Britain, Europe and Asia, High says, "Billy put religion on the front pages and made it the chief topic of man-in-the-street conversation."

What is of particular interest is that the [illegible] natural curi[illegible] people by graphically picturing behind-the-scenes workings of these highly successful revivals, how they are prepared, organized and financed. An itemized account of the fabulous Billy Graham Evangelistic Association which, from tens of thousands of small contributions received last year, spent $2,000,000 for Billy's radio, film and preaching ministry, is also described.

Such provocative questions as: What manner of man is this handsome young evangelist who has reaped this rich harvest of souls? Is he genuine? Do his conversions last? Is he merely a flash in the pan or is he really the religious phenomenon of our era, are candidly answered in the story of the North Carolinian, who world church leaders declare "walks at the side of God."

All of Billy Graham's diaries, records and personal letters were made available to Stanley High, who also did on-the-scene research in both America and abroad and followed in the wake of the Crusades, interviewing converts and ministers.

Heart-warming character sketches of the evangelist's lovely wife Ruth and amusing anecdotes about his four children in their hilltop home in Montreat, North Carolina, provide a wealth of human interest and show the basic simplicity of this most extraordinary of men.

"Billy Graham" was just published recently by the McGraw-Hill Book Company.

YOUNG IDEAS from Polly Ponds

Q.

"I think my fingers are too short and stubby looking. Would long nails and dark polish improve their appearance?"

A.

No. Long lacquered nails look silly on young hands and they're awfully hard to take care of, too! It's better to file neat fingertip-length ovals and tint them with a near-to-natural colored polish.

Lavish care on your hands as well, for chapped paws are never pretty. You can avoid unsightly roughness and redness by applying hand lotion whenever your fists have been in water. For added protection, choose a delicate pink hand cream or lotion that actually heals chapping while smoothing and softening your skin.

Your basic equipment is very simple --- a nailbrush, nail file, buffer and handcream or lotion. Use them regularly every day for the kind of hands you'll be proud to show.

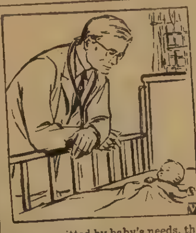
Your Infant's Needs

Rely on Your Physician For Baby's Special Menu

By Dr. Margaret Lyman
Educational Director
National Council on Infant and Child Care Inc.

Your baby's menu is indeed a highly individualized affair – having very little to do with any other infant's needs.

When a physician prescribes a formula and feeding schedule for an infant in his care, he does so on the basis of a variety of intricate factors. He takes into account heredity, prenatal factors, birth weight, bone structure, hemoglobin, coordination and disposition. Studying the infant's characteristics carefully and noting the rate of growth, he judges baby's specific nutritional needs regarding water, calcium, carbohydrates, protein and fat. All these in appropriate quantities are required for proper growth and development. An infant's formula is designed to guard against digestive disturbances, dehydration and an overburdening of the immature kidney function.



It must be admitted that although very special pains are taken to prescribe "just the right" formula, a healthy, sturdy infant is able to withstand an amazing degree of feeding irregularity. Perhaps it is this virtue that encourages some mothers to depart from the prescribed regimen and try "something new".

A competitive tendency is often involved in such efforts. Every young mother, is proud if her infant cuts a tooth earlier than the baby next door, if he walks earlier; if he talks earlier; and if he can eat three square meals a day.

The main hazard in not following a physician's advice becomes sharply apparent should the baby develop an infection or other illness. Nourishment that is adequate when the baby is well may no longer be satisfactory.

In such crucial periods the physician is familiar with the baby's reguair diet and is best able to treat the illness and adjust the infant's intake to meet the increased fluid requirements thus averting serious dehydration.

The physician designing a feeding schedule will consider the leeway permitted by baby's needs, the mother's ability to cope with a specific time schedule and the demands of other children for time and attention. Feeding times often can be geared to the general household schedule without making the mother's routine or the infant's routine dominant.

A young and inexperienced mother needs a physician's advice to determine where an infant's good appetite leaves off and "gluttony" begins. Dr. Harry H. Gordon of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, observes that some infants with large appetites triple their birth weight by the age of six months instead of the more customary period of one year. "Parents are thrilled because they interpret the infant's ability to ingest large amounts of solids and fluids as a sign of high intelligence", he adds.

When modifications of your baby's menu need to be made, it is a good idea to rely on your doctor to make them. This is a time-tested formula for a happy, well-fed child and a confident mother.

Arab Patriarch Holds Fond Memories of U. S.

Boulos Maoushi, the patriarch of nearly a million Maronite Christians around the world, is a native Lebanese who spent more than a decade of his life as a parish priest in the United States.

The tall, grey-bearded prelate was appointed last year as spiritual head of the ancient Oriental Catholic community by Pope Pius XII. Although many Americans may not be aware of the size of the Maronite sect in this country, the patriarch estimates that there are 100,000 members now living in the United States.

Patriarch Maoushi became well acquainted with these American Maronites during his service as parish priest in New Bedford, Mass., and Los Angeles. A man with a keen sense of humor and strong moral courage, he came to this country in 1923 to study conditions of the Maronite communities in the United States and Mexico.

"At the time I expected to stay on two years," he recollects, but his tour of duty was extended to 1934. During this period, almost all the Lebanese emigrants in America knew young Maoushi who devoted himself to community service. As a parish priest in Los Angeles, he launched a fund-collecting campaign to repay debts incurred by the local Maronite House and also managed to build the city's "Madonna of Lebanon" church.

"We had just completed our new church and I thought at last I could relax when I was called back to Lebanon in 1934 to become Bishop of Tyre," the 61-year-old prelate recalls. He succeeded Bishop Shukrallah Khouri, who died in the same year.

A man with a broad international background, the patriarch was educated in Lebanon, Rome and Paris, and is the master of seven languages. During his eleven years in United States, he absorbed the values of freedom and democracy, plus the intrinsic dignity of the individual, and today stands as a staunch supporter of all these values.

LIBERTY REGAINED

A PENNSYLVANIA PUBLISHER, THOMAS COOPER, AND A VERMONT CONGRESSMAN, MATTHEW LYON, WERE FINED AND JAILED UNDER THE ALIEN AND SEDITION ACT OF JULY 14, 1798, FOR CRITICIZING PRESIDENT JOHN ADAMS. TWENTY-FIVE OTHER AMERICANS WERE ARRESTED AND PERSECUTED UNDER THE SAME ACT, WHICH FOR A SHORT TIME THREATENED TO DESTROY AMERICAN LIBERTY.

THOMAS JEFFERSON FOUGHT AGAINST THIS 'REIGN OF TERROR' AND WHEN ELECTED PRESIDENT IMMEDIATELY PARDONED THOSE CONVICTED...

...OVER 50 YEARS LATER, CONGRESS AUTHORIZED PAYMENT OF THE FINES, WITH INTEREST, TO THE HEIRS OF COOPER AND LYON.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

A child wants to do more than stand and watch while mother enjoys all the fun of preparing for the Christmas season.

The very young like to get a spoon into the cooky dough. Older youngsters enjoy decorating for the arrival of Santa.

An easy way to keep children from under foot for hours is to give them colorful self-stick cloth tapes, plus a few old Christmas cards for design ideas. Created by Mystik in many colors, pressure-sensitive tapes stick to the wood walls of a playroom, and they come away cleanly, leaving no gummy marks.

If it's easier for the child to work at a table, add to the supplies a few sheets of clear plastic, waxed paper or other household wraps. The tapes stick well and the completed design can be lifted and mounted in one piece on the wall.

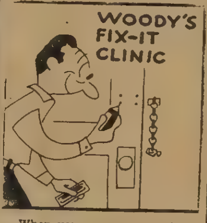
The water resistant tapes also can be used by children to create holiday greetings and designs on the glass of windows, garage doors, front steps and walks, for it sticks well to any dry surface, outdoors as well as in.

Chilton Midwives Met Recently At Health Office

The Chilton County midwives met recently at the Health Office in Clanton. A discussion of the new midwife's manual was led by Mrs. [illegible] each midwife was given a copy of the manual.

Future meetings will offer demonstrations by a nurse and return practice by the midwives. This is an effort made by the Health Department to insure the best possible maternal and child care when a midwife has to be used.

The midwives attending were Stella Davis, Maplesville; Alice Johnson, Maplesville, Rt. 1; Julia B. Tyus, Mt. Creek; Laura Parker, Clanton Rt. 3; Amanda Jackson Clanton; Armteen Spence, Clanton Rt. 2; and Emma Johnson, Verbena Rt. 2.



When you remove or replace a door lock, chain or latch the original screw holes may be left exposed. You can conceal these by filling them with Plastic Wood, slightly over-full Sand down when Plastic Wood has hardened. Touch up with paint or varnish stain to match surrounding surface.

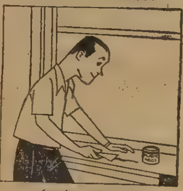
Paint doesn't look the same when it's wet as when it's dry. To find out quickly how it will look when dry, brush a little on a clean, white blotter. The blotter will soak up the solvents and the paint will look the same as it will when it dries on a wall or woodwork. (ANS)

Here's How You Can Do It Yourself



Condition Surface Before Painting

Preparation of the old surface is all-important if you want to be happy about the results of a do-it-yourself repainting job on interior woodwork.

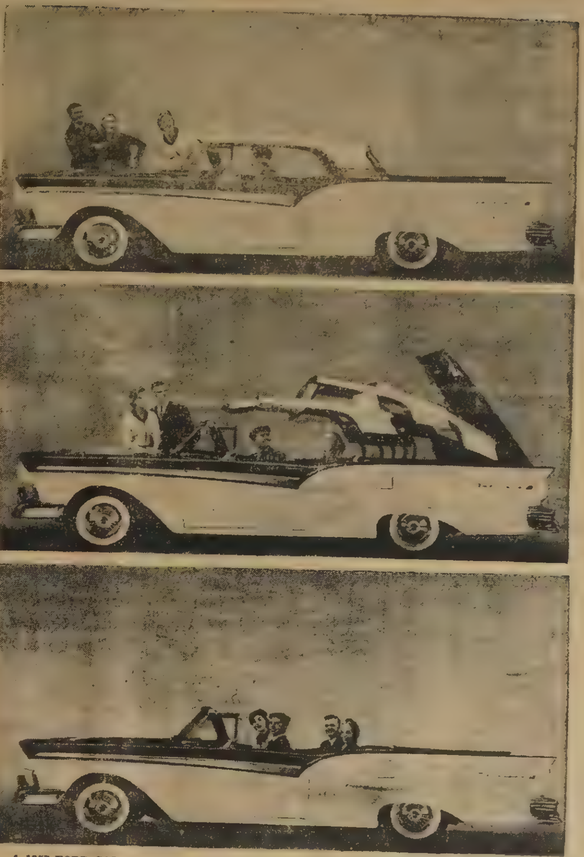
The first essential is to make sure the woodwork is clean and dry. Washing with a cleaning powder solution — about a handful of powder to a gallon of water — will remove dirt and grease, but if the woodwork has been waxed take the additional precaution of rubbing it down with a turpentine-moistened rag. Paint won't cling to a waxed surface.

Cracks, gouges and nail holes should be filled with Plastic Wood. Broken off or dented molding can also be restored with the Plastic Wood, shaping it with the fingers or any convenient small tool. Always build up the Plastic Wood slightly above the surrounding area. Sand flush and smooth when hard.

Any peeling or blistered paint should be removed by sanding, scraping, or with a paint remover. A piece of wire screening wrapped around a block of wood is helpful in scraping down very rough areas. It will do the job quickly, without marring the wood.

When painting woodwork that has been treated with a stain, seal with a coat of aluminum paint to keep stain from bleeding through. Always apply an undercoat when [illegible] light color over dark.

Automotive Headliner



A 1957 FORD CAR offering the advantages of both the hardtop and the convertible represents the first revolutionary new idea in automotive design since the development of the closed car 40 years ago. To change the hardtop into a convertible, the driver simply presses a button and the all-steel top automatically slides into the trunk where it is completely concealed. It's equally simple to raise the top. The center picture shows the top in operation. Production of the car, a Ford first, will start in January.

If the residents of Chilton County do not care to trade at home, nobody else will bother about it.

Travel by plane is increasing and will continue to increase whether you care to take to the air or not.

* * * *

Most family men know that this is the time of year when you start worrying about the bills you will spend January, February and March trying to pay so that everybody san say a big Christmas was had by all.

* * * *

Most every vacationist has now gotten over his vacation and within three weeks can start getting over the holidays.

* * * *

How is it that old friends can get so excited over politics that they become bitter enemies? It's just a matter of opinion anyway.

* * * *

We never knew a man who talked constantly that told us anything worthwhile.

GOING PLACES?

Between now and the Christmas holidays there will be more heavy traffic between Clanton, Birmingham, Montgomery and Selma than is usual and more care will be necessary if you are interested in being around when Santa comes.

Our hope is that more of your Christmas shopping will be done at home so that no chance will be taken in heavy traffic, but if you must make trips out of town in your automobile take every precaution on the highways. Many homes will be saddened at Christmastime because of death—let's not cause our home to be saddened by a needless death or accident.

NEW ORGANIZATION

The new organization promoted by the various clubs in the county to get a Civic Center for Clanton seem to be getting off to a good start.

With Callen Alred as Chairman things have begun to move and ways and means are being worked out for immediate action.

We are especially proud to see that this organization is not "just another" group who hold a few meetings and gradually die from lack of interest. The present groups represented mean business and we do not believe they will stop until the job is finished.

Our hat is off to them. May they be highly successful and if they fail it will not be because they do not receive this newspapers full support.

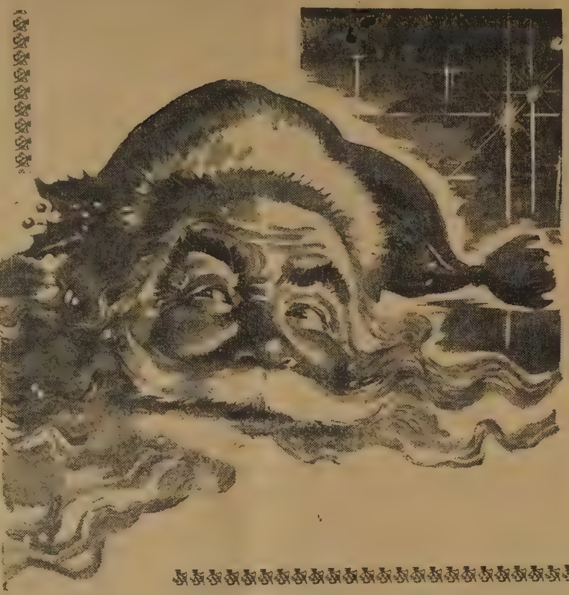
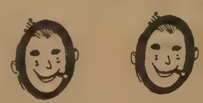
CHRISTMAS -- A Birthday



Old Santa has that mischievious look in his eye that thrills the young and brings fond memories to the older folks. We think, however that old St. Nick will agree with us that Christmas holds an even deeper and more satisfying meaning and that is, it commemorates the birth of Jesus Christ.

Let us all remember throughout this holiday season, that Santa Claus and the Spirit of Christmas mean much more to us than just toys, surprises and fancy eating. It is the season to remind us that the Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward All Men, that is foremost in the minds of good Americans could not and cannot be accomplished without the divine help of One who is so dear and means so much to us all.

things we See and Hear



By "TUCK"

Know what we heard? Santa Claus is coming to town. Probably just another rumor.

We're getting the old Christmas Spirit earlier than usual this year. Possibly because we feel better; possibly because we're in a more receptive mood for the gala Yuletide season than ever before. Whatever the reason, we're ready for the season and we only hope we have enough of the good, old fashioned, genuine spirit to last through the holidays.

County Engineer Lewis mentioned to us last week that he saw us out behind our house (he lives down the hill) one night last week with a light hunting a prowler or something. The joke's on us, Mr. Lewis, after searching high and low, inside and out, it dawned on us that "Crash" Brown was just blowing himself up about that time, and we felt sorta silly. It felt like someone had hit the side of the house with a giant baseball bat and we were stood four or five miles from the explosion. To "Crash" it must have seemed like that baseball bat was as big as the side of the house. Boy, did he have a headache.

Now we know why Christmas is so extra special to us this year. With two young sprouts running around the house, who can help getting the spirit, whatever the occasion? To our kids, Santa Claus means only one thing at this early age, that's a wangin (translation: wagon). Santa had sure better have a "wagin" on hand, cause we don't have an explanation as yet.

You know, contrary to popular belief, there are two sides to every argument, no matter what the situation. It seems to us that here are persons around these parts, who voice their opinions publicly to the point of saturation, who definitely do not believe in this basic principal of freedom. We cannot say who is right in this argument, be it County politics or domestic, but neither can we say who is wrong. Unless we're extremely abnormal in this respect, we don't think anyone else has these powers either. The next time someone's back is pounced on, no matter which side they're on, try not condemning them...at all. That's not for us to decide, and we know of no one who has the capacity to do this. Be critical if you will, they say it's the mark of greatness; but to be great, one must first have humility and a gentle hature, and above all, must have the ability to weigh facts instead of outweighing emotion. Try it next time, you critics and self-styled leaders of men.

Nothing is right with he who is not.

Jemison 4-H Plans Home Orchid Project

At the recent meeting of the Jemison 4-H Club, Mr. Sellers led a discussion on fruit trees and plans were discussed for a home orchid project.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Dwight Cobb. The vice-president, Kenneth Ellison led the group in repeating the 4-H Pledge.

Following a talk on pine trees and poultry, the group joined in singing, and was then dismissed.

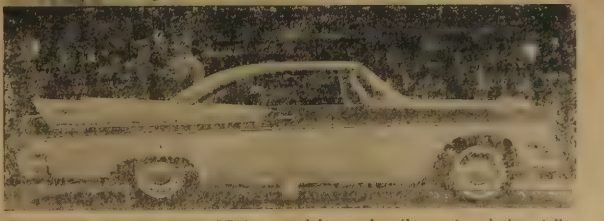
1957 Dodge Lancer Hardtop Five Inches Lower



THE 1957 SWEPT-WING DODGE, lower and longer, has the most exclusive styling and engineering improvements in history. Height of the two-door Lancer hardtop models like the Custom Royal Lancer shown above, has been reduced by five full inches so that the new Dodge stands barely four and a half feet high. Rear fenders sweep upward and backward to keynote the car's swept-wing styling, accenting a sport car appearance that is also a mark of the jet aircraft age.

Rev Jerry Batson, pastor

We are glad to say we had two glorious services Sunday and Sunday night. Bro. Batson preached two very inspiring sermons and everyone enjoyed them very much Then in the evening service, Howard Hayes was ordained to preach God's word. It makes our hearts rejoice to know that God reached down and called one of our young boys to preach His word.

Sunday is Howard College Day in our Association and as our pastor is new here, he is going to represent Howard College Day in our church. So keep in mind the preaching services Sunday and Sunday night.

Parts for the Christmas program will be given out so plan to attend both the services. We especially invite you to come and hear Bro. Batson preach.

Next Tuesday morning, Dec. 11 Mr. Henson and Mr. Cherry will be around in the community gathering the produce for the orphanage car for our Children's Home in Troy. So remember this date and have what you are going to give ready.

Training Union 6:30 p.m.

Last Wednesday night, the attendance at Prayer Meeting was very nice. Everyone who came enjoyed a wonderful sermon and songs by the Alley Sisters Trio.

The Sunday School attendance was very good also. The people who came received a blessing. We hope and trust that more people will come next Sunday. Pray for our pastor, that he may do God's will in his service work.

There were many people attending Training Union last week as were enrolled. We're grateful for this fact. All people who go to Sunday School should attend the Training Union also. So come on folks, we are looking for you.

In our community there are several on the sick list. Special prayer is requested for Mrs. J. Henry Johnson.

We were glad to have Mrs. Hudson back in our services.

The Building Fund is progressing nicely. We hope to have enough to begin work soon on the addition to our Educational Building.

Entertain At Firelight Buffet!

Take firelight flickering across a buffet table laden with warming, colorful food. Add a crowd of good friends, and you have a "bound-to-please" party.

Star of this buffet is Oyster Sweetbread Scallop. It's easily made and so tasty with one of those remarkable frozen condensed soups, oyster stew (10-ounce size) plus a few pantry shelf standbys. Sweetbreads, lend a glamour touch.

Casseroles are economical of time, effort and dishwashing of course. When you speed the preparation time with frozen oyster stew, you have something almost too good to be true. Leaves lots of time to concentrate on your guests!

To complete the menu, try some big popovers (and lots and lots of butter) plus holiday-bright fruit compote served from a brandy snifter. And plenty of good hot coffee. You'll have a menu suitable for almost any time of day, from brunch to a festive late supper.

Oyster Sweetbread Scallop

2 cans (10-ounce size) frozen condensed oyster stew, thawed
3 tablespoons sherry
1 tablespoon chopped onion
⅛ to ¼ teaspoon rosemary
3 cups coarsely crushed saltines (about 6 ounces)
1 pound sweetbreads, cooked and cubed (about 2 cups)
¼ cup butter or margarine

To thawed oyster stew add sherry, onion and rosemary. In a greased 1½-quart casserole, arrange layers of saltines, sweetbreads, butter and oyster stew; dot top with butter. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

GARNISH VEGETABLE SOUP WITH HOLIDAY CUTOUTS

For a timesaving method to make vegetable soup just like Mothers, there's an easy solution. It's the new old fashioned vegetable with beef soup that's condensed and frozen. The flavorful rich broth is just full of meat and vegetables.

For an interesting conversation piece, it's fun to top the soup with pastry cutouts. Roll pastry dough about ⅛-inch thick; cut into tree or star shapes with sharp knife or small cookie cutters; brown slowly in butter on each side. Float atop bowls of the fragrant hot soup. FNS

TB Seal Chairman Reminds Chiltonians Of Active Local Cases

There are 83 active, infectious cases of tuberculosis in Chilton County last year, according to a report made today by Mrs. Mabel Bean, chairman of the Christmas Seal sale in this county.

This statement was made to emphasize the great need to fight TB before it attacks more of our families and neighbors.

"As long as one case remains among us, every home is in danger," Mrs. Bean said. "Tuberculosis is a highly infectious disease, spread by a germ from person to person. Christmas Seals fight TB the whole year through. The money you give now, during this friendly Christmas season, stays on the job long after the holidays are forgotten.

"Everybody can do his part by buying and using Christmas Seals in all holiday mail and packages. The little Seals serve to remind us that tuberculosis can be prevented—that every death from the disease is a needless death—and that no home is safe until all homes are safe."

Persons who did not receive Christmas Seals in the mail are urged to contact the Chairman, who will be happy to send as many as you need.

Please mail in your contribution today.

Candy Patties Are a Holiday Treat

HOMEMADE CANDY AT HOLIDAY TIME is a treat which every homemaker would like to be able to offer her family and guests. But alas! Sometimes it seems one just can't find the time to prepare them.

Well, here's a recipe from Sugar Information, Inc., for a creamy concoction which we assure you can be turned out quickly, and with the greatest of ease. It's called Coconut-Mint Patties, and can be made up in a variety of colors for a really lovely effect.

Here is the recipe:

COCONUT-MINT CANDY PATTIES

2 cups sugar
½ cup milk
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
1 teaspoon oil of peppermint
⅔ cup chopped coconut
Food coloring

Dissolve sugar in milk. Add cream of tartar. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until a small amount will form a soft ball in cold water (238° on candy thermometer). Add peppermint, coconut and food coloring. Stir well. Allow to cool slightly. Drop by spoon onto waxed paper to cool.

Yield: 1½ dozen 2-inch patties.

Note: Mixture may be divided in half and half tinted green and the other half tinted red as traditional Christmas colors.

A skylight, dual-curve windshield wraps upward as well as around for extra light and vision. To provide a better highway illumination pattern, the Turnpike Cruiser has "Quadri-Beam" headlamps with dual 5¾ inch headlamps placed side-by-side under wide hoods on each front fender. Services: Sunday 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday School 9:45 a m and Prayer Meeting Wednesday night at 7 p m

You have a most cordial invitation to worship with us at any and every service

We were delighted to have Mr. Ekblad's brother from Chicago worship with us in the morning service. We hope he comes again soon.

Next Sunday we will observe "Universal Bible Sunday." If you have no other place to worship come and worship with us. A most cordial welcome awaits you.

The morning service will be conducted around the subject, "The Bible Speaks." Truly there is a message in it for every one and for every experience. May we more and more "Search the scriptures daily," to find this message. For too many of us read the Bible sparingly or not at all. We are reminded of the little verse by C. W. Vandenbergh "Bible in the Heart":

He knew the book from A to Z;
His mind had mastered every part;
A fine achievement, but alas;
It never got into his heart.

Does the Bible that we read get into our hearts? May we think seriously on this, and resolve to read it more, and much more seriously. "Receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls."—James 1 21

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

"Help Fight TB—Buy and Use Christmas Seals" is the slogan going the rounds. TB is still taking untold thousands of lives annually and you can help in the fight against it. "Buy and Use Christmas Seals."

All the stores, banks, etc., in town will be closed Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 25th and 26th. We don't rightly understand why the closing the day after Christmas. Could be to get over Christmas or something like that, but what are shoppers going to do about exchanging our gifts. That's the day we have always gone back to get the size neck tie to fit. Guess we'll have to wait until Thursday which is going to be bad, cause that's the day we start worrying about the first of the month bills. Oh well, guess at Christmastime Santa just can't win.

Glad to see Burton Mullins win first prize in the window decorating contest. It was our choice therefore we would naturally think the judges used good judgement. The Chamber of Commerce and the JayCees have done a good job this year with what they had to work with but they need more cooperation and more money to do a real job. Somebody is letting them down.

A very good friend sat at the cafe the other morning pondering over a cup of coffee. He was in serious trouble, although a prominent citizen and a man of quite some standing in the community. We were real sorry for him there as he worried over his coffee. He was just about in his cups. You see, his wife had given him fifty-cents for his daily spending money and then told him to bring home sixty two-cent stamps. We left him there with his problem, our heart bled, but you see, we face the same sort of problem each time we leave home.

Several highway accidents have occured in Chilton County recently and the motorists are not observing some of our most important highway laws. We are not refering to the one who had the accident but ther motorists. The law says that raffic must yield the right of way ambulances and police cars. This e have mentioned many times but is reported to us that this is not cing done. You are subject to arrest and fine when you fail to yield ght of way to police cars and mbulances and more care should e taken by the general public in ing this when they see the red hts flashing.

A navy recruit on guard had strict rders to admit no car unless it ore a special tag. He stopped a car arrying a high ranking officer and eard the brass instruct his chauffeur:

"Drive right through."

"I'm sorry, sir," said the recruit, eferentially, "but I'm new at this. ho do I shoot—you or the driver?"

Nick Carter, Local Favorite, Wrestles Here Saturday, 15th

The National Guard Control Board is sponsoring another professional wrestling match at the Clanton Armory on Saturday, Dec. 15, at 8:00 p. m.

Two matches are on the card, and four of the finest wrestlers in America are slated to appear here.

The first match will pit rough and rowdy, bearded Karl Kowalski, a real terror and one of the toughest grapplers in the business and Nick Carter, popular wrestler from Oneonta, Ala.

Nick is generally a clean sort of fellow in the ring, but will certainly mix it up if his opponent gets too rough. We know that Kowalski will get rowdy so Nick will go all out to knock him off.

Supporting this event will be another two out of three fall match between two outstanding girl wrestlers—Kathy Branch from Nashville and Belle Starr, the pretty lass from Columbus, Ohio.

These girls are two of the best in the nation and can really handle themselves in the ring.

Each match is a one hour limit affair.

Ringside tickets are on sale at Morrison's Furniture Store.

Hot Chocolate Eggnog

Combining the best features of a piping hot chocolate drink and the creaminess (but not the potency) of eggnog, this newly created winter beverage joins the ranks of treats for young-timers during the holidays. One envelope of chocolate milk shake mix is the ingredient that does the trick, and when combined with two eggs, milk, sugar, nutmeg, and vanilla, makes a creamy winter beverage that is especially nourishing for youngsters "on-the-go" during the busy holiday season.

HOT CHOCOLATE EGGNOG

1 package chocolate milk shake mix
4 rounded teaspoons sugar
1 cup water
1½ cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Dash of nutmeg

Combine Kool-Shake and sugar in a saucepan. Add water and mix well. Stir in milk and eggs. Heat, stirring occasionally. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Serve at once. Makes about 4 servings.

STANTON NEWS

Miss Ruth Hicks

Friday, Nov. 23rd, Mr. T. L. O'Neal, better known throughout this section as Tommie O'Neal, died in Texarkana, Texas. Mr. O'Neal was over eighty years of age and was the brother of Mr. W. M. D. O'Neal of Stanton. Funeral services were held on Saturday and burial in Texargana. To Mr. W. M. D. O'Neal and the bereaved loved ones we offer our deepest sympathy.

The Plantersville Eastern Star Chapter recently held their Annual Chicken Dinner and Bazaar. Many beautiful items were offered for sale, and very soon after the Bazaar opened at 10 a. m. every item was sold. The day was a very enjoyable one and a nice sum was realized from the dinner and Bazaar. Mrs. Zula Duncan of Plantersville is the Worthy Matron of this Chapter this year.

Friday night, Nov. 30, the Plantersville Eastern Star Chapter had the pleasure of having the Clarence Watherbee Conference meet in their Chapter Room. This conference is composed of Jones Chapter, Selma Chapter, Maplesville Chapter and the Plantersville Chapter. A large number from these Chapters attended. The Eastern Star Hall was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Olivia Apperson and Miss Ruth Hicks for this Conference with Christmas greenery with red berries. The refreshment table was covered with a red table cloth, hemstitched in white with an arrangement of red berries and greenery in a crystal bucket. A small red sled pulled by one reindeer also decorated the table. Refreshemnts of coffee and home-baked cup cakes were served. Mrs. Willie Pickering and Mrs. Janie Hethcox baked the cup cakes; these being in Christmas colors. Worthy Grand Officers at this conference were: Past Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Leila Holliday of Birmingham; Mrs. Lillian Gilliland, Past Worthy Grand Matron of Birmingham; and Mr. Clarence Weatherbee, Past Grand Worthy Patron of Selma.

The death of Mrs. Bennie Hardy of Maplesville came as a shock to the many, many friends in this and adjoining communities. Mrs. Hardy was buried in Selma Monday afternoon. Sympathy is extended the loved ones.

Mrs. Amanda Cole of Plantersville attended a two-day school held at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Birmingham, Nov. 25 and 26. This school was under the direction and leadership of Mr. Comer Syprett, internationally known hair stylist and instructor. Mr. Syprett operates a beauty school in California and styles many of the movie stars. Mr. Syprett has appeared on many radio and TV programs. Mrs. Cole was the guest of her son, Mr. Alton Cole, and his wife, and Mrs. Maude Stith while in Birmingham. She states that this was a very beneficial school and she feels that this knowledge will help her a lot in her work here as a beautician. Mrs. Cole owns and operates her own shop in Plantersville.

4,500 miles for $135.

Tourists Visit Bible Lands On Paris-Baghdad Autobus

With the inauguration of a de luxe autobus service between Western Europe and the Middle East, it now becomes possible for the tourist to travel from Paris to Baghdad by land, a stretch of 4,500 miles covering ten of the world's most interesting countries and almost a fourth of the earth's surface, at a total transportation cost of less than $135.

The first leg of the journey is from Paris to Munich in Southern Germany by French National Railroads, the second from Munich to Beirut on the shores of the Eastern Mediterranean by the Orient-Europa Pullman Line and the third from Beirut to Baghdad on the Tigris River by the Desert Train of the Nairn Transport Co. The countries traversed are France, West Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and Iraq.

Once in Beirut, home of the American University, the tourist is within a few hours drive or flight from Baalbek, the Graeco-Roman "City of the Sun," Damascus, the world's oldest inhabited city, the Crusader Castles and Cathedrals of the Levantine coast, Jerusalem and the nearby Biblical towns with the Holy Places of Christendom, the rose-red city of Petra in southern Jordan, Cairo with its Pyramids and Sphinx and the ruins of Luxor and Asswan in Upper Egypt.

If one chooses to go directly to Baghdad, he may take the Nairn Autobuses from Beirut or Damascus straight across the Syrian Desert through country made famous by Lawrence of Arabia. As the city of a "thousand and one nights," Baghdad is dotted with museums, mausoleums and mosques, including the golden-domed Mosque of Kadhimain, a Moslem shrine, and is washed by the waters of the Tigris River.

Within an hour's drive is Ctesiphon, once the winter palace of the Sassanian Kings with its enormous brick arch, and within two hours are the ruins of Babylon, once the site of the Hanging Gardens and the Tower of Babel. This economical cost is possible even though the ranges are used throughout the day from 9:30 a.m to 4:30 p.m.

Some contestants bake their prize recipe as many as four times, but win or lose, they all get a new range identical with the one they used during the competition.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

This Is How Gulliver Felt

A PINT-SIZED AMERICAN tourist inspects one of Britain's diminutive attractions, Bekonscot Village, complete with moated castle and manor house. Sightseers among the younger set will help swell Britain's visitors from the States to the record number of 280,000 this year. And that country is well organized to take care of the globe-trotting tots. By writing to the British Travel Association, 336 Madison Avenue, New York, parents planning to take moppets abroad can obtain at no charge lists describing the places of special interest, such as the Queen's Doll House at Windsor Castle and the Royal Mews on Buckingham Palace Road where a child may view the royal horses.

A Delicious Christmas Drink

Everyone does some special entertaining during the holiday season. The smart hostess is the one who plans not only for invited guests, but for those who drop in unexpectedly.

So often for callers and for little impromptu gatherings of friends, a refreshing drink, accompanied by cookies or cake, is sufficient to serve. And it is well to be prepared to offer a choice of beverages, since individual tastes differ. You might have a selection of pale dry ginger ale and some of the bottled fruit-flavored beverages, such as orange, true-fruit black cherry or grape. All of these are popular drinks, served thoroughly chilled, and they are good mixers for your favorite party recipes.

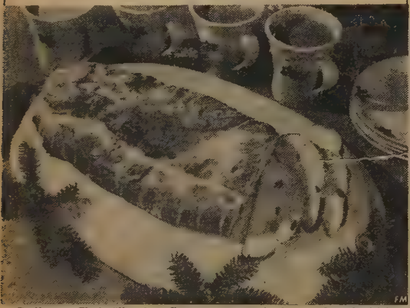
This drink, delicious in flavor and attractive to the eye, is one that you might like to try for your holiday guests.

Black Cherry Smash

Maple flavoring
? cup heavy cream, whipped
1 28-oz. bottle Canada Dry black cherry beverage

Add a few drops of maple flavoring to the whipped cream; blend in thoroughly. Line completely the inside of 4 tall glasses. Fill centers with ice cold black cherry beverage.

Stollen Makes a Handsome Christmas Gift



Stollen or Christöllen is a German yeast-raised sweet bread which is traditionally served at Christmas breakfast. Wrapped in bright red cellophane and a perky bow there is no nicer gift for special friends who drop in during the holidays.

STOLLEN

¼ cup milk
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 egg, beaten
2½ cups enriched flour
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup raisins
¼ cup finely chopped citron
2 tablespoons candied orange peel

Scald milk; stir in sugar, shortening and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Blend in lukewarm milk mixture. Add egg and half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top with butter. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour 15 minutes or until doubled in bulk. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Spread fruits over dough and knead to distribute them evenly. Pat the dough into an oval about 10" x 14"; spread with butter. Fold in two the long way. Press folded edge firmly so it won't spring open. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Brush with butter. Let rise about 1 hour or until doubled in bulk. Bake at 375°F. (moderate oven) for 40 to 45 minutes.

A Honey Of A Cookie

New "Honey Crunch Cookies", made with the favorite candy-coated puffed wheat, are an ideal Christmas treat. They're fun to make, easy to serve and especially good to eat.

Surely you'll want to keep your cookie jar filled throughout the holidays for family and friends who drop by to exchange greetings at tea time. Too, you'll want to package some of these crunchy cookies in fancy wrappings for the young 'uns . . . they make a perfect extra "little" gift.

Honey Crunch Cookies

½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup shortening
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup honey
1 egg
1 cup Sugar Crisp puffed wheat
⅓ cup seedless raisins*

Then add flour and mix thoroughly. Fold in cereal and raisins. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet about 2 inches apart. Decorate with candied cherries and nuts, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until done. Makes about 3½ dozen cookies.

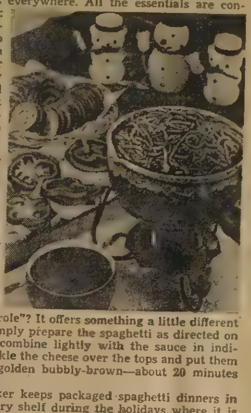
Packaged Spaghetti Dinner Perfect For Holiday Company

FOR THE HOMEMAKER SNOWED UNDER with everything that has to be done for the holidays, a complete packaged dinner is the answer to a prayer. Particularly when the dinner is one that has been created by a master chef.

A good example is a packaged spaghetti dinner, a great favorite with families everywhere. All the essentials are contained in one package: quick-cooking spaghetti, a delicious ready to heat sauce (with a choice of meat or mushrooms) and tangy grated cheese. Good news, too, is that it takes only twelve minutes from package to plate.



When unexpected company drops in around the holidays, keep it bubbling hot in a casserole over a candle-warmer so guests can help themselves. Serve it with a crisp salad, a pot of hot coffee and little Christmas cakes.

Have you ever tried this same spaghetti dinner baked "en casserole"? It offers something a little different as well as delicious. Simply prepare the spaghetti as directed on the package and then combine lightly with the sauce in individual casseroles. Sprinkle the cheese over the tops and put them into the oven until a golden bubbly-brown—about 20 minutes or so.

The wise homemaker keeps packaged spaghetti dinners in plain sight on her pantry shelf during the holidays where it is ready for instant use. (ANS)

SOUP IN SECONDS THE FREEZER WAY

The freezer can come to the rescue when it is homemade soup time. When soup is on the menu again, make enough for several meals and freeze it. In a little more than the time it takes to make soup for one meal, you can make enough for several with the aid of the freezer and approved packaging material such as Vapocans, square, waxed-board containers with rigid plastic lids.

All soups freeze well. Just follow your favorite recipe, undercooking vegetables slightly. Quick-cool the soup and package in square, waxed-board containers. An easy way to cool the soup is to place the pot in a sink of ice water.

To serve, slide the frozen block of soup out of the tapered Vapocan, place it in a sauce pan, cover, and heat over a low flame for around one hour.

FALLOUT DETECTOR aboard a specially-equipped former Liberty ship was used to gather data on radioactive fallout from the Cherokee hydrogen-bomb shot of Operation Redwing. The collection platform atop the foremast, or "king post," is loaded with various recording instruments. The readings were especially important because fallout is now one of the principal nuclear dangers with which civil defense must contend. Civilians will be told to seek shelter in basements, "cyclone" shelters and the like if fallout from a nuclear explosion is heading their way. (U. S. Navy Photo from International)

80 YEARS ON THE SAME PAYROLL — Frank J. "Yank" Hultzman of Corning, N. Y. has the longest service record in American industry. He started to work for Corning Glass Works in 1876, and was already a veteran of 30 years with the company when the picture at left was taken in 1906. Yank is at center, with blowing iron. He and a hand shop like the one pictured blew some of the world's first electric light bulbs.

At right, Yank is shown recently, looking over five minutes' production of light bulbs on Corning's famous "ribbon" machine. The machine turns out 2,000 light bulbs a minute — more than Yank and two assistants used to make by hand in a day.

Yank received his 80-year pin from Corning Glass Works on December 1, at a banquet in his honor.

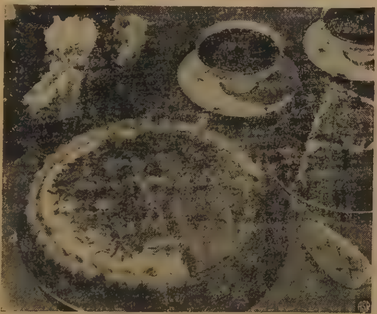
Dessert Starved? Then Try This "Light" Coconut Cream Pie



If you're not eating desserts because you've got the "low-calorie blues" then here's a new recipe idea worth singing about. It's a light, full-flavor coconut cream pie that'll help you keep the waist line down while you satisfy your family's sweet tooth.

The modern magic that makes this low-calorie pie possible is Carnation's "Magic Crystals" nonfat dry milk. This versatile miracle product dissolves instantly in the coldest water for delicious drinking yet it can be used in any recipe calling for milk and as a bonus it whips!

In this recipe, Instant is used both as a liquid and whipped

LIGHT COCONUT CREAM PIE
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)

1 package (3¼ ounces) vanilla pudding mix
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
2 c. liquid "Magic Crystals" Instant (mixed according to package directions)
½ cup ice water
½ cup "Magic Crystals" Instant nonfat dry milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1½ cups shredded coconut
9-inch single crust baked pie shell

Combine pudding mix and unflavored gelatin in liquid Instant in saucepan. Cook over low heat according to pudding directions. Cool until thickened (about 45 minutes). Beat until light and fluffy. Pour ½ cup ice water into small mixing bowl. Add Carnation Instant nonfat dry milk. Whip until soft peaks form. Add lemon juice and whip very stiff. Fold in sugar. Fold vanilla, whipped Instant and 1 cup coconut into pudding. Pour into cooled pie shell. Toast remaining coconut in moderate oven (350° F.). Sprinkle on pie. Chill 2 to 3 hours.

[illegible] Mars Brownies

Looking for an unusual way to serve your holiday brownies? Pile them high on a decerative sleigh midst a jolly winter scene centerpiece.

And by the way, we've just come across a wonderful new brownie recipe developed by Mars Inc.'s test kitchen. Made tasty and chewy by the inclusion of candy bars, these brownies boast a truly unique flavor. In addition, they are simple to prepare and so delicious that you'd best make up several batches—they're bound to disappear in a twinkling of an eye.

MARS CANDY BROWNIES

¼ cup butter, softened
½ cup sugar, granulated
2 eggs
3 Milky Way candy bars
4 tablespoons milk
¾ cup sifted flour
½ cup chopped walnuts

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Melt candy bars with milk in the top of a double boiler; add to mixture and blend well. Mix nuts with flour until evenly distributed. Add to mixture and blend just enough to mix ingredients together. Spread batter in an 8-inch square greased and floured baking pan. Bake in hot oven 400° for about 30 minutes. Remove from oven; place on cake rack and mark off in squares when still warm. After the brownies are completely cool, remove from pan.

Yield: 16 squares

California Oranges A Holiday Tradition

There was a time that a big California orange in the toe of a Christmas stocking was a rare treat reserved for special occasions such as Christmas. Although oranges still are flavor treats, they are available everywhere, every week of the year. The large California oranges in the markets this time of the year are called navels. You can tell them by the navel formation at the blossom end and their bright natural golden color. Best of all, they are seedless and easy to peel, so are "naturals" for eating whole.

Whether you're in the process of wrapping gifts or having a family get-together for the holidays, a tray of Peppermint Stick Oranges makes a welcome sight. Just cut a small hole in the top of each orange and insert a peppermint stick. Tuck a couple of holly leaves on the side and you have a most impressive holiday snack. Each person can pull off the peeling, pull apart the sections and devour the orange with great relish.

THE POINSETTIA

Attracted by the beauty of a wild plant, Dr. Joel Poinsett, first U. S. Minister to Mexico generations ago, sent cuttings back o his South Carolina plantation where they thrived vigorously and eventually gave all of us the familiar Christmas plant which perpetuates his name.

our poinsettia may last until next Christmas and even afterward, with care. When the leaves begin to dry cut off one-half the growth, put it in the basement, water it every few weeks. Plant outside in June in partial shade; bring inside in early September, keep at 65 degrees

R. F. Holley's Celebrate Golden Anniversary; Enjoy Visitors

Joy and happiness reigned Sunday, December 9, when Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Holley celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their lovely home on Old Thorsby Road.

Telephones and phone calls kept the honored couple busy all day as local and out of state friends wished them happiness on their anniversary.

Their spacious home was beautifully and tastefully decorated with yellow roses, yellow and gold snapdragons and greenery throughout.

From two o'clock until late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Holley greeted their friends as they arrived and received their congratulations and best wishes. Mrs. Holley was charming in a navy blue sheath dress with rhinestone clips at the neckline. Her corsage of white carnations matched the boutinere which he wore.

Mrs. J. D. Wells registered the guests as they arrived. The home echoed with happiness as their many friends exchanged greetings and reminences of happy events of recent and of earlier years.

Soft candlelight from a brass candelabra with gloden candles lighted the dining room. The table was covered with a cloth of gold overlaid with lace and centered with the beautiful three teired white cake decorated with yellow roses and crowned with the Golden Wedding emblem.

Punch, mints, and the wedding cake were served by Mrs. Houston Nivens and Mrs. J. D. Williams assisted by Mrs. Dock Culver, Mrs. J. B. Ray and Mrs. Flossie Patter-

Pictures of the honorees were made by Mr. Scott of Clanton.

Later in the afternoon the many beautiful gifts were opened by the happy couple who expresed their gratitude to friends for their thoughtfulness and friendship thru the years.

Each and every one who called during the afternoon and evening were graciously welcomed and their hearts made glad as they shared in the joy of the happy occasion. Departing friends continued to experience a warm glow in their hearts as they thought of this fine Chrisian couple and the long years of useful service which has been theirs in this county and in other states where they lived while in construction work before retirement to their own beloved friends and home in Chilton County.

Gifts, letters, telegrams and calls continue to pour in as friends from near and far join in congratulating them and wishing for them many more years of usefull service and happiness.

Travel Money Tips

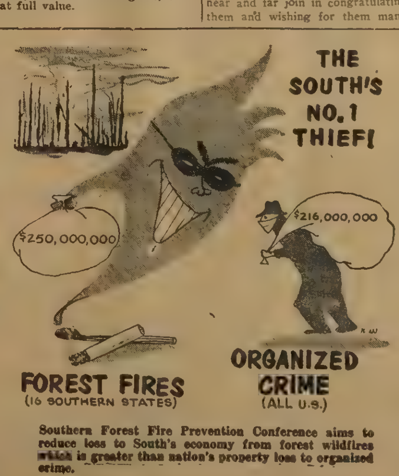
If you have any doubts about travel being a major industry you can forget them. This year a record $16½ billion will be spent by some 82 million vacationing Americans. Worldwide, another 40 million travelers will visit places outside the borders of their own countries, spending another $4 billion.

With so much ready cash bulging the pockets of so many people on the move, many a trip is bound to be marred by money mishaps. And most of these losses can be avoided, say the experts at American Express, world-wide specialists in getting people and money safely from one place to another.

While traveling, men should carry their wallets in inside pockets and remember not to flash big wads around. Women should hold tight to their bags at all times. And while it may sound corny, don't let a glib-talking stranger sell you the Leaning Tower of Pisa, London Bridge, or a guide concession inside St. Peter's at Rome. Don't laugh—gullible travelers fall for such swindles every year.

When checking into a hotel make it a habit to lock your valuables in the office safe. It doesn't cost a penny. Avoid carrying a lot of cash. It always convenient to carry your money in the form of travelers cheques. You can buy them at almost any bank, and they can be spent anywhere—like money, except that you are completely protected against loss.

These cheques—that's the way American Express still spells it, rather than "check"—are accepted, like coin of the realm, in every corner of the globe, and at full value.



Southern Forest Fire Prevention Conference aims to reduce loss to South's economy from forest wildfires which is greater than nation's property loss to organized crime.

Look's like we're getting into that Christmas weather as well as the Christmas season, doesn't it?

THE CRITIC

The thing that One thinks is right
Another often times opposes.
One finds the rose bush full of thorns.
Another finds the thorn bush full of roses.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS BUSY

Everyone is getting the Christmas Spirit early if the crowded condition of our streets and stores is any indication.

Realistic shoppers have learned that to get the pick of the merchandise they must shop early. Along about Christmas Eve it is a case of taking what is left over—and picked over.

Shop early this Christmas—and shop at home.

LET'S NOT KID OURSELF

Are you doing your share in trying to get new industries to come to Clanton and Chilton County?

Do you think that under present conditions we have a chance in the world to get industry to locate here at all? If so you are kidding yourself.

Until the backbiting and snipping stops among ourselves we have very little chance of growing. We cannot progress. We can't look a man straight in the eye and tell him that he would better himself and his business by locating here when at the mention of a progressive step half the county yells to high Heaven "it can't be done."

Under present leadership we have a new hospital, a landing field at our airport second to none in the state for a city of our size, a new nursing home under construction, more paved roads under construction than ever in history, and before long a health center and a new civic center we are sure.

These all under the strongest opposition and with a fight for every new project from the "aginners."

Think of what we could accomplish in Chilton County if we would work together. We sincerely believe that most of the citizens in the county want a new courthouse but are fighting the leadership instead of fighting the idea.

If you think that we are going to improve our county and our living conditions under the present methods of "finding fault, and condemning" instead of "boosting" then you are kidding yourself.

LIFT FOR THE LUCKY

Decision from the golf course White House, at Augusta, Ga., that 15,000 more Hungarian refugees are to be brought to the US by Christmas if possible, or shortly thereafter, launches a combined sea-air maneuver that will involve 20 four-engine planes of the Military Air Transport Service, and four sea-going transports under direction of the Navy.

This 'Operation Safe Haven" is described as the largest mass movement of people in peace-time history, but we would doubt that travel agents, accustomed to the vacation-time mass migrations out of the US, would agree. And besides, you could hardly call it peace-time in Hungary.

The feeling has also been expressed in some official quarters that the job could be done more quickly and economically by established commerical transport facilities. Since it is estimated that the operation will require 12 million dollars out of the President's pety cash account, this is an average of $800 per head. If the existing air and steamship lines could not provide the required services—from point to point—for less than this, today's travel facilities are not what we had thought them to be.

What is considerably more important, however, is the question of whether the best we can do is to aid the escapees—and leave the patriots to the merciless Mongolians that Russia has sent in to exterminate them.

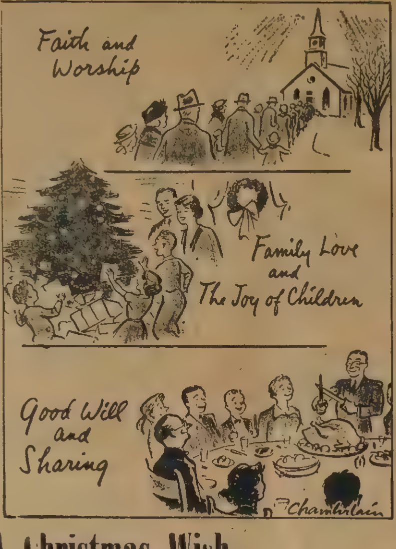
THE TRUE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS



A Christmas Wish--

I like to think that there will be
On Christmas Day, around each tree,
A feeling of the presence of
The Child God sent us with His love;
That there, beside each girl and boy,
He'll be, and sharing in their joy.
I like to think that, all the while,
The gifts unfold, I'll see Him smile;
And that He'll hear our caroling,
And know it's for the thanks we bring
To God the Father, for His birth,
To be among us on the Earth.
O, may our Christmas time be ga:
But let's remember it's His Day—
Let's find a place for prayer in it,
And so have Jesus share in it.
—Carl Helm

things we See and Hear

By "TUCK"

You know, night driving on the open road has a language all its own. Take a typical incident such as driving behind a big truck, the giant of the road, on a dark night. He'll nearly always use his turn indicator or his arm to signal an all clear for passing. Or if its not safe and you start around, he'll usually warn you with a touch of his break. But it's not a one way conversation. When you're safely around him after his helpful guidance you'll flick your lights a time or two and he'll always say "you're welcome" with a similar flick of the lights. You see, there's a language of the road that's understood by everyone; and to heed the language is to aid yourself and others while driving. You'll find no one on the highway any more courteous than the average truck driver. Return the courtesy he shows and make the highways as safe as the coffee stop. "Thank You" can be said in so many ways without even moving your lips or using your tongue...just flick your dimmer switch. You might be surprised that you feel friendly towords the other party, but actually it's just like shaking hands or saying "hi, Joe." You may fight each other at the red lights and the intersections, but practically all of us feel a little closer together on a lonesome road on a dark night (no puns, please)...a "hi, Joe" gives us a warm glow inside and "you're welcome' with a dimmer switch is just as self-satisfying as a pat on the back or a handshake. You try it.

Ho, ho, ho; we surely do like the theme of the Claud Craig's Christmas decorations this year. How true it is; how up-to-date and at the same time how old-fashioned. It's the true Christmas Spirit, to our way of thinking. Now all we need is a line over the lead line that reads something like "we now have;" wouldn't that be something to celebrate on Christmas. The day will come.

And speaking of decorations; we think the little town of Maplesville has done itself proud this year on its fine taste and good choosing of its Christmas lights. The place is literally lit up like a Christmas tree and, we tell you what you do, ride over and take a look at it. Someone put in some hard work and considerable thought, we think it deserves a look see by you and your family.

We went down to Grandpa Yeargan's place last Saturday to find "ye olde Christmas tree" and we found it, too. After considerable hiking and a little tree scaling, we found what we wanted. Took us half a day and the covering of about a hundred or so acres, but the end justified the means, or something like that, and anyway, we got to eat dinner with grandma and grandpa Yeargan on their 49th year together (anniversary). They were married on the place and have lived and farmed there for nigh onto a half century. The only time they have moved was about a half block and we wouldn't consider that moving. We love 'em both and respectfully hope that they spend their fiftieth through their seventy-fifth right on the same acres and above all, together. They're fine folks. (course, we're a little prejudiced).

The Class of '52 (dear old CCHS) of which your very sincerely and truly respectful is a bona fide member. (Yeh, they fired the teacher). Anyhow, we got out (er, finished) and, well, what we're trying to say is this; the Class voted to have a reunion in five years and the time is nigh. On New Year's Eve night the Class will hold its reunion in the dining hall of Bob's Cafe here in Clanton. Now, we'll honestly remit that we have absolutely nothing in common with practically the entire graduating class, and we'll also lay it on the line that they feel the same. Well, as long as we're spoutin' off about it, we'll also lay a few odds that you'll find you have a lot more in common than you think, once you've talked to the old classmates. What we're trying to say here is, that we think you'll enjoy the get-to-gether even if you are afraid you won't. We'll be there...with bells on, that is. (Hang, we're not good at saying anything, are we?) And oh yeah, practice crying in your Coke will ya, they've let us in or the fact that Auld Lang Zyne will be there, and you know him. He ain't nothin' but a...tear jerker. Har har, fooled you.

UNDER THE STUDY LAMP

By WILLIAM CROWE

An Acknowledged Mistake -- A Mark Of Wisdom

"I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly." — I Samuel 26:21.

A big admission for a king to make! But Saul the King of Israel did it. And it was about the kingliest thing he ever did. After a long period of inexcusable hostility, accompanied by vicious mistreatment of one of his most loyal subjects, he awoke to the futility as well as to the wickedness of his conduct and made the humiliating confession that is quoted here.

"To err is human". Alexander Pope wrote that, but the fact is so self-evident that he need not have wasted his ink. Experience, candid and stern as it is, declares its truth to all of us. If we are honest with ourselves, certain conclusions about ourselves are beyond argument. Some people try to save face, as the Chinaman would say, by laying the blame of erroneous action that is caused by erroneous judgement on somebody else. But it's no use. Other people are not as easily fooled as such folks may think. Why not be as straightforward about it as Saul the King; "I have played the fool."

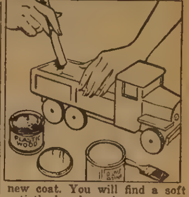
Thus far, this discursive homily seems merely to have stated the case. Is there any constructive suggestion within reach that might be worth while? Probably so. Suppose we try. How about the old adage to the effect that experience is a great teacher? Of course here is nothing new in that old saw, but we must all admit that we are unpardonably careless about applying it.

We are told that when Henry Clay Frick was offered his first weighty position with the Carnegie Company, he expressed to Mr. Carnegie his fear that he would make mistakes, to which the mighty steel magnate replied: "Of course we expect you to make mistakes, but our one requirement is that you don't make the same mistake twice."

Right there is where the testimony of so many church people who are given to carelessness in conduct breaks down. Mistakes? Yes. But too often repeated moral backslidings, that, had at first been heeded as a warning, would have saved the influence of the professing Christian from being neutralized in the minds of an unbelieving public. Filled with remorse he must admit that he had been playing the fool.

One word more, if you please. When one honestly and humbly concedes the truth about his errant behavior, he is taking the first step toward a type of living that meets the approval of right thinking people—and of the Almighty. The way is opened. Therefore, why continue to play the fool?

Toys Your Children Have Outgrown Can Brighten Christmas For Others



If your children's closets are cluttered with outgrown toys, why not let them brighten Christmas for other, less fortunate children? Probably the toys have been given hard usage. Even so, with a little of your time and effort they can often be made as good as new.

Weak joints of wooden toys can be strengthened with glue, nails or screws. Plastic Wood will fill cracks, holes or gouges. Build up the Plastic Wood a little higher than the surrounding surface. Sand it flush and smooth when hard. Sand any areas of chipped or flaking paint.

Use steel wool to remove rust and chipped paint from metal toys. Then apply a zinc-dust or iron oxide type of primer to all bare metal surfaces that require painting.

Interior enamel will give a durable finish on both wood and metal. When painting over old enamel that is still glossy, sand it lightly before applying the new coat. You will find a soft artist's brush easiest to work with in painting small areas.

Children who are teething will chew on practically anything. If you are refurbishing a toy for a teether, consult your dealer to make sure the paint you are planning to use contains no harmful ingredients. Most interior paints, including enamels, are safe for the crib-and-diaper set.

Christmas Is A Jolly Time--Keep It Such

MAKE IT A WHITE CHRISTMAS — Be Careful

You who are reading this are probably some child's father or mother, or grandparent, or favorite aunt or uncle.

You are, therefore, Santa Claus to some much loved child or family, and Christmas is coming.

Each time you get in your car, try to remember this. Why not try to remember, as you take the wheel that your family, or others dear to you, are looking forward to a jolly, family Christmas?

In a special proclamation on the need for more traffic safety, Governor Folsom has warned us all that the festive air of December breeds extra hazards on the road. December is also the month when the hours of darkness are at their maximum, and everyone knows that night driving, especially after a day of working, is more dangerous than daylight driving. Don't take that little extra so-called "Christmas cheer" before you leave a friend's house to drive home—you may never make it.

Let the holly wreath hang gaily on your front door—not a wreath swathed in a black ribbon.

Have Santa Claus visit your family at Christmas—not the mortician. For yourself, and others—please drive more carefully.

ome "Be Careful" Hints--

Enjoy A Happier, Safer Christmas

he Tree—

Use a tree that hasn't dried out prolonged storage.

ng the tree indoors just before tmas and take it out as soon terwards as possible.

The larger the tree, the greater hazard, so don't get one any rger than you require.

ghting—

Do not use candles on the tree or arby, where there is any chance an open flame to contact the tree combustibles piled beneath the e.

Use only electric lighting sets that bear the UL (Underwriters' Laboratories) label.

Check lighting sets each year before using for frayed wires, loose connections, and broken sockets.

Be sure the fuse on the electrical circuit you use is not over 15 amperes. Card sets with a fuse on the plug, bearing a UL label, are available.

If any extensive holiday wiring is planned, call a competent electrician; don't try to do it yourself unless you are so qualified.

Don't plug too many cords into one outlet.

Make certain that all tree lighting is turned off before leaving the room and designate one person to make a final inspection of every room at the end of the day.

Decorations And Wrappings—

Untreated cotton batting, paper, and certain cloth will ignite easily and burn with great intensity unless they're "flameproofed." Santa Claus whiskers have caused Christmas tragedies; be sure they're "flameproofed," too.

Gifts—

Toys operated by alcohol, kerosene, or gasoline are especially dangerous; they may upset and set fire to children's clothing, the tree, or to the home itself.

Don't set up electric trains or spirit-fueled toys under a Christmas tree.

Flameproofing Solution—

9 ounces of borax
4 ounces of boric acid
1 gallon of water.

"Cal-Bama" Marines Learn Use Of M-1

San Diego, Calif.—"Mark three"—"Run 'em up and disk 'em"—"A bull at six o'clock"—are familiar calls to members of the Marines' "Cal-Bama Company."

The Cal-Bama Company," more than 40 young men recruited as a group from the Alabama-Florida area, and now training as members of recruit platoon 1053 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here, know what these rifle range idioms mean.

"Mark three" is—"Mark target number three so that the shooter on the firing line knows what the value of his last shot is."

"Run 'em up and disk 'em is—"Run the targets up whree they are "Run the targets up where they are where their shots have hit and what their scores are."

"A bull at six o'clock is—"A shot that has hit in the black, centered at the bottom of the bullseye."

They will use this jargon for the next two weeks of their training which will be spent at Camp Matthews, the Marine rifle range, 12 miles north if the Recruit Depot. It is here that they will receive instruction in Marine marksmanship.

On the range, the "Cal-Bama" Marines receive both open-air "Classroom" study and practical application periods in the proper use, care and strategic function of personal weapons such as the M-1 rifle, .45 caliber pistol and Browning Automatic Rifle.

Special emphasis is placed on training with the M-1, considered the "Marine's best friend."

Expert instructors thoroughly explain and demonstrate proper sling adjustment, accepted firing positions, correct sight alignment, trigger squeeze, marking of score boogs, proper handling of targets, estimating and correcting windage and elevation data and cleaning and maintenance of the M-1 rifle. They apply what they learn on the all-important final "record day" firing which determines how well each recruit has learned his range lessons.

The return to the recruit depot from the rifle range is made in traditional infantry fashion—on foot. Field marching packs are carried on their backs.

Back on the parade field, constant drills, ceremonies and parades, and practice of the manual of arms on the march will result in "polish" and discipline, to be completed prior to graduation on December 20.

School Lunch Room—

Your reporter had the privilege of visiting the school lunch room recently and would like to comment on the visit.

The facilities are really nice and are kept in an orderly manner.

I noted new cafe style curtains which add to the attractiveness of the room. The food was well prepared and tasty.

To prepare food for so many is really quite a task. Those serving were very pleasant and courteous.

The community has reason to be proud of this service for the children.

The '57 Pontiac is America's Number ① Road Car!

Months ago, Pontiac set its '57 sights on producing an engineering classic—the greatest road car in automotive history! How well did they succeed? One answer is pictured here, the all-new '57 Pontiac itself, a car so advanced in concept that other new cars merely emphasize its outstanding design, its brilliant array of first-time features! The other answer is the public's response to this road-ruling beauty. From every quarter of the nation has come wave after wave of confirming praise! Praise for Pontiac's styling—its crisp, colorful lines and flowing contours that accent beauty built in, not hung on! Praise for new Level-Line Ride, the advanced suspension system that cradles you in cloud-soft comfort. Praise for Pontiac's ease of handling! Praise for the brisk and eager response of its all-new Strato-Streak V-8 engine! And underlying this tremendous voice of approval is the confidence felt in a car which has undergone the greatest road test in history . . . Pontiac's grueling 100,000-Mile Marathon Run! Yes, this year it's Pontiac all the way! Come in and see it! Come take the wheel of America's No. 1 Road Car!

Our next meeting will be January 4th at the home of Mrs. Gladys Glenn.

We thank God for the many blessings that he bestowed on us Sunday. Even though our attendance for Sunday School and Training Union fell short of the goal that we had set for the day. We are sure that those who were present received inspiration to go out and do more for the Lord from the message Rev. Hornsby brought us from God's word. Not only were the mesages great blessings from God, but the election of Rev. Hornsby as our pastor was another great blessing.

We are happy to report that the following have brought their letters to our church: Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby, Mrs. Ethel Easterling and Mrs. Mitchell DeVaughn. We are also happy that Mr. Sam Beard came, making a profession of faith. We are sure that our church has been strengthened spiritually by the addition of these people into our midst.

We still hope to reach and even go over our goal of sixty for attendance in Sunday School and Training Union.

Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby and Bobby visited Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bowden Saturday night. Then they and the Bowdens and Mrs. Gladys Glenn and boys visited Mr. and Mrs. Morris Patterson and Sue on Sunday.

Rev. Hornsby and several of the men visited some of the sick people in our community Sunday afternoon.

There are quite a few sick people in the community that need our prayers.

The RA's presented a program after the prayer services last Wednesday night for the Week of Prayer. We appreciate the work these boys are doing and we hope they will keep up this good work.

Our WMS Ladies enjoyed meeting in the different homes three afternoons and one day of last week to have their Lottie Moon Christmas Program. They enjoyed studying about and praying for our missionaries.

We are planning to have our Christmas program on the fourth Sunday night, Dec. 23rd. Everyone is invited to come and be with us and hear the message that Brother Hornsby will bring in connection with the program.

We were glad to have some visitors with us Sunday morning and night. We invite everyone who can to come and worship with us in every service.

Yule Tip

A sturdy Wheeling Ware garbage pail, filled with sand, makes an ideal Christmas tree holder that won't tip over. Occasional watering of the sand during the holidays helps the tree hold its needles longer, and reduces danger of fire. White cloth or batting draped around the pail gives a pleasing snow effect. With its snug-fitting cover and bail handle, the pail may be used for safe storage of tree lights and fragile ornaments during the rest of the year.

MEMO TO MOMS—

Kids get their socks mixed up? Devise a color code: blue for Sue, black for Jack, Red for Ned, and sew a few of the proper stitches in the toes. No more arguments.

Today there are 67 percent more children under five years of age than there were in 1940, and the number of births in 1955 reached 4,200.000 against 2,538.000 in 1940.

ALABAMA FARMERS SHOWING ADVANCEMENT WITH F.H.A. CREDIT

Annual gross cash income grew from $2169 to $4557 in five years for a group of Alabama farm families who obtained Farmers Home Administration farm ownership loans in 1950 to buy, enlarge, or improve their farms, the agency's State Director James T. Lunsford reported today.

The average net worth for these 166 farm families advanced from $3616 before they got their farm ownership loans to approximately $5790 at the end of their fifth year of operation under that loan program.

Before the loans were made, the average family in the group was operating 97 acres, but was operating 103 acres in 1955. The combined value of equipment and productive livestock owned by the average family in the group was $2080 before the loan was made, and was approximately $3016 in 1955.

Figures showing these advances, together with five year progress along other lines, come from a survey of 1955 borrowers who obtained loans in 1950. A similar survey is made each year. The 1956 figures will be available in 1957 showing five year progress made by those who got their loans in 1951.

Farm ownership loans are made to buy family-type farms, enlarge undersized farms, develop farms, and refinance debts. Funds come from private lenders under the insured loan program or from annually appropriated funds, and are amortized for periods up to 40 years. On an average the loans are repaid in 9 years. Insured loans are limited to 90 percent of the fair and reasonable value of the farm. A loan to buy a family-type farm cannot be made if the fair and reasonable value of the farm is more than the average value of efficient family-type farms in the County.

Mr. Lunsford reported that real estate loans amounting to over one million dollars have been made since July 1, 1956 to eligible farm families of Alabama.

A Message to High School Boys and Girls and Their Parents

Even when the first institution of higher learning was founded in Alabama more than a hundred years ago, there was recognition of the demand for people educated in some field of science or engineering. The need has grown year by year. It has mushroomed in the last 20 years. New inventions, new methods, new uses in this modern world call for more professionally trained men and women than ever before. The shortage of trained personnel that exists today is expected to continue for a number of years, because the advance of science will not slow, but rather will grow, in the fields of research, industry, agriculture, ground and air transportation, atomic energy, electric power, chemistry, industrial production, human comfort and health.

If you are a high school student, and if you have an interest in what makes things work, in how things grow, find mathematics and "puzzle" problems interesting, it might be worth your while to seriously consider specializing in some branch of engineering, science, or physics when you enter a college.

Many top-flight engineers and other graduates in scientific subjects have been graduated from the University of Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and other Southern colleges and universities. Many of them have found employment with Alabama Power Company and other electric power companies in the South, and now hold responsible positions. Others have found eager acceptance for their talents in various Southern industries, as well as elsewhere in the nation.

May we suggest that you talk to the student advisor of your school, particularly if you are a junior or senior. If you have a liking for the scientific and engineering field and apply yourself during your college years, there should be little doubt about your ability to get a job when you graduate. If your funds are limited, your student advisor, science teacher, or principal can tell you about the attractive scholarships available to promising students.

A Call To American Industry--

NAM President Asks Jobs For Needy Hungarian Refugees

Cola G. Parker, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, has called upon industry to give every help, especially jobs, to the 5,000 Hungarian refugees who fled their homeland during the recent revolt against Russian Communists. They are being admitted to our country—to begin life anew, in freedom.

"Never before have we had a better opportunity to show our Republic's dedication to the welfare of individual human beings," Mr. Parker said in his statement to the 21,000 members of the NAM.

"I call upon each and every one of you. Give these casualties of Communism food. Give them shelter. Give them understanding. But more than anything else, give them jobs. They have fought Communist tyranny tooth and nail. They have had to fight against tanks and big guns with sticks and stones, and with their bare hands. Untold thousands have died. Other thousands have gone to a fate worse than death—to the slave labor camps in Siberia.

"Them we cannot help—not yet.

"But we can help the living, especially the 5,000 refugees who are being brought on our shores.

"Others have offered them food and shelter, religious understanding, temporary relief. We of industry can offer them something in addition. We can give them jobs—a chance to make their freedom secure.

"We who have so many blessings can open our homes and our hearts to them, and show them that the blessings of liberty are no mere words, but realities on which men can build.

"As President of the National Association of Manufacturers, I call upon every member to help in this great cause. Never have we had a better opportunity to show our Republic's dedication to the welfare of individual human beings.

"I call upon each and every NAM member to give these casualties of Communism food. Give them shelter. Give them understanding. But more than anything else, give them jobs."

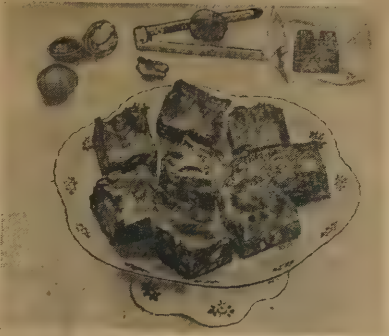
Christmas Begins in the Kitchen



KITCHEN-MADE GIFTS ARE A DELIGHT to those who receive them, because there's always something particularly flattering about that feeling of "This was made especially for me." This chocolate-nut fudge is a natural for Christmas giving because it has a creamy, rich chocolate taste and keeps well.

Pack the fudge in pretty gift boxes, or for a very special present place a few pieces on a candy dish such as the one shown. Cover with a transparent wrapping, tie with colorful ribbon, and present the fudge to a friend who will know Christmas really does begin in your kitchen.

CHOCOLATE NUT FUDGE

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- ¾ cup milk
- 2 cups sugar
- Dash of salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup broken nuts

Add chocolate to milk and place over low heat. Cook until mixture is smooth and blended, stirring constantly. Add sugar and salt and stir until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils. Continue boiling, without stirring, until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 232° F.). Remove from heat. Add butter and vanilla. Cool to lukewarm (110° F.); then beat until mixture begins to thicken and loses its gloss. Add nuts. Turn at once into greased 8x4-inch pan ... cold, cut in squares. Makes 18 large pieces. (ANS)

Why Down The Chimney, Santa?

Why is Santa pictured as coming down the chimney? One story goes back to pre-Christian Germany and Hertha, goddess of the home. At the winter solstice, which is about the time of Christmas, families kindled a fire of fir boughs inside their homes, and the goddess supposedly descended through the smoke to bring them good luck.

The legend carried over into old England, where Santa was credited with coming down the chimney to clean it of soot so good luck could come in.

We still like to think of it as an old American custom.

Lutheran Church News—

The service next Sunday will be conducted by Rev. James R. Darnell of Birmingham. It has been some time since Rev. Darnell occupied the pulpit in Concordia Church and we are most happy to know that he is to be with us again. He comes to us in the place of Pastor Boggs, who will be with us on Christmas Eve. We hope that you will come out and hear this fine speaker.

Rev. Paul Hamsher of Faith Church in Birmingham preached a fine sermon here Sunday on the second coming of Christ. He also told his listeners how we should prepare ourselves for the commemoration of the Birthday of Christ. To realize the full meaning of Christmas and not lose ourselves in the busy hum-drum which takes place now days and makes us forget the true meaning of Christmas. It was indeed a most inspiring sermon.

Bear in mind the Christmas service which will be held on the Eve of Christmas at 11 o'clock midnight, and coming to a close promptly at 12 o'clock. We hope to have special music for you to enjoy as well as congregational singing of Christmas carols. Rev. J. R. Boggs of Montgomery will bring the Christmas message, and we can assure you that it will be well worth your time to come and hear him.

The Women of the Church will hold their annual Christmas party on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 19th, at the home of Mrs. Erle Ellis in Clanton. This is always a big event and we hope that all members will plan to attend.

The Free Gift Of Christmas

by James Hyslop

All mankind's sympathies and attention were captivated because of the way in which God sent His Son into the world. A baby, a mother, a housing problem, a starr night, quiet shepherds, a divine announcement ... these things provide the romance the pathos, the tender appeal of the nativity. They are simple enough to be understood by the lowly and unlearned, and universal enough to command the attention of sages and kings.

The virgin birth was only the beginning of a life which, in all its aspects, is related to every person. John tells us that He was the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world. Into a despairing world therefore, Christ brings the light of hope.

Of all the millions of human beings born previously, not one had been able to provide the solution to the world's crying needs. If the Incarnation is a fact, as I believe it to be, it certainly means that 2,000 years ago the Lord God decided that the hopelessness of humanity had been fully demonstrated. And to hopeless humanity, God presented His Son as a gift: "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son" (John 3:16). He did not undertake to force Him upon the world. Here was a free gift to be accepted or rejected according to individual or collective preference.

But, wonder of wonders, God's gift to the world was despised and rejected of men. That rejection proved a fatal defectiveness in the life of every person, religious or otherwise. We human beings drove our Messiah from this planet. But you and I, as individuals, must face the challenge of His life and of His person.

Christianity declares that redemption is still available through His life and death. God's offer of salvation continues to be presented with all the gentleness and loving grace suggested by the nativity. The promise of forgiveness, life abundant and life eternal comes today from a risen and glorified Saviour: "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with Me" (Revelation 3:20). What have you done with God's gift?

Alabama Grown Christmas Trees Are Safer, Prettier

Alabama may be far fram Santa Claus land, but not too far too grow Christmas trees—and our trees are safer and better looking than imported ones.

API Extension Forester Ivan R. Martin said this week that Alabama farmers are gradually going into the Christmas tree business. Now only three-fourths of the trees sold here are imported.

The home-grown trees prove better because they are fresher. Freshly cut trees hold their needles longer, retain their natural fragrance, are easier to decorate, and they're less of a fire hazard than the drier shipped-in varities.

The big seller among our trees is the eastern red cedar. Other native species, beginning to see duty as Yuletide trees, are Virginia pine and the short leaf pine. The Arizona Cypress tree, an imported species raised here, is becoming more popular. It is a non-allergic tree.

Martin said any tree will dry out rapidly in heated homes and recomtingmended several steps to avoid turning the tree into a fire hazard:

First, obtain a fresh cut tree. Cut off the trunk at least one inch above the original cut end. Immediately place the tree in water and keep water level up during the tree's stay in the house. Do not add fire retarding chemcials to the water—they reduce the tree's water intake.

He also recommended use of one of these formulas for praying trees: Mix nine parts of sodium silicate with one part of water; or mix seven ounces of borax, three ounces of boric acid, one and one-half ounces of soap powder, and two quarts of hot water. Apply either mixture to tree with fly sprayer, laundry sprinkling bottle, or vacuum cleaner sprayer.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.—St. Luke 2, 11,

So proclaimed "to all people" the angel of the Lord on that day those centuries ago—that we today, no matter how grievously we have stumbled and fallen, may know the love of a blessed Saviour and Redeemer, through Whom we may yet be lifted up, by the hand of God.

City Clerk's Office Closed 25th And 26th

The Clanton City Clerk's Office will be closed, due to Christmas holidays, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 25th and 26th, 1956.

The date of the Regular City Council Meeting has been changed from Monday night, December 24, 1956, to Friday night, December 21, at 7:15.

Actual Birthday Of Jesus Is Still An Uncertain Date

It is not surprising that the day and year of the birth of Jesus are uncertain, for methods of keeping track of dates during the era when Christ was born were not very reliable. For years, eminent scholars have been searching the scriptures, and all possible records, to try to establish an exact date. So far, they have not suceeded.

Matthew states that Jesus was born during the reign of King Herod which helps to establish the period of his birth and this is the starting point from which scholars attempt to reckon the year.

The statement by Matthew that the wise men from the East, in inquiring "Where is he that is born King of the Jews?" aroused Herod so that he ordered the massacre of all children two years old or less, is very significant. It is taken as proof that Jesus must have been born about two years before this infamous decree was issued.

No less an authority than the Catholic encyclopedia places the Birth of Christ in the year which, by our modern methods of keeping track of dates, would be 7 B. C. Thus Christ's birth does not exactly determine the difference between B. C. and A. C. date.

Most people, however, do not care if the exact day and year of [illegible] most is the [illegible] vigor [illegible] spirit throughout the world.

Pine Cone Legend

Once upon a time—according to Harz mountain legend—a poor miner's wife was gathering pine cones in the forest. It was just before Christmas, her husband was ill, and there was no money in the house for food. So, she gathered the cones and sold them to the villaegrs for kindling—obtaining enough for the day's necessities.

One morning while she was looking for such cones a little im jumped out of a huge fir tree.

"Here, here are the biggest, driest cones of all! Take these," he shrieked jumping up and down excitedly.

Suddenly, there was such a shower of cones that the poor woman was frightened. She tried to run away, but could not move until the little imp had filled her basget. And having started home, the basket grew heavier and heavier—she wished the elf hadn't disappeared. he might have helped her.

When she finally reached her hut, she called the children to help carry the basket inside. Emptying the basket, they found that every cone was solid silver.

Commemoratnig these legendary silver cones, gilded pine cones are sold in modern stores, to decorate our homes—to burn and crackle gaily in our Christmas fires.

ONE SOLITARY LIFE

Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office.

He never owned a home. He never set foot inside a big city. He never travelled two hundred miles from the place where He was born. He had no credentials but Himself.

He had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves

His executioners gamble d for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying—and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all armies that ever marched and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put togther have not affected the life of any upon this earth as powerfully as that One Solitary Life.

NO BLACK CREPE FOR CHRISTMAS

You who are reading this are probably some child's father or mother, or grandparent, or favorite aunt or uncle.

You are, therefore, Santa Claus to some much loved child or family, and Christmas is coming.

Each time you get in your car, try to remember this. Why not try to remember, as you take the wheel, that your family, or others dear to you, are looking forward to a jolly, family Christmas?

In a special proclamation on the need for more traffic safety, Governor Folsom has warned us all that the festive air of December breeds extra hazards on the road. December is also the month when the hours of darkness are at their maximum, and everyone knows that night driving, especially after a day's work, is more dangerous than daylight driving. Don't take that little extra so-called "Christmas cheer" before you leave a friend's house to drive home—you may never make it.

Let the holly wreath hang gaily on your front door—not a wreath swathed in a black ribbon.

Have Santa Claus visit your family at Christmas—not the mortician. For yourself and others, please drive more carefully.

GO AHEAD! PASS IT!
NOBODY'S WATCHING

But note this: nearly 42,000 men, women and children will die in traffic accidents this year, if the present rate continues!

Help Prevent Traffic Deaths

FIRST—Drive safely and courteously. Observe speed limits and warning-signs. Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

SECOND—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Holly is for beautifyin',

Those jokers puttin' up that holly
Don't know what they're missin'.

Well, folks the Yuletide Season being enjoyed by us all is coming to a climax and this coming Tuesday morn we will celebrate the coming of Jesus Christ into this world. This day of days should be of joyful celebration for us, but too it is a solemn time of reverence; an awe-inspiring day which has meant so much to the people of the world for almost 2000 years.

It's hard to describe the way in which some folks commercialize Christmas. They use it solely as a means of added income to line their pockets and make it easier for them in this world. Admittedly, we all tend to commercialize the season, but we like to feel that the majority of the people still feel a deep sense of the closeness of the Christ Child even during their modern work-a-day world.

We like to think that while mother is buying dad a new tie, she is doing so with the Spirit of Giving in her heart; or while Junior buys sis a new sweater he is thinking that maybe that's what the day is all about...

This 'feeling,' which most of us share, is Christmas, and don't judge yourself or your neighbor too harshly for buying, selling, or what have you, it's part of the Spirit of the Day. However, don't let's let the commercialization so occupy us that we DO forget the true meaning. Our personal opinion is, that the true meaning and the holiness, the tradition and the inspiration of the day are more than enough to assure that Mr. and Mrs. Average American have not and are not likely to forget just what Christmas means to us all. It's His day, and on that day be at peace with your neighbor, the world, and most important of all, yourself.

Certainly sorry that Bro. Lloyd was a bit under the weather the week before last, but he's up and out again and says they gave him a clean bill of health. Mighty glad to hear that sir; you know the old saying, "you can't keep a good man down."

That "wangin" that old St. Nick is supposed to leave son Ben, had certainly better become a reality or we shall have a problem. The other night, after we told him that Santa Claus would come down the Christmas tree because we didn't have a chimney and just about where he would deposit the treasure, he had us open the front door so he could tell the "Santa Claus" on the door "Ont wangin!" He's going to be certain that old Santa knows just what the score is.

People who live in houses shouldn't throw Coke bottles. Let that be a lesson to you, fellas!

Santa Claus is here to stay,
We know that for a fact;
But when installment two comes 'round,
Oh, my achin' pack.

We think that a young'un who expresses himself to the effect that he thought a certain gathering "stunk" or "that party was crummy", is a direct, and we might add, distasteful reflection on their parents. They plain and simply should be taught better. If a child doesn't like it and feels that way about things, he should be directed, at home, not to express his opinions in public. Nothing sounds more ungracious than someone belittling the sincere efforts of another, we don't care if they are three or 30. You parent just take note.

10,701 Salk Shots Have Been Given In Chilton County

Since the March of Dimes program is in progress for aid to polio victims, we would like to tell the public what has been done toward trying to prevent this terrible disease.

As of October 31st, 10,701 inoculations have been given in Chilton County to children from 6 months through 19 years of age and to expectant mothers.

We realize that some of the parents are still afraid to let their child have the polio protection because of the scare we had in May of 1955. None of that vaccine was brought to Alabama. We give, of course, the Salk vaccine.

As far as we know there have been no reactions and it has been two years since Chilton County has had a case of polio reported.

Let us all work together to eliminite this terrible disease. If your child or teen-ager has not had the vaccine go to your private doctor or come to the Health Department and ask about it.

Don't Let Christmas Make You Lose Your Head While Driving

Christmas is a joyous, bustling and exciting season. And it is just these elements that too often contribute to tragic accidents, according to Jeanne Smith, Dodge safety consultant.

Both motorists and pedestrians are apt to be so preoccupied with holiday plans and festivities that they let their guard down in traffic—and that's when accidents are most likely to occur, she warns. Here are Jeanne's suggestions for a safe holiday season:

1. Stay Alert—

Don't let excitement over holiday plans and preparations divert your attention from careful driving and cautious walking.

2. Slow Down—

Inclement weather and more hours of darkness during the holiday season make it doubly important to reduce speed. Don't be over-anxious to reach that gala party or to complete your Christmas shopping. Last Christmas, excessive speed was the most frequent driver violation.

3. Be A Careful Pedestrian—

More than half of the traffic accidents at Christmas time involve pedestrians. Don't let your enthusiasm over selecting the right gifts cause you to forget common-sense rules. Never carry packages or umbrellas in such a way that your vision is blocked. Most important, cross only at corners and pedestrian crosswalks. Never dart into traffic from between parked cars.

4. Be A "Cool" Driver—

The holiday rush and bustle often leads to tensions and impatience. Traffic is heavy. Control your temper when behind the wheel and never take unnecessary chances.

5. If You Drink, Don't Drive—

At holiday social affairs where drinks are served, don't drive if you have had even "one for the road."

YOUR HEALTH

IMMUNIZATION

Preventive medicine is the positive approach to good health; yet many parents through lack of information, carelessness or personal foibles fail to give their children the protection of immunization.

Good health through immunization can be obtained. Today, such diseases as diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid fever, whooping cough, and scarlet fever have been greatly reduced in severity or almost eradicated. And the next few years will tell the story of the protection against poliomyelitis.

Smallpox for example, is a serious disease and highly contagious. There is no known specific treatment of smallpox, but vaccination will prevent it. Because the length of protection afforded by a smallpox vaccination is not known, a revaccination every five to seven years is recommended. Because this practice is not consistently carried out, sporadic cases of the disease appear occasionally.

Diphtheria is another serious communicable disease that can be prevented through inoculation. Infants should be given toxoid injections during the first year of life and periodic 'booster' inoculations later.

Whooping cough can still take the lives of infants. Immunization should be started within the first few months of life. This injection too should be followed by subsequent booster shots.

Tetanus or "lock-jaw" as it is more commonly called, is another disease for which there is almost foolproof protection.

These are a few of the conditions that can be controlled through immunization. Today's children are the adult population of tomorrow. Your contribution toward promoting a healthier nation can be achieved by giving your child protection against disease through immunization.

Needy Children Must Depend On You For Christmas

Children in their ow nand foster homes for whom the county departments of pensions an dsecurity offer services are in special need of a happy Christmas, Commissioner J. S. Snoddy said today. Every county director is prepared to participate in local Christmas projects, the Commissioner pointed out, stressing however, that no public funds can be used for other than financial aid and boarding care.

"While adults need Christmas, too, our first concern is the children," Snoddy declared. He explained that over the State there are about 60,000 children in their own homes for whom aid payments cover less than necessities. There are over 1,000 other children in foster homes for whom public funds will not pay for Christmas gifts.

"Children are at board because of some crisis in their own homes," Snoddy explained. "The boarding parents give them care and understanding until they can be reunited with relatives or some other permanent plan can be made. Meanwhile, it is the agency's responsibility to make certain they have a happy Christmas."

Citing how the county departments serve still other children, Snoddy pointed out that they keep in touch with boys and girls in private child-caring institutions and in the training schools, that they work with children on probation from the latter schools or coming before juvenile court, and they give counsel to families where child welfare problems arise.

Governor Urges All To Help Cut Traffic Deaths In December

Gov. James E. Folsom has called on all Alabamians to help "check the shocking traffic toll" and has warned that there are four main reasons why traffic deaths could zoom upwards in December.

In a proclamation making December "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" month, the Governor says:

"I ask all our citizens to consider the four main influences on (abnormal) December traffic death toll: speed too fast for conditions, drinking and driving, extended darkness, and pedestrian errors."

Governor Folsom has therefore has asked all citizens "to exercise the proper restraint upon their personal conduct during this holiday season, and to back the official stepped-up accident prevention program in the State of Alabama.'

In the preamble to his proclamation, the Governor notes with grief that "the nation's traffic fatality roll is approaching a record high of 41,000" and that therefore "immediate and positive action must be taken in the face of this mounting traffic toll to make every American conscious of the necessity of safe driving on highways and city streets."

HOME-SICK MAN CUT FIRST TREE

To August Imgard, a home-sick immigrant tailor, goes the credit for introducing the Christmas tree to America.

Imgard came to this country in 1847 to visit his brother in Wooster, Ohio. With the prospects of a dismal Christmas for the first time away from his native land, August decided to bring to his newly adopted home all the Christmas spirit and festivities he had loved so much in Wetzlar, Hessia. To his young nephew and neice he would show how Christmas was celebrated in the old country.

First, he needed a Christmas tree. This is the way he described how he got it: "I walked up Apple Creek .. When I got to where the trees were I found the water so high I could not get across. So I walked along until I found a tree fallen from bank to bank and crossed on that. I cut a tree and carried it to the fallen log. But to get across this time I had to tie the tree to my neck and crawl on hands and feet. People looked at me with considerable curiosity when I walked through town with my tree."

Adept with scissors, Imgard cut his own paper ornaments and a local tinsmith fashioned a shiny star for the top.

Our attendance for Sunday School is still lower than it should be. We hope that those who could come, but just aren't doing it, will soon realize the importance of going to Sunday School as well as other worship services on Sunday. It is also important to go to prayer service on Wednesday, for many things have been accomplished through prayer. This Christmas season will be a good time for anyone who hasn't been attending to start coming and celebrate the birth of Christ in the right way.

As Sunday will be preaching day at our church, our new pastor, Rev. Roy Hornsby, will be the speaker during the worship hour. We extend a warm invitation to all who can to come and hear this wonderful, willing servant of God as he speaks the truths of God's word.

We are going to have our Christmas program and Tree in connection with the worship service Sunday night, so all who are interested, be sure and remember to come if you can. We will be glad to have any visitors who would like to visit with us.

We are thankful that we at last have a new floor in our building. It adds so much to the comfort and appearance of the building. We appreciate everything that everyone did to help make it possible.

Remember prayer service and Family Night next Wednesday night, December 26. We hope that everyone can be with us that night as it will be right after Christmas and there will be much to be thankful for. We also need to begin praying that our church will be willing to do more fully God's will in the coming year.

Nativity Scene Sylacauga Park

A beautiful, full sized nativity scene, enhanced with a continuous program of Christmas hymns and carols, and floodlighted has been designed and erected in a downtown park in Sylacauga, Alabama, by the Sylacauga Chamber of Commerce.

This unusual scene is 75 feet wide and 80 feet deep, includes four seperate corals which hold live sheep, cows, and a burro, and the manger was built of logs and wooden slabs. It is located on a downtown main street on Federal Highways U. S. 231 and U. S. 280.

The scene has already attracted visitors from many points, and thousands of additional people are expected to visit this impressive sight as the scene will be maintained all during the month of December. Several singing groups in the Sylacauga area plan to hold carol sings at various times during the ensuing two weeks.

Make Shoe Care A Happy Habit

Shoes are such a major item in a youngster's apparel budget that the sooner your child is trained to take care of them, the better.

This can begin with the imitative age, when children love to copy grownups. Make an event of shoe care lessons, explain each step and let the child try. Sometimes the best teacher is an older brother or sister.

A shoe care corner or shelf, with "cobbler's bench", at child levels, encourages good habits. When school is out and young 'uns race in and out all day, a back-door location may spare you dirt or mud.

A good shoe cleaning kit should hold easy-to-use materials like the new Griffin self-polishing Scuff Cover. This liquid polish is fun to apply and gives a brilliant shine almost like magic to even badly [illegible]ffed shoes, without rubbing or buffing. It will not dry out or crack leather nor will it run in rain or rub off on furniture or carpeting.

Shoe care is simple if the youngster acquires good habits—keeping out of puddles, cleaning shoes at once, drying them away from heat, airing them after wearing, alternating pairs and always using shoe trees or tissue paper. Regular care protects and preserves the life of the leather.

Servicemen To Receive S.S. Benefits Under New Law

J. E. Ratchford, Chief Petty Officer in charge of Navy recruiting for this area, announced today that as a result of the Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act (Public Law 881) which becomes effective on January 1, 1957 Navy men will become eligible for Social Security benefits and increased survivors benefits.

The Recruiter stated that Social Security is a major step forward in financial protection for Navy families. Social Security will provide old age benefits for the servicemen at age 65, in addition to any retirement income he may have, and provide monthly survivor income for a service widow, children, and dependent parents. The survivors are also paid a monthly compensation by the Veterans Administration along with other benefits.

Under the provisions of this new coverage, Navy and other military personnel will contribute two and one-fourth per cent of their basic pay up to a maximum of $350 per month with the government paying part of the monthly credits toward Social Security protection. Monthly deductions will range from $1.76 to $7.86 per month. In this way, the Navyman obtains Social Security coverage based on actual earning rather than under the old plan whereby they received credit for $160 monthly earnings free.

Anyone enlisting in the Navy after January 1. 1956 should have Social Security number at time of enlistment. Application forms for obtaining a Social Security Card Number are available at any U. S. Post Office or Social Security Office. It normally takes three to five days after mailing application before the card is received by the applicant. If a person does not have an opportunity to get a Social Security Card before enlisting in the Navy he will be assisted in obtaining one by the U. S. Navy.

Chief Ratchford emphasized that those who plan a Navy career are now assured of lifetime protection for their dependents. Additional information on benefits available to Navy men and their dependents can be obtained by contacting any of the Navy Recruiters at the Navy Recruiting Office in the Post Office each Monday in downtown Clanton.

Pipeline Santas Drop Christmas Cheer

Myra Thornton and Patricia Scholl, of Southern Natural Gas Company's Birmingham office, help Santa load his plane for the annual Christmas drop.

Christmas time for 2,000 rural children along the pipelines of Southern Natural Gas Company means the Flying Santas are coming.

This week the Company's four patrol planes are in the air, bulging with sacks of candy and other gifts.

Each of the 2,000 plastic gift sacks will come floating down under its own small nylon parachute to be eagerly seized by a child somewhere along Southern Natural's 4,000 miles of pipelines in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina. This is Southern Natural's way of saying "Merry Christmas" to the children who all through the year run out from their homes to wave at the pilots in the passing patrol planes.

Each gift package contains a pound and a half of candy, a school kit with ruler and pencil sharpener, a magnet, a toy automobile, a mechanical dog, a number game, a rubber ball, a whistle, a steel tape measure, a book of Christmas Carols and a greeting card from Southern Natural Gas Company.

Now in its sixth year, the trip of the Flying Pipeline Santas is an eagerly awaited event in homes along the patrol planes' lonely routes. The people of Southern Natural especially treasure the flood of letters that reach the Birmingham office after the trips of the Flying Santas. Often these letters tell of a Christmas that would have been bleak without the gifts dropped from Company planes.

May the blessings of peace and good will that came into the world almost two thousand years ago be yours at Christmastime!

Merry Christmas To All!

Farm production this year set a new record and stocks of wheat, cotton, corn, and rice were at new highs as the crop year began.

If late calves are too light to sell —under 450 pounds— give them the best grazing possible. Then next spring or early summer give them a short feeding period before marketing and they will usually sell at a profit.

LITTLE MAN, BIG MAN—WHICH?

"When I was a child I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things." (I Corinthians 13:11)

Grenville Kleiser has said that a weak mind is like a microscope, which magnifies trifling things but cannot grasp great ones. We might add that the reverse is true; that a strong mind is like a telescope which sweeps across unlimited spaces and finds inspiration in contemplating the starry sky—and God the Creator thereof.

It must not be forgotten that any possessor of a normal head is responsible for the use that he makes of it. Nor should it be forgotten that one's mind is subject to the motive that resides in one's heart. We often see a little mind in operation, as in the case of the Iowa farmer whose one big idea was to get rich raising hogs. A visitor to his hog farm asked him, "When you fatten these hogs, what are you going to do?" "I am going to sell them and use the money to buy more land to grow more corn to raise more hogs." "What then?" The same reply: More money, more land, more corn, more hogs.

We smile at the tale about the Iowa farmer, but we discover that too many people right now are following a pattern quite like that; just business, money, more business, more money, and so on. Instead of investing some serious effort toward expanding our mental, moral and spiritual faculties for the broadening and deepening of our capacity for real living, we rob ourselves by tacitly refusing to grow in maturity toward the stature that the Lord approves.

"When I was a child I thought as a child; but when I became a man I put away foolish things." The author of this sentence was so eminent in wisdom that, though he lived almost twenty centuries ago, his counsel is sought to this day, and by people all over the world. He was careful, however, to inform his readers that his penetrating insight into humanity's most pressing needs and the remedy therefor was not a natural gift, but had ben acquired by a gripping passion to understand the mind of God toward all people, himself included.

"When I was a child." The sweetness of little children is beautiful indeed. But unless the attributes of childhood are carefully directed, tragedy ensues. To illustrate, it is observable that the desire to acquire things—just things—is an unborn characteristic of every child. Note the popularity of Santa Claus. That means that by nature every person is self-centered. And there is where discipline must enter. Otherwise the grown man follows the path that leads to his becoming the victim of such inordinate selfishness that the authority of God his Maker is denied, and the rights of man his brother are cast into the scrap heap. "When I became a man." If one follows the example set by that writer, we will see a man indeed—big, generous, godly, a lover of children because he himself had been one.

One of the chief causes of low vegetable and fruit yields in Alabama is failure to control insects and diseases.

December Is Planting Time For County Berry Growers

Planting time is here again for fruit growers.

December is the ideal month in which to set out young fruit trees, berry plants, and grape vines, according to results of studies conducted by the API Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Studies at the Chilton Area Horticulture Substation near Clanton, the North Alabama Horticulture Substation near Cullman, and the Main Station at Auburn show that seedlings develop a better root system when they are planted early in the dormant season," reported Dr. T. Ben Hagler, associate horticulturist. "In order that seedlings can get full advantage of the dormant season, the Station advises planting before the first of January."

Dr. Haigler cautioned growers to plant only recommended varieties, tested and approved by the API Station.

"The varities we recommend have been found favorable for good growth and production in Alabama," he said.

Civil Defense And The Crisis

State Civil Defense Director Pitt Tyson Maner noted this week that there had been "a most welcome increase shown in the State's Civil Defense program" in recent weeks.

Maner said that many Alabamians had visited local Civil Defense headquarters throughout the State to volunteer services in one or other of the many branches of Civil Defense, or to seek literature on protection of life and property in time of emergency.

The State Civil Defense chief said also that an important development in the State's overall Civil Defense program "will be announced shortly.

IN EQUITY
No. 3239

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND DECREE

This cause coming on to be heard on November 26, 1956, pursuant to order entered herein on October 30, 1956, before the undersigned who had been designated to hear the same by order of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama issued pursuant to the provisions of Article 4 of Chapter 2 of Title 13 of The Code of Alabama of 1940, and having been continued to this date by orders from time to time entered by this court, this cause thereupon came on for trial on this date and it appearing to the court that as required by law and by the said order entered herein on October 30, 1956, notice hereof has been given to the defendants by publication in the Chilton County News on November 1, 1956, November 8, 1956, and November 15, 1956, and that service was on October 30, 1956, made on the solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, he being by virtue of said office a state solicitor of Chilton County, and that service was on October 30, 1956, made on the county solicitor of Chilton County, he being by virtue of said office a state solicitor for said county, and that the petitioners and defendants were represented in open court at said trial by their respective solicitors and the intervening taxpayers and citizens were also represented in open court by their solicitors, this cause was submitted on the pleadings and proof as noted by the Register, the evidence in the cause having been taken orally in open court. The cause having been argued before and having been understood by the court, the court upon consideration finds the facts and states its conclusions of law and renders its decree as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

(1) Chilton County (herein called "the county") is a political subdivision of the State of Alabama. The Board of Revenue and Control (herein called "the board") is the governing body of the county.

(2) The Board at an adjourned meeting thereof held on October 29, 1956, adopted a resolution and order (herein called "the authorizing resolution") in which it found that the walls of the existing courthouse building of the county located at Clanton are unsafe and the said building is becoming unsafe for human occupancy; that the said building cannot be successfully repaired due to the nature of its construction; that the county needs adequate, safe and commodious space in which to house the various offices, courts, departments and agencies of the county; and that the most feasible way to provide adequate, safe and commodious facilities for said purpose would be by constructing a new courthouse building; and that the cost of so doing is estimated to be in excess of $550,000. In order to provide funds necessary for such purpose the board in the authorizing resolution authorized the issuance of Courthouse Warrants (herein called "the warrants") of the county in the aggregate principal amount of $550,000 to be dated November 1 1956, to be numbered from 1 to 550, inclusive, to be in the denomination of $1,000 each and to mature in numerical order on February 1 in the years from 1958 to 1987, inclusive. The authorizing resolution sets forth the principal amount of the warrants which will mature during each such year, the rates of interest they will bear (which interest is to be evidenced by interest coupons attached to the warrants, the place of payment thereof, and the provisions for redemption prior to maturity of those having stated maturities in 1967 and thereafter. The authorizing resolution provides that the warrants and the coupons shall not be general obligations of the county but shall be payable solely out of a special fund created in the authorizing resolution and designated the "Courthouse Warrant Fund" (herein called "the special fund") which shall consist solely of proceeds from the special ad valorem tax of ¼ of 1% (herein called "the special tax") on the value of the taxable property in the county authorized by Section 215 of the Constitution of Alabama of 1901 and by Section 186 of Title 12 of the Code of Alabama of 1940, to be levied by the county for the purpose of paying debts created after the adoption of the said constitution for the erection of necessary public buildings, bridges or roads in the county. The authorizing resolution directs that during each successive fiscal year of the county commencing with the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1956, the county pay into the special fund the entire proceeds from the special tax, as such proceeds are received, until the moneys on deposit in the special fund shall equal or exceed the aggregate amount of principal and interest on the warrants which will mature on the February 1 and August 1 falling in the same fiscal year. In the authorizing resolution, they were pledged solely for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants and the coupons the special fund. and all moneys at any time therein and the proceeds of the special tax to the extent to which such proceeds were ordered paid into the special fund, and the special fund and said tax proceeds were declared to be trust funds solely for the benefit of the warrants and the coupons. In the authorizing resolution the county further agrees to continue to levy and collect the special tax so long as any of the warrants of the coupons remain unpaid. and to apply the proceeds received therefrom during each year to the extent and in the manner aforesaid.

(3) In the authorizing resolution the county sold the warrants to Stern, Agee & Leach, Hendrix & Mayes, Stubbs, Smith & Lombardo, Thornton Mohr & Farish and The First National Bank of Birmingham at a purchase price equal to $550,391.60 plus accrued interest on the warrants to the date of their delivery.

(4) The assessed valuation of the property in the county subject to taxation by it, as assessed for state taxation for the tax year ending September 30, 1956, is $16,094,973. At the time of the trial of this cause the county had no outstanding bonds, warrants, notes or audited and allowed claims.

(5) There is no evidence of any collusion, fraud, corruption or unfair dealing in any of the said proceedings of the board or in any steps heretofore taken or contemplated to be taken in any of the said proceedings, and the board has acted in good faith in authorizing the issuance of and in selling the warrants.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

(1) All actons and things required under Sections 169 to 176, inclusive, of Title 7 of the Code of Alabama of 1940 to be had and done in this proceeding preliminary to the making of the findings of fact, conclusions of law and decree of this court herein contained have been had and done in the manner provided by said title and sections of said code. The county has power to institute and conduct this proceeding and has duly authorized it.

(2) Under the laws of Alabama the county is charged with the duty and has power to cause to be erected a courthouse building of sufficient size and equipment to enable the county to carry on in a proper manner its governmental and its public functions, and the board as the governing body of the county is authorized to make the necessary contracts for such purpose. The board is a court of record, has exclusive discretion to determine the need for such building and in exercising such discretion acts in a quasi-legislative capacity and is not subject to judicial control and review in the absence of fraud, corruption or unfair dealings.

(3) The board has power to issue the warrants for the purpose of erecting a courthouse for the county and to anticipate the proceeds which will be derived from the levy of the special tax by the issuance of the warrants. While the warrants will constitute debts of the county within the meaning of the debt limit provisions of Section 224 of the Constitution of Alabama of 1901, and therefore will be chargeable against the constitutional debt limit of the county, and while the warrants will constitute debts of the county in a limited sense for the payment of which the special tax is authorized to be levied under the provisions of Section 215 of the Constitution of Alabama and of Section 186 of Title 12 of the Code of Alabama of 1940, nevertheless the warrants will not constitute general obligations of the county for the payment of which its general revenues may be used, and in consequence thereof the warrants will not constitute warrants or orders for the payment of money within the meaning of Section 78 of Title 12 of the Code of Alabama of 1940. The county therefore has the power to issue the warrants in the manner authorized in and contemplated by the authorizing resolution. The warrants will not constitute bonds of the county within the meaning of Section 222 of the Constitution of Alabama and are not required to be authorized at an election held in the county.

(4) The county has authority to issue the warrants by sale thereof in such manner as the board may deem most advantageous to the interest of the county and it is not necessary that the warrants be issued to a contractor or other persons for materils, services and supplies furnished to the county.

(5) Since the debt which will be created by the issuance of the warrants will be a debt of the county of a limited nature incurred by it in the erection of a public building of the county and since the county is authorized to levy the special tax for payment of any debt incurred by it in erection of any of its public buildings, the county may lawfully agree to levy the special tax for payment of the limited debt ordered paid by the warrants, and may further agree to use so much of the special tax so levied as may be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the warrants as said principal and interest respectively mature, and may agree to pay such revenues to the extent necessary for such purpose into a special fund created for that purpose and may pledge such revenues and the said special fund for such purpose.

(6) The constitutional debt limit of the county is $556,332.24. The principal amount of the warrants, $550,000, plus an amount equal to the accrued interest on the warrants at the time of their delivery to the purchasers thereof pursuant to the said sale thereof, will constitute debts of the county chargeable against its constitutional debt limit. Issuance of the warrants will, therefore, not cause the county to exceed its constitutional debt limit within the meaning of Section 224 of the Constitution of Alabama of 1901, provided that at the time of the said delivery of the warrants the amount of said accrued interest plus the amount of any other indebtedness of the county that may be outstanding at the time and chargeable against its constitutional debt limit does not exceed $6,332.24.

(7) All proceedings required under the constitution and laws of the State of Alabama for the authorization, sale and issuance of the warrants and the aforesaid pledge and agreement for the payment thereof have been had and done in the manner and within the time provided in said constitution and laws.

DECREE

IT IS, THEREFORE, upon consideration by the court, ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED by the court as follows:

(1) The court does hereby validate and confirm all proceedings heretofore had or taken in connection with the authorization and sale by the county of the warrants, the pledge made by the county in the authorizing resolution of the special tax for payment of the principal of and the interest on the warrants and all agreements on the part of the county contained in the authorizing resolution. When the warrants shall have been executed and sealed in the manner provided in the authorizing resolution and shall have been delivered to and paid for by the purchasers thereof pursuant to the sale thereof, the warrants will constitute valid warrants of the county payable solely out of the special fund and thereupon shall stand validated and confirmed, provided that at the time of their said delivery the amount of accrued interest thereon plus the amount of any other indebtedness of the county that may be outstanding at the time and chargeable against its constitutional debt limit does not exceed $6,332.24.

(2) At the time of the delivery of the warrants to the purchasers thereof pursuant to the sale thereof, the Judge of Probate of the county and ex officio Chairman of the board is hereby directed to cause to be stamped, printed or written on the warrants a legend substantially as follows:

"Validated and confirmed by decree of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, in Equity, rendered on the 30th day of November, 1956."

The register of the court is directed thereupon to sign such legend in her capacity as such register. The stamping or signing of such legend shall not bar or estop the county or any taxpayer or citizen thereof from questioning the validity of the warrants in any court on the ground that the issuance of the warrants caused the county to exceed its debt limit as provided in Section 224 of the Constitution of Alabama of 1901 unless at the time of the said delivery thereof the amount of the accrued interest thereon plus the amount of any other indebtedness of the county that may be outstanding at the time and chargeable against its constitutional debt limit does not exceed $6,332.24, but such stamping or signing shall be forever conclusive as to the validity of the warrants against the county and all taxpayers and citizens thereof as to all other questions.

(3) The costs of this cause are hereby taxed against the county.

DONE and ENTERED in chambers at Montgomery, Alabama, this 30th day of November, 1956."

USMC Adopts "Buddy-System" Of Recruiting

The "buddy system" is being adopted by the Marine Corps for enlistment of young men, making it possible for close friends to remain together throughout their recruit training.

Marine recruiters have been authorized to guarantee applicants, desiring to attend recruit training together, that they will be assigned to the same recruit platoon.

The new system will allow groups, not to exceed five, to train together at the Marine Corps' East Coast Training Command.

Individuals interested in availing themselves of the Marnie Corps' "buddy system" should contact their Marine recruiter for full details. The local Marine recruiter, M-Sgt. R. L. Roland, is located at the Post Office in Clanton each Thursday.

The boys are also helping to build a house for the Marbury Baptist Church. They have dug for the foundation and have poured it and are now laying the blocks. We will start putting in the sills about the last of the week and will continue the rest of the house when school starts back December 31st.

Willie Hicks Named "Top Corn-Grower" In Chilton County

Willie Hicks, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hicks, Billingsley Community, has been named Champion FFA Corn Grower in Chilton County, it was announced today by B. P. Dilworth, district supervisor of vocational agriculture, Auburn.

Young Hicks, a member of the Maplesville FFA chapter, produced 61 bushels per acre on his best acre of corn to win the championship title. He had three acres of corn in his supervised farming program with an average yield of 60 bushels per acre.

A standard FFA Champion Corn Growing Medal will be presented to Willie as first place award in the Chilton County contest Dilworth said.

Dilworth explained that the purpose of the corn growing contest is to encourage FFA members to use better corn production practices on their farms. The contest is sponsored by the Vocational Agriculture Service and the Chilean Nitrate Educational Bureau, Inc.

In growing his prize winning corn, Willie planted Pfister 482 variety on May 1 in rows 38 inches apart and left plants about 15 inches apart in the row. He applied 400 pounds of 5-10-7 fertilizer at planting and side-dressed with 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda.

Willie is now eligible to compete for the State Champion Corn Growing title, the winner of which will be announced later.

State Publishes First Tourist Guide Book

At long last, the State of Alabama is producing its first official, free, tourist and vacation guide book.

This was announced this week by Geoffrey Birt, director of the State Publicity and Information Bureau, which is publishing the Guide book. Most other states have had such brochures for many years.

Birt said the Guide will be 16 pages in full color except for four pictures. He said it had been "produced and printed in Alabama, by Alabamians, for the promotion of Alabama" and that its official publication date had been set for January 1, 1957, as a New Year gift and invitation from Alabama to the citizens of other states.

"It is hoped and expected that this Guide will do a first-class selling job on the beautiful scenery and the historic shrines of our State," Birt said, "so that 1857 will be the year that the State tourist business exceeds $100 million." It has been estimated that Alabama's present tourist business realizes about $93 million, a considerable increase over past years.

It is understood that all sections of the State have been pictured and highlighted in the Guide—with chapters on Alabama's beaches, lakes, fishing potential, beautiful gardens and flowers, historic shrines, old southern backgrounds and festivals. There are also included pictures and references to the Azalea Trail and Mardi Gras at Mobile; the State's Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo at Dauphin Island; the annual Motor Boat Races; pictures of Birmingham and its view from Vulcan, among other events and matters of interest to be found in Alabama.

This is the second turist guide book on Alabama to be announced recently.

Several weeks ago, announcement of the publication of another brochure by private enterprise was made. All of which indicates that Alabama is now making earnest, forward moves towards promoting its scenic beauty and places of historic interest, and entering into real competition with other states for its full share of America's huge tourist industry.

CHRIST IS BORN INDEED!

by Rowena Cheney

On Bethlehem's hill the shepherds
Behold a wondrous light,
Blending with golden voices
Resounding through the night.

And Wise Men, too, were heeding
A light which beckoned them;
With quiet faith they journeyed
To distant Bethlehem.

Whether we come as Wise Men
Through miles of barren sand,
With priceless gifts—or shepherds
With humble, empty hands,

May we, like them, be guided
By light that beckons still,
And angel voices, singing
Of peace and glad good will,
To men of every color,
Of every race and creed,
Till peace on earth bears witness
That Christ is born indeed!

Easy Fruit Cake

Generous slices of fruit cake served with cups of spicy Christmas punch will kindle the holiday spirit among your guests.

December holidays would hardly seem the same without the traditional fruit cake. Here's an easy version that is sure to give you good results.

Because baking powder and salt are already in self-rising flour, you don't need to measure those two ingredients for this easy cake. You will save time, too, if you buy the candied fruit already chopped and mixed. You may use reconstituted frozen orange juice rather than fresh orange juice, if you prefer.

This moist, fruity cake is only one example of the good and nutritious things you can make with self-rising flour. It will simplify much of your holiday baking of quick breads and cookies, because you can leave salt and baking powder out of your regular recipes when you use it.

EASY FRUIT CAKE

2-¼ cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1-½ cups seedless raisins
2 cups chopped, mixed candied fruits (1 pound)
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup sifted enriched self-rising flour
¾ cup butter or margarine
1-¼ cups brown sugar
4 eggs
*¾ cup orange juice

Grease two 4½ x 8½ inch loaf pans. Line bottoms only with double thickness of waxed paper. Sift together 2¼ cups flour and spices. Coat fruits and nuts with additional ½ cup flour. Cream together butter or margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Blend in flour mixture alternately with orange juice. Mix until smooth. Stir in fruit and nut mixture. Pour into prepared pans. Bake in slow oven (300°F.) about 1 hour and 50 minutes. Remove from pans immediately. Makes 2 fruit cakes.

*Reconstituted frozen orange juice may be used.

Public Health Nurses Are Well-Trained

by Dr. G. M. Taylor

To become a Public Health Nurse it is required that one must be a graduate of a reputable nurses training school, of good health and be recommended as being of good character by two or more known physicians of citizens. She then is given intensive special training for her duties before eing placed on the payroll as a Public Health Nurse. The techniques employed by Public Health workers in administering the different vaccines are those adopted y our better institutions. Every syringe and needle used in giving these shots as well as their containers and wrappings are pressure sterilized before being used.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

Ever walked into a mess of cats and hollered "scat" and watch them all take off in different directions at the same time? Well, that is the way it was in town last Saturday afternoon. Everybody going in a different direction at the same time.

At this Christmas Season the column wants to wish its many friends the hapiest times ever. May there be time for meditation, for prayer, for helping others, for constructive thinking and for pleasure beyond your fondest dreams. All this we wish for you and yours on this Christmas holiday.

The sweetest sentiment we received this Christmas came from daughter June. She said the box she sent was so full of love there was hardly room for the presents.

Somebody besides yours truly was a bit flustered by the many "doings" of Christmastime. We received a Christmas card addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tucker" and it was signed, "The Ben Tuckers." Now wonder who could have written a card and signed it like that?

Wonder if Gene Gore is doing his yearly good turn at the Post Office. Every year in the past he has gone there and picked up cards that were slipped in the slot without proper postage and supplied the necessary cash to get them on their way to the addressee. It's a thoughtful gesture at Christmastime and literally thousands have received their Christmas Cards because of Gene Gore who would never have received them had he not sent them on their way.

A fellow was telling us the other day why he stopped singing in the choir at church. He said one Sunday he didn't sing and a member of the congregation asked if the organ had been fixed.

The department store engaged an efficiency expert, whose obsession was to move the departments to different parts of the store every day. One day a section would be on the top floor, the next it would be in the basement, and on the third it would be where the restaurant had been. After three weeks of this an old lady approached a harassed floorwalker and asked him if he could tell her where the drapery department was. "No, madam," he said wearily; "but if you'll stand here for a few minutes I'm sure you'll see it go by.

Man is an able creature but he has made 32,600,000 laws and hasn't yet improved on the Ten Commandments.

March of Dimes Continues Battle Against Polio

The March of Dimes is to see to it that no polio patient is denied the care he needs for lack of funds. The job remains unfinished because some 80,000 persons were stricken by polio in years past still must be helped to obtain better and more useful lives.

The job is unfinished because polio struck at more thousands in 1956 and many of these new patients need care.

The job is unfinished because inevitably and unfortunately people will be stricken by polio in 1957 and will look to the March of Dimes for help.

The March of Dimes will be finished when polio is finished as a crippler of human beings and when repair of the damage it has done is carried to the limit of our knowledge and ability.

This cannot happen all at once—not even with the help of the Salk vaccine. Let's finish the job!

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to each and every one who helped us in the many different ways during the illness and death of our wife and mother. Thank you for each prayer and for all the wonderful food.

May God's richest blessings be with each of you.

Wreck Takes Second Life, Young Alton Smoke Died

by Mrs. C. C. Gay

The Stanton Community was saddened by the death of Ward Alton Smoke, a hometown boy who was seriously injured in the automobile accident near Jemison last Monday.

Young Smoke was admitted to the Chilton County Hospital where everything possible was done for him. He died at 2:16 a. m. December 13th.

Funeral services were conducted from the Plantersville Baptist Church Friday, Dec. 14, at 11:00 a. m. with Rev. W. S. Cox, Rev. James Jones and Rev. L. M. Brasher officiating

A native of Chilton County, young Smoke, better known to his friends as "Smoky", was born November 28, 1938 and had just recently celebrated his 18th birthday

Pallbearers were co-workers of Smoky's, all of whom were employed by the V. J. Elmore Wholesale Company of Birmingham: Paul Beavers, Eugene Godsey, Ralph Clements, Keneth Sumeral, Kyle Cook, Cecil Burr and Mr. Henry.

Friends and classmates of Smoky's sister, Jan, were in charge of the flowers which were many and beautiful.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smoke and one sister, Sharra Jan of Jemison; his grandmother, Mrs. Emma L. Smoke of Sylacauga; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harris of Stanton; 11 aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Armstrong of Sylacauga, Mr. and Mrs. Fonza Green of Clanton, Mr. W. Lester Harris of Selma, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Harris of Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harris of Selma, and Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Harris of Selma; three great aunts, Mrs. Mamie Cook, Mrs. Mittie Hooks and Mrs. Lounettie Presley all of Selma.

Spigener Funeral Home of Clanton was in charge.

This writer recalls when Smoky was a little boy of five or six when he said, "My sister Jan and I would like to sing a duet in church. You ask if they would let us." So I asked and the preacher said yes, and Smoky and Jan sang their duet accompanied by their mother at the piano.

A Christian boy from childhood, Smoky preached his own funeral while he lived. He was always anxious to attend Sunday School and Church and be about his Master's work.

Loved ones weep not as those who have no hope. "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

Wrestling Match Scheduled For Armory Jan. 12

Last Saturday night the wrestling fans witnessed one of the best matches staged here when Prince Omar and Jack Donovan mixed blows in the preliminary rounds

Prince Omar took the first fall in 14 minutes and Donovan came back to take the second in 11 minutes. The match being even, both wrestlers were determined to leave the ring victorious not caring how legal or otherwise. After some 10 minutes of the roughest bit of skull busting yet to be seen here the Prince in an angry rage hit the referee and was disqualified Although disqualified and the loser of the match, he was not beaten and has to be conquered by both Fredie Lee and Jack Donovan.

In the dressing room after the match the Prince complained to the Commissioner that the tactics he faced and the treatment he received while in the ring were cause for him to ask for a re-match with Donovan at the earliest possible date. The Commissioner agreed to the match, using a new referee. The match will take place here on January 12th to give Prince Omar an opportunity to redeem himself and to get the grudge match out of the way.

In the main event Kathy [illegible] was defeated by Miss Belle Starr but not before damage had been done. Kathy gave Belle a tough fight before she weakened.

Miss Starr said she was happy to have won the match but realized before entering the ring that Kathy was one of the better wrestlers in the business.

In winning this match Miss Starr made a goodly number of followers here who will welcome her back on the mat cards at the Clanton Armory.

But don't forget the grudge match between Jack Donovan and Prince Omar here on January 12th

Christmas—

LIGHT AGAIN THE STAR

Gather the holly and light the tree,
Behold the rose, forget the thorn.
In all His young divinity,

Again the Christmas Babe is born!
Ring out the bells, lest you forget,
The Christmas Babe is born again.
The oxen kneel, at Bethlehem—
The young Babe sleeps on Mary's knee.

The world assumes it's diadem and love and immortality.

Wrap the small gift in tinsled string
Until each heart with kindness leavens;
The Magi ride, the angles sing.
Again the Star shines in the heavens!

Glasscock-Donovan—

A five o'clock candlelight ceremony on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 15, united in marriage Miss Betty Jean Glasscock and Rev. Fred Donovan of Clanton. Rev. Louis Brasher officiated at the double ring ceremony in the Jemison Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Glasscock. Parents of the groom are Mr. nd Mrs. Donovan of Clanton.

On this impressive occasion, the altar rail was decorated with magnolia foliage sprinkled with white lustre. Palma formed a background for a massive arrangement created of white specimen chrysanthemums, snapdragons, gladioli and fern which marked the center of the altar, which was illuminated by candlelight from white tapers held in pointed wrought iron candelabra. White satin bows were on the candelabra and marked the family pews.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. C. L. Walton, who accompanied Miss Wanda Shaw when she sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Love Eternal." As a fervent benediction, she sang the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Walton played the processional wedding marches. She was wearing a brown sheath dress and a yellow "mum" corsage. Miss Shaw's dress was light blue brocaded taffeta. Her corsage was white carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a Dior blue velvet decollette dress, princess style, wearing a white satin hat trimmed in sequins. She carried a white Bible, marked with a purple throated white orchid showered with stephanotis and white satin ribbons.

Charles F. Blocker, Jr., of Birmingham was best man. Ushers were Joe Bearden of Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Jack Lawrence of Clanton.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding, a suit dress of medium blue. Mrs. Donovan was wearing a navy suit dress. Each wore a white orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the church parlors. Southern smilax and standards of white snapdragons and gladioli decorated the parlors. A low bowl of white flowers, with candles on either side was on the piano.

The three-tiered wedding cake and thre-branched silved candelabras, holding white illuminated candles marked the bride's table which was covered with a cut-work linen cloth.

The cake was mounted on a large mirror and decorated with roses, orchids and lilies of the valley. A miniautre bride and groom topped the cake. A silver compote held nuts and silver trays held mints.

Delightful sherbert punch was served from a crystal bowl placed on a lace covered table.

Fern and snapdragons decorated the base of the punch bowl.

Mrs. Lincoln Thomas, sister of the bride, registered the guests. She was wearing a green velveteen dress made like that of the matron of honor.

The receiving line consisted of Mrs. Glasscock, Mrs. Donovan, Mr Glasscock, Mr. Donovan, the bride and groom and Mrs. Hill.

After the traditional cutting of the cake by the bride and groom, it was served by Mrs Murray Glasscock, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Jack Lawrence, sister of the bride. Mrs. Glasscock was attired in a brown taffeta sheath and Mrs Lawrence wore a tan velveteen dress like that of the maid of honor Mrs. A. A. Beaman served punch. Others assisting were Mrs Marvin Dawson, Mrs Sam Woodley and Mrs. George Naish.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a medium blue suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet

The young couple will be at home in Clanton upon returning from their honeymoon. Rev. Donovan is pastor of New Salem Baptist Church and a ministeral student at Howard College.

The Christmas Chimes—

The Christmas chimes, tho high in the air, and out of sight, were set ringing in tones clear sweet and golden by the simple kindley deed of a little child. Do not our hearts, also awakened to music, as the spirit of Him, who gave us Christmas, subtly touches and thrills the invisible keep of our own better, truer natures. And these are true Christmas Chimes tha keep playing on and on in the souls of men. One is called Peace; one is Goodwill; one is Faith and one is Hope and behold—Now and then they mysteriously melt into one sweet strain—then do they play "Angel Coral of Love.'

May the Christmas chimes be set a-playing in our own hearts.

May the contagion of the music steal into the hearts of all and may the blessings of Christmas descend upon all homes in abundance. Let us all keep Christ in Christmas!

Managing a budget nowadays gets pretty rough at times and George blows up when I have to admit that I'm just a little short. You know how it is—extras seem to creep in before you know it.

You can imagine, then, how pleased I was to discover how I could cut my soap and detergent bills and save up to 25% on the cost of heating our hot water. I read that Uncle Sam remarked that the effects of hard water cost a family of four up to $125 a year, so when I heard about the amazing Evis Water Conditioner I was plenty interested.

It all came about when I called in the Evis dealer for a demonstration. I'm not much for technical matters, but he said it works on an inductive principle that changes the behavior of most waters. He also said something about it recently having won a favorable decision by a government commission. But, what I'm really excited about is how my dishwasher and automatic washer stay free of hard water soap scum. Now I get the whitest, brightest wash I've ever had. No more stubborn bathtub ring either and my dishes and glassware dry practically spotless. George had to agree, too, when he saw how his car sparkled after washing it.

We'll have years and years of conditioned water with no more attention or cost. It simply clamps on the main water line, takes no floor space and works like a charm. Things are running smoother at our house these days. Easier living too!

Easy, elegant and ever so good, Lime Frost is really two desserts in one. It makes a delightful Christmas pie and a perky pudding, too, both prepared at the same time and exactly right for holiday entertaining. A delicious combination of lime gelatin and vanilla pudding and pie filling, either of these desserts is light and refreshing after a hearty holiday dinner.

LIME FROST PIE

- 1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
- 2 cups milk
- 1 package lime-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 baked 8-inch pie shell

Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into a bowl. (To avoid surface film, place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Set bowl of chilled gelatin in ice and water. Whip gelatin with egg beater until fluffy and thick.

Add the chilled pudding gradually to the fluffy gelatin, beating after each addition until well blended. Pour into pie shell allowing about 3 cups filling. Pour remaining filling into 4 sherbet glasses. Chill until firm (about 1 hour). Before serving, garnish with whipped cream.

Local Group Studies Home Nursing By Educational TV

by Mrs. Carrie Mae Woods

The group completing the Red Cross Home Nursing Course thought it was a big success even though the number enrolled was small.

This was a new and different kind of home nursing class. The "students" watched the demonstrations on an educational TV channel. At appointed times they met in a classroom adjoining the Red Cross Office, for supervised practice. Only those attending all four practice sessions were eligible for a certificate and pin.

The various Home Demonstration Clubs made up the class. Those receiving certificates were: Mrs. Walter M. Mastin, Thorsby, Rt. 1; Mrs. Frank Mastin, Thorsby, Rt. 1; Mrs. Marie Sims, Clanton Rt. 1; Mrs. A C. Harris, Clanton, Rt. 2; and Mrs. Homer Smith, Clanton.

We hope many more watched the demonstrations and learned how to care for the sick in the home even though credit wasn't given.

Holiday Magic:

Come the holidays, come left-overs! Usually, they're from that festive bird, the turkey; and, just as usually, the family isn't overjoyed at the idea of eating them. Here's a happy new way to stage a "welcome back" to the dining table for those remaining tid-bits—pleasing the family palate with tasty new "Hi Ho Turkey Drumsticks". Left-over turkey combined with seasonings and finely crushed crumbs from rich buttery crackers does the trick. Here's how, the quick and easy way:

Hi Ho Turkey Drumsticks

- 1 cup thick turkey gravy or thick white sauce
- 1 teaspoon minced parsley
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- 2 cups finely minced cooked turkey
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1½ cups finely crushed Hi Ho Cracker crumbs
- Shortening or salad oil
- 1 egg, beaten
- 18 canape picks (toothpicks trimmed with paper frills on end)

Combine gravy, parsley, onion, turkey, salt, pepper and 1 cup of the cracker crumbs. Chill for at least 2 hours. Divide chilled mixture into 6 portions. Roll each into the shape of a plump drumstick. Heat enough shortening in a skillet to cover the bottom to a depth of 1½ inches. Dip "drumsticks" in beaten egg, then coat with remaining half cup of crumbs. Fry until golden, turning once to brown both sides. Remove to platter. Press 3 of the frilled picks, close together, into one end of each to resemble bone of drumstick. Makes 6 "drumsticks".

Local Exchange Buzzing With Holiday Traffic

The Clanton operators handling the busy Christmas traffic that has already begun in the Clanton Exchange.

Christmas traffic is heavy in more places than the aisles of downtown stores and on the Clanton streets, according to Mr. O. W. Norton, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Telephone traffic is already showing signs of being extremely heavy for the entire month of December and especially from now until after December 25, the telephone company manager discloses today.

Even though traffic is heavy over telephone lines during this season, service will be comparably normal with the exception of Christmas Eve, Christmas Day and New Year's Day, as pointed out by Miss Gertrude Jones, Chief Operator. These will be the peek telephone days of the season.

Miss Jones has already begun scheduling additional operators to handle the residents of Clanton calls for this season. Last year on Christmas Day an additional 3,000 calls were handled by the Clanton operators.

Highway Director Warns--

Speed, Alcohol Holiday Killers

We are approaching the major holiday season of the year. The Christmas and New Year holidays are upon us. Most of us have just about completed our plans for the occasion. We have mailed out our Christmas greetings and have purchased or at least have decided upon the presents for the family and friends.

Colonel Bill Lyerly, State Safety Director, says that all this planning is human nature and natural but how much thought and planning have we done to secure our presence on Christmas day to hand out these presents. He says that each of these nice presents will surely be greatly appreciated but the present above all is that you be able to answer to the family roll call on Christmas morning. He says that he is not going to make any prediction on the number that will be killed this year during Christmas and New Year period. That the Department of Public Safety will be too busy trying to avoid traffic deaths to be predicting the outcome of the holiday period. He says after all the results will depend on each individual driver and pedestrian. We can have a safe and sane holiday period or we can have another tragedy as we did last year when 609 were killed in the nation and 10 killed in Alabama.

The Colonel calls attention to the fact that much of the slaughter on the streets and highways of the nation last Christmas was caused by two violations. A study made by the National Safety Council reflected that 85 percent of them were caused by speed too fast for conditions and 55 percent of the fatal accidents were caused by drinking drivers. He says this report reflects that too many people have acquired the idea to celebrate this great Christmas holiday properly that they must have the spirits from the bottle. Regardless of the season or the occasion speed and alcohol continue to be the deadly combination He is calling on every citizen to practice self-control throughout this Christmas and New Year holiday season. Realize these dangers and guard against them.

Speed too fast for conditions, drinking drivers, extended darkness and pedestrian errors. He says we can make this our safest Chirstmas and New Year holiday season or we can turn our streets and highways into another slaughter. He says why not plan to have a safe and sane, sober holiday season with the family and friends this year. Then plan to drive and walk safely throughout this holiday season.

ACCESSORIES FOR GRACIOUS LIVING

Long winter evenings and holiday parties invariably mean a deluge of guests and an increased entertainment schedule for many homemakers. This pleased young lady is well prepared for a successful party or a surprise visit from friends or relatives. She knows that her new porcelain enamel serving accessories are attractively designed for the most discriminating hostess, yet are durable and practical enough for everyday use. The glass-hard finish of porcelain enamel can never be stained by foods or liquids and mere soap and water cleansing keeps its surface sparkling bright. Long thought of as strictly utilitarian kitchen items, "lifetime" porcelain enamel products now add color, simplicity and beauty to the most gracious living.

Designed for the Busy Holiday Hostess

AN ELEGANT DESSERT FOR A HOLIDAY BUFFET is this Date Cream Roll—a delectable concoction made with whipped cream, marshmallows, honey, dates, nutmeats and crisp oven-toasted rice cereal. But for all of its elegance, this dessert has a practical appeal for the busy hostess since it can be made ahead of time and chilled in the refrigerator until needed. When ready to serve, slice and top with whipped cream.

DATE CREAM ROLL

1½ cups whipping cream
8 marshmallows
¼ cup honey
½ cup chopped dates
¼ cup chopped nutmeats
3½ cups Rice Krispies

Whip 1 cup of cream until stiff. Cut marshmallows into small pieces. Fold marshmallows, honey, dates and nutmeats into whipped cream. Crush Rice Krispies into fine crumbs. Add 1 cup crumbs to cream mixture; blend well. Spread remaining crumbs evenly on a piece of waxed paper and place cream mixture on top. Mold into roll, coating with crumbs. Wrap in wax paper; chill for several hours. Slice and serve garnished with remaining cream, whipped. This recipe makes 10 servings. This is a special recipe from the kitchens of the Kellogg Co. of Battle Creek, Mich.

Folks and Things ABOUT • TOWN

—By Ben

The spirit of Christmas does still live. Saturday afternoon there was a blind man playing and singing Christmas carols on the street down town. Two small boys were in town doing their Christmas shopping, they were going to buy something real nice for their mother and dad. They came to the blind man and stopped. They put their little heads together and whispered for several minutes and then one of them was heard to say: "Let's count our money again. Can't we buy something for mother and daddy and still have something left over for him?" In reality, the gift to the blind man was for Him.

Chief of Police Charlie Tucker is a grandpa. A son was born Christmas day to his daughter, Dorothy, and Richard Lawrence. Mother and daughter are doing fine at Chilton County Hospital and we're sure Charlie went around town Christmas handing out cigars instead of parking tickets.

The stranger with a know-it-all attitude walked into the office and demanded to see the manager.

Said the secretary: "I'm sorry but he's not here. Is there anything I can do."

"No," he snapped. "I never deal with underlings. I'll wait until the manager returns."

"Very well," said the secretary and went on with her work.

An hour later the man became impatient. "How much longer," he wanted to know, "will it be before the manager comes back?"

"Oh, about two weeks. He started his vacation yesterday!"

Mrs. Minnie Wade was talking to us this week about a calendar that was being sponsored by the Band Boosters Club. It is a Community Birthday Calendar and listings will be sold to boosters of the CCHS band. Advertising will also be carried. Listing on the calendar are reasonable and the money goes to the band so let's all get behind this very worthwhile cause and lend a hand.

And here is a good time to throw a bouquet to Lamar DeLoach our Band and Glee Club Director. We don't think he gets the appreciation he deserves. He has done a wonderful job at CCHS and has spent much time and effort on community projects whenever his services were needed. We congratulate him on his fine efforts and community spirit. May his New Year be a better one.

The airplane reported lost last Sunday was not lost at all. An attorney, Mr. Burns, wife and daughter, from near Nashville, Tenn., were on their way to Jacksonville, Fla., for Christmas was caught in the overcast and landed at our airport here. They went on to Montgomery and spent the night after making contact there and finding they could land there. Another plane found our local airport a "oasis in the desert" Sunday in the bad weather also. The pilot was an Army Lieutenant on his way to Albany, Ga. He spent the night here and went on his way next day. Clanton is getting some warm thanks and good publicity because of her up-to-date airport.

Let the column take this opportunity to thank one and all for their kindness throughout the past year and wish for them the best possible 1957. May your opportunity to serve grow greater and in serving may you find more happiness than you have ever known.

TIPS FOR SURVIVAL

FCDA Offers Practical Defense Against Fallout

In a split second during the pre-dawn hours of a morning in November 1952, radioactive fallout came of age as a potential hazard to every living thing.

Since then, millions of words have been written and spoken about it. We are told that it cannot be detected by any of the human senses, only by radiation detection devices. It can hitch a ride on the wind for hundreds of miles from a nuclear blast, settle to earth even in remote places and make entire areas temporarily uninhabitable.

BUT WHAT, ACTUALLY, is fallout? Can its movement be predicted? And what can people do to protect against it?

Fallout is nothing more than tiny dust particles blasted into the air when a nuclear weapon's fireball intersects the earth's surface. This material is then made radioactive by the fireball, and thus carries dangerous radiation to wherever the dust falls.

By plotting high-altitude winds, weather men can predict the area of fallout, and tell approximately where it will land. Radiological monitoring would then establish specific fallout patterns.

People can protect themselves mainly by staying under cover, and tuning a battery-operated radio to emergency civil defense frequencies for expert instructions. A basement makes a fair shelter, an old-fashioned root cellar an excellent one. This is because only 1/5,000th of the radiation that would hit a person in the open will penetrate three feet of earth.

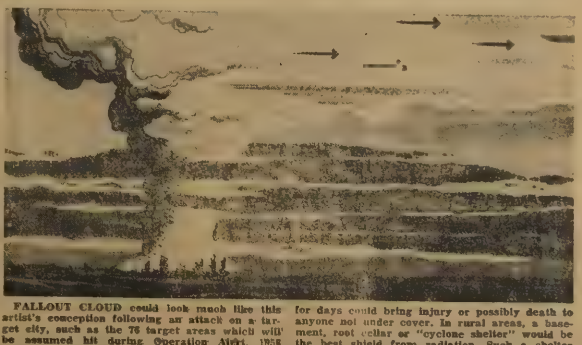
MOST IMPORTANT, remember that fallout leaves no margin for errors, or amateurs. For example, just because the surface wind is blowing from a "safe" direction doesn't mean that the winds above 10,000 feet—which would usually dominate the direction of fallout—weren't blowing some other way. Only the experts have the equipment to predict fallout areas.



FALLOUT CLOUD could look much like this artist's conception following an attack on a target city, such as the 76 target areas which will be assumed hit during Operation Alert, 1956 (July 20-26). Radioactive dust in the bomb's mushroom could be blown 200 miles or more downwind from the blast area, covering the countryside with radioactive material which for days could bring injury or possibly death to anyone not under cover. In rural areas, a basement, root cellar or "cyclone shelter" would be the best shield from radiation. Such a shelter should have food and water for at least seven days, and a battery-operated standard radio to receive emergency instructions from civil defense broadcasts.

Thorsby Institute News—

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. —(St. John 13, 34.)

To break this commandment is to suffer the cancerous disease of hatred, bitterness and resentment which can destroy us. To keep it is to know mental, physical and spiritual happiness, and the divine reward of inner peace and strength.

Class of '52 Reunion—
The Class of 1952 of Chilton County High School will hold its five-year reunion in the dining hall of Bob's Drive-In on New Year's Eve night. A good attendance is expected and a good time will be had when old acquaintances get together to "acquaint" or should we say "re-acquaint" themselves with each other. Some of them haven't seen each other for the full time since they graduated. There'll be plenty of old times to talk over and plenty of new times to discuss. We know it's pre-mature, but we sincerely hope that the Class votes at this gathering to make a tradition out of the reunion and continues to meet together every five, four, three years or whatever they decide is best, in the bonds of friendship. We think it'd be a wonderful thing to be able to continue such a friendship.

May your New Year be a safe and happy one.

Poplar Springs

by Dorothy Hill

Even though the attendance was off due to the rainy weather and muddy roads, we still had wonderful services Sunday morning. We had a wonderful Sunday School lesson and enjoyed the message that our pastor, Rev. Hornsby, brought from God's word.

We also had inspiring services Sunday night as we had our Christmas program and Rev.. Hornsby brought another wonderful message in connection with Christmas. We also had a special conference to make some plans for the future. Among the things planned, we voted to have full time preaching services beginning next Sunday morning. We are all very happy about this and thank God, that He has blessed us by sending Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby and Bobby our way. They are so eager and willing to do God's will, and have helped us in so many ways.

We were glad to have our visitors Sunday morning. They were A2c Joe Lee Dykes, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moaney, Elaine and Jimmy of Tallassee and several others. We invite them all back at any time.

Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby spent the week end with the E. W. Hill family.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Grant and Miss Lilla Grant Sunday were Rev. and Mrs. Hornsby, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. J. P Traywick and family, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hill and family.

Everyone remember to come to Prayer Meeting every Wednesday night and Family Night on Wednesday night after the second and fourth Sundays of each month.

Remember also that we have a full time pastor now and he needs our prayers and support, that he might be able to do God's will.

The "Forward Control 'Jeep' FC-150," all-new addition to the expanding line of Willys Motors four-wheel drive vehicles, is now being introduced by Willys dealers. Key feature of the new model is the "up-front" location of the cab, which allows maximum usage of the vehicle's compact wheelbase for payloads, and at the same time places the driver in the best position for split-second all-direction visibility. The FC-150 is powered by the same F-head "Hurricane" engine proved for ruggedness and economy in the "Jeep," and is engineered with four-wheel drive for off-the-road service over all types of terrain.

Hocutt - Danner Vows Are Spoken

Mrs. Raymond E. Danner

Miss Dorothy Ann Hocutt and Mr. Raymond Eugene Danner, Jr., were united in marriage on Thursday, Dec. 20, at 4:30 in the home of the bride. Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willie Drue Hocutt. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Danner, Sr., of Birmingham.

Mr. James Hadder, brother-in-law of the bride, was candle-lighter.

Mrs. Howell Glenn, Jr., sang "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer." Music was furnished by Mrs. James Owens.

The wedding was performed before an altar of southern smilax which had been sprayed white and over-sprayed with pink. Above the mantle hung a large mirror with an antique frame over which a rope of cultivated smilax had been draped. The rope of smilax had also been sprayed and was draped around the candelabra on each side of the fire place and tied with white satin ribbon. In the center of the altar was a sun-burst arrangement of white mums, snapdragons, and plumosa fern. In the entrance hall was a beautiful arrangement and on the stairway a rope of sprayed smilax with a cluster of silver bells. The living room was decorated with Christmas arrangements of pink and white with branched candelabra holding white candles.

The guests were registered by Mrs. James Hadder, sister of the bride, at a table which was marked with an arrangement of white carnations.

Mrs. Harold Culp, another sister of the bride was matron of honor, and wore a princess dress of pink brocade satin. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was of floor length chantilly lace over satin, with a full skirt of net and panels of chantilly lace. It featured a fitted bodice of lace with a scooped neckline filled into the yoke of net and a Queen Anne collar of lace. Her finger-tip veil was caught to a pearl trimmed tiara. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid and stephonatis tied with white satin ribbon.

Bill Lucas of Birmingham served s best man.

The bride's mother wore a champagne embroidered satin sheath dress. The groom's mother was dressed in a powder blue lace dress. They both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The reception was held in the home of the bride.

The table was covered with white satin draped over white and pink tulle and caught up at the center and corners with pink carnations and white satin ribbon. The three tiered white cake centered the table and was decorated with white orchids, calla lillies and roses and topped with a bride and groom. A ruffle of white satin was also around the cake. Branched silver candelabra with a rope of smilax wound around each was on either end of the table. Two bowls of white carnations and snapdragons were placed on the table. Mrs. Hutchinson cut the cake. Mrs. James Hadder presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. James Owens assisted in the dining room.

The bride's going-away suit was of dusty pink flannel with the collar trimmed in pearls. She wore a white hat and a white orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home in Mobile after spending the holidays with their parents in Birmingham and Clanton.

Worth Dashing Through the Snow For . . .

ONCE they've tasted it, the promise of Swiss steak simmered in cocktail vegetable juices will bring 'em in from miles around — by sleigh, skiis or snow-shoes, if necessary.

Prepare the steak in the usual way, then cover and allow it to simmer in a deep bath of canned, blended vegetable juices. How they bring out and enhance the beef flavor! What a flavorful sauce remains to spoon over the nest of noodles in which you cradle the steak!

Just so you don't get the cutter before the horse, start the elegant dinner with pink grapefruit halves as a first course. Vegetable choice is brussel sprouts laced with tiny canned onions. Top this hearty dinner off with warm apple pie.

Swiss Steak "Vegetal" with Noodles

- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- 1½ pounds round steak
- ¼ cup shortening
- 1½ cups cocktail vegetable juices (12-ounce can)

Mix flour, salt and pepper; pound this mixture into steak with meat hammer or edge of saucer. Brown steak in shortening; add vegetable juices. Cover and cook over low heat about 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Serve over noodles. Makes 6 servings.

PORK AND BEANS COUNTRY STYLE

Always eager for new ways to serve satisfying pork and beans, good cooks like this suggestion. Lightly brown 2½-ounces dried beef (cut into 1-inch strips) in 2 tablespoons of butter. Stir in 2 cans (1-pound size each) pork and beans with tomato sauce. Heat and eat! Makes 4 servings. FNS

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CORNER

"Many of the habits that you are starting to form now, both good and bad, will last the rest of your life . . . One of the best habits to start now, is to be careful with your money. Whether you have a little money or a lot does not matter. What counts is how you use the money you do have. Having a savings plan does not mean being stingy or selfish. It means forming a habit of saving, managing on a budget, saving toward something you want or may need in the future." These are not the words of anyone at our bank, though we thoroughly agree with them. They are the words of the Handbook for Boys, official publication of the Boy Scouts of America. The only aim of the BSA is to help boys become happy, self-reliant good citizens. We think it's a splendid aim; and we, too, like to help. We welcome every chance to assist you boys of our community (girls as well, of course) in developing the habits of thrift that can mean so much to you, now and all through life. Come in—start saving regularly at our bank!
